the country and the district board. it should be a unit in a national the county and the district board corporation, through which loans each do a part of the job of levying the farmers to learn to do things in a big way. They will be free to practice their individualism in proluction on their farms, but it is necessary that they sacrifice some of that right in order to benefit by co-operation on the farm board's plan. As a co-operative is managed by its members free from government dictation, it is organized indi-vidualism. If some of the plans of direct relief had been adopted by congress, the farmers would have been under the rule of a vast bu-reaucracy having an army of in pectors and agents. The board oes not come to feed them pap; it comes to give them help, as on man helps another."

THANKSGIVING DAY.

THANKSGIVING DAY no longer carries, to most Americans, the historical and spiritual significance which it had for the people of New England for nearly three centuries. In a considerable section of the country, however, especially in the smaller communities, it remains a holy day consecrated to the memory of the courageous little band of pil grims who first established it as an annual memorial of their deliveratives of the national farm board explain how it is planned to make the big organization function. Our people heard at least one important thing—that the board will not make loans to individual farmers; the relief is not planned to come in this loans to individual farmers; the re-lief is not planned to come in this manner at all. Worth Considering

While the average span of life has been materially lengthened by has been materially lengthened by the splendid progress in medicine and surgery, yet the fact remains that more men of middle age or just beyond are dying in a given first to fail, at an age when it period of time than ever before. In fact it seems now that middleage is the critical period for men. A GOOD TIME TO SPEND

THERE are a good many people in the United States who won't have as much money to spend for the next few months as they had before trebled-and the labor of the heart they lost their savings in Wall Street. That is bound to affect busiincreased in exact proportion. The greatest danger is that people will think there is danger, and so curtail their normal buying. It is gluttonous quantity. The body is stuffed with heavy proteins at hours for the purpose of forestalling any slump in public confidence that President Hoover called the business leaders of America into conference, in order that a true picture of the nation's economic condition can be presented to everybody. Facts already developed indicate clearly that there is nothing to fear. On the contrary, this is a good time to spend money. There is plenty of money available for any useful, productive purpose. And in many lines, commodities are cheap-er now than they have been for some time past, cheaper than some of them are likely to be a few nonths hence

Curtains

Here's an idea for keeping your ace or scrim, net or swiss curtains

Make one extra pair when you make the curtains. Then each week or each two weeks as necessary, take down one pair of curtains that are beginning to look soiled, and put up the extra pair instead. Wash the soiled pair, and have them ready to put up at another window the next week, or the second week after as necessity indicates so that an-other soiled pair may be washed Thus you always have clean curtains, you never have more than one tains, you never have more than one pair to wash at a time, and you don't have that ugly spectacle of a curtainless house for three or four days while the curtains are launder-

The only hitch in this plan is that your windows may not all be the same length. In this case you would have to have all the curtains made for the longest window, and then when they were used on the shorter windows you could turn over an extra fold and baste it at the top. Or, you could have two extra pairs, one for the short windows and one for the longer ones. Either way would work out satisfactorily.

HUMORETTES

HEH! HEH!

A boy on his way to school ate too many green apples. As he took his seat the teacher asked him to name the present season. The boy arose in spite of the pain in his stomach. "I'm sure it's not the apple sea-son." he said, timidly. "How do you know that?" inquir-

"Every time I kiss you it makes me a better man." "Well, you don't have to try to get to heaven in one night."

From Blue Mountain Eagle, Canyon City, we learn that the case of State of Oregon vs. Guy Boyer, indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon, was called in circuit court there the early part of last week and Mr. Boyer entered a plea of "not guilty." The trial was contin-ued on consent of the district attorney until the May term, 1930, and defendant furnished bond in the sum of $2000. He is represented by C. L. Sweek of Heppner.
