rain has been followed by ideal weather.

It is interesting to note that on a near-by alfalfa ranch this year between 300 and 400 tons of alfalfa hay, valued at over $4000, was grown, cut, stacked, baled, sold and shipped without rain and with no irrigation except in the early spring.

Miss Hazel Feldman, an Ione girl who is a senior student at Oregon State college has been pledged to Rho Chi, an honor society in pharmacy.

Mrs. John Glascock of Portland, Mrs. Tempa Rhodes of Everett, Wash., and Mrs. Eva Johnson of Astoria passed through Ione Sunday on their way home from Spokane where they had been for the burial of John Glascock, the husband and father, who died Sunday, Dec. 8, in Portland.

At the regular meeting of the Dorcas society held Thursday afternoon at the Congregational church the following officers were elected for 1930: Mrs. Mary Swanson, president; Mrs. Lydia Balsiger, vice-president; Mrs. Lillian Balsiger, secretary; Mrs. Jennie McMurray, treasurer.

The next meeting of the Missionary society of the Congregational church will be January 9 instead of January 2 as stated in last issue.

Mrs. Ed Dick entertained at a very pleasant little bridge party last Friday evening at her home on First street. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cotter, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lueallen, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown, Miss Hildegard Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Dick. High scores were made by Mr. and Mrs. Mason.

Mrs. Robert Mathison departed Thursday of last week after a pleasant visit at the ranch home of her brother, John Williams.

Francis Ely was suffering last week from a badly sprained ankle, received while engaged in basketball practice.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Christopherson have gone to Merced, Calif., for a visit with Mr. Christopherson's parents.

Mrs. Lena Lundell was hostess to the Past Grand club of the Rebekah lodge last Friday afternoon. The ladies present were Mrs. Mary Swanson, Mrs. Mary Shaver, Mrs. Bernice Blackwell, Mrs. Etta Howell, Mrs. Gladys Drake, Mrs. Clara Hawk, Mrs. Ada Brown, and Mrs. Elvena Beezley who was an invited guest. During the afternoon the box of fruit was packed which the club is sending to the Odd Fellows home in Portland. The drawing was held on the Rayon bed spread which the ladies had been raffling off. Mrs. Emil Swanson held the lucky number.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsiger left Sunday for Portland and other valley points. They expect to return home Friday and will bring their daughter, Miss Elva, home with them for the Christmas vacation.

Lowell Clark has returned to Ione after several months spent at Wenatchee, Wash., and Portland. Ione people who attended the district convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary held last Thursday in Condon were Mr. and Mrs. John Ferris, Miss Beryl Clark, Mrs. Helen Farrars, Orren Grabill, and Elmer Cochran. All report an enjoyable time. During the afternoon there was a meeting of the Legion boys and also one of the Auxiliary ladies. The banquet was served at 6 o'clock and the evening was spent in dancing.

Richard McElligot returned Monday to Portland. He had been spending a few days at the home of his son, Charley McElligot.

The sale last Saturday of the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church was quite a success from a financial standpoint. It netted the ladies $55.

The American Legion Auxiliary met in regular session Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ferris on Second street. At this time three candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

At a meeting of Bunchgrass lodge No. 91, held recently the following officers were elected to serve for the first half of the coming year: Ruth Lundell, N. G.; Amy Sperry, V. G.; Lena Lundell, secretary and Etta Bristow, treasurer.

Ione lodge No. 135 I. O. O. F. have elected the following men to office: Frank Lundell, N. G.; Richard Lundell, V. G.; Lee Howell, secretary and Ed Bristow, treasurer.

State Commander Tells of Legion.

tility of war is seen by the organization. Unpreparedness has never kept the United States out of war. Too great an extravagance of money and life results from unpreparedness.

The Legion favors, during war, universal draft of property as well as man power. It is opposed to profiteering from war, such as existed during the World war. Thousands made enormous profits at home while others were making the greatest sacrifices in France for their country.

Community service is one of the big activities of the Legion. The Oregon department urges every post to join with worthwhile activities, to justify the post's existence in the community. The aim is to make each community a better place in which to live through activities of the posts.

Legion Serves Others.

The American Legion does not

ask increased membership for its own benefit, but seeks greater strength so that it will be able to give more aid to others, stated Commander George as he concluded his talk.

Charles W. Smith, Heppner post commander, presided at the mass meeting. The Auxiliary trio composed of Mrs. C. W. Smith, Mrs. William Poulson and Mrs. Raymond Ferguson sang "Old Refrain," and "Neapolitan Nights," accompanied by Mrs. Walter Moore at the piano.

Harvey Nelson, state community service chairman, stated that many public problems are handled by Legion posts. Among the 230 community service activities engaged in by Oregon posts last year, were conducting of programs on patriotic occasions, Americanization work, maintenance of community hospitals, sponsorship of Boy Scout troops and the building and maintenance of swimming pools.

Harvey Miller, with Mrs. Poulson at the piano, sang "Rose of My Heart," and an encore number. Mrs. Paul Gemmell, state chairman of the activities committee of the Auxiliary, extended a welcome to the visiting officers.

Auxiliary Gives Service.

Mrs. LeDacia Cobb, Auxiliary district committee woman, stated that the organization was devoted to service. She urged units to strive for greater membership in order that their service work could be better carried out and made more far-reaching.

Carl Moser, department adjutant of the Legion, told the assembly that legionnaires should tell why they belong to the Legion, in explaining the organization to eligibles. "This, he pointed out, would do much towards building the organization to greater effective strength. He extended an invitation to all to attend the state convention in Baker. Mrs. Poulson sang a solo entitled, "Whither."

President Speaks.

Mrs. Newton Chaney, state president of the Auxiliary, stated that service was the paramount aim of the organization. Work in hospitals and child welfare are given the greatest attention in the service work of the organization, but many other forms of service are carried out. Much is done in Americanization and community service work. Service work is carried on in the hospitals in Salem, Roseburg, The Dalles, Pendleton and Portland. Jams, jellies and cakes are provided for hospitalized ex-service men.

The organization urges every veteran to get such hospitalization as he is entitled. The Auxiliary will look after dependants at home during the veterans hospitalization. More and more work is being done in family welfare.

Poppies Provide Funds.

To raise funds each year, the poppy sale is conducted, emblematic of the blood shed on Flanders field. The entire proceeds of this nationwide sale is used in hospital and child welfare work. The organization joins with the Legion in Americanization work, observance of patriotic holidays, and community service. Aid in every worthwhile form of community service is endorsed. Many units sponsor Girl Scout and Camp Fire Girl troops. Some of the units conduct history essay contests in the public schools.

The Heppner Auxiliary unit was hostess at the dinner which preceded the mass meeting. Honor guests were Mrs. Chaney, Mrs. Cobb, George, Moser, Nelson, Mrs. Lish Sperry, president of the Auxiliary unit at Ione, and Lish Sperry, commander of the Ione post of the Legion.
