

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

New Year's day was the occasion for many fine dinners on the project. One of the nicest was that at which Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dillon entertained, having Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Marschall and Noel Klitz as guests.

Another lovely dinner was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Machan who had Claude Myers and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ingard Skonbo and children with them for a turkey feast.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Gillespie have moved to the Jay Cox ranch. They have been renting one of the Fortier homes.

The Campbells of Condon were visitors New Years evening at the Fortier home.

Mrs. Claude Myers, Mrs. Ed Saunders, Mrs. F. F. Klitz, Mrs. Chas. Wicklander and Mrs. J. M. Allen were hostesses Thursday for the January Silver Tea at Mrs. Allen's home. The tea was held on Thursday because of the holiday.

About 28 were present and had an especially pleasant afternoon. A dainty, unusual lunch was served. A short business meeting was held.

F. L. Brown is here spending part of the winter on his ranch.

The Grange dance was quite successful. It was held New Year's eve. A few undesirables were present but that seems to be a necessary evil at a public dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Kennedy were given the usual noisy welcome on Monday evening at their new home. They returned from a wedding trip to various points in Washington. The crowd was royally welcomed and treats were passed.

Lillian Brice who spent most of her vacation with her mother at Ridgefield, Wash., was a guest of friends here a few days on her way back to La Grande where she attends Normal.

After a round of holiday festivities, dances and parties the college students returned to their various schools the last of the week. James Howell and Alton Klitz will both complete their courses at Oregon State this year.

Mrs. Sits of Cle Elum, a missionary worker in the Adventist church, was a recent visitor at the Ves Attebury home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mead and family and Royal Rands and family were guests Thursday night of the Marschalls at a lovely dinner. The evening was spent playing 500.

Lloyd Mallory of Portland was visiting his sister, Mrs. Lundsten of Coyote during the holidays. He is with the painting gang of the O.W.

Friends are welcoming Adaline Wilbanks home again. She was so seriously injured in an auto accident last fall and spent weeks in the hospital in Portland. Her eyes were injured and at present she is able to distinguish daylight from darkness. She is quite cheerful and glad to see her friends.

Lillian Brice of La Grande, Warren Brice, Robert Harwood, Elvira Jenkins and Grace Broyles were guests on New Years at the Robert Wilson home.

A group enjoyed a pleasant dance in the Pattee home Saturday night.

Lee Mead and family and the Ray Browns were entertained at a sumptuous dinner on New Years at which Mr. and Mrs. Royal Rands presided. In the evening they were joined by the Dillaboughs and 500 was played.

Miss Katherine Brown entertained Friday at two tables of cards for her sister Mabel who was home from Ellensburg for the holidays. A fine lunch was served late in the evening. Present were Norma Gibbons, Mabel and Katherine Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Kennedy, Carl Wicklander, Eldon Wilson and Buster Rands.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Kroon of La Grande were overnight guests at the Mead home enroute to The Dalles to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Sundsten and children of Coyote were New Year's guests at the J. L. Jenkins home. Mrs. Sundsten is a niece of Mr. Jenkins.

A. T. Hereim, who spent his 46th birthday, Dec. 20, in bed with a light attack of flu, had a belated celebration Friday night with two tables of 500. Prizes were accorded to A. A. Fortier for high and L. E. Marschall, low. Other guests were Messrs. Mead, Brown, Macomber, Dillabough and Rands. A lunch was served late in the evening.

School opened Monday after a two weeks vacation. The teachers all spent their vacation here except Miss Spike who went to her home in Echo, and Miss Henry at Athena. The Marschalls and Mrs. Titus attended the Oregon State Teachers convention in Portland. Mrs. Titus was a delegate from this section.

Jay Cox and family returned to their home in Eagle Point. They came up for a visit at the Barlow home and Mr. Cox had an attack of flu, referring their return.

Miss Ella Miller came home from Redmond for part of her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Miller. She is the home demonstration agent of Deschutes county.

The holidays were the occasion for much entertaining. One of the loveliest of the many dinner parties was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mead on Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hereim and sons as guests.

Cal Irvin, a former Boardman resident is at Auburn, Wash. where he is attending school. He is correspondent for the Adventist church of which he is a devoted member.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Johnson spent the week end in Wasco, returning on Tuesday.

One of the finest of many dinners that characterized the holiday season was that given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Royal Rands with 17 gathered around the laden table. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fortier and Norma, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Packard and Howard, Clarence Berger and sons, Glen and Richard and Brice Dillabough and family.

Mary Nadelle and Shirley, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Porter, returned to their home in Portland Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Say, who motored up to get them. They have spent their vacation here.

Mrs. Nick Falter came home on Thursday from a fortnight's visit in Portland with relatives and friends.

Pomona will meet Saturday, January 11 at Lexington instead of Irri- gion as planned. Many members of Greenfield Grange are planning to attend.

The Home Economics club will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Chas. Wicklander instead of Mrs. Tyler. The Packards were guests of Stro- bels at a lovely dinner on New Year day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Waite were both under the weather with what seemed to be flu or a very deep cold.

Catherine, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mead, was informed by a schoolmate that there was no Santa Claus. It was quite a blow to her youthful beliefs. After pondering on the information for a time she said to her mother: "Well, is there a Baby Jesus and an Easter Rabbit?"

Miss Florence Bergstrom and Miss Esther Bergstrom went to Portland Sunday morning, Florence to resume her studies at Northwest- ern Business college and Esther to visit relatives.

According to the plans and specifications of the Supreme Architect Noah built an Ark that withstood the rain of forty days and forty nights. The plans kind of material of Water prevailed upon the earth one hundred and forty days and everything died except those protected by LUMBER. Lumber is one of man's best friends and in our yard you will find exactly what you want for any occasion.
WARNING!!! Beware of Jack Frost. At large and carrying a piece of ice in each hand. Has white hair. Has habit of breaking into homes with empty coal bins. Our burglar insurance is of the best. Let us fill that coal bin today.
Facts Not Worth Knowing The rungs of a ladder are built a foot apart for convenience and ventilation. It is impossible to build a jail that will give perfect satisfaction to all parties concerned. The distance from Here to There is the same whether you walk from tie to tie or skip every other one.
A hornet isn't dangerous if you keep his face toward you. Dealers sell bird-seed by the pound, as that is easier than counting them. There are no sleeves in vests.
You never heard of a poor old man marrying a rich young girl. C. W. McNamer is building a concrete dam on his Hinton creek ranch.
