

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERREIM, Correspondent.

Miss Helen Chaffee and Carol Kennedy motored to Heppner on Sunday, December 22, when they were married by Rev. White of the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The bride was charming in brown silk. She was attended by Miss Rachel Johnson. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chaffee, and has spent most of her girlhood here, graduating from the Boardman high school. Since her graduation she has clerked in Gorham's store. The bridegroom has been Jack Gorham since the latter started in business. He is a nephew of Mrs. Ray Brown. The marriage was kept secret until Christmas eve when the newly married couple left by motor for Weston, the home of the groom, to spend Christmas. They will visit other points, being away for about a week. They have rented Mrs. Shell's house where they will make their home.

Ferdinand Paristian of Unity, Or., is spending some time at the Machan home.

The community Christmas of 1929 will long be remembered for it was an unqualified success in every way and in a small community it seems desirable to unite all interests at the Christmastide. Heretofore there has been a tree and program at the church and one at the school. This year everyone contributed financially or with help in some way. The decorating committee of which Mrs. W. O. King was chairman, arranged most attractive decorations with the Star of Bethlehem the predominant note on a star-dotted background. The program committee with Mrs. Titus chairman, Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Marschat, Miss Brown and Mrs. Broyles, arranged a pleasing program, as follows: Community song, invocation, Mrs. Miller; Star of the East, Victor Orthoponic; Scripture reading, Geo. Wicklander; Solo, Mrs. Rands; "Christmas Bells," 14 little folks, several of whom made their first public appearance at this time; violin solo, Victor Hango, with Linda accompanying; recitation, Catherine Mead; Christmas song, 14 junior girls; reading, Mrs. Hereim; community song. This completed the first part of the program. A pageant of the Nativity followed. This was beautifully portrayed with the parts of Mary and Joseph taken by Mrs. Rands and Lee Mead, the shepherds, the angels, the wise men, the inn keeper all in realistic costumes and well taken. Mrs. Mead played the accompaniment for the pageant and the chorus sang back stage. The appearance of Old Santa (Chas Wicklander) thru the fire-place brought hilarious shouts from the children. Santa brought a treat for every individual on the project. Pete Farley was chairman of the finances and Mr. Johnson of the treats and both had able assistants. Everyone on the project who did not have sickness at home was present and enjoyed the happy Christmas eve. Only one criticism could possibly be offered and that was regarding the few Christmas gifts which were distributed at the tree. While grown-ups understand, the small folks cannot see why there is not a gift for everyone. Let us have the treats for all but give our gifts elsewhere than at the tree and above all let us make this community Christmas an annual event, at least until we assume the proportions of a city.

The grange is planning a dance for New Year's eve. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen and two children were Christmas day guests at the J. M. Allen home, returning Christmas night to their home in La Grande. Miss Mildred Allen accompanied them for the balance of the vacation. Robert Nickerson and family of Pendleton were guests Christmas at the Nethercott and Nickerson homes. Tom and Mark Delano are back from Thompson Falls, Montana. They are at the ranch which is occupied by the Rowells. Mrs. E. Duggan and sons Wayne and Kenneth left Monday for Portland and La Center for the holidays. Mr. Duggan went down Christmas eve.

The Broyles home was a most delightful one on Christmas and a lovely dinner was served. Present were the Broyles family, including Miss Ethel who was here from La Grande and Irma from Portland, and Johnny McNamee and Robert Harwood. Mrs. John Coolidge in the New Haven flat where the daughter of Governor Trumbull cooks dinner for the son of the ex-President. She says the Trumbull women have always preferred themselves on being good house-keepers.

Lindby and Anne on an Exploring Trip

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, resting on their journey over the Arizona cliffs to Lindbergh Cave. They are exploring the remains of the homes of the ancient cliff-dwellers. Note the rope over Lindy's shoulder, to help them over the rough places.

Carl Doring extended his hospitality on Christmas day, having Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Coats and daughter Echo as guests at the Highway Inn. A sumptuous turkey dinner was that at which Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shane presided on Christmas. Robert Wilson and family were guests. Ambrose Blayden of Portland is visiting his brother C. G. Blayden for the holidays. Root's have purchased a new Chrysler sedan. W. A. Price and son Billie and Mrs. Lottie Attebury spent the holidays in Portland with relatives. Hector Wicklander and Carl Ayers were both home for Christmas. The latter has been in Idaho for the past two years. Mrs. Margaret Cramer came for an unexpected visit on Christmas with her husband and son. She is teaching near the Canadian line and likes her work very much. She was forced to leave Friday as she had only a week's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mead were hosts at a dinner of lovely appointments on Christmas. The guests included Royal Rands and family and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Marschat. Miss Emma Beaveress, a sister of Mrs. Machan and Delbert Machan who remained home during the Thanksgiving vacation while Machans were away, spent Christmas week in La Grande. The Messengers had an especially lovely Christmas with Truman Messenger and family of Athena, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sharpe of Concrete, Wn., Uram Messenger and family of Portland, present in addition to Lois and Mildred who are at home. On Christmas day they were joined at a marvelous dinner by Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Flickinger. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe and Mildred Messenger went to Pendleton to visit until Friday and the Truman Messenger family went to Portland for a short visit with the Uram Messengers. Ray Brown and family and Mrs. Royal Rands and Donna Jane motored to Walla Walla Friday and visited a few days. Harry Murchie has been a patient in the Dalles hospital for hardening of the arteries. He ran a sliver in his foot several weeks ago and this has caused him much pain. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Porter were pleased to have their daughter, Mrs. Harold Say and family of Portland with them on Christmas. The granddaughters, Shirley and Mary Nadelle remained here for the balance of their vacation. John Graves and family had their Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Graves. The Fortiers and Mrs. Elva Perry were at the Guy Barlow home, the Kristensens had a lovely dinner at the James Howell home. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rainville and family partook of a marvelous dinner with the Roses'. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cramer and Basil enjoyed Christmas at the Glen Hadley home. Mrs. Claude Coats and John Chaffee are assisting at Jac's store during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Kennedy. Roots spent Christmas at home but motored to Pendleton Thursday. Services were held here at 10:00 Christmas day at the Catholic church. Members spent their Christmas at Pilot Rock as they have for so many years. The Jenkins family, who are again living on the project, partook of a wonderful turkey dinner at the Packard home. Clarence Berger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spagle were also present. The Hales and the Herreims were guests at the W. O. King home at a smartly appointed dinner. Red was the color scheme used in place cards, candles and decorations, and the lighted tapers made a beautiful scene for the wonderful feast. A number of people on the project spent their Christmas with just home folks, enjoying Christmas feasts but with no outside company. Among them were the Strobls, Waites, Johnsons and A. Skoubos. The Meffords motored to Wapato to spend Christmas with relatives. Robert Berger of Gateway had Christmas dinner at the Dillon home. Sleivins, Farleys, Delano Brothers, McIntyres, Marshalls, Lee Holbake, M. Mulligan, Johnny McNamee, were among those who attended the funeral services of the late Joe Curran held Tuesday, Dec. 24, at Heppner from the Catholic church. A group of young people, Nellie Dillon, Katherine and Mabel Brown, Buster Rands, Carl Wicklander and

and Mrs. Frank Cramer devoted years of their life to his care. Two daughters, Mrs. Billie Leathers of Monument and Mrs. Mabel Hod of Portland and a brother Frank of Boardman and a sister, Mrs. Anette Glasford of Sawtelle, Calif., survive. The deceased was born in Henry county, Ill., 79 years ago. Death was attributed to uremic poisoning. Interment was at Hardman. Attending from Boardman were the Hadleys, Cramers, Fortiers and Guy Barlow. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blayden, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Blayden, Mrs. J. F. Gorham motored to Pendleton on Monday. An omission was made in mentioning the hostesses at the bridal shower for Helen Chaffee in last week's issue. Mrs. Ray Brown was also one of the hostesses. The chickenpox epidemic seems to be subsiding. Many children had a siege of it but none were very ill. At first it was feared that it might be smallpox but a visit of the county physician determined it to be chickenpox. Z. J. Gillespie was the only grownup who had the disease. Only one case of whooping cough has developed so far and that is very mild. Stanton Hadley, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hadley, is the victim having acquired it at Oregon City during a recent visit there. Mrs. Hadley was very careful not to take the child any place to expose others when they finally ascertained that it was whooping cough. One of the loveliest of the many dinner parties was that at the I. Skoubo home on Christmas day, with 30 gathered about the table groaning with delicacies. Covers were laid for the Paul M. Smiths, Machans, Kunzles, Wilbanks, Mr. Faler and Mr. Wasmser. After supper the evening was spent playing cards. Another lovely dinner at the Yuletide was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Brice Dillabough with Geo. Wicklander and family and Chas. Wicklander and family and C. H. Dillabough present. A special election was held Saturday when voters authorized the directors to exceed the 6 per cent limitation of the previous year. This did not raise the total amount of the budget but permitted the directors to utilize a certain sum for the redemption of outstanding warrants. Only a few votes were cast but all were favorable. A group of West End persons were guests of Bill Harrington at a marvelous Christmas dinner. Present were the Delano brothers, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. John Fruter, Geo. Hyland and Elmer Westerfeldt and Eugene Minus. Mrs. Mitchell plans to entertain the same crowd on New Year's. "Bug" was the evening's diversion at a lovely party Saturday night, given by Rachel and Diebert Johnson. Four tables played and after an exciting game it was found that Noel Klitz had drawn the most Bugs and Gladys Graves received the consolation. With these two mentioned were Beth Miller, Dallas, Eldon and Gladys Wilson, Russell and Evelyn Mefford, Linda Hango, Buster Rands, Nellie Dillon, Vernon Root, Alton Klitz, Ray Barlow, Mildred Messenger and the hosts. A lovely lunch was served at the close of the game. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Olson (nee Francis Blayden) of Clatskanie, and Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olson (nee Gladys Paine) and baby came Monday for a visit at the Blayden and Gorham homes. Mrs. Attebury's received an unusual and splendid Christmas gift from their daughter at Spokane who sent them a $40 Simmons mattress. The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Skoubo was baptized Sunday at church by Rev. Miller. Cooney's spent Christmas at Emmett Cooney's at Hermiston. A committee of grange members consisting of Nels Kristensen, P. M. Smith and I. Skoubo, has been appointed to investigate the possibility of having feed shipped to Boardman in carload lots effecting a saving of $5 per ton to the farmers. Chas. Hango left Monday for Hood River for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

Volume 30 Heppner, Oregon January 2, 1930 Number 1

Editorial Just a Review of 1929. Sears & Roebuck are using the thirteen-month year in their business, and it is freely predicted that everyone will be using the idea soon. That will mean more pay days a year, shorter months but more of them. It also means the rent will come due more often, and it won't be so long between the monthly bills: So in the long run it won't matter much. -TAL-

And a chicken earns its board by just laying around. Pretty soft. -TAL-

FOR 1930 We want bigger and better all-day suckers. More sunshine. All the antique houses remodeled.

Did you know that a cow will give more milk if she is kept warm? We don't mean that you should go out with a hot water bottle for Bessy but it would be a good idea to fix up the barn for really cold weather. -TAL-
