

IONE.

MRS. JENNIE McMURRAY, Correspondent.

The first of last week E. A. Lindken made a drive of a hundred and fifty miles or more, through the wheat fields of the Sand Hollow, Lexington and Eight Mile flats and Condon country. He found some good looking fields every place, and many that were weedy and showed a lack of moisture. The best wheat was in the Eightmile flats, with some exceptionally good fields showing up in the Sand Hollow district. It is his opinion that there are only a few fields that give promise of a good yield. However an abundance of rain during the month of June will materially change the outlook.

James Lindsay and wife were seen on our streets Sunday. They told friends that they had been employed at Olex but were now returning to their home at Silverton. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, of Astoria, were week-end visitors with Mrs. John Louy. Mrs. Rasmussen is a daughter of Vant Carl who formerly lived in Ione, and a niece of Mrs. Louy. When they returned to their home, Mrs. Louy accompanied them as far as Hood River, where she went to consult a physician.

The following people drove to Walla Walla Sunday to witness the air derby: Earl Murray family and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heliker and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Howell, Wayland Ritchie, Mrs. Ted Howe and daughter Marguerite, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Grabbill. They were disappointed because the heavy rain made it necessary to suspend most of the program.

Elmer Peterson, son of Mrs. Ida Peterson of Ione, and Miss Florence Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Willis Fisher of Portland, were married May 22. Immediately after their marriage they motored to Seattle, where they took a boat to Skagway, Alaska. When they return they plan to visit here with Mr. Peterson's mother and other relatives. Mr. Peterson is district manager for the Aetna Life Insurance company.

Mrs. Chas. Nord returned last Thursday from Walla Walla where she had been called by the serious illness of her nephew, Arthur Petseys.

It is reported that P. C. Peterson has a fine looking field of wheat.

Mrs. Werner Rietmann last week accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Gibson, to Eugene for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rietmann and two children have gone to Portland for a weeks visit. When they return they will be accompanied by Mrs. Rietmann's mother, Mrs. Freeman. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ray are looking after the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. William Daniels, of Pendleton, recently visited with the latter's aunts, Mrs. French Burroughs and Mrs. M. Jordan.

F. M. Griffin assisted in the meat market during the absence of Ture Peterson.

The Harry Yarnell family have moved to their ranch for the summer. They are holding the house which they have rented in town, and will return next fall in time for school.

Ione was without electricity for a short time Friday while the large transformers were being installed to replace the smaller ones. This change was made necessary by the new electric machinery in the Farmers' Elevator.

Henry Peterson, Oscar Peterson and Carl Bergstrom returned Friday from a fishing trip to Crooked river. They report a fine time and a good catch.

Mrs. Sexton reached home Thursday of last week from a pleasant visit with relatives at Prairie City and Spray.

Mark Agee has sold his homestead of 300 acres to Gorgier brothers. Since the Gorgier brothers have become tractor farmers, they find it profitable to increase their acreage. The Agee families recently had a picnic at La Grove, on Rock creek. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Agee and daughter Beulah, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Agee and daughter Emma, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Christofferson, Mr. and Mrs. Dol Hubbel and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Feller.

Saturday A. E. Feller moved his tractor plow outfit into the Alpine district where he has been hired to plow a section of land. Sam Warfield has charge of the outfit and Mrs. Warfield is doing the cooking for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swanson, Carlton Swanson and Albert Petseys drove to Walla Walla Sunday. Mr. Petseys went to visit his son, Arthur Petseys, who is very ill. He reports that the sick boy is slowly improving.

Rev. and Mrs. Ferdinand Baker, of Latah, Wash., who came here to hold services in the Pentecostal mission, were called to Toppensish the middle of the last week by the serious illness of Mrs. Baker's brother. Rev. Baker hopes to return later.

Fred Buchanan and I. R. Robison returned the last of the week from a trip to Boise, Idaho. Mr. Buchanan reports that the best wheat he saw on the trip was on the Unatilla Indian reservation.

F. M. Griffin departed Tuesday for Maupin, where he will visit his daughter and enjoy the fishing.

Mrs. Bert Mason enjoyed a brief visit the first of the week with her nephew, Virgil E. Delzell, and his wife, who were en route from San Francisco to Spokane, where they go to visit Mr. Delzell's parents.

Bill Ahalt and Ray Barnett drove to Walla Walla Saturday, returning Sunday.

The Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting will be held this year at Toppensish, June 8 to 16. Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Rowell will be in attendance from Ione.

Frank Engelman and son Joel and Walter Bristow returned home the last of the week. Mrs. Engelman remained in Portland to have dental work done.

Josephine Healy, Chas. O'Conner and Beulah Agee of the Ione school successfully passed the state eighth grade examinations.

Last Sunday's baseball game between Ione and Arlington on the Arlington field was played in the forenoon in order that all who wished to do so might witness the game in the afternoon at Condon between two undefeated teams. Ione won from Arlington, the score being 2-1.

Forest Protection Funds For States Increased

An increase in allotments for federal cooperation with states in forest-fire control, of $21,234 for Washington and $18,568 for Oregon, is announced by the forest service office at Portland. These increases, which bring the amounts up to $90,389 in Washington and $83,575 in Oregon, are made possible by an increase of $200,000 in the total congressional appropriation for all states carried by the last agricultural appropriation bill. The total now stands at $1,400,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1. In total amounts received for fiscal year 1929, California leads but with only $58,000 more than Washington, which stands second; Minnesota third, and Oregon fourth.

Much of this total increase for 1930 will come to the western states where the funds are used to build up adequate organizations and equipment for fire detection and suppression on privately-owned timber lands, under the principle that government, state, and private ownership each has a definite responsibility in forest protection. This 1924 act therefore covers the protection from fire of state and private forest lands only, and is entirely apart from protection expenditures on the national forests which are cared for under separate appropriations.

The government amounts now available are estimated to cover $19,050 less than one-fourth of the cost, in Oregon, of fire prevention, and $5,861 below one-fourth in Washington, the remaining cost being supplied by the states and timber-land owners. Both states are working toward adequate systems of protection for all state and privately-owned forest lands. Under this plan the costs would be met by a three-way division, the federal government and the state bearing one-half the expense and the landowners bearing the other half.

The growing of timber is a long-time crop which requires that owners of cut-over lands have assistance in their protection during the time the lands are non-productive, as recognized by forest-tax law passed by the last Oregon legislature. In a region where there is danger of forest fires spreading over large areas, as is the case in most forested regions, an individual owner is helpless in protecting his holdings independently, and it is to encourage organized protective methods as well as to have the public bear a part of the cost that the Clarke-McNary act was passed in 1924. Thirty-five states are now cooperating with the federal government under this act.

JUNIOR TOWN BIG CHAUTAUQUA FEATURE

Chautauqua week is the big week of the year for the youngsters. The committee bringing Chautauqua here has just received plans from the headquarters of the Associated Chautauqua, saying that this year's Junior Town program is to be bigger than ever.

The young folks will elect their own mayor, the town clerk, the news reporter, the law and order commissioner, the service commissioner, and the health commissioners. It is expected there may be two or more candidates for the various offices, and that quite a campaign will be waged. One day during Chautauqua it is planned to have the Junior Town Offices administer the city government, with the assistance of the regular officers.

The Superintendents on the circuit coming here are all ladies who had a special training in the conduct of playgrounds and Junior Town.

There will be picnics, hikes, parties, yells, stories, games, etc., and other special features that will make it an eventful week for the younger members of the community.
