

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

Mr. Rose and family of Cayuse have moved to the T. E. Broyles ranch on the East End recently vacated by W. E. Dutcher. The Roses have two children and their niece in school.

November 25 was Harvey Humphrey's fourth birthday, so his mother planned a delightful party for him. The table was cleverly arranged with a centerpiece of simulated cornstalks, small pumpkins and turkeys. At each plate was a cookie with an animal that stood up right in the frosting, and these with a sack of popcorn and peanuts were given each small guest to take home. Present were Maxine Cooney, Bobby King, Elizabeth Kristensen, Ernest Tyler, Erma, Asta, Elvira and Dagmar Skobo and the small host. Mothers attending were Mesdames Kristensen, A. Skobo and Tyler.

Miss Bethmyr Miller and Miss Gladys Wilson were home from normal at La Grande. James Howell was home from Oregon State.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hadley came home Saturday from Oregon City. Mrs. Hadley went down a fortnight ago and Mr. Hadley drove down the day before Thanksgiving.

Chas. Nickerson and family and Richard Dingman were guests of the Wassmer's on Thanksgiving.

A family gathering was enjoyed on Thanksgiving at the Z. J. Gillespie home. Covers were laid for the J. F. Barlows, Chas. Barlow and family of Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Messenger of Athena, Ed Barlow and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Coats and Echo and the Gillespies.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cooney and family were guests Sunday, Nov. 24, of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spagle at a lovely dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. James Howell and son James Jr. were entertained at a turkey dinner at the Nelsa Kristensen home on Thursday.

The Falers and Mrs. Ed Kunze and family enjoyed a fine turkey feast at the Paul M. Smith home on Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hale were guests of the Hereims on Thanksgiving.

Andy and Chas. Andregg were down from Hermiston Thursday.

L. C. Cooney and family spent their Thanksgiving at Hermiston with Emmett Cooney and family.

Supt. and Mrs. L. E. Marschat spent the week end in Walla Walla.

A delightful Thanksgiving was enjoyed at the Gorham home with Mr. and Mrs. Will Anderson and two children of New Plymouth, Ida, Lewie Blayden and wife of Vale, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Blayden and Fred Caskey seated at the festive board. The Andersons visited until Saturday, and Lewie Blayden left the day after Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Smith were pleasantly surprised to have their children, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Smith and Mrs. Marguerite Johnson drive up from Portland Tuesday evening to spend Thanksgiving. They went back on Friday.

Miss Francis Spike spent her vacation with her parents at Echo, Miss Henry at her home in Athena, Mrs. Titus went to Portland to visit her sister, Mr. King, Miss Brown and the Marschats remaining here.

The auditorium was filled to capacity Wednesday evening with interested patrons to see the operetta, "The Palace of Carelessness." The scene was laid in the lost and found building of London. The clocks and all the contents started to trollic at midnight. The clocks, made by the geometry class and Mr. Marschat, were especially clever, and the Baby Ben, Ralph Skoubo, made a big hit with the audience. Children have an inherent love for "dressing up" and this feeling was given full means of expression in the play. The vegetables sang and danced and with their colorful costumes representing peppers, squashes, onions, etc. were very attractive. Space will not permit mention of all the characters but Clara Mae Dillon as Dolly Dimples was so realistic and her singing and dancing were deserving of mention. The Teddy Bear, the Monkey, the Umbrella—all were good. Frances Titus took the part of the clown at the last moment when Geo. Graves failed to appear. The judge and jury pronounced sentence on those who had lost their various belongings. There were almost 60 in the cast.

Mrs. Marschat's Rhythm band made their appearance in uniform—white middie and long white trousers—playing two selections. This orchestra is made up of the first and second grades and Mrs. Marschat receives much praise for her work with these small folks. Miss Linda Hango plays the accompaniment. Echo, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Coats, directed the orchestra.

A playlet Tommy and Amy are Thankful, was given by some of the intermediate children. A picture by Mary Chaffee with Myrtle Wetherell posing as the Pilgrim maiden followed. A recitation by A. T. Hereim, a Thanksgiving acoustic, completed the numbers preceding the first act of the operetta. Dave Rose, a newcomer here, danced between acts and received much applause. It was a delightful evening's program. Some of the older boys did not speak out as loudly as they might have, but it was all good training, and to the teachers and pupils is due much credit as well as to the mothers who made vegetable costumes, soldier suits, stick candy outfits and what not.

Nate Macomber's parents, brother and sister, were here from Grandview, Wash., for Thanksgiving. Al Macomber and family were down from Condon and all partook of a sumptuous feast at the Macomber home.

"The best laid plans of mice and men," etc. The Packard's dinner party did not terminate as planned at all. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins and daughter were unable to come, and Mr. and Mrs. Royal Rands and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughnan Keyes and children and Mrs. Ray Howell and daughter, Mrs. Wm. Strobel and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spagle, the Berger family and Carl Wicklander comprised the guest list. In the evening a dancing party was held. Present were the Rands, Meads, Dillaboughs, Fortiers, Spagles, Shanes, Keyes, Browns, Linda and Victor Hango, Helen Chaffee, Carol Kennedy, Nellie Dillon, Selma Ayers, Noel Kiltz, Mrs. Roy Howell, Mrs. Strobel, Gladys Wicklander and Gladys Wilson.

Chas. Wicklander is to be state organizer of the grange starting his work this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Berger and Miss Catherine Berger were up on business Thanksgiving. They brought a Mr. Reith up with them. Mr. Reith will look after the Berger ranch opposite Meffords.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shriever and baby were over Saturday from Lexington, guests at the Faler home.

Brice Dillabough and family were guests Sunday evening at the Lee Mead home. Mr. Mead celebrated his birthday at this date.

The road past Robt. Wilson place to the highway has been opened up and an effort is now being made by residents on the highway to change the mail route so it will be unnecessary to go to town daily for the mail. This change would serve the Rands, Stout, Weston and Packard ranches.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore and child of The Dalles spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wicklander. They with the Meads, Dillaboughs and C. H. Dillabough partook of a wonderful dinner at the Chas. Wicklander home that day.

Friends here are interested to learn of the recent marriage of Zoe Hadley to Mr. Fisk of Arlington.

The house and chicken house on the H. H. Weston place are fast getting under way and the Westons will move shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Y. P. Rutherford spent Thanksgiving in Arlington at the Clyde Wristen home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Weston and Mr. Wilbanks were dinner guests at the Tom Hendricks home on Thanksgiving.

Miss Ethel Broyles came home from normal at La Grande for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens who own the Calahan place were dinner guests Thursday at the Raymond Shane home.

Mat McNamee of Condon visited his brothers, Johnny and Jim. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jenkins and Elvira were guests Sunday at the Packard home.

Pete Slevin made a business trip to Heppner Saturday.

Bob Partlow had his car pretty badly battered recently when a horse interfered with his right-of-way.

Mrs. Neal Bleakney and five children of Echo spent Thursday and Friday at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. H. Weston.

Special services were held Sunday at the church. Rev. Miller conducted the usual morning services. A pot luck dinner was served at the close of the meeting, followed by a service conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Alquist led the singing and Mrs. Alquist gave a most interesting talk. The church was well filled.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughnan Keyes and two children and Mrs. Roy Howell and daughter were guests at the Royal Rands home over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ellis had a family dinner Thanksgiving. Their daughters, Mrs. Bert Bennett and family of Arlington and Mrs. Joe White and family of Willow creek were with them. A fine turkey dinner was enjoyed.

Miss Ella Miller of Redmond spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Miller. Miss Miller is home economics demonstration agent of Deschutes county.

The Home Economics club gave another card party Saturday night at the I. Skoubo home. There were 10 tables of players and at the close of the game Mrs. Duggan and Mr. Ransier were found to have high scores, and Mrs. Claude Myers and M. Coats received consolation. Hostesses were Mesdames Duggan, Kunzies and I. Skoubo.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mackan and children spent the Thanksgiving vacation visiting friends and relatives in Enterprise. The oldest boy Delbert and Miss Emma Beverness, a sister of Mrs. Mackan who is here from Nebraska for the winter, stayed home to look after the stock.

A fine Thanksgiving dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Myers. Covers were laid for sixteen. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Saunders and M. Thomas of Condon who is visiting his sister, Mrs. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. I. Skoubo and children, Miss Emma Beverness, Delbert Mackan. Mr. Wilbanks was a guest for supper at the Myers home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hereim were guests of the Cooneys Friday evening, motoring to Hermiston to attend "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The kindness of Boardman people was again shown when they shared their small portion of worldly goods with the Chas. Nickerson family who have had such a tremendous expense with the long illness and death of their daughter, Pearl. Everyone gave willingly and gladly and over one hundred dollars was given them with the best wishes of the community. The Nickersons wish to express their heartfelt thanks for the kindness shown them; they were deeply touched by the deed.

W. A. Price and son Billy and Mrs. Lottie Attebury and Ray Barlow were guests at the J. R. Johnson home on Thanksgiving.

Because of the turkey pool the date of the bazaar had to be changed to Friday, Dec. 13. Come and see the relics in the old museum, the zoo with its strange animals, the marvelous "Baby Show" and many other attractions.

Mrs. I. Skoubo suffered with an extremely painful infection on her thumb. A felon was feared. Mrs. King had the same difficulty this week with her finger.

Mrs. A. A. Agee who has charge of the cafeteria at the Adventist school at Hermiston was home for the holidays as was her daughter Emma who attends school there. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hubbel who are staying on the Agee ranch this winter drove to Mikkalo to spend the holidays with Mrs. Hubbel's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graves and baby and Gladys and George Graves spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Graves' parents, the Wilcozes, near Lexington.

Shelby Graves and wife and Mr. and Mrs. John Graves were guests Sunday at the parental home at a lovely dinner.

Ray Barlow came up Sunday from Quentin.

Claude Myers made a business trip to Hermiston Friday.

The Robert Wilsons entertained the Ray Browns on Thanksgiving.

Preparing canned salmon! In order to have unqualified success with this recipe it is necessary to have a waterfall near the home. Take a medium sized can of salmon, puncture it in several places with an ice pick and place in a sugar sack. Tie the neck of the sack securely and fasten to 20 feet of clothes line. Fasten clothes line securely to a tree upstream from the falls, allowing sack to hang over the top of the falls where the water is swiftest. After the treatment has progressed two hours, stit up boldly and cut the rope.

Sense and Nonsense "Mother, is it correct to say 'water a horse when he is thirsty?'"

"Yes, my son, quite correct."

"Well, give me a saucer. I'm going to milk a cat."

Then there was the Scotchman who found a package of corn plasters and bought a pair of tight shoes.
