Cotton Comes Back.
Capper Backs Farm Bill.
Coolidge is Early.
Why Farmers Laugh.

Cotton growers will be glad to hear that big department stores are specializing in cotton goods. "Cotton arrives" is the announcement of one big store, biggest in New York, doing about $90,000,000 a year. "Dotted swiss," "pique" and "ginghams" are featured energetically.

"Often woman changes," the French say. Real or imitation silks have been the rage; now King Cotton comes back.

If Americans will advertise, and emphasize, "Cotton goods grown and made in America," instead of advertising "British cotton cloth," that will help.

Senator Capper, of Kansas, trusted by farmers, backs President Hoover's farm bill. He opposes the debarment subsidy plan, which would pay a bonus to exporting middlemen, cost the taxpayers heavily, and do the farmer little, if any good.

Calvin Coolidge, as director of the New York Life Insurance company, arrived twenty minutes ahead of time for his first directors' meeting. "Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings."

The former President is interested in life insurance, not for profit, but for possibilities of public service. His day's work yesterday paid $50; not much according to present ideas. But it is fifty times as much as Mr Coolidge's father paid the black-bearded giant who earned in the Coolidge blacksmith shop $1 a day fifty years ago.

Tears and laughter afford relief. Loud laughter, violent weeping, cause the mind to rest and bring temporary peace.

There will be farm-relief laughter in news that railroads have consented to lower freight rates on wheat flour from the Middle West to the Atlantic.

The notion that farmers will get more for their wheat when flour mills pay lower freight bills will make the saddest farmer laugh.

Relief for flour manufacturers is welcome. They are having a hard time, with chain stores regulating their profits.

But charging them ten cents less a barrel for shipping flour will not cause them to give farmers two cents a bushel more for wheat.

Relief for farmers and for many others will come from generally increased prosperity, and especially from sharing national wealth more widely.

American farmers once sold corn for less than the amount of the tariff now proposed.

Prisons have changed. One ancient hero, solitary in prison, had to encourage him only the example of a humble spider spinning and respinning a web as fast as it was torn down.

A well known oil magnate, jailed because he wouldn't answer Senators' questions, has the deeper, pleasanter inspiration of a blonde trained nurse.

In the Medical Department of the jail, this blonde lady works for the sick and suffering, and says to her oil man assistant, worth $100,000,000, "Please hand me that iodine," or "Watch how I fix this bandage."

SPRING POULTRY POINTERS

(College News Service, O.S.A.C.) To rid fowls of lice, apply Black Leaf Forty to the top of the roosts with a small paint brush just before the birds go up for the night. One application lasts for at least two days, and usually kills all or most of the lice, finds the Oregon experiment station.

Mites are a serious hindrance to the welfare of the hens and breed rapidly in hot weather, says the Oregon Experiment station. They will be found under the roosts where the roosts connect with the house or hanger. The treatment is carbolineum or a strong sheep-dip painted on full strength.

When the warm days of summer and a scarcity of green feed causes the hens to slow up or stop laying, moist mash acts as a stimulant and usually holds up the production or improves it, the Oregon experiment station finds. It may be fed for about two weeks at the rate of about three pounds to 100 birds, or as much as they will clean up in 15 or 20 minutes. It is mixed with buttermilk or skim milk to a crumbly consistency.

An important factor in the well-being of the young pullets is to have them on the roosts by the time they are six weeks old. Crowding on the floor and in the corners of the brooding house hinders satisfactory growth. It may be necessary to resort to forced roosting for a few nights, but it pays, says the Oregon experiment station.

An ample supply of fresh green feed during the warm summer days is essential both to the growing stock and the layers.

HARDMAN.

(Too late for last week.)
Neil Knighten and Wm. Johnson attended the dance in Lone Rock on Friday night.

The youngsters of the grade school spent a last happy day together on Friday. In the evening they played games and had a good "feed" of sandwiches, pickles, ice cream, cake and bananas. The mothers were invited to be with them. Rev. and Mrs. Moore were also guests.

Oesel and Jim Inakeep motored to Medford where they will attend the I. O. O. F. convention this week. They were accompanied by F. M. Miller as far as Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Chapel started Sunday on a trip to Medford and other points. Mr. Chapel will attend the I. O. O. F. convention at Medford.

Mrs. Bess Aubrey of Astoria is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. N. Batty. Miss Hildegard Williams, teacher in the lone schools, visited with friends during the past week.

When Mr. and Mrs. Moore suggested a picnic it was met with a heart response and more than fifty people of the community gathered on Saturday out among the beautiful trees on the Heppner-Spray road to spend a gloriously happy day in races, games, horse shoe pitching contests, gathering wild flowers and there was a wonderful dinner to put everyone in the best of spirits.

Cool
The angry grocer ran around the counter and seized the customer by the arm. "Do you know, madam," he blurted, "that your dog has eaten a pound of my best fresh country butter? I saw him do it a second ago!"

The customer relieved the grocer of her arm and regarded him coldly.

"I did not know it," she replied, "But if you are quite sure it was your best butter, and that it really did come from the country, I don't think there is much reason to suppose it will do him any harm."

Father: "Why were you kept in at school?"
Son: "I didn't know where the Azores were."

"In future just remember where you put things."

"She's just buried her fourth husband, hasn't she?"
"Divorced, my dear, not buried—she never makes any bones about these things."
