His condition was critical on Tuesday, as he suffered a heavy loss of blood, but reports reaching this office this morning are to the effect that he is now rapidly recovering. University of Oregon, Eugene, May 14.—(Special)—"Oregon Mothers" gained a place on a par with "Oregon Dads" when they formed their own statewide organization, similar in purpose to that of the dads, while on the campus for the annual Mothers Week-end and Junior Week-end, May 10, 11 and 12.

Mothers of Oregon students from Heppner all belong to the new organization. Those from Heppner who were on the campus for the many week-end functions included Mrs. Frank S. Parker, Mrs. R. L. Bengtson, made a member of the statewide committee.

The mothers showed even greater enthusiasm than the dads, who organized here a year and a half ago. The banquet was the largest held in the state outside Portland and taxed the facilities of the Gerlinger building.

Irish Girl World Traveler at Chautauqua

Mrs. Harold R. Peat, who is traveling with Associated Chautauquas and will appear on the second evening program, has had a wide experience as a speaker, writer and traveler. In a recent interview she mentioned that South America was the only continent which she had not yet visited. She has been in every State of our Union, every Province of Canada, and both American and British Alaska. Mrs. Peat says that frequently she is amused at the contrast of her life of travel since she was born in the North of Ireland and her ancestral home was seven miles from the nearest railroad station. Mrs. Peat speaks upon The International Future of Our Children—she has a penetrating insight into the affairs of today, her knowledge of world politics is wide, and her elucidation is simple. She advocates World Peace, but is not a pacifist—Mrs. Peat herself says "How could an Irishwoman be a pacifist in the accepted sense of that word?"

As a writer Mrs. Peat was on the staff of the London Daily Chronicle, England—she wrote for the Daily Mail, Tatler, was Assistant Editor of Modern Society, and Work Editor of Everywoman's, also in England, whilst in this country she writes for leading papers and magazines. Bobbs Merrill of Indianapolis published her last book "Mrs. Private Peat," which is one of the few books published on this side to be placed on the honored shelves of the French Musee de la Guerre.

Beauty Secrets

By HELENA RUBINSTEIN.

That whiter skin of hers than snow,
And smooth as monumental alabaster.
—Shakespeare.

Protect your skin against the elements before you go out of doors, if you would preserve the fineness of your complexion! Protect it against wind and rain—and especially against the harsh drying, tanning, burning and freckling effects of the spring and summer sun.

A dry, chapped condition of the skin, fine squint line and burns are so much easier to prevent than they are to cure. And if they are allowed to persist the skin may become coarsened almost beyond remedy.

I am very glad to tell you how these evils may be avoided. After cleansing with a good cleansing cream and toning with a good skin-toning lotion or mild astringent tonic, spread over the face a thin protective film of foundation cream. Some women prefer a liquid balm, and for certain types of skin the balm protective makes an excellent foundation base.

There are, however, scientifically prepared creams which actually neutralize the sun's rays and safeguard the skin against the effects of wind or sun. For the most complete outdoor protection these sun and wind-proof aids should be used. All the time the skin needs a protective foundation before makeup is applied, and the several creams created for this purpose—some of them cleverly tinted in natural skin tones—are delightful in their effects. They protect the skin against drying, wrinkling and chapping and at the same time provide it with a lovely soft humidity to which face powder and rouge adhere becomingly.

After experiment you should be able to find the liquid or cream foundation which is best suited in texture and coloring to your individual type of skin. And a few words of caution I must give you. Unless the skin is extremely oily, do not use an ordinary vanishing cream as a protective foundation, for these creams are drying and fail to accomplish the purpose of a true protective.

The delicate skin around the eyes should be protected against the weather by a little nourishing cream gently patted in. Have the lids shiny with cream, if you wish as this is a fashionable effect at present, but powder lightly over the cream beneath the eyes and around the outer corners. This light layer of cream under the powder will nourish and lubricate the skin, and prevent the little laughter lines from developing into wrinkles. Over the lips you should smooth a little nourishing cream as well. This is to keep them soft and smooth and prevent lines and chapping.

After all's said and done, the pleasure you get in smoking is what counts
