

POLLS WILL OPEN FOR VOTE FRIDAY

Race for Governorship Receiving Greatest Attention Now.

STATE OFFICES OPEN

County Offices Include Judgeship, Commissioner, Treasurer, Assessor and Surveyor.

Campaigning for the primary nominating election will come to a close tonight, for tomorrow is election day. The race for the governorship is eyed with the most interest by voters. Six candidates are in the field on the republican ticket, while four are seeking the democratic nomination. The race in eastern Oregon for the republican nomination appears to be between Harry L. Corbett of Multnomah county and A. W. Norblad of Clatsop county, incumbent, while George W. Joseph is reported by many to be a favorite in Multnomah county. Others running on the ticket are Charles Hall of Coos county, John A. Jeffrey of Multnomah county and J. E. Bennett of Multnomah county. Edward F. Bailey of Lane county, seeking the democratic nomination, is reported an outstanding candidate. Opposing him on the ticket are A. C. Hough of Josephine county, Ed S. Piper of Multnomah county and George R. Wilbur of Hood River county.

State Positions Sought.

Other state and district offices are republican national committee, democratic national committee, United States senator in congress, representative in congress, second district, justice of the supreme court, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of the bureau of labor, senator for the 19th district, and representative for the 22nd district.

Charles L. McNary of Marion county is unopposed for United States senator in congress, on the republican ticket. Likewise Elton Watkins of Multnomah county, is the only candidate having his name appear on the ballot for the office. Robert R. Butler of Wasco county is the lone candidate for representative in congress, second district, on the republican ticket. No democratic name appears for this office on the ballot.

Ralph E. Williams and Charles F. Walker, both of Multnomah county, seek membership on the republican national committee. Walter M. Pierce of Union county and Oswald West of Multnomah county, both former governors of Oregon, are competing for membership on the democratic national committee.

Three in Justice Race.

George S. Shepherd of Multnomah and James U. Campbell of Clackamas county are republican candidates seeking position number five for justice of the supreme court. Oliver P. Coshov of Douglas county is the democratic candidate, unopposed, for the same office. Harry H. Belt of Marion county, republican, is a candidate for justice of the supreme court, position number

Grain Grading School

Staged at Arlington

The grain grading and testing school held in Arlington last Friday and Saturday under the direction of the federal department of grain inspection, the Oregon State Grain Inspection department and the Oregon State College Extension service was well attended by Morrow county grain men as well as by those from nearby counties.

Giving talks and aiding in the instruction were R. E. White of the Pacific coast headquarters of the federal grain supervision, C. W. Wright, chief inspector of the state grain inspection department and G. K. Landers, district supervisor. Movies were shown of grading equipment. All needed equipment for grading was on display at the meeting, and its use was explained. Each man took samples and determined grain grades.

Attending from Morrow county were Louis Balsiger, Hollis Bull, Charles Swindig, Ralph Jackson, Cole Smith, J. E. Swanson and R. E. Harrison. Sam Stroutman and James Funk will attend a similar meeting in Pendleton tomorrow and Saturday.

MEETING DATE CHANGED.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors. The day is changed from Tuesday on account of a special meeting of the Womens Christian Temperance union.

MASONS TO MEET.

Regular meeting of Heppner lodge No. 69, A. F. & A. M., will be held at Masonic hall Saturday evening, May 15th. Business of importance will be taken up, and a full attendance of the members is urged. FRANK S. PARKER, W. M.

NOMINATIONS SET BY HEPPNER LIONS

Visitors to City Given Welcome by Signs at Highway Portals.

VICTORS ASK DINNER

Committee in Charge of Placing House Numbers, Street Signs Plans Early Placement.

Nomination of officers for the ensuing year will be the order of business of the Heppner Lions club at its weekly luncheon Monday, May 20, this date being set by action of the club at its meeting Monday. By-laws call for ten day's notice preceding elections.

Lions' road signs are now in place at the city limits on the east and west approaches of the Oregon-Washington highway. It was announced by Earl D. Hallock and Earl W. Gordon, committee having this work in charge. The committee was given a vote of thanks for its work. The signs, made by George Stephens of Arlington, are replicas of Lions' standard road signs, extending the club's welcome to visitors. They are quite attractive.

A communication from the Bend Lions was read, extending an invitation to the local club to present a skit at the state Lions convention, meeting in Bend June 6.

Entertainment of the winning team by the losers in the crown-mug contest was a subject for discussion, but the losing side was not yet prepared to make known the date and exact nature of the event. C. W. Smith, captain of the winners, expressed fear that the losers were stalling and might never come up to their agreement. The opposing captain, C. L. Sweek, made answer, showing that the social schedule would probably prevent the entertainment taking place until next fall.

S. E. Notson, lion tamer, was the victim of a frame-up on the part of officers and members, who conspired to place him in the chair in order to chastise him for allowing the meeting of the week previous to run over time. The chastisement was taken in good part and Mr. Notson utilized his advantageous place as chairman in failing to recognize motions unfavorable to him.

Action of the city council in authorizing the Lions club committee to proceed with the street sign and house numbering project was reported by Jasper Crawford, chairman, who said the committee expected to complete its work as soon as possible. Appointment of Joseph J. Nys, E. R. Huston and W. W. Smead on the city administration committee was announced.

Much appreciated by the members in attendance were two selections by the high school boys' quartet, under the direction of Miss Kate Francis Ede, the quartet, John Franzen, Fletcher Walker, Homer Hayes and Duane Brown was accompanied by James T. Lumley, with the steel guitar.

Paul Marble, Russell Pratt and Walter Moore were appointed on a committee to work with Al Rankin to see what can be done toward obtaining more comfortable and more commodious quarters for the club's meetings during the summer.

John Deos Passes Away

Wednesday at Willows

Funeral services for John F. Deos of Willows, 80, who died at his home Wednesday morning following an attack of apoplexy, will be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) morning at the Episcopal church with the service being read by Rev. W. W. Head of Ione. Interment will be in the Heppner cemetery. Arrangements are being handled by Phelps Funeral home.

Mr. Deos was 80 years, 5 months and 2 days of age at his death, having been born December 12, 1849, at Lintonville, Vt. Later he moved to Michigan, where he was married to Lana E. McMartin. From Michigan he moved to McHenry, Ill., in 1878 to reside there two years. He moved to Morrow county in 1883, taking up a homestead near Wells Springs, where he resided with his family until 1896, when he moved to his home near Willows, where he continued his residence until his death.

Four children were born to the union, but two have since passed away. Mr. Deos' survivors are his widow, Mrs. Deos; a son, Jess Deos, a daughter, Mrs. Maurice W. Sharrard, and a step son, Levi L. Hillis. Fifteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive.

COLLEGE NAMES MARKETING MAN

Extension Service Augmented by Addition of Manager Now With Big Milk Cooperative.

Appointment of John H. Tull of Memphis, Tenn., as a new extension specialist in cooperative marketing is announced by the extension service at Oregon State college. Tull is the first of two additional specialists authorized by the state board of education under provisions of the emergency appropriation granted last month.

Tull is at present manager of the Producers Milk company, a large cooperative organization in Memphis, which he developed from a struggling farmer's bargaining group some five years ago. He has been in farm marketing work for many years and has gained wide business experience in the cooperative field.

George O. Gatlin, present marketing specialist at the college, is personally acquainted with the new man, having worked with him while in the bureau of marketing in Washington D. C. Gatlin says he knows of no one anywhere with better experience and training for the particular work here in Oregon. Tull will report for duty late in May.

SMITH EXPLAINS 4-H CLUB WORK

Community Cooperation Asked That Groups May be Formed.

NEW COURSES ADDED

Readings and Musical Numbers Have Place on Program of Parent-Teacher Group.

The fine type of work being done by 4-H clubs throughout the nation was carefully explained by Charles W. Smith, county agent, who urged that this community cooperate, by aiding in the formation of clubs in Heppner—this was the keynote sounded in a talk before the Parent Teachers association at the Episcopal parish house Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, county school superintendent, has a part in the work and it is probable that Miss Edith Stallard, county nurse, will aid with the work next year. The meaning of 4-H is head, heart, hands and health, and these are at ways kept uppermost in the minds of members who through following out the club projects reach a higher standard of citizenship.

Many Children Enrolled.

In the United States, more than 700,000 boys and girls belong to the clubs. Oregon has 11,000 members last year, while Morrow county had 159 enrolled. This year the membership in the county has been increased to 240 in 29 clubs.

To start a club five or more must sign up for the same project. Authorized clubs cover a wide range of instruction. Some of the clubs are for calf raising, sheep raising, gardening, sewing, cooking—and there are many others, which are as beneficial to the boys and girls taking part. After a boy or girl has done the prescribed work an exhibit in a fair is made of it which competes against other projects of the same kind. The project is not considered complete until it has been on exhibition. Nine clubs are functioning at Irrigon and eight at Boardman. There are the only 4-H bands in the United States, and it is believed that publicity to be given the band will make the name of Morrow county better known throughout the nation. No clubs are located in Heppner, but it is the hope of Mr. Smith that at least several may be organized.

In 1929 Morrow county clubs finished 89.9 per cent of projects started, and by so doing took fifth place in the state. In times past, he stated that many projects were uncompleted, but that now things are different, with a major portion of the projects brought to completion. Boys and girls who do not complete their projects are not allowed to go on in other projects. The work is open to boys and girls from 9 to 18 years of age, and those from 18 to 21 may enter the senior division.

Elks Trek to Condon

For Initiatory Rites

That they were royally entertained and had a glorious time was the word brought back by members of Heppner Elks lodge No. 353 who journeyed to Condon Saturday to initiate a class of candidates. Eleven from Condon, Fossil, Ione and Heppner became members of the lodge following initiation in the afternoon. More than 100 members were in attendance.

A fine dinner was served at the banquet in the evening, which drew an assembly of more than 150, Elks and their ladies. William "Bill" Wilkins of Condon, who had an active part in the day's program, served in the role of toastmaster. Officers of the lodge responded with talks upon request of the toastmaster.

Pioneer Settler Dies

While Playing Ball

Funeral services for George W. Lambirth of Alpine, 56, were conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Echo Methodist church, with Rev. Ralph V. Hinkle, pastor of the Pendleton Episcopal church, officiating. Interment was in the Echo cemetery.

Mr. Lambirth's death came almost instantaneously, following a heart attack, while participating in a baseball game Sunday. He came to Unstilla county in 1880 and continued his residence there until about five years ago, when with his family he moved to Alpine. Previous to his residence in Oregon he lived at Reno, Nev., his birthplace.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Celatha, Doris and Lester, all residing at the family home. Three brothers also survive, J. T. Lambirth of Pendleton, and Frank and Lefe Lambirth of Home.

"THREE WITNESSES."

When three witnesses agree there seems to be strong reason for believing the testimony is reliable. The New Testament tells of three witnesses that agree. This will be the subject of the sermon on Sunday evening when the Heppner Church of Christ holds a service at the Rhea Creek Grange hall. The hour of service will be 8 o'clock and a large turnout is expected.

Morning services will be at the usual time and place and the sermon topic will be, "Pentecost and Evangelism." We made our best record in fontal points on last Sunday but don't even better before Halfway need be alarmed. Let's get at it! MILTON W. BOWER, Minister.

SPRAY DESTROYS PERENNIAL WEEDS

Effectiveness of Treating With Chlorates on County Farms Shown by Experiments.

Morning glory, Russian knapweed and Canadian thistle can be killed with the proper application of chlorates, according to Chas. W. Smith, Morrow county agricultural agent.

Although the spraying of weeds was still in the experimental stage both calcium and soda chlorates were applied to 40 patches of perennial weeds during 1929. In the past two weeks a check has been made on the percentage of weeds killed by spraying and it has been found that in every case where three pounds of the chlorates were applied to the square rod, after the plants had bloomed, that 90 per cent or more of the weeds were killed.

Time of application seems to be a determined factor in getting a good kill. At the John Kenny farm where the weeds were sprayed after the seed pods had formed, a 100 per cent kill was made, while at the John Brosnan ranch, where the weeds were sprayed when the plants were in full bloom, only 80 per cent were killed. At D. O. Justus's where the morning glories were in all stages of growth, that is some were just coming through the ground and others were in full bloom, the results were not as satisfactory.

Results obtained from treating Canadian thistle were almost identical with those obtained from treating morning glory. Canadian thistles in full bloom and some beginning to dry up were sprayed at the Jimmy Hayes ranch on Rhea creek and a 100 per cent kill was obtained. At the R. A. Thompson farm where some of the thistles were just through the ground and others were in full bloom a kill of approximately 90 per cent was obtained which proves late application of sprays are the most effective.

Other farmers having patches of morning glory which were sprayed in 1929 and where the weeds were in various stages of maturity, are Wright Bros., Heppner; Ed Rietmann, Ione; Oscar Keithley, Eight Mile; W. H. Cleveland, Heppner; Cleve Van Schoick, Heppner; David Rietmann, Ione; Harvey McAllister, Lexington; O. C. Wageman, Heppner; Missildine Bros., Heppner; Roy Neill on Big Butter creek; George Peck, Lexington. From all observations made up to this time it would seem that the best kills were obtained by applying sprays before the season as is possible before frost.

The county sprayer is being reconditioned and is mounted on a four-wheel trailer for the convenience of those farmers having weeds they desire to spray. Any parties having these weeds on their farms may get information by calling at the county agent's office regarding the cost of spraying. A field trip is being planned for early in June when all interested will be given an opportunity to view last year's spraying results.

A large crowd attended the dance which brought the day's program to a close. Although no action was taken at the time, it was the consensus of opinion that, next year, the class of Condon and Fossil candidates would come here for a similar program.

Pipe for Connecting

Well to Main Arrives

That the Heppner city council intends to speed the connection of the new artesian well with the present main is indicated by the fact that pipe for the connection arrived in Heppner this morning. Fourteen sections of 10-inch pipe, each 30 feet long, arrived with connecting unions, and was dispatched immediately to the site of the well. The load of pipe was brought to Heppner by truck.

The city council will meet at 8 o'clock Monday evening to make further plans for the installation and operation of the city water system. This will comprise the main order of business for the evening.

Mrs. Lilly Boothby, nee Hayman, sister of Mrs. Dee Cox Sr., died at Oakland, Calif., May 6. The remains were cremated in Oakland. Mrs. Boothby was reared in Heppner.

Reid Buseck was in Heppner for Mother's day when he visited with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Buseck. He returned to John Day Tuesday.

HEPPNER LOSES FRAY HERE SUNDAY

Locals Strive Hard But Visitors' Experience Gives Them Lead.

NO REAL BLOW-UPS

Board of Condon Clouts Home Run Through Right Field Fence Scoring Two Teammates.

Condon's older heads played smarter baseball, and therein lies the tale of the defeat of Heppner's youngsters 15-7 at Rodeo field Sunday. It wasn't that the home boys didn't try, or that they didn't give a good account of themselves. They did; but they lacked the confidence and instinctive playing ability that comes with years of practice, such as many of the older heads on the Condon team possess.

There was no real blow-up inning. Condon's runs came four in the second inning, three in the third, five in the fifth, two in the seventh and one in the ninth; Heppner's, three in the second, one in the fifth and three in the ninth.

In Heppner's turn in the second Hake singled, Burns walked, Evans fanned, D. Bleakman died first on an error which scored Hake and Burns. Hayes was out second to first, Thomson gained first on an error which scored D. Bleakman. Sprouls was out catcher to first. In the fifth Thomson singled, Sprouls and Robertson flied out, B. Bleakman went first on an error which advanced Thomson who scored on Hake's single, Hake being thrown out at second in attempting to stretch his hit. Then in the ninth Hayes went out unassisted to first-baseman Board, Thomson made first on an error as did Sprouls who followed, the two scoring on Robertson's hit; B. Bleakman walked, and Robertson scored when LaMear dropped the third strike on Hake and was forced to throw him out at first; Makinster was out third to first.

Condon's scoring in the second inning was by way of three hits and a walk and an error which allowed LaMear, Hollen, Smith and S. Baker to cross the platter. In the third LaMear's double blow, an overthrow by Burns at first and hits by Smith and S. Baker, accounted for LaMear, Hollen and Smith scoring. First sacker Board made a hero of himself in the fifth when he bumped the pellet through the right field fence for a home run, scoring Hollen and Smith who had hit ahead of him; two baggers by Clow and Don, followed by a fielding error accounted for these two gentlemen scoring also in this frame. In the seventh Clow's free passage to first, coupled with hits by Don and S. Baker let in two more. In the ninth Don scored after getting a safe blow.

Strikeouts were few and hitting plentiful, giving fans plenty of action for their money. The box score and summary show all this, as follows:
