FAREWELL, SHERLOCK HOLMES.

SHERLOCK HOLMES is dead. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has again announced that he will never revive this world-famous character.

But not only is he dead in fiction—the Sherlock Holmes type of detective is now seen as doomed in fact.

Baffling mysteries are no longer to be solved by cleverness. They are to be unraveled by scientific experts relying upon standardization methods of precise identification.

Before the National Conference of Weights and Measures at Washington, William Souder of the Bureau of Standards some weeks ago made predictions that may eventually take all the romance out of criminal hunting.

He showed how the most cunning criminal of the future will be discovered through super-microscopes that will tear his identity from a typewritten document, a pistol ball, a cartridge shell or a signature.

The coming out and dried methods may take some of the thrill out of the accounts of the exploits of detectives on the trail. But they may eventually reduce crime to a minimum by making discovery virtually certain.

MARION TALLEY'S MODEL FARM HOUSE.

NOT only has Marion Talley, famed opera star, who announced she was giving up her career to enter agricultural activities, actually bought a farm, but she has decided to build a farm house to serve as a model for wives in the Kansas wheat belt.

Miss Talley's 360 acres near Colby, Kansas, are level, treeless, unbroken, with rich black dirt everywhere. It is ideal land for wheat.

In the immediate vicinity of her farm, Charles M. Talley, her father, met and wooed her mother, Mrs. Talley.

Soon Miss Talley will begin to build her house on the ground she has purchased, and it will be equipped with all modern conveniences, especially in the kitchen.

Miss Talley hopes she can prove to Kansas farmers that their wives might just as well have the comforts and labor-saving devices of their city sisters. She plans to visit among them, encouraging the comforts and conveniences of new housekeeping methods.

We want to wish Miss Talley great personal success in the operation of her farm. And express our admiration of her spirit of helpfulness in desiring to make her house a model for others.

W. O. Bayless, accompanied by Mrs. Guy Boyd and son of Caldwell, Idaho, and Mrs. Lena White of this city, departed the first of the week via McKenzie pass for Marshfield, where they will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Curtis. Mrs. Boyd was a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smead.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for July 14. Ezekiel 23:7-16

Object lessons were often used by Ezekiel. At such times he always had a curious if not interested audience. People are invariably attracted when something is being shown. Before the fall of Jerusalem the minister to the captive Hebrews at Tel-abib in Babylonia took a piece of tile and drew the outline of Jerusalem thereon. The Temple appeared in the center and the city was surrounded with implements of war. The siege was indicated as he placed an iron pan between himself and the wall, and lay there for days eating a rationed portion of bread daily. In time a refugee arrived declaring all that had taken place, and that the city was no longer a habitation for its founders.

Sick at heart the people suffered. Many were not individually responsible but were in captivity because of the prolonged and wilful sins of their ancestors as a whole. Up to this time much had been declared about class responsibility. Henceforth more is to be proclaimed regarding personal responsibility. Have you read the second third of Ezekiel as was called for in the study last week? The special portions for today are all of chapters 18 and 23. Nothing can take the place of your own careful Bible reading.

Imagery is used again as Ezekiel is called a "Watchman" by Jehovah and commanded to be very faithful in performing the trust involved in that office. It is a position of great responsibility. Lives of many others

The Family Treasury

Jimmy Brown was a money maker in a modest way. He had the bungalow almost paid for, and Mrs. Jimmy Brown knew the meaning of team work in the matter of overcoming difficulties.

It was in the late autumn that Mrs. Jimmy began to think about a new rug, and a few pieces of more tasteful furniture for the coming spring. She had grown tired, as any good woman must, with the ceaseless dust-sweeping, changing positions of the antiquated sofa and worn rockers—she just couldn't make the living-room look cheery any more!

But the relentless mortgage kept eating its way into the family treasury; until it could be paid off.

The little wife decided to stop every leak in the family budget she could—and to save closer if possible, but how? There was just thirty-five cents in her purse—a dime and a quarter—when her resolution was formed; she would save every dime that came her way. She put the in numerical order at the rate of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) on the first day of August of each of the years 1925 to 1924 inclusive, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of not to exceed five per cent (5%) per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of February and August, principal and interest payable in United States gold coin at the office of the County Treasurer in Heppner, Oregon, or at the Fiscal Agency of the State of Oregon in New York City.

All bids must be unconditional and accompanied by a certified check for $2,000.00.

The Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The approving legal opinion of Messrs. Teal, Winfree, McCulloch & Shuler will be furnished the successful bidder.

GAY M. ANDERSON, County Clerk Heppner, Oregon.
