

IONE

MRS. JENNIE E. McMURRAY, Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsiger motored to Moro Friday. Here they were joined by their son, Wendell, and the party continued their journey to Eugene, to spend a few days with Miss Eva Balsiger, a senior in the University of Oregon.

When Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feldman returned recently from Eugene they were accompanied by their daughter, Kathryn. Miss Kathryn, a sophomore at the university, has been quite ill and has come home for a rest. She hopes to be able to return to school in time for the spring term.

A small party of friends met at the Bert Mason home Wednesday evening of last week for a game of bridge. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lieuellen, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cotter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mason.

Mrs. Harlan McCurdy, who has been receiving treatment in the Heppner hospital for the past few weeks, has been moved to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Davidson, in Ione. Mrs. McCurdy is much improved in health.

Harlan McCurdy Jr., has been suffering with tonsillitis.

Oscar Cochran and son George have been quite ill with flu.

Sparks Brothers have taken rooms in the Harris apartments on Main street. Their sister, Crystal, is housekeeper.

Mrs. Frank Lundell and infant son who have been in the Heppner hospital returned the first of last week to their home in Ione.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ahalt of Baker motored to Ione Wednesday of last week, returning Thursday. They were accompanied by Mr. Ahalt's mother, Mrs. Hannah Ahalt, who was returning to her home here after a pleasant three weeks' visit with her son and daughter-in-law.

J. P. Leary returned the latter part of last week from a trip into California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ahalt and little daughter of Rhea Siding were week-end visitors with relatives in Ione.

Mrs. Herman Havercoast and two sons of Rhea Siding visited last week with her daughter, Mrs. Ray Barnett.

This locality has been visited by several good rains during the past week. Farmers report that the most of the wheat is looking fine. A few farmers are having to reseed a part of their fields.

Fred Buchanan, Antone Holub, and Fred McMurray, alfalfa farmers living above town, have begun irrigating their fields. We believe they are the first to take out water.

Mrs. J. W. Howk and son, Alan Hale, were out-going passengers Sunday night. They will spend a week visiting relatives at Portland and Vernonia.

Earle A. Brown, principal of the Ione school, has been quite ill.

Mrs. R. M. Brown, Mrs. Bert Mason and Mrs. Roy Lieuellen were Ione ladies who attended a delightful bridge party given Thursday of last week in the C. W. McNamer home in Heppner.

A son was born Saturday morning, Feb. 22, to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bauernfeind of Morgan. The mother and baby are in the Heppner hospital.

Lavern, the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sargent of Eugene, met with a painful accident a few days ago. The boy fell on some milk bottles. The bottles were broken and the glass cut deep gashes in the child's face. Both the upper and lower eyelids on one eye were cut through and there was also a cut on the eyeball. Twelve stitches were required to close the wounds. It is not yet known if the sight of the eye can be saved. Mr. and Mrs. Sargent are former residents of Ione. Mr. Sargent is a student in the Bible school at Eugene.

Miss Fern Engelman is spending a few days in the country with her sister, Mrs. Victor Rietmann.

The religious services now being held each evening in the Christian church under the leadership of C. L. Fesler of North Bend, are being well attended. There is special music at every service. Everyone is invited to attend.

All those from Ione who attended the Elks lodge festivities at Heppner Saturday afternoon and evening report a very enjoyable time.

Miss Arleta Farraris is at home again after several weeks spent in Portland.

Many of the members of Ione lodge No. 135, I. O. O. F. journeyed to Heppner Saturday to be present at the all-day convention of Odd Fellows.

The C. W. Swanson home was the scene of a pleasant quilting party Tuesday afternoon of last week. During the afternoon the hostess, Mrs. Swanson, served most delicious refreshments.

The Heppner girls met the Ione girls on Ione's floor Friday night and the game resulted in a 35-16 victory for the visiting team. Heppner began scoring from the first minute of play when Janie Allstott of Heppner made a field goal. The score rose rapidly in Heppner's favor and when the first half ended was 27-6. During the last half Ione made four field goals which brought her score to 16. Heppner made four field goals and her score was 35. When the final whistle blew the score was 35-16, still in Heppner's favor. This game was the last of the season for both Heppner and Ione. At the close of the boy's game the players of the teams and their coaches adjourned to the lunch room where they enjoyed appetizing refreshments, consisting of vegetable salad, sandwiches, pickles and chocolate.

Mrs. Faye Buckman, critically ill Saturday, was admitted to the Heppner hospital for treatment.

Grant Buchanan of Butter creek was in Heppner Wednesday to consult with his physician.

RETIREE MINISTER ENDORSES SARGON

"I am giving the credit for my present good health solely to Sargon that gave me a gain of 8 pounds in weight and made me feel like a new man."

After a severe attack of bronchitis two years ago I steadily lost weight and strength. My appetite was poor, I suffered with indigestion and my whole system was weakened and rundown. Sargon proved the medicine I had needed all the time. My bronchial trouble is gone, and the indigestion is over. I have a hearty appetite, sleep good and am strong and vigorous. Sargon Pills put my liver in fine condition and entirely rid my system of poisons." — Chas. E. Auger, retired Methodist minister.

Patterson & Son, druggists, local agents.—(Adv.)

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Griffith of Ione were visitors in Heppner Wednesday, coming here to put their daughter, Katherine, under a physician's care.

Echo Resident's Death Results From Apoplexy

Charles Lambirth died at his home in Echo Sunday night from an attack of apoplexy. The deceased had been suffering from heart trouble for some time prior to his death, but the fatal blow came from the apoplectic stroke. Members of Mr. Lambirth's family and relatives were at his bedside at the time of his death.

He is survived by three children, Roy Lambirth of Washington, Lois Parrish of Salem, and Mrs. Al Hiatt of Echo. He also leaves four brothers, John Lambirth of Pendleton, Frank and Lafa Lambirth of Home, Ore., and George Lambirth of the Alpine section.

Charles Lambirth was born in California on February 21, 1861, and died February 23, 1930, at the age of 69 years and two days. He was the eldest of several brothers. He has lived in Oregon many years and reared a family here. In 1922 he lived on the old Finley place where G. L. Bennett is now living. Since then he has resided in Echo and it was there he died.

He was buried in the Echo cemetery at 2 o'clock Tuesday. The funeral was held from the Episcopal church with Rev. Mr. Hinkle of Pendleton officiating.

Mrs. Faye Buckman, critically ill Saturday, was admitted to the Heppner hospital for treatment.

Grant Buchanan of Butter creek was in Heppner Wednesday to consult with his physician.

It is well said that Adam and Eve were the pioneers in the housing business but they were smart enough to own their own home. Styles then were pretty scant—Adam dressed in leaves of absence. Style in homes have changed some since then but a house isn't a home if it's rented.

SURE TO GROW OLD

It is hardly possible to guard against growing old, but there is opportunity to avoid NEEDY and DEPENDENT old age. This safeguard is THRIFT. Many people seem willing to drift along from day to day and take chances on the future. Then when so old they can no longer toil for a livelihood, they find themselves dependent upon charity, not a happy outlook by any means. The time to begin saving, is now, while you are earning.
