

Here's How

BY E. W. HOWE
"The Sage of Potato Hill"

ARE YOU ORTHODOX?
QUEEN VICTORIA.
OLD THINGS AND NEW.

As impressive reading as I have ever found in the writings of a first-class man is from George Santayana:

"I have great respect for orthodoxy; not for those orthodoxies which prevail in particular schools or nations, and which vary from age to age, but for a certain shrewd orthodoxy which the sentiment and practice of laymen maintain everywhere. I think that common sense, in a rough, dogged way, is technically sounder than the special schools of philosophy, each of which squints and overlooks half the facts and half the difficulties in its eagerness to find some detail the key to the whole. I am animated by distrust of all high guesses, and by sympathy with the old prejudices and workaday opinions of mankind; they are ill expressed, but they are well grounded.

I also like Santayana because he said: "My system is not mine, nor is it new." I am prejudiced against those persons who show enthusiasm only in presence of something they consider new. Here is a leader in philosophy who has most respect for the old common sense as discovered by laymen in the school of practical experience, where all of us are students, and may become useful teachers.

Harvard college is just a building; outside is the World: I am orthodox; I accept what the best of my neighbors say; I accept that shrewd orthodoxy which the sentiment and practice of laymen maintain everywhere.

When one encounters a good thing in reading, a pleasurable thrill follows—I never greatly admired Queen Victoria. Possibly it was because her virtues were exploited so much; one soon gets too much of that. But years ago I read that, as a girl, Victoria was compelled to learn housekeeping, and it gave me a pleasurable thrill, for I believe in training of that sort. Occasionally I have heard a woman say, boastfully, that she never had her hands in dishwater, and thereafter I think of her as I do of a professional actress, athlete, suffragette, or follower of the "cult."

A great medical association lately held its annual convention. The best men in the profession were attracted, and one old fellow, recognized as without a peer in his line, bluntly told them that with all their investigation, practically nothing of value in prolonging life had been discovered in many years; that old age is the same inexorable thing it has always been. . . . With all our learning, old things finally demonstrate their supremacy over the new.

There is a kind of woman men obey with a good deal of cheerfulness. But she is always a capable boss, and does not ask too much; when too much is demanded, men tighten up, and display a meanness women cannot equal.

Half the people are martyrs to unreasonable, disagreeable kin.

Traffic Activities Report Given By Secretary Hoss

Carelessness and failure to yield the right of way continue to be the leading causes for automobile accidents in Oregon, according to the August report of the state traffic department, under the supervision of Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state.

In a total of 2,615 accidents during the month, 1,185, or a total of 45 per cent, were attributed to carelessness on the part of either motorist or pedestrian, and 468, or 18 per cent, were reported as right of way difficulties. Only 1.8 per cent of the accidents were caused by intoxicated drivers, according to the reports, but that factor in itself contributed 48 of the accidents, or better than one a day during the month.

During August, 488 persons were injured and 10 killed in automobile accidents. August fatalities of the previous year numbered 12, while injuries totaled 169.

Among the other principal causes contributory to accidents during August of this year were the following: Exceeding the speed limit, 95;

driving on the wrong side of the road, 41; passing on a curve or hill, 29; failure to signal, 22; failure to stop for through street or highway, 31; double or prohibited parking, 30; defective brakes, 35; improper lights, 49; skidding, 53; reckless driving, as segregated from carelessness, 64; losing control of car, 76; and passing double at intersection, 20.

Injuries to bicycle riders averaged nearly one a day during August, with 29 persons injured as a result of the collision of an automobile and bicycle. Nine pedestrians were injured and 2 killed during the month.

Activities of traffic officers relative to licenses resulted in 308 warnings to motorists with one plate missing, 97 warnings and 6 arrests for no license plate, 308 warnings and 9 arrests for void foreign plates, 605 warnings for lack of operators' or chauffeurs' licenses, and 44 warnings for improper use of dealer's plates. Warnings were handed out to 1,638 drivers with one headlight and to 1,010 drivers operating cars without tail lights. A total of 243 arrests were made by officers during the month, while 11,852 warnings were given. Fines totaled $5,925.75, and fees collected by officers for the department were $7,555.15. Sixteen stolen cars were recovered, and 116,798 miles were traveled in carrying on the patrol duties of the traffic division.
