

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cantwell are here for Rodeo week, coming in on Monday. During the winter Mr. Cantwell has been working at mining and for a lumber company in the Greenhorn mountains. He is following mining these days during the winter season and the mine he owns is situated about ten miles from the property of the Heppner Mining company. Following the Rodeo Mr. and Mrs. Cantwell will go to the Willamette valley to remain until about Christmas time, expecting to be located either at Salem or Dallas.

Mrs. Sadie Warren, wife of Theodore Warren of Kinzua, Ore., died on Sunday at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, where she was taken recently for medical treatment. The body was shipped to Case Furniture Co., undertakers at Heppner, arriving Monday morning, and funeral services were held at the former home of Mrs. Warren at Hardman on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Milton W. Bower, pastor of the Christian church at Heppner, officiating. Burial was in the cemetery at Hardman.

Otto Wageman, who has been farming what is known as the Ed Brown place in Blackhorse for the past 11 years, has decided that he will retire from the farming game, and expects to leave the farm in the early spring, turning the place over to the present owner, George E. Woodward. During the eleven years Mr. Wageman has been on this place he has done well and has had splendid crops each season. He is not decided as to what line of endeavor he will take up after leaving the farm.

C. N. Jones, farming the Dutton place south of Heppner, has been busy of late seeding. He has not completed the job but thinks he will wait for a good rain before putting in some 250 acres more of grain. Summerfallow land is in excellent condition and contained moisture sufficient that the grain sown is now beginning to show up.

L. A. Palmer of Lexington has not begun his fall seeding, waiting for little better weather conditions. He was in town for a short time on Tuesday afternoon, and up to that time the Lexington section had received but very little rain, though the weather had been threatening for several days.

The monthly meeting of the state highway commission will be at Portland today, Sept. 26. Commissioners Bleakman and Davidson will attend the meeting on behalf of the Heppner-Spray road, and it is likely that Judge Bengel, who is visiting in the valley, will be there also. The county court hopes to get some very definite action regarding this road, and believe that they have a proposition to make that will be acceptable to the state highway commission.

Mr. and Mrs. French Burroughs were at Heppner for a few hours Tuesday forenoon. When they left home it had not rained any on the creek south of Jordan Siding, but the clouds were hanging heavy. In that part of the county some farmers have been waiting for the rain before beginning fall seeding, but others have gone ahead and from some sections the report is that the grain is coming up nicely. This will give it a fine start ahead of the weeds.

Wm. Heubner, who farmed for many years in the Sand Hollow country northeast of Lexington, on what was known as the "chicken ranch," has taken a lease on the John Her place west of Heppner, taking charge of the place some two weeks ago. He is busy getting the summerfallow ground on the farm ready for fall seeding. Mr. Heubner has been living for the past four years in the Willamette valley.

L. E. Bisbee and F. W. Turner this week purchased from W. P. Hill the summerfallow on the Jas. Luper and Katherine Farnsworth places on Heppner flat, thus taking on several hundred acres in addition to the wheat land on the Higgs place, cropped the past season by Turner and Van Marter. Mr. Bisbee recently took over the interests of Mr. Van Marter in the lease of the Higgs land.

Mrs. T. G. Cochran passed thru Heppner Monday on her way home at Monument. She visited for a time with her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Turner and also with her son, J. L. Cochran, postmaster and merchant at Cecil. During an absence of some three months from home, Mrs. Cochran visited many different points of interest, having spent a goodly portion of the time at Ritter hot springs.

Mrs. Harry Duvall and daughter, Miss Erma Duvall, accompanied by James Leach, departed from Lexington for Portland on Saturday. Miss Duvall was going on from there to enter the university at Eugene where she expects to major in dramatics this year.

Mrs. Jennie Booher, who is working at the Chas. Acock place on Rhea creek, was a visitor in town Friday, taking time off to celebrate her birthday by enjoying a visit with her relatives in town.

that will probably agree that this Mr. Henpeck was about half right; after he had been married about a year and the matrimonial bark had not sailed smoothly, he asked the clerk who had issued the license whether it was a marriage license or a dog's license, because he had led a dog's life ever since.
