WHEAT RATE CUT FAVORED BY LIONS

Geo. Peck Cites Farmers' Fight; Mr. Notson Tells of Trip to Memphis.

"What would a saving of four cents on the freight rate of a bushel of wheat mean to the business men of Heppner?" This question was asked at the meeting of the Lions club Tuesday, following an explanation of Geo. N. Peck, of Lexington, of what the Eastern Oregon Wheat league and other farm organizations are trying to do to effect more equitable freight rates on wheat from Columbia basin points to the seaboard. Taking the average wheat output of the county at a million and a half bushels, a saving of four cents a bushel on the freight rate would mean sixty thousand more dollars annually in the pockets of Morrow county farmers with that much additional buying power.

Rates will be lowered this amount from Heppner branch line points if one proposition made to the Interstate Commerce commission by Arthur M. Geary, attorney for the wheatgrowers, is put in effect, said C. W. Smith, county agent. The Lions were impressed with Mr. Peck's proposition to the extent of giving it endorsement and authorizing a committee to assist Mr. Peck in carrying on the fight locally.

Mr. Peck was appointed Morrow county chairman to raise funds here to help carry on the rate fight, at a meeting of the Eastern Oregon Wheat league in Pendleton. He reports some success, having to date collected in the small sum of $130. It is believed Morrow county should be able to do better than this in proportion to what other districts raising a like amount of wheat are doing.

Mr. Geary, attorney for the wheatgrowers, has been working unremittently on the rate fight for more than a year, it was brought out, and it is believed some results will shortly be forthcoming. Mr. Peck stated a report from him is expected in January.

The rate fight was taken up by farmers on provision of the Hoch-Smith resolution in congress shortly after President Hoover's inception to office, authorizing a more equitable adjustment of freight rates on farm commodities. So far, it was stated, the Columbia basin has received no benefit from the resolution, though figures were quoted showing that rates here are out of line with other sections of the United States as much as 10 cents a hundred pounds.

Another feature of the Lions meeting was a report by E. Notson, district attorney, of his enjoyable trip to the national meeting of state attorneys generals at Memphis, Tenn., and the convention of the American Bar association. Every minute of his trip was most enjoyable, Mr. Notson declared, with one exception. There was a disconcerting undercurrent running through the bar convention which gave him the feeling that leading legal minds of the country were of the opinion that self-government in the United States is failing. Especially was a prevailing sentiment noted that the jury system is not measuring up. Mr. Notson commended the southern hospitality, but was not so overjoyed by being mistaken for a millionaire in Memphis. "They seemed to think all lawyers are rich," he said, "judging from the prices charged on every hand."

The Heppner-Spray road committee, headed by P. M. Gemmill, reported the outcome of the Canyon City junket last Friday.

Lexington Grange News.

(RUTH DINGES, Grange Reporter)
On Wednesday, December 4, Willows grange and Rhea Creek grange will meet with Lexington grange in joint session for the purpose of installing new officers.

The affair, which is public, will be followed with a basket supper.

The Lexington grange met Wednesday evening, November 8, in Leach hall. Officers were elected and candidates were given the first and second degrees. The candidates were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duval, Helen Falconer, Mae Gentry, Peggy Warner, Edith Tucker, Ellis Moyer and Russell Wright.

Most of the officers of the grange were reelected for a second term. The results of the election follow: J. Devine, master; Harry Dinges, overseer; Emma Peck, lecturer; Miles Martin, steward; Bertha Dinges, chaplain; Orville Cutsforth, treasurer; R. B. Wilcox, secretary; Ted McMillan, gate keeper; Ruth Dinges, Ceres; Fay Grey, Pomona; Clara Nelson, Flora; Beulah Nichols, lady assistant steward; Karl Miller, assistant steward; George Peck, Gene Gray and A. Nelson, executive committee.

After the initiation and election of officers a short program, sponsored by Eva Lane, was enjoyed. "The members of the grange have been divided into three sections, each section entertaining during one lecture hour. One member is put at the head of each of the three sections. This program was the first given under the new plan. Following the entertainment, cake, sandwiches, and coffee were served.

Rip Van Winkle Story in Cantata November 26

Telling the story of Rip Van Winkle in song, all the pupils of the upper grades of the Heppner grammar school will appear in a cantata picturizing Washington Irving's classic masterpiece on Tuesday evening, November 26, in the school auditorium-gymnasium. The presentation is a large undertaking, and it is expected to be one of the outstanding entertainments of the school year. The story was put in cantata form by Ira B. Wilson.

Featured on the program is the prologue by William Thomson, pantomime by James Driscoll and Anabel Turner, and solo by William Schwarz. Accompanists are Miss Frigaard and Mrs. Poulson. Kate Francis Ede, music supervisor, is in charge of the singing.

P. T. A. TO MEET.

The Patron Teacher association will meet on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19, at the hour of 3:15, at the high school auditorium, and all parents and others interested are requested to be present. The meeting is for the purpose of electing officers and getting the organization in shape for work during the remainder of the school year.

HUMORETTES

"She's a banker's daughter."
"No wonder she draws so much interest."

First Business Man: "Miss Burke is applying for a position in my office. Did she ever work for you?"
Second B. M.: "No."
"I see. How long was she in your employ?"

Two men were talking about horse racing and remarking upon the silly name given many horses.
"If I kept a racehorse I know what I should call him," said one.
"What?" asked the other.
"Change of a Dollar."
"But that's absurd, isn't it?"
"Is it? Tell me anything that goes more quickly."

Shy Girl: "Oh, but mother objects to kissing!"
Bright Lad: "Well, that's all right, I'm not kissing her, am I?"

He: "I can tell by looking in a girl's eye just what she thinks of me."
She: "How annoying!"

GRANT ENDORSES INTERIOR ROUTES

Sanction Given Ritter and Spray Roads on Visit of Business Junket.

Impressed by the ease with which the round trip may now be made to Canyon City, the business men's junket to the Grant seat Friday returned more enthusiastically than ever over the need for completion of the Heppner-Spray road. Leaving Heppner at 6 a. m. part of the delegation arrived back in the city shortly after 6 p. m., having spent half the time at Canyon, the Heppner-Spray route being used both going and coming. The distance to Canyon this way is 125 miles.

The delegation was more than pleased with the friendly manner in which it was received by the Grant county court, and with the court's action in regard to both the Heppner-Spray and Heppner-Ritter roads. At the time the Heppner men left the court had before it for adoption a resolution expressing its desire that the Heppner-Spray road be completed at an early date. In addition an offer was made to have a delegation at the December meeting of the state highway commission and bureau of public roads to assist in pushing the project along.

The Heppner-Ritter road was also endorsed by the court, and it was offered to have the Grant county engineer work in conjunction with the Morrow county engineer and George McDuffee in making a preliminary survey of a road at the Grant county end to connect up with the completed portion of this road to the Morrow county line. Mr. McDuffee was chosen to work with the engineers as it is said he is better acquainted with the topography of the country than any other one person, he having been reared as a boy in the country about Ritter.

The junket was organized through the Heppner Lions club as a part of its program in furthering the Heppner-Spray road. Those who assisted in presenting the delegation's proposition to the court included C. L. Sweek, S. E. Notson, Geo. Bleakman, L. Van Marter, P. M. Gemmill, E. D. Hallock and R. L. Benge. The Heppner-Spray road does not touch Grant county, the delegation had expected nothing more than moral support from the Grant court. The route, it was shown, is valuable to Grant in that its completion will open up another trunk highway joining up with the John Day highway, that will aid greatly in opening up this country and promoting its development.

The Grant county court made plain its position which makes it extremely difficult to give much financial aid to any road at present. It was said Grant county has the most miles of uncompleted roads of any county in the state with the least population. There is at least ten places to put each available dollar of road money, it was asserted. Under the conditions stated, the Heppner men feel that the court did its utmost, and that they were met more than half way.

IRRIGON

John Beavert spent the past week in Irrigon settling up the estate of his brother who passed away recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley Greebeil and son of Pendleton visited with Mr. Greebeil's folks over the week end. Joy Caldwell who is attending the Mowmouth normal spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents. She was accompanied by a friend from the school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Berry of Umatilla spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett McCoy.

The dance given Saturday evening by the Grange was enjoyed by all though not a very large crowd was present. A number of those who usually attend remained home to guard the turkeys that were dressed for market.

Around a thousand turkeys were shipped from this vicinity, most of them going in the Monday pool at Hermiston. However, the bulk of the birds will go in a later pool about December 10.

The road work which has been in full swing for the past three weeks was halted Monday to allow for the delivering of the turkeys at Hermiston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cork of Monument visited in the W. C. Isom home from Friday until Monday. Mr. Cork is a brother of Mrs. Isom and thinks some of locating here in the future.

HOME POINTERS.

(From School of Home Economics, OSAC)

Fruit juices may be used in gelatine desserts in place of water. Pastry requires about the hottest oven of any type of cooking.

A teaspoonful of honey or syrup, or one-eighth of a teaspoon of cream of tartar, added for each cup of sugar in a fudge frosting will often prevent a grainy texture.

The texture of biscuits is improved if the cut biscuit stands for at least 15 minutes before baking.

Heavy cream is the most satisfactory base for desserts frozen without stirring.

Cheese too soft to grate may often be put through a colander.

Hermiston Defeated 21-6 In Armistice Day Game

Winding up the football season with a string of victories excepting one tie game, in which they became entitled to the Upper Columbia Athletic association football pennant for the second time in four years, Heppner High school treated their opponents from Hermiston to an overwhelming 21-6 defeat at Redoe field Armistice Day.

Coach Poulson's proteges worked with a precision and effectiveness of power plays not shown before this season, and the Gentry boys, Harold and Roy, Robertson and Hayes in the backfield made yardage through the line almost at will, with the assistance of the wide holes opened by the linemen. Heppner would have scored, almost certainly, in every quarter had it not been for a fumble in the second when but a yard or so from the goal and four downs to take the ball across, it popped out of the runner's arms and was regained by R. Bills of Hermiston, who, with the aid of perfect interference, raced the entire length of the field for the lone Hermiston score. As it was Heppner scored touchdowns in the remaining three quarters.

The game was clean and hard-fought throughout before the largest crowd assembled at the local grid this season. The Hermiston team which held Heppner to a 0-0 tie in the first game of the season, on Armistice Day was outplayed in every department of the game.

All the Heppner boys were on their toes and with the exception of Harold Gentry, quarterback, whose broken generalship and spectacular broken field running were outstanding features, there is little special credit to give. The defense work of J. Smith, Hermiston fullback, was very noteworthy.

Scoring touchdowns for Heppner were H. Gentry, Hayes 2. Points after touchdown, Hayes 2. R. Gentry. Touchdown for Hermiston, R. Bills.

The line-up: Heppner—E. Thomson, L. Naxon, F. Walker, G. Maddox, G. Anderson, V. Adams, Evans, Bennett, Brown, Cox, Whitsett, R. Thomson, E. Martin, H. Gentry, Felthouse, R. Gentry, R. Bills, H. Robertson, M. Earnhart, J. Hayes, J. Smith.

Referee, May of Pendleton; umpire, Brunson; head linesman, Gay Anderson.

Farm Buildings Subject of Meet at State College

More efficient farm buildings for Oregon will be the topic of discussion at a farm building conference at Oregon State college, Thursday evening, November 21. The conference is being arranged by the schools of agriculture, forestry and engineering to give people of the state an opportunity to hear the all-important question of improved farm buildings discussed by national authorities.

Henry Giese, senior agricultural engineer of the United States department of agriculture and the foremost authority in the country on farm buildings, will give the main address. Giese is professor of farm building research at Iowa State college but his services have been loaned to the federal government to make a study of farm buildings throughout the United States. He will talk at the conference under the title "Better Farm Buildings at Minimum Costs." "Modernization of Home Financing" will be the subject of a talk given by Arthur A. Hood of Chicago, president of the Associated Leaders of Lumber and Fuel Dealers of America. Mr. Hood is a national authority on the financing of building programs.

A banquet will precede the evening meeting with Dean H. S. Rogers of the engineering school presiding, and Dean G. W. Peavy of forestry welcoming the visitors. Many of the leading farmers from every county in the Willamette valley have already expressed an interest in the meeting and lumber dealers and manufacturers throughout western Oregon have appointed delegates to the conferences.

PEACE BIRTHDAY EVENTFUL IN CITY

Hermiston Folk Guests of Heppner in Day of Fun and Reverence.

Speaking before one of the largest audiences to attend an Armistice Day program in Heppner for several years, David G. Glass of The Dalles made a strong plea for universal peace. He based his remarks largely upon passages from the Bible. Mr. Glass was a substitute speaker for Dr. D. V. Poling of O. S. A. C., who was injured in an automobile accident the last of the week and was unable to be here. The committee was fortunate, indeed, to be able to secure Mr. Glass. His address was inspirational, eloquent and convincing and was greatly appreciated.

The program, held at Elks' temple at 10:30 Monday morning, started with the singing of America by the audience followed by invocation by Milton W. Bower, pastor of the Christian church. Under the direction of Miss Beth Bleakman, teacher, the girls of the primary department of the local grade school gave a beautiful flag drill. C. W. Smith, commander of Heppner Post No. 87, American Legion, who presided, gave a short talk covering the main features of the Armistice holiday.

Songs by the high school glee club and the boys' and girls' octettes, under the leadership of Miss Kate Francis Ede, were greatly enjoyed. The selections were appropriate to the occasion and extremely well handled.

Miss Agood Frigaard, member of the school faculty, sang two solos, receiving well merited applause.

The Hermiston-Heppner high school football game was the main feature of the afternoon, with the parade of players and automobiles to the field preceding. Legionnaires of the Hermiston and Heppner posts, bedecked in mother hoods and other articles of feminine attire, lent spice to this occasion by a burlesque football performance. This took heavily with the spectators judging from the rounds of laughter evoked.

In the evening, at Legion hall, members of the legion and auxiliary were entertained at a feed which was rather unusual in that the main items on the menu were wartime army stand-bys—beans and macaroni. However, so efficient were the mess sergeants and helpers that these plebeian viands were much enjoyed. During the progress of the meal songs were sung, stories told and a general good time had.

The picture "The Donovan Affair" at the Star theater, was enjoyed by a capacity audience. Following the show the annual dance was held at the Elks' temple. A large crowd attended and enjoyed themselves to the music of the Heppner Black Cats. After the dance a great many returned to Legion hall to finish up the leavin's of the "feed."

Rodent Control Meetings Being Held This Week

Rats, mice, rabbits, gophers, magpies, crows, English sparrows and such are receiving attention and their destiny is being discussed this week in a serious manner at several meetings and demonstrations at various points over the county. These meetings are under the direction of C.W. Smith, county agent, assisted by Ira N. Gabrielson, state rodent control leader from Oregon State college at Corvallis. Mr. Gabrielson is working in conjunction with the county agent, and the series of community meetings began at Cecil Wednesday night, to be followed by another at Lexington, this Thursday evening, and the final one at Rhea creek Saturday night. Lectures and demonstrations following showing how the work of control is being carried on, is the order.

Mr. Smith states that the county is becoming infested with rats of late, and it has been reported to him that these have been seen in various places along Willow creek in the lower part of Heppner. Saturday night's meeting has been kept open so that anyone having rat infestations in the city might have control demonstrations put on by applying to Mr. Smith. Now is a mighty good time to head off this particular pest and prevent their spread.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Sheep killing dogs worked havoc at the farm of John Pieper on Wednesday night, Nov. 6, according to report reaching this office. Rufus Pieper is running a small band of sheep on the place and the dogs injured some 30 head of these so badly that they had to be killed. The sheep were ewes that would bring February lambs and the loss to Mr. Pieper was considerable.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Turner and daughters Jeanette and Anabel, accompanied by the Misses Helen Falconer and Helen Wells, teachers in Lexington school, motored to Wala Wala on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Turner and the girls enjoyed a visit with Robert Turner, student at Whitman college. They returned home Monday.

Mrs. E. R. Huston departed for Portland Tuesday evening to spend a few days visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Taylor.

Wm. Floreon is reported to be quite ill at his home in this city, suffering an attack of influenza.

Getting Ready for The Holiday Trade

The J. C. Penney company is making a place for its stock of holiday goods by fitting up one of the back rooms of the store building for the display. The goods are arriving and will soon be placed on the counters.

From J. D. Cash, the manager, we learn that it will be necessary for the company to enlarge its floor space, and this is in contemplation for the early spring, when an addition will be built on to the rear of the present quarters.

WILL ENTERTAIN PATRONS SANS PAY

Program Tuesday is First of Series to be Given Free by School.

An extensive concert will be presented by the boys' and girls' glee clubs of Heppner High school next Tuesday evening, in the gymnasium-auditorium, the first of a series of free entertainments to which the Heppner public will be treated thru the adoption of a new policy announced by Jas. M. Burgess, superintendent.

For many years there has been a drag on the pocketbooks of patrons of the school through having to pay for all school entertainments. This is a condition not altogether fair, believes Superintendent Burgess, and he is glad to be able to announce that the school finances are now in such shape as to permit a number of these entertainments to be given without charge.

Extensive preparation for the entertainment Tuesday evening has been made under the direction of Kate Francis Ede, music supervisor, and assurance is given that just as much effort has been expended to make the best possible showing as would have been the case for a paid entertainment. Mr. Burgess extends a cordial invitation to everyone to enjoy the school's hospitality on this occasion. The program and personnel follow:

Chorus—"America," "Our School" by Haesche, "Keep on Hopin'" by Maxwell, "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa.

Solo—"A Fat Lil' Feller and His Mammy's Eyes," Gordon—Ella Fell.

Boys' Glee—"Tinkers' Chorus" from "Robin Hood," "Kentucky Babe" by Gelbel, "Where the River Shannon Flows" by Russell, "Police-man's Chorus" from "Pirates of Penzance."

Solo—"Duna," MacGill—Paul Franzen.

Girls' Glee—"The Violet," Dvorak, "Shepherd to Eiekle," Weckerlin, "Smilin' Thru," Penn, "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell.

Solo—"Woodland Madrigal," Robert Estlin—Donna Brown.

Chorus—"Juanita," Spanish melody, "The Perry Dance," Molloy, "Now the Day is Over," Barnby.

Accompanists, Mrs. W. Poulson, Jeanette Turner.

The program is the result of two months' class work, to be sung from memory.

REVIVAL GAINING IN POWER.

The series of meetings being held by Lester Jones at the Church of Christ is being well attended, and all who attend are hearing the Gospel preached. Brother Jones is a young man, but is an earnest student of the scriptures and always has something to say that has challenge and interest in it.

The subject for tonight is "A Model Case of Conversion." Friday evening, "Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?" Sunday morning, "Why This Church Observes the Lord's Supper Every Week." Sunday evening, "Noah's Ark."

All evening services begin at 7:30 with a lively song service. There is special music at each service. The public is specially invited to be present at all services.

We hope for a large attendance at Bible school and Christian Endeavor on Sunday.
