

Local Happenings

D. B. Stalter arrived home Saturday from Portland. He has been spending the winter there and at Tillamook, being at the latter point for a month enjoying a fine visit with friends. Mr. Stalter states that he will likely leave for the property of Heppner Mining company in the Greenhorn mountains about the first of May. From reports he has received from that section there is just about half the usual amount of snow at this season, and this will allow work to begin at the mine a month in advance of other years.

Elmer Albee drove to Hood River Monday taking with him M. L. Case, who went there to look after his property of 15 acres, of which five is planted to apple orchard, the other 10 being covered with a stand of second-growth timber. Mr. Case plans on selling part of the timber, clearing the land, erecting buildings and increasing the orchard acreage. Mr. Albee returned to Heppner the same day, while Mr. Case went on to Portland to join Mrs. Case who is there on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Poulson drove to Portland Sunday morning, planning to see the automobile show. Mrs. Poulson is visiting her parents in Eugene while Mr. Poulson is interviewing applicants for teaching positions in the Heppner schools for next year. To make these interviews Mr. Poulson will visit Eugene, Corvallis and Monmouth. They expect to be away about a week.

Frank Gilliam returned to Heppner Saturday after a hasty business trip to Medford. He reported many of the fruit trees, including apricots and almonds, in southern Oregon to be in blossom. He was accompanied from Portland by Dan B. Stalter, pioneer miner, who holds a large interest in the Heppner Mining company, whose property is located near Austin.

Father P. J. Stack, pastor of St. Patrick's church, who has been suffering a severe attack of intestinal influenza, which has kept him confined to the rectory for more than two weeks, was taken to St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton for treatment Tuesday, by Jerome O'Connor who drove to the Round-up city.

Four or five cases of itch in the Heppner community have come under the observation of Heppner physicians. It is suggested by the state board of health that parents inspect their children with the view to discovering any indications of it and taking proper precautions where the disease exists.

Judge and Mrs. R. L. Bengt drove to Arlington Saturday, where Mrs. Bengt took the train en route for Medford, where their daughter, Miss Luola Bengt, is seriously ill with an attack of scarlet fever. Miss Bengt is a member of the Medford junior high school faculty.

Dr. Fred Howard of Pomeroy, Wash., arrived in Heppner Saturday to deliver two silver foxes to C. J. D. Bauman. He remained here until Monday visiting over the week-end with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Howard.

R. E. Rice of the Artesian Well ranch, was looking after business at Heppner on Saturday. Mr. Rice has been a victim of rheumatism of late, and he is hoping for some improvement when warmer weather conditions prevail.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chandler are the proud parents of a 10-pound son, born March 10 at their home near Cecil. Both mother and son, who has been named Stanley Charles, are reported doing nicely.

Mrs. Matt Hughes was in town last Thursday from their ranch in the Black butte section, visiting her daughter, Miss Melba Hughes.

Charles Straw, who had been confined to the Herren hospital with an attack of influenza and liver abscess complications, was taken to his home in Salem Sunday by the Phelps Funeral home ambulance, accompanied by Miss Helen Curran, graduate nurse. Mr. Straw had been employed on the Garnet Barratt ranch, and will now be under the care of his wife, a nurse by profession, at their home in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Latourell, accompanied by daughter Alice, drove to Portland Saturday and returned Monday. While in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Latourell participated in the Hy Everding birthday shoot at the Portland Gun club.

J. B. Huddleston, Lone Rock sheepman, was a week-end visitor at Heppner. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Bess Huddleston, who was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wightman while here.

John Pieper, a visitor in Heppner on Saturday, reports that the re-seeding of his fields was completed Friday. The grain was winter killed to such an extent that it was necessary to reseed the entire acreage.

Herman Neilson drove in from his ranch in Hood canyon Friday to attend to business matters in Heppner. He reports his wheat looking somewhat better and that he has just started plowing operations.

Henry Aiken is travelling about Heppner on crutches, having injured his left foot Monday by stepping on a nail while repairing a fence at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lillie Aiken.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sweek and Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson attended Lions' charter night at Pendleton Monday night. The Heppner visitors report having enjoyed a fine program.

Fred Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Painter is suffering with an attack of mumps, which is believed to be the only case of the disease existing in Heppner.

A clock which will automatically turn the lights on or off in the show windows of Wilson's, men's furnishing store, was installed by I. D. Gray Monday.

C. L. Sweek, accompanied by his sister-in-law, Miss Minnie Hawthorne, drove to Condon and returned Monday, to transact legal business.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Leavitt were in Heppner Monday en route from Ione to Bend where Mr. Leavitt will have charge of revival services.

Mat Halvorsen, pioneer business man and farmer of Ione, was looking after matters of business in Heppner on Saturday.

BAND PICTURE PRINTED.

That the Irrigon 4-H club band is gaining state-wide recognition is indicated by a picture of the organization which appeared heading the 4-H club section in the Sunday Oregonian, March 16. Accompanying the picture was the following news story: "Here is another example of the fact that the spirit of the 4-H club motto—to make the best better—bring results wherever it exists. The Irrigon club band of 30 members, all 4-H clubbers, composes 50 per cent of all the high school and grade school pupils in the little community of Irrigon in Morrow county. And they are winners, too. Although 19 of them are grade school pupils, this band competed with high school bands in a state contest at Portland last May and carried away second honors in the class C division. R. J. Mauske, formerly director of the band, is now club agent in the city of Portland."

SIMPLE HOME MIXTURE DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Cincinnati Barber Tells How Any One Can Prepare It in 5 Minutes.

Any man or woman can easily look twenty years younger by simply darkening their gray, faded, or streaky hair. This is now easy to accomplish with a recipe given by a well known Cincinnati barber. Simply take a half-pint of water, add one ounce of bay rum, ¼ ounce of glycerine and a small box of Barbo Compound. Shake and it is ready to use. These ingredients can be bought at drug stores at trifling cost.

Applied to the hair twice weekly this delightful mixture quickly gives the desired shade. It is easy to use, is not sticky or greasy, will not color the scalp and does not rub off. Adv.
