

Local Happenings

Reports from the mountain section state that the snow has been piling up some there the past few days, the mountains showing up pretty white from Heppner. However, there is a shortage of snowfall so far in the timber belt, and perhaps there is not to exceed eight inches on the level over the part of the forest tributary to Heppner. Coming across the mountains from Monument on Saturday, Cliff Merrill reports there was a new fall of snow of three inches, and it has been storming in that section intermittently since.

Gorger brothers, who are engaged in farming a large tract of land northwest of Lexington, are busy with their plowing and running the "cat" day and night. They will plow out 1600 acres, and have already turned over about 500, the ground plowing nicely. They will also begin at once the seeding of 1000 acres that would have been put in last fall had the weather conditions permitted. Leo Gorger was in town Saturday afternoon for a short time and reported a heavy rain at their place early that morning.

F. M. Griffin was one of the delegation of Odd Fellows from Lone lodge fraternizing with the other brethren from lodges of Umatilla and Morrow counties at Heppner on Saturday. Mr. Griffin has been spending the winter at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ball just below Morgan, and while there made good use of his time by cutting a lot of wood along the creek, finding the exercise beneficial as a reducer of his waist line.

Abe S. Bennett, representing Eugene Bible university, was a visitor here the first of the week. He addressed the congregation at the Christian church Sunday morning.

J. D. French states that his stock wintered quite well at the Butter creek ranches, and since the spring-like weather has set in, ranching has greatly improved. Mr. French was here Friday to attend to business affairs. During the cold snap it required much feeding of both cattle and sheep, and because of the exceedingly dry fall, stock did not go into the winter in any too good condition and there was a long feeding spell. Everything is looking fine on Big Butter creek now.

J. W. Vaughan, who has been spending the winter months at the Chas. Osten ranch near Black butte, came to town on Friday. He reports the snow all gone with fine weather conditions in the timber section. The snow fall did not exceed 14 inches in the vicinity of Reid's mill.

G. L. Bennett, auctioneer of Alpine, accompanied by W. M. Callahan of the same locality, spent a few hours here on Monday. Mr. Callahan, who farms east of Sand Hollow, is arranging for a public sale at his place on Tuesday, March 4, and Mr. Bennett will act as auctioneer.

Emil Carlson, extensive wheat-raiser of the Gooseberry country, was attending to business matters in Heppner on Friday. It looks as though spring had arrived out his way, the weather being very balmy and mild during the past two weeks, and the grain is looking up well.

Mrs. Frank McDaniel of Hardman, who has been receiving medical treatment at the Herren hospital, returned to her home Tuesday much improved in condition. Before receiving treatment here she had been in The Dalles hospital for about a month.

Plowing is beginning in the north Lexington country, principally by those farmers running tractors, and others are getting ready to go into the fields, is the report of Miles Martin who was looking after business in Heppner on Friday afternoon. The grain is coming along fine with the mild weather.

Editor W. W. Head of Lone Independent was on the program at the I. O. O. F. convention here Saturday. Mr. Head did not remain for the evening session, however, as he was to appear on the program of the grange at Cecil.

Sam McDaniel was in from Hardman on Monday. He reports some rather stormy weather with rain and snow and chilly nights during the last week. Spring appears to be not far away and grass and grain is growing.

Chas. Marquardt was a visitor here on Monday afternoon from his farm north of Lexington. A good rain visited that section on Saturday, adding to the goodly supply of moisture already in the ground.

Oscar Keithley was in from Eight Mile Wednesday. There was quite a fall of wet snow over the Eight Mile wheat belt Tuesday night, adding more moisture to the goodly supply already in the ground.

Howard Anderson of The Dalles was a visitor here over the week end. Mr. Anderson was formerly quite extensively engaged in raising wheat in the Eight Mile section.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Cox returned to their Heppner home Tuesday after spending the winter in Virginia and Florida. The round trip was made by automobile.

Charles Latourell returned from Portland Tuesday, bringing with him the first 1930 Ford Tudor sedan to be displayed in the local salesrooms.

Fred Ashbaugh came to Heppner from Hardman to receive medical treatment.

Leonard Schwarz drove to Portland on Sunday with a truck load of porkers. He found an excellent market on Monday morning when he disposed of the shipment to a Portland commission house.

Mrs. Elmer Hunt of Lexington had her tonsils removed in an operation performed at the Heppner hospital Wednesday. She will spend a few days in the hospital recovering from the operation.

Walter Crosby was down from the Willow creek ranch Saturday and reports many signs of spring, but not being a weather prophet, he makes no positive statements.

J. H. Cochran called at this office on Monday while in the city from Lone. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran recently returned from Yakima, Wash., where they spent the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Thompson of Granger, Wash., motored to Heppner Friday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Phelps. They returned to their home Sunday.

Henry Howard, who has been ill at his home for the past month, is much improved in condition and plans on visiting relatives in Washington state soon.

W. G. Wallace, Carl Sturdivant and Jack Kenny of Stanfield drove to Heppner from Stanfield Saturday to attend the Odd Fellows convention.

Mrs. L. E. Ledbetter, who has been confined to the Herren hospital, was discharged and returned to her home in Lone Wednesday.

N. S. Phelps of Kelso, Wash., brother of R. C. Phelps, accompanied by Mrs. Phelps, returned home Sunday after a brief visit here.

Docking of trees by numerous residents of Heppner has been the order lately; a good scheme for letting a little sunshine in.

Elmer Hunt made a trip from Lexington to Heppner Wednesday to look after business matters.

Mrs. M. S. Corrigan and son, Ralph, were visitors from Butter creek in Heppner Wednesday.

HEPPNER, OREGON

FOREIGN RELATIONS STUDIED AT U. OF O.

University of Oregon, Eugene—Oregon people are coming more and more to recognize the fact that the future prosperity of the state depends to a very great extent on the development of friendly relations with the Orient, and the University of Oregon is embarking on a program of internationalism in line with this, it is stated by Dr. Arnold Hall, president, in his annual report to the board of higher education.

"The progress of civilization is no longer confined to a state or nation alone," the report states. "The people of every country are inevitably and increasingly linked up with the rest of the world. Their welfare depends largely upon world markets and world prices, imports and exports and in a general way, upon the large problems of international politics and world peace."

New courses have been added to the curriculum, with special attention to the Pacific Ocean, its growing development, trade resources and political problems. The number of hours of instruction in this field has increased from 10 in 1927 to 21 each week in 1930.

The Murray Warner essay contest, from which approximately $800 yearly is awarded in prizes, is also gaining increased attention on the campus. Funds for this are donated by Mrs. Murray Warner, donor and director of the Oregon Museum of Fine Arts.

The International house, which was organized on the campus this year with students from Germany, China, Japan, Korea, Denmark, Russia and the Philippines, is meeting with great success, according to the report. Students live in perfect harmony and are doing a great deal to promote international understandings.
