

Local Happenings

Attorney Jos. J. Nys and family arrived home Monday evening from a trip to Portland and Willamette valley points. They left Heppner on Wednesday last and motored through Portland to Salem, going over the west side highway, and later returning by the Pacific highway on the east side. They report the valley as very beautiful at this time, and the crop outlook is excellent.

J. W. Hiatt, Earl Gilliam, Leonard Gilliam and son Louis, Earl Warner, George Broadley and Ed Kelley composed a party of fishermen returning from East Lake late Sunday night. These boys were unfortunate in meeting up with a young blizzard while at the popular lake fishing grounds and consequently report small catches. They say they enjoyed the trip just the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boyer and children Mrs. Vernon Bartlett, sister of Mr. Boyer, arrived at Heppner from the Boyer home near Monument early yesterday, being en route to Eugene for a visit at Mrs. Bartlett's home. Donald Boyer, who is recovering from an attack of spotted fever, will spend a few weeks at the home of his aunt while recuperating.

Dick Wells is mourning the loss of a fine bird dog, which was the victim of poison on Sunday. Mr. Wells regrets the loss of the animal very much, as he was getting him into good training, and had been very particular about allowing the dog to run about. He thinks he had been away from the house about twenty minutes when he got the poison.

Mrs. Stanley Reavis and Mrs. Leonard Schwarz motored to Sunnyside, Wash., on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Reavis returned home on Wednesday, accompanied by a sister of Mr. Reavis who will visit at Heppner for a short time, while Mrs. Schwarz went on to Mabton for a visit with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shurte until Sunday.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hayes in this city on Memorial day were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Driskell and wife of La Grande, Mrs. Elsie Stevenson and son Lawrence and Mrs. John Freund and daughter Jean of The Dalles. Mr. Driskell is a brother and Mrs. Stevenson a sister of Mrs. Hayes.

Rhea Luper, state engineer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Max Rogers, passed through Heppner on Monday on their way to Willowa county on business in connection with Mr. Luper's office. They stopped over here long enough to have words of greeting with a number of old time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Parker of Lexington were Monday visitors in Heppner. Mr. Parker is located on the J. B. Carmichael farm east of Lexington and he makes favorable report of the condition of wheat out that way which will make a good yield if visited by the expected June rains.

Dr. A. H. Johnston, Gay M. Anderson and Gay, Jr., Ted McQuay and Chas. Cox returned Saturday from East Lake where they enjoyed some good fishing. Members of the G. T. staff and families are indebted to the gentlemen for some fine Eastern Brook, that were delicious.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Jones returned home on Tuesday evening from a trip to Portland. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Ellis Henrikson, her son Alvin and Rena Wilson who will spend the summer visiting with the relatives here.

Mrs. Geo. Thomson and daughter returned home on Friday from a stay of several weeks at Astoria, where they went with Mr. Thomson. George is remaining at Astoria for medical treatment and is reported to be getting along quite well.

Congratulations of their Morrow county friends are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rood on their marriage recently in Portland. Mrs. Rood was formerly Miss Mary Ganger, late of Portland but formerly of Ione.

Stephen Irwin and family were in Arlington over Memorial Day, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cason, Mrs. Irwin being a sister of Mr. Cason. They passed through Heppner Friday on their way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson, who spent a few days at Heppner during the past week, while Mr. Ferguson was closing up a business deal here, returned to their home near Jacksonville on Saturday.

District Attorney Notson departed for La Grande on Tuesday to be present at the dedication of the new Eastern Oregon state normal building, which ceremonies took place on Wednesday.

J. E. Hams was a visitor here on Saturday from the Dan Rice farm near Hardman. Up that way grain has grown rather slow owing to the continued cold weather, but it is looking good.

This paper expresses appreciation of a gift of some fine fish from the baskets of D. A. Wilson, Marlin Gramme and Alva Jones who returned on Saturday of last week from East Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Borg spent the week end at Heppner from their home in Portland. They were guests at the home of Mrs. Borg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCarty.

E. E. Dykstra and wife of Dallas and C. S. Dykstra of Oregon City, arrived at Heppner on Monday for a visit at the home of their father, Geo. W. Dykstra in Heppner.

"THE SPIRIT OF AMERICA"

Two Bank Failures Additional Chautauqua Argument, Says Florida Daily

Stuart, Florida, was one of the towns hard hit by the Florida storm in the fall of 1928. Then the banks had become over-loaded with boom paper and finally both of them closed, less than a week before Chautauqua began in March of this year. Here is an editorial printed in the Stuart Daily News regarding the community's financial condition and the Chautauqua to come:

"For three terrible days and nights the writer, with his family watched the red glare of burning San Francisco, and was submerged in the heavy pall of smoke and gloom that enshrouded the entire country as a result of the awful earthquake, and the world's greatest conflagration.

Never has the world seen a darker picture of despair and hopelessness.

Despondency? Gloom? Despair? What?

How glorious to lift up one's eyes and behold the new San Francisco, grander, more beautiful than ever before, and why?

Because the indomitable spirit of those Westerners refused to be conquered, or to lie prone upon the ground, though stunned by the severity of the fall.

That spirit is the true American spirit; the spirit that has put our nation in the forefront of all the nations.

But someone says, "Two bank failures within a week!"

"Stuart without a bank!"

Yes, it is true, it is sad, and no mistake. It is discouraging. But listen: We are Americans.

Walter Becket, wife and daughter of Eight Mile were Saturday visitors in Heppner. Mr. Becket is not the least downhearted over the crop outlook in his section.

Egbert Young, of Eight Mile, who was in the city over Sunday night, reports that his crops are coming along fine and he is expecting a good yield at harvest time.
