

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

DID YOU KNOW—It's the thing now to have bath towels in different colors, one for each member of the family? And that most exquisite pastel colors are available—colors that make the bathroom seem like the end of the good fairy's rainbow, with peach, orchid, jade, maize, turquoise, rose, all hobnobbing together in delightful harmony.

In sanitary interests the idea was begun, the motive being to make it easy for each member of the household to detect instantly his or her own towel. For differences in color are comprehended with much greater ease than variations in shape, size, or location.

All in all, we think it a charming innovation. Not only does it enliven those old-fashioned dead white bath rooms that are so woefully out of date, but it relieves us of our job of Supervisor of the Racks. When Bobby gets used to his jade towel, he never thinks of reaching for Eleanor's in peach; nor does he dare to besmirch the big, fluffy maize towel that belongs to Dad alone.

Strange that color could settle this annoying family problem without a single word of argument.

To Cook Ham
 Prepared as follows, ham will have a tenderness and juiciness that can be obtained in no other way: Cut a slice of ordinary thickness; take off a few pieces of fat and place in a frying pan over the fire, allow fat to fry for a few moments, then put in ham and cook five minutes, turning once. Pour enough boiling water in pan to cover ham, cover with lid and cook from 8 to 10 minutes, turning ham once.

Creamed Spinach
 Cook 2 lbs. spinach, drain and chop fine; return to fire, add 1 tbs. butter, salt and pepper and stir until butter melts. Add 2 tbs. cream and 2 hard-cooked egg yolks chopped fine.

Peach Salad
 Scald, peel and halve ripe peaches, chill them; fill centers with chopped blanched almonds and tiny cubes of mild yellow cheese. Dust with paprika, serve on iced lettuce leaf with French dressing.

Almond Sticks
 Roll puff paste or short pie-crust 1 inch thick; brush with white of egg and sprinkle with shredded almonds and powdered sugar. Cut in strips 1-2 inch wide and 3 inches long. Chill and bake in quick oven.

Packing Bottles for Traveling
 To prevent possibility of leaking liquid when packing bottles in the traveling bag—pull over the top of each bottle a rubber finger stall or finger from an old kid glove. Then if stopper is inserted firmly, it will not work loose or permit leakage.

Renewing Old Brass Beds
 Painted metal furniture is quite the vogue just now, and the smartest finish is one in pastel colors. So treat shabby iron or brass beds to a coat of good metal paint in some shade harmonious with your color scheme.

FISH AND GAME ACTIVITIES

Released by the Oregon State Game Commission, Oregon Bldg., Portland

Sportsmen who were forced to alter their deer hunting plans because of the postponement of the season must wait for a general rain which will quench the flames of destructive forest fires that are sweeping the state. In no season of the recent past has Oregon experienced the long period of drought that has been the lot of the state this year. When timber men were congratulating themselves on having escaped serious fires, flames broke out in a large number of places and demanded the efforts of hundreds of fighters. Governor Patterson, unwilling to permit the taking of unnecessary hazards, issued a proclamation calling for the closing of the season from the original opening date of September 15 until such a time as the coming of rains would wipe out the old fires and prevent the starting of new ones. Ample time was given the sportsmen to make the changes in their hunting plans to conform to the official ruling. When the season is to open depends entirely upon the weather man.

Reports of illegal seining and dynamiting of fish on the lower Rogue river at the expense of the upper Rogue are declared to be entirely without foundation by Harold Clifford, state game warden. To ascertain the validity of statements of illegal fish taking Mr. Clifford with Matt Ryckman, superintendent of hatcheries, spent several days in the Gold Beach district where alleged violations were said to be going on. His investigation convinced him that there are probably less law violations on the lower Rogue than on any other stream in Oregon; that the river is a seething mass of steelhead and salmon and that fishing is good; and that private citizens and commercial fishermen are willing and anxious to co-operate with the state game department in its efforts to enforce the laws protecting steelhead and salmon.

Plantings of fish by the state game department during the last two weeks were as follows: Paulina Lake, Deschutes county, 187,500 Eastern Brook; Sparks Lake, Deschutes county, 12,500 Eastern Brook; Link Lake, Deschutes county, 15,000 Eastern Brook; Odell Lake, Klamath county, 34,000 Eastern Brook; Leith Lake, Klamath county, 7,500 Eastern Brook; Deeben Lake, Klamath county, 6,500 Eastern Brook; Bobby Lake, Lane county, 43,200 Eastern Brook; McKay Dam, Umatilla county, 20,000 Eastern Brook.

With another month to go before the fiscal year of the state game department ends the records show that 25 more cougar have been killed in Oregon than in the year ending September 30, 1928. Last year a total of 254 cougar were killed while during the eleven months of the current year 279 have been killed. Harold Clifford, state game warden, believes that this increase is in no measure due to the fact that hunters are realizing the great inroads the cougar make among deer and are making efforts to wipe the predatory pests from the forests. Another thing is that many hunters are equipping themselves with trained varmint dogs. Only dogs trained for predatory animal hunting are of value in taking cougars. The offering of $500 in cash prizes in addition to the regular $25 bounties to the most successful cougar hunters will undoubtedly make a heavier killing in the coming season.

Like the shoe maker who spends his day off in cobbling his own shoes, Matt Ryckman, superintendent of hatcheries for the state game department, cannot remain away from fish or fishing territory on his vacation. With a party of friends from the federal bureau of fisheries he is making a two weeks' trip to the Alaska fishing grounds.

Lady (who has just given a penny to a beggar): How did you lose your frotune, my good man?

Beggar: By giving huge sums to the poor, just like yourself, madam.

Just before the fall rains start would be a good time to repair that roof. Remember how it leaked last winter? Our estimate on the job will be complete.

If all the sea-sick travelers were laid end to end, it wouldn't help at all.

began to crowd, step on one another's feet and push, and by the time they got to the Mascall place they got into a free for all fight. It became terrific, the truck began to rock, and the fury of the fight increased, and when the mad steers all got on one side, over the load went with the truck uppermost, the steers beneath, and Jake Wineburger's eyes popping out like organ stoppers. He will be back for another load but he wants steers that know how to behave when they start for the slaughter house in an auto truck.—Blue Mountain Eagle.
