HAIL THE GRAF ZEPPELIN

IN the sixteenth century Magellan circumnavigated the globe in a sailing vessel, and the fact has been drummed into the heads of school children ever since as one of the most progressive steps taken by man up to that time.

The Graf Zeppelin is now reaching the end of its round-the-world tour—from Lakehurst, N. J., to Lakehurst, N. J., with only three stops in between.

The flight of Dr. Eckener and his crew presages a new era of progress—it has the most vital bearing on future commerce and travel.

WAIT BEFORE YOU DENOUNCE

"ANOTHER group of bureaucrats pestering the farmers," and "only one more commission affording jobs at Washington at fat salaries to its members," is how Senator Glass speaks of the new Federal Farm Board.

Nothing in the daily news lately has given sports fans more of a thrill than the Portland ball club's sensational rise from cellar position to head the Pacific Coast league.

trip of the big dirigible actually started from Germany and will finish there. The first leg of the airvoyage from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrichshafen was only a preliminary.

Unbalanced Ration May Cause Premature Laying

Allowing the pullet flock to come into laying too early is like crying after the milk is spilled, says F. E. Fox, poultry husbandman at the Oregon experiment station.

Another means of getting the desired frame development in the young birds is by keeping oyster shell and granulated bone in the hoppers at all times, says Mr. Fox.
