Official Paper for Morrow County.

VOTE ON MAY 16.

Whether the apparent quiescence of the electorate so far in the present primary election campaign means acquiescence to governmental affairs as they now stand will be shown more clearly at the polls two weeks from Tuesday.

While we have no reforms to invoke, and no pet candidates to foist upon our readers, we cannot help but wonder if the situation is an indication of a healthy governmental condition.

Already the registration books are closed, excluding those not registered from the privilege of voting at the primary election.

MOVING TOWARD PERMANENT PEACE.

No more battleships will be built by the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy or Japan before 1936.

Three of those five powers have agreed to dispose of certain specified fighting ships now in commission, thus reducing their navies below their present strength.

present stage of civilization, impracticable, but an overmastering navy would not make for peace, either.

"Certainly the way of peace lies neither in rattling of the scabbard nor in the abandonment of defense," said President Hoover, and he added, lest he might be accused of "pacifism," whatever that is, "Let no one mistake me; there is a price no nation can afford to pay for peace."

That Heppner's new artesian water is pure, and that the present rate of flow, if maintained, will adequately supply the town's present requirements, have been established.

A real love for the national sport marks the interest of Heppner's young baseball team, who may yet give a good account of themselves in the Wheatland league.

WE ARE ON EASY STREET.

COMPARED with the rest of the world, the United States is on Easy Street. The thought is suggested by the proposal of the British Government to increase the income tax over there to 22 1/2 percent.

To be sure, we have taxes which they do not have in England, such as the tax on real estate improvements, but on the whole we carry a lighter burden of taxation than any other nation.

A recent report of the condition of workers in Continental Europe reveals the fact amazing and almost shocking to us but a commonplace over there, that the vast majority of wage-earners in France, Germany and some other parts of Europe never earn enough to buy new clothes for themselves and their families.

Too Busy to Worry

THE FAMILY DOCTOR BY JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

"Heart Medicine" Of course your heart isn't like that. But do you know that the eight hours you should spend in bed each night does the very thing for you that was done to the old man? And don't you know that the heart does three times as much work when you are up and doing as it does when the body is in the horizontal position? Then, if the heart becomes weakened, failing in its strength and function from overwork and abuse—the very first thing to do is give it REST. In many cases that's all it needs.

Sunday School Lesson

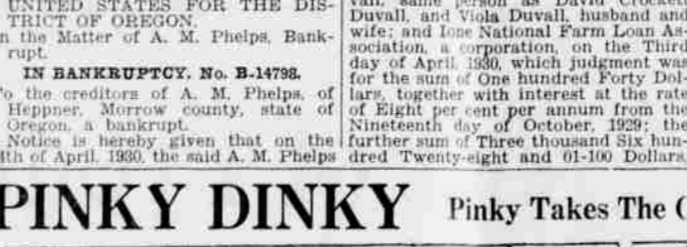

International Sunday School Lesson for May 4 PROMOTION IN THE KINGDOM Matthew 20:17-28. Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Companionship on a walk has much to do in determining the value of the afternoon. Steadily Jesus and the Twelve were approaching Jerusalem, where the Jewish Passover would soon be celebrated. It was school time daily for these men who would soon be left alone to carry on the work for which they had left their fishing nets, receipt of custom and other occupations.

Jesus often spoke in parables as He told them about the establishment and development of the Kingdom of Heaven. The last message had been under the simile of the owner of the vineyard who hired men at different times during the day and paid each one the same amount at the end of the day. That plan would start an interesting row in organized labor if it was tried today. Jesus kept his contract with all and added a bonus to those who began later in the day. Just like the complainers, the disciples were thinking of material things and forgot about the spiritual aspect of the Kingdom.

This fact was now even more constantly in the mind of the Saviour. Now additional details are presented, and the climax is less than three months away. An important situation is pictured by Mark in 10:32, and the disciples were both amazed and afraid. It was because their Friend seemed to draw apart from them, as He was the more absorbed in His meditation, and went on ahead. Already
