

PLANS PROGRESS FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Fine Talent Scheduled to Appear for Big Free Entertainment.

With the line-up of talent received for Heppner's Free Chautauqua, June 8-9-10-11, and the promise of one of the largest tents put out by the chautauqua people, the second annual event gives promise of surpassing the wonderful time of last year. That interest is keen over the entire county is the assertion of F. R. Brown, president of the local organization, who says that inquiries have been constantly reaching him for several weeks.

The local organization started permanently last year, evolved the system of electing directors for a term of years terminating the term of one director each year. To fill the vacancy a new method of election was decided upon at the directors' meeting Monday evening. The president will appoint a nominating committee to prepare the names of candidates for election and balloting will be held the first two days, all contributors being entitled to a vote. Results will be announced later by the board of directors. W. W. Smead is the director whose term expires this year.

Committees appointed Monday evening include advertising, Jasper V. Crawford; reserve seat, Earl W. Gordon; grounds, Albert Adkins, Frank Turner and George Blekman; finance, Mrs. F. R. Brown and Mrs. Frank Turner, each to select a helper.

The first performance will be Saturday evening, June 8, with afternoon and evening performances each of the remaining three days, making seven programs in all, each program new. Tuesday, the last day, the chautauqua organization will entertain the program and a special morning program for their benefit is being arranged by a committee for that purpose. Pioneer's day was changed from Monday to Tuesday at the director's meeting. President Brown announces that seats for the pioneers will be reserved on the one day only.

Two plays, one at the start and one at the wind-up of chautauqua, are headlines on the program. "The Clean Up," clever modern comedy success brilliantly acted, will be seen the first evening. The other, "Smilin' Thru," is slated as the best love story of the century and one of the best plays.

Olivar's Philippine Troubadors, presenting the poignant, exotic South Sea music as only Islanders can play it is one of the versatile programs scheduled.

A good radio program plus the personalities of the entertainers make the Corine Jessop Radio Warblers one of chautauqua's most popular attractions. Miss Jessop, one of the platform's best entertainers heads the company. She is assisted by David Hartley from Howard Russell's Collegians and Fern Zinser from the Chicago Civic Orchestra.

George E. Toomey is the chautauqua management's answer to the demand for a forceful, educated, understanding type of lecturer, whose principles are grounded in experience. The eloquent, exotic George Toomey was named the best "all around" athlete in the middle west. "Kicking Goal" is the interesting subject discussed by Mr. Toomey.

Mrs. Harold Pent, a lecturer, a writer and a recent member of the efficiency branch of the British Munitions Board, has studied the war industry from A to Z. It is hard to put into print the story she tells. Born in the north of Ireland she has the wit and eloquence of her Irish ancestors and captivates her audience with the story she tells entitled "The International Future of Our Children."

Such a program holds for all who can possibly attend a promise of a feast of good things. Make your plans now to be in Heppner all four days if possible. There will be no admission charge.

NEW BAKERY OPENS.

The Sanitary Bakery opened for business in the Gilman building on Tuesday morning, being in charge of Toppish, Wash. The new bakery is equipped with latest bakery equipment, including a 1000-loaf capacity oven, and so far has enjoyed a good business. The front of the bakery has been partitioned off and a modern and attractive retail room installed, where products of the bake shop are displayed. The rooms, formerly occupied by the county agent's office, have been entirely renovated and remodeled, and present an attractive appearance. The new bakery will deal exclusively in bakery goods, including their Blue Ribbon bread, pies, cakes, and other pastries. A delivery wagon is being run to serve the local stores and also going to Ione and Lexington where its products are placed on sale. Proprietors of the new enterprise express confidence in the future of our city through their substantial investment.

Legion boys will be in charge, and will direct the work.

In making the proclamation Mayor McCarty said:

Many Visitors Attend Ruth Chapter Meeting

At the regular meeting of Ruth Chapter No. 32, O. E. S., on Friday evening, besides the large attendance on the part of the membership, there were many visitors present, the larger number of these being from Locust Chapter at Ione. The meeting was of special interest owing to the reception of new members into the order, six joining by initiation and two by affiliation on this occasion, and the ritualistic work was put on in almost perfect order, headed by Charlotte Gordon, Worthy Matron and Frank S. Parker, Worthy Patron.

Entertainment features on the program were given by Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Thorn, the former presenting a violin solo in his usual artistic manner, and Mrs. Thorn sang "Mother of Mine," a beautiful tribute to the mothers present, Mr. Thorn playing the violin obbligato while Mrs. Thorn was her own accompanist at the piano. This number was especially appreciated. Following the initiation and close of lodge refreshments of creamed chicken in patty shells, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Among the visitors present were noted E. O. Bullard, Margaret Bullard, R. E. Harbison, Lucy E. Harbison, George N. Ely, Fannie G. Griffith, Della McCurdy, Louisa Louy, Martha Ashton Dick, Viola Lieualen, Mary E. Beckner, Ruby O. Roberts, Roxie Krebs, Mabel Krebs, Clara Howk, Lola McCabe, Maggie Nord, Anna L. Blake, George Krebs, J. W. Howk, H. D. McCurdy, of Locust Chapter No. 119, Ione; Elsie Shipley, Alpha No. 1, Ashland; Vashiti Saling, Frank Saling of Bushie No. 19, Pendleton; M. C. Thorn, Wilda Thorn, Evergreen No. 1, Goldendale; Ruth Tumblyn, Golden Chain No. 103, Vale.

BALDWIN-PENLAND.

Friends were busy congratulating Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Baldwin the first of the week over their marriage. The wedding was an event of last Saturday afternoon at 4:30 and took place at the court house in Walla Walla, whither J. S. Baldwin and Mrs. Rebecca Penland had journeyed. Justice C. M. Wilbur performed the ceremony. Report had it that the marriage had been consummated some time ago, but this was one time Dame Rumor made a poor guess. The contracting parties had thought to keep their friends in the dark for a while, but through a Walla Walla paper coming to Heppner the account of the wedding was given, so Mr. Baldwin had to get busy and set up the cigars. Both are long time residents of this place and they have received hearty congratulations from their many friends here. Those present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Long of Touchet, Wash., brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Baldwin, and the daughter of the groom, Olivia Baldwin. A wedding dinner was enjoyed by the party in Walla Walla and then they all departed for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Long who served a delicious wedding breakfast on Sunday morning before the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin for their home at Heppner.

BIRTHDAY OF THE CHURCH.

The Church of Jesus Christ is the grandest institution on the face of the earth and next year will have been in existence 1900 years. It seems entirely fitting that we should observe the day in a very particular way. The anniversary falls on Sunday, May 19th this year and the local church of Christ is observing the day. It is making an appeal for every member of the church to be present at the Lord's Table on Sunday morning. The supper will be observed in an unusual way. There will be special music. The morning sermon will be "The Birthday of the Church."

Bible school at 9:45. Christian Endeavor at 7 o'clock. The evening service will give over in favor of the high school baccalaureate. MILTON W. BOWER, Minister.

17 WILL GRADUATE FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Baccalaureate Sunday and Commencement Friday End Year.

With the closing of the Heppner schools a week from tomorrow, 17 students will be graduated from the high school. These are Virginia Dix, Vivian (Cason) Prock, Dorothy Herren, Patricia Mahoney, Margaret Naton, Velton Owens, Gertrude Doherty, Terrel Bengte, Clair Cox, Harlan Devin, Maurice Edmondson, James Hager, Clarence Hayes, Paul Jones, Hadley Stewart, John Farley and Harry Wells.

Saturday evening, a gala event at the auditorium will be the major graduation closing event in the nature of a May fete. All the grades will have a part in the program, featuring music, recitations and cantata. An admission charge of 50 cents will be made and the public is invited to attend.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached to the class Sunday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. B. Stanley Moore, missionary in charge of All Saints' Episcopal church, at the auditorium-gymnasium. Special music in charge of Kate Francis Ede, supervisor of the music department, will also feature the service. The churches of the city will combine at the time making a union service of baccalaureate.

The next major occasion of the closing activities will be the Junior-Senior banquet, to be held Monday evening at the Christian church. This is an annual affair at which the juniors bid their preceding classmates a gala farewell, and is looked forward to for weeks in advance by members of both classes. Commencement exercises will begin at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the auditorium-gymnasium. Bert Brown Barker, vice-president of the University of Oregon, will deliver the commencement address. Besides the presentation of diplomas, one of the most important events in the life of the high school, another ceremony that is looked forward to with expectancy is the presentation of the Norton Winnard memorial cup. Each year this cup has engraved upon it the name of a junior who, in the opinion of the committee supervising the award, has the most outstanding requirements necessary to win it. Qualifications include not only scholastic attainment, but prominence in activities and character as well. The name of the winner is not made known before the time of presentation.

With the closing of school faculty announcements for next year have not been made, though it is understood there will be a considerable shake-up in the teaching personnel of the grades as many of the grade teachers have not re-applied. Philip von Lubken, principal of the high school, has resigned his position to enter Stanford university next fall. Superintendent Burgess expects to take summer school work either at Stanford or the University of Oregon.

GEO. D. ANDERSON PASSES.

Geo. D. Anderson, who some ten days ago was brought to Heppner hospital from the Rose Lawn ranch of Hynd brothers in Sand Hollow, suffering from an attack of pleurisy, passed away rather suddenly at about noon on Friday. His death came unexpectedly, as he had been improving, and was not thought to be in any danger whatever. While the nurse was busy for a short time in another part of the hospital, Mr. Anderson was seized by heart-failure, and upon her return to his bedside he was found beyond any human help. Funeral services were held from Elks temple at 2 p. m. on Sunday, being quite largely attended by members of the order and friends of the deceased.

George D. Anderson was born in Garnett, Kansas, April 24, 1864, and he came to Morrow county in the spring of 1887, making this part of Oregon his home since that time. For six years he worked for C. C. Curtis at Cecil, and following that for the past 23 years has been a faithful employe of Hynd Bros. He is survived by two brothers, W. A. Anderson of Ukiah, Oregon and Frank S. Anderson of Garnett, Kan., and two half sisters, Mrs. Stella Tefft of Ontario, Cal., and Mrs. Lola Flynn of Garnett, Kan.

Another "comedy of errors" and Heppner bit the dust before the Condon invaders at Rodeo field Sunday—score 7-4. Heppner's ball players were not alone in biting the dust as a heavy real estate transfer in the nature of a moving summer-fall field impelled by a high wind gave the visitors and spectators a tasty morsel of the real thing. The Condon boys are said to be thoroughly weathered for such a storm, and this may be the reason they were the less affected by it.

That as it may be, "blows" were undoubtedly the order of the day. In the second inning there was one away when Gerald Smith singled and Brown picked one of Drake's spitters for a roller, made to order for a double play, down to DeVaney at short. DeVaney tossed the pellet to Van Marter on second, but it popped out of his glove and both runners were safe. Smith struck out, and DeVaney took Clow's duster and heaved it over the first baseman's head, G. Smith and Brown scoring. No further catastrophe happened until the fourth when Brown was again permitted to score on a bobbie by Cason at third.

Condon was then held until their turn in the ninth, in the meantime Heppner tying the score in the fifth and eighth innings. In the fifth Dale Blekman gained first on a fielder's choice and was scored by Thora's double blow. In the eighth with one away, Turner walked and took second on Cason's hit, both runners scoring on Gentry's single. So, everything was tied up when the ninth rolled around, and Condon came to bat. Then it was that a combination of three hits, a hit batsman, and errors by Cason and Sprouls netted them four more tallies. Heppner started a spurt in the same inning but was forced to retire with one additional marker.

There was some good ball along with the bad, however. Outfielders on both teams made some beautiful catches, there was some good hitting, and good pitching, and all told it was not a bad game from the spectator's point of view, though a hard one for Heppner to lose.

The umpiring of Poulson and O'Rourke was especially free from criticism. Next Sunday Heppner goes to Fossil.

SISTERS IN DOUBLE WEDDING.

Spaulding performed the ceremony in a double wedding, uniting in marriage William Milton Spurluck and Florence Cason, and Elmer Vernon Prock and Vivian Cason. The brides are sisters, and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Cason of this city. The wedding was a quiet affair, and we understand that the newlyweds will continue to make their homes in this city.

CHURCH CONVENTION HERE COMING WEEK

Thirteenth Annual Meeting Churches of Christ, to Start May 21st.

"The citizens of Heppner and vicinity are to have an unusual opportunity to receive inspiration and intellectual exaltation," states Milton W. Bower, pastor of the local Church of Christ, "entirely out of the ordinary and the commonplace is the Thirteenth Annual convention of the Churches of Christ of Eastern Oregon, which is coming to Heppner next week. It will begin on Tuesday evening and last over the next two days, closing on Thursday evening.

"Among the speakers are numbered some of the best preachers in this part of the state, and the program as outlined gives them a fine opportunity to express themselves. The messages will be somewhat varied in nature but there will be four addresses on the Holy Spirit which you cannot afford to miss.

"Special plans have also been made for the music of the convention and it will be abundant and splendid. It will be under the direction of Mrs. Guy L. Drill of Pendleton.

"At least eighty visitors from out of town are expected to share with us this feast of good things and it is to be hoped that they may be shown that Heppner 'knows how' to show hospitality.

Club Workers Expect to Go to Summer School

Miss Helen Cowgill, assistant state girls' club leader, spent Monday and Tuesday in the county and accompanied by Lucy E. Rodgers, school superintendent, and Chas. W. Smith, county agent, visited all the boys' and girls' clubs. The purpose of her visit was to give assistance in any way and to stimulate interest in the 4-H club summer school held each year at Oregon State college, the dates this year being June 10-22 inclusive.

Since the boys and girls have heard Miss Cowgill several have expressed their intention of attending, among them being Donald Drake and Raymond Drake, Eight Mile; Earling Thompson, Gooseberg; Fred Rauch and James Neill, Pine City. Also attending will be Kenneth Duggan, Boardman, whose signal attainments last year entitled him to the scholarship offered by the First National and Farmers and Stockgrowers National banks of this city. This is the first year since the inception of the club summer school that more than one Morrow county worker has been in attendance, declares Mr. Smith. Several of the boys are paying their way from profits made on projects last year.

Outstanding among the accomplishments of club workers in the county is that of the Irrigation school band, composed entirely of club members. This band took second in a field of 13 bands entered in the state high school band contest at Portland on May 10. The contest sponsored by Pontiac distributors was held in the Jefferson high school bowl. Klamath Falls won first place.

BRINGS LOAD OF POWDER.

A. J. Chaffee returned on Tuesday evening from Oregon City with a truck load of dynamite which he delivered to the road camp on Rhea creek. This powder is to be used largely in shooting the rock quarry located at the Jim Rhea place. Work on the extension of the Rhea creek market road is now in progress and this will extend up Keek canyon to the top of the hill near Liberty schoolhouse. The county hopes to have it in shape for use by the time the crops are ready to move to market this fall. There is considerable heavy rock work along up Rhea creek and the grading will progress a little slowly on this account. The road crew are now at work in Keek canyon, having established their camp near the Mike Healey place on Rhea creek.

OPERETTA 'PICKLES' ACCLAIMED SUCCESS

Large Audience G greets Colorful and Pleasing Musicals.

The climax of the high school musical year came on Thursday evening with the presentation by the music students of "Pickles," charming operetta, before a very large audience in the gym-auditorium. Entailing a great amount of effort on the part of both students and Kate Frances Ede, supervisor, the production was capably given and well received.

The two scenes, garden of the Wurtzpraeter Inn in Vienna at carnival time, and a gypsy camp near Vienna, were well represented in the stage settings. A high red-brick wall with white-barred gate in the center formed the background for the garden scene, with the inn of green and white set to the right, made a colorful contrast. The camp scene was represented with a gypsy tent, fire in front, before a screen background with painted rustic motif, while opposite the tent a real rock fountain into which water was running was reproduced through the ingenuity of the stage managers.

Act one opened showing Hans Maier, proprietor of the Wurtzpraeter Inn, in the person of Homer Hayes preparing for the coming carnival with the expectation of a good business. Louisa, a waitress, cleverly presented by Jeanette Turner came in during the preparations and also Captain Kinski, brightly uniformed chief of the Vienna Detective Bureau, Harlan Devin, followed by his faithful servants Bumskid and Rumski, Earl Thomson and Eddie Kenny, who brought the house down on their first appearance as
