

Local Happenings

Mrs. M. L. Curran and daughters, Mrs. Jared Alken and Miss Helen Curran, accompanied by Miss Patricia Mahoney, visited friends in Pendleton on Sunday. Coming home late in the evening the ladies were stranded on the highway just near the upper end of Hog hollow when they ran out of gasoline, and were compelled to remain there for some little time until George Pearson of Lena brought them relief. Mrs. Curran thought she had a full tank of gasoline upon leaving Heppner, and this should have been sufficient to make the round trip to Pendleton, but there is a suspicion that sometime during Saturday night the gas tank had been tapped and several gallons taken. Other cars in the vicinity of the Curran home were also relieved of gas during Saturday night, according to reports reaching this office.

R. H. Jonas, traveling salesman for Steno carbons and ribbons, manufactured in Portland, was calling on the trade here Friday. Mr. Jonas was for a number of years editor of the paper at Prineville, is an old-time newspaper man and will again engage in the business, having purchased the Sun at Wallowa, Oregon, a paper he established and edited for several years. He will take possession of the Wallowa paper the first of May, succeeding Harold Hamastree who is going into ranching in the lower Wallowa valley.

Jerm O'Connor spent a few hours in Heppner on Monday from his Rhea creek ranch. While it rained at Heppner on Sunday night, up his way it snowed, and the foothills were all covered Monday morning. Mr. O'Connor thinks the past winter has been one of the most severe that the stockmen have experienced for many long years. He made a good lambing, however, and with the advent of warmer weather the range conditions are improving. The worst is now over, and all troubles will soon be forgotten.

Arnold Pieper, who was in town Saturday, stated to the editor that he would be going to Arlington on Sunday to meet Mrs. Pieper and the new daughter, who were arriving home from Portland. The birth of the new daughter was an event that occurred in Portland on the 30th of March. At the Pieper farm a few more days will witness the closing of spring plowing and Arnold reports that his grain is coming along well.

Mrs. Carl Cason and daughter Beryl returned home from Portland Friday. Mrs. Cason left Heppner at the beginning of the legislative session at Salem and served as a clerk, following which she came to Portland where her little daughter underwent an operation from which she has now fully recovered. Mrs. Cason has taken her place again at the office of C. L. Sweek, the position filled by Mrs. W. V. Crawford during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford, Mrs. F. S. Parker and son John and daughter Kathryn visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Crawford in Walla Walla on Sunday, where they also enjoyed a short visit with relatives from Pasco and Wallula, these being Mrs. C. A. Jones, sister of Mr. Crawford and Mrs. Parker, her son Francis and wife and two daughters. The day was very pleasant and the trip greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rood, who have been spending the past week with relatives in this city, departed for their home at Hillsboro on Sunday. Mr. Rood is a brother of Mrs. T. J. Humphreys and is one of the executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Fannie Rood.

Jake Young and son Glen were visitors here on Saturday, and they reported better growing conditions out at Eight Mile. Mr. Young is still in poor health and has quite a hard time getting around. He has been indisposed for many months.

The Misses Thelma Kelly and Nita Ladd, of Prosser, Wash., have been in charge of the cooking school at the office of Pacific Power and Light company this week. The ladies of Heppner and vicinity have been attending the school in quite large numbers, and Manager Thorn is quite well pleased over results accomplished. The young ladies in charge know their business and are capable instructors.

Report received the first of the week from George Thomson, who with Mrs. Thomson is now located at Astoria, is to the effect that he is slowly improving. Mr. and Mrs. Thomson have been at Astoria for some two weeks now, and it seems that the lower altitude is proving beneficial to him. It is quite possible that Mr. Thomson may have to take up his residence near the coast permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor moved down to Hermiston on Friday, where they will be located in the future. Mr. Minor having rented property there. He expected to locate there in the fall when his sheep came out of the mountains, but decided to go at this time. Mr. Minor states that he can get plenty of good pasture on the Hermiston project, and hay is also abundant and handy there.

C. W. Van Winkle of Portland was the victim of a car accident near Ione on Saturday night while on the way to Heppner. He failed to negotiate a curve, the car left the highway, struck the fence and turned over. He received bruises and lost one finger which was caught between the door and car body. He received medical attention at Heppner.

Thos. Brennan recently disposed of his residence property here to Harry Johnson, and has gone to the Masonic home at Forest Grove, where he will be cared for. Mr. Brennan had been in such poor health of late that it was necessary that he be looked after, not being able to work much of the time.

Harry French states that spring has arrived at his mountain ranch and everything is coming along fine. For some two months Mr. French has been living on his farm near Hardman, but the past week he returned to the home place. He was in town for a few hours Wednesday while looking after business.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Crawford and the boys motored to The Dalles Sunday, taking with them Mrs. A. A. Amort and children, who took the train there on their return home to Corvallis. Mrs. Amort has been spending the week visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Patterson.

New Chevrolets were disposed of this week by Ferguson Chevrolet company to Henry Peterson, Wayne Neal, coaches, and Henry Rigel, roadster. Used cars were sold to F. M. Akers and Hubert Mahon.

Mrs. Tony Darland and young son returned to their home at Cuprum, Idaho, on Monday. Mrs. Darland has been spending a few weeks with her relatives at Heppner, and was accompanied as far as Pendleton by her brother, Crockett Sprouls.
