

Local Happenings

S. E. Notson was observing yesterday as an anniversary occasion. It was the hundredth anniversary of his father's birth. It was also the twelfth anniversary of the enlistment of his son Edward in the army. Edward's grandfather was very proud of the fact that one of his grandsons enlisted on his birthday. Sam's oldest boy, Lee, had enlisted a few days before, on Sam's birthday. Mr. Notson's father passed away five years ago, a few days before his ninety-fifth anniversary. His mother lived less than a month after his father's death, having passed her eighty-eighth birthday. Two of Sam's uncles lived upward of eighty years. In the light of his family history, he thinks he may be good for something like a half century yet.

John A. Williams, wheat raiser residing southwest of Ione, was looking after business here on Saturday. He reports that wheat is looking good in that section, though the weather conditions have been just a little too cold for the grain to grow as it should. Since the warmer weather much improvement is noted, and Mr. Williams is looking forward to a good yield at harvest time. Harvest will be late this season.

The household goods and some of the equipment belonging to Messrs. R. D. and C. E. Wise and T. E. Leversen, who are preparing to install a new bakery at Heppner, arrived on Tuesday from Toppenish, Wash. Workmen have been busy building the oven, also, and the new bakery will be opened up as promptly as everything is made ready.

Harry French was in town for a short time on Friday. He states that he recently shipped a carload of 23 head of work horses from Ione to Beaverton, and the animals are being disposed of to the ranchers in that part of the Willamette valley. He finds a pretty good market for work horses about Beaverton.

Marion Davies and Wm. Haines in SHOW PEOPLE, Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Chas. Marquardt of Lexington, has just finished with his spring plowing, getting through in good shape. He did the most of the work with a small tractor and thinks this is the coming mode of plowing and cultivating in his part of the county.

Ellis Minor, who is running sheep on the Stanfield ranch at Hermiston, was over from that place the end of the week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor, and to look after business affairs here.

Cleve Van Schoiack of Balm Fork reports that spring is on the way in his section and vegetation is responding well to the warmer weather conditions. He was looking after business here on Wednesday.

Dan Barlow, dairyman of Rhea creek, was a visitor in Heppner on Wednesday forenoon. Out his way the harbingers of spring are in evidence and vegetation is beginning to grow as it should.

N. F. Lawson, who farmed for several years near Heppner, was in the city over the week-end from Newberg, attending to business matters in connection with settling the estate of his father.

H. M. Olden suffered injury to his left hand the first of the week when he accidentally hit that member across the back with a heavy hammer he was using in adjusting a shoe to the foot of a horse at the farm. The glancing of the hammer on the hand lacerated the skin quite badly and infection set in, making the hurt quite painful. Mr. and Mrs. Olden were in the city on Tuesday while he was having the hand dressed by a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford spent Sunday afternoon and night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Spencer near Stanfield, returning home Monday afternoon. Mr. Spencer, who has been somewhat indisposed of late, has just returned from Portland where he was under the care of physicians at Good Samaritan hospital for several weeks. He is much improved in health at this time.

The Frank Turner shearing crew began work on Tuesday at the Ralph Corrigan place down Butter creek, and from now on until the close of the season the outfit will be kept busy. The crew arrived the first of the week and the apparatus was moved to the Corrigan place at once.

Marion Davies and Wm. Haines in SHOW PEOPLE, Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Palmateer and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Ely of Morgan spent several hours in the city on Tuesday. Other Morgan people here were W. F. Palmateer and Jas. Hardesty. Mr. Hardesty and Mr. Palmateer were closing up a land trade while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ferguson motored to Walla Walla yesterday where Mr. Ferguson went to get a Chevrolet roadster. A new coach was driven to Walla Walla and exchanged for the roadster.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Watterburger of Echo were visitors here on Wednesday. Mr. Watterburger coming over to pay the taxes on his Morrow county property.

E. W. Peck, Boardman service station operator, was at Heppner for a short time on Monday while attending to the chore of paying taxes.

Chas. Jayne was over from his home at Umapine the end of the week, spending a day or so visiting with relatives and friends in Heppner.

For Sale—Fordson tractor, Hamilton transmission; 3-bottom Oliver plow. $600 for outfit. Chas. A. Marquardt, Lexington.

Mrs. J. Arthur Craig and Mrs. Orve Brown motored to Portland on Saturday, spending a few days in the city.

C. H. Latourell, local Ford dealer, motored to Lewiston, Idaho, on Sunday to take in the trapshoot there. He carried off some of the prize money.

F. W. Rogers of the Pacific Finance corporation of Portland was in Heppner Wednesday.

Anson Wright, stockman of Hardman, was attending to business in this city on Wednesday.

Marion Davies and Wm. Haines in SHOW PEOPLE, Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH.

Rev. Thomas J. Brady, pastor. Next Sunday, April 28, will be the fourth after Easter and the mass on that day in Heppner will be at 8:30 at which the pastor will preach. Confessions of people who live outside of Heppner will be heard before the mass. Confessions of people who live in Heppner will be heard on Saturday evening at 7:00. Next Sunday there will be mass in the church for children of seven years of age and who are not confirmed.

There will be a second mass in The Sands at 10:30, preceded by confessions. The pastor went to Boardman Sunday last for mass at 11. A large congregation greeted the pastor who had been delayed by a series of difficulties. A meeting was held after the mass and steps taken to begin the church there which will be known as St. Mary's. The church will seat seventy adults and be provided with choir loft. It will be used for first time at services in Boardman, Sunday, May 19.

Rev. Father Thomas J. Brady will spend the greater part of his week day times at Boardman where he is supervising the new church.
