SWIMMING TANK OPENING ASSURED

Council Appropriates $350 to Help; New Reservoir Accepted Monday.

Appropriation of $350 by the city council Monday evening assures the opening of the American Legion swimming tank this summer. The action was taken following the presigned by all the leading fraternal funds to carry on the rate fight, also orders of the city, asking that the spoke at the meeting, saying that Morrow county's quota of $300 is legion boys open the tank and that the city give what aid it might see

Agitation for opening the tank began when the legion boys an-nounced that they would be unable to open it because of lack of funds needed to put the tank in condition. The last two years they have operated it at a loss. The P. T. A. took up the cause because of the great benefit derived by the boys and girls through use of the tank, and other organizations immediately

The American Legion Auxiliary to help sponsor the move gave a benefit dance at the Elks temple Friday evening, from which a considerable sum was derived. The B. P. O. E. have promised a $50 dona tion as soon as the tank is opened, to help defray expenses.

A lack of water for filling the tank was a serious obstacle to its operation for the last two years. The legion boys, unable to pay the regular water rate, were given only the overflow with which to fill the tank and at times it was not possible to change it oftener than every two weeks. It was the sense of members of various committees pressed themselves, that the swimming tank is so vital to the life of community in the summer time,

To help in the repair work at the tank, which will include new decking, dressing rooms, rest rooms and sputum trough, Mayor McCarty has offered to declare a half holiday when all the citizens of the city who will, may turn out and assist This will be done as soon as the legion boys are ready to begin opera-

The council also accepted the new reservoir at its Monday meeting. Clark to Mis Ethel Bickford of the work being satisfactory in every way. Both L. R. Stockman, being an event of early April at engineer in charge, and W. E. Pruyn, watermsater, declared they were well pleased with it. The remore than a week with all outlets closed and no leakage has been dis-covered, the water having gone down but slightly from evaporation and settling.

The next move in the waterworks improvement campaign, following another action of the council, will be the investigation of springs above the forks of Willow creek to find out if a large enough flow can be obtained to furnish the city an abundance of water at all seasons. The council previously set aside a sum of money for this purpose, though the work will not be started until later in the season.

Bills paid at the meeting included claims by T. G. Denisse and others for deepening and enlarging the channel of the creek on Cannon street, and building the new bridge out the intersection of Chase and Cannon. The bridge of concrete abutments and wood span is now completed. The council also ordered that fills be made at the new bridge on Elder street to eliminate a hazard that now exists.

"Port of Missing Girls" Portrays Big Problem

Barbara Bedford, who has achieved an enviable position as one of the leading free-lance featured the players in motion pictures, has one of the most important screen roles of the year in the melodramatic success, "The Port of Missing Girls," coming to the Star theater Sunday and Monday.

The theme of this timely film production answers one of the most vital questions of modern social life, and depicts some of the temptations in the lives of countless young women whose sudden disappear-women whose sudden disappearance from every section of the country is an every-day occurrence.

CHAUTAUQUA STARTS WITH PLAY

Gay Comedy First Night

starting with the most popular at-traction possible to secure. A modern play with plenty of comedy.

Public taste in entertainment, just as in dress, automobiles, col-leges, and religions, varies from one decade to the next, and some times from year to year.

For the last few years the play has truly been the thing. "The Cleanup," which is the play for the opening night of this year's Chautauqua, is a comedy, and it is a comedy without the objectionable lines or sentences found in so many new modern plays. In other words, it is Chautauqua type. This is an important item with Chautauqua audiences. It is almost impossible in these days of problem plays and crime plays for the ordinary com-munity to see a constructive play outside of Chautauqua.

"The Cleanup' is entirely up to date and is the story of women and politics. The heroine runs' for mayor against her husband. She shocks her other friends and horrifies the city generally. She also confounds some of the politicians and finally wins the election.

It makes a great evening's entertainment, and the whole Chautau-qua costs no more than the one play would cost in a city theatre.

Memorial Day Plans Nearing Completion

A squeeze play by Cason in the fourth netted the and ability, and it is hoped there will be a large audience to do him honor. Other numbers of the program, consisting of musical selections and readings, are in course of preparation. The ceremony at the emetery will be in charge of the post firing squad, assisted by members of the Woman's Relief Corps. the Auxiliary and the Campfire girls, and will include Memorial services for the soldier dead, decorating the graves with flowers and firing of salute over the graves.

A working party from the Legion will shape up the graves of veterans and clean up the alleys adjoining, so that the last resting place of the departed defenders of our country will present a soldierly appearance.
The program will be held at the Star theater, and the hour has been tentatively set for 10:30 a. m.

BALL GAME TOMORROW.

Ione and Heppner high schools will clash for the fourth time this season at Rodeo field tomorrow afon, Ione to date having the Ione last Friday afternoon 2-1 in the closest game of the series. If Ione wins tomorrow's game they will play the winner of the Arlington-Condon high school division for the district championship. However, should Heppner win, still another game will be necessary to decide which of the two teams will be entitled to the privilege. Coach Poulson's proteges have been working hard this week and will bend every effort to win the game. The games so far have attracted good crowds and it is expected the largest crowd yet will witness tomor row's game.
