

Local Happenings

Miss Leta Humphreys arrived home from Eugene on Saturday for a visit of a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Humphreys. She was accompanied to Heppner by Mrs. J. P. Conder. Miss Humphreys, who has been at the head of the pharmacy department in the Pacific Christian hospital at Eugene for a number of years, has resigned her position with that institution. She will take a much needed vacation for some weeks, and may be located at Heppner again later on. Miss Evelyn Humphreys is expected home from Eugene shortly to remain.

A. M. Phelps departed on Saturday night for Bend, where he will reside in the future, having obtained a position with the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company of that city. Mrs. Phelps left on Wednesday night previous, the household goods going to Bend by moving van. A reception was tendered Mrs. Phelps before her departure by the members of Heppner American Legion auxiliary, of which order she had been an active member for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps will be "at home" to all Heppner friends who may visit Bend.

C. K. Cranston, referee in bankruptcy, was in Heppner Saturday forenoon in connection with the case of A. M. Phelps, recently declared a bankrupt in the United States district court. The meeting was held at the court house and none but local creditors appeared to be heard. E. R. Huston was chosen trustee and the referee placed his bond at $2000. Upon this instrument being accepted, Mr. Huston will enter upon his duties of gathering in the assets of the business and settling the claims.

Earl Hallock, cashier of Farmers & Stockgrowers National bank, motored to Portland on Saturday evening. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Delia Hallock, who has been spending the winter with her son here, and who a little later will go on to Rockaway where she has a number of summer cottages for the use of summer visitors to the seaside resort. Stanley Minor also accompanied Mr. Hallock on the trip to Portland.

W. P. Prophet was a visitor here on Friday and Saturday from his home at Wapato, Wash., to look after a residue of grocery stock in the hands of A. M. Phelps of Phelps Grocery company. This stock was handled by Mr. Phelps on consignment from Mr. Prophet at the time he closed up his business here about a year ago. Mr. Prophet was accompanied to Heppner by his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Kistler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Jones departed the first of the week on an auto tour which will take them to Cuprum, Idaho, where they will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Darland for a short time and then go on to Spokane, and other points in Washington where relatives reside. They will be gone for ten days or two weeks.

Mrs. Elbert Cox, who is confined to St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, is reported considerably improved. Three blood transfusions have been made, the blood being supplied by Mr. Cox, Mrs. Earl Gilliam and Mrs. Ralph Bengt. Two more transfusions may be necessary.

Foster Collins was in town Saturday from his home south of Hardman. He has been busy with spring plowing, stating that he was able to begin this work about a month earlier than usual, owing to the lack of moisture in the mountain area.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

MARY A. NOTSON, Reporter.
Horace D. Taft, headmaster of the Taft school for boys, Watertown, Conn., and brother of the late chief justice, writing for Connecticut daily papers, says:

In this battle, who is our great enemy? Whence comes this prodigious noise, the propaganda over the whole country which results in twisted news items everywhere, in false statistics, in heaping scorn on officers of the law for doing their duty, in jubilation when they fail, in the sacrilegious use of Faneuil Hall over the death of three acknowledged lawbreakers, in the maudlin speeches in congress, in such an idiotic bill as the one to prevent officers from using arms against a criminal in self-defense?

But who is behind it all? Is it because the good citizens of the west side are more self-sacrificing and enthusiastic than those on the dry? No, we must recognize our real enemy, an enemy that is fighting not in Massachusetts alone, not in the United States, but in Canada, in Scandinavia, in Finland, throughout the world. It is what the English call "The Trade." They usually confine that name to England but now the whole liquor, wine, and beer interest of the world is organized and is fighting with its back to the wall, with enormous financial resources, against the rising tide of temperance, or prohibition, or local option, or whatever form the upward movement takes.

And, of course, they have concentrated on America, for they well know that if the success of prohibition is acknowledged here, their doom is sealed.

According to the Associated Press Mr. DeMun, president of the International League of the Adversaries of Prohibition, a Frenchman, said seven years ago, "We have a hundred million people behind us and untold millions of dollars which we will spend in the merciless fight to destroy prohibition in the United States." The same gentleman, as chairman of the French Wine Export Commission, said in the French Wine Trade Journal, "The approaching electoral struggles in the United States will probably be the occasion for redoubling the efforts of the commission, and it is now awaiting the return of its representative to decide its action in the matter."

Remember that what the good citizens on either side contribute in this fight are mere contributions; what these whiskey, beer, and wine men contribute are investments and contributions are a mere bagatelle compared with investments. I wish we could bring home to every voter a realization of this situation and of the motive power behind this prodigious propaganda.

SCHOOL BANQUET SET.

The junior class of Heppner high school will entertain the seniors in the annual junior-senior banquet at the Episcopal parish house on the evening of May 22. Details of this outstanding event in school circles are being withheld by those in charge, in order that the guests may be greatly surprised.

War Nurse Sends Sargon to Mother In Far Off London

MRS. A. J. PAYNE

"Sargon did so much for me that I'm sending a treatment to my mother in London, England."

"I'm a trained nurse and served overseas in the World War, but I never in all my life saw anything like Sargon. I was almost a nervous wreck, was put on a strict diet of milk, for months and I was constantly having to dose myself with drastic laxatives, and finally after long suffering I was down to 95 pounds. I started Sargon about a month ago and now my appetite is splendid and I haven't a trace of indigestion. My whole system is wonderfully strengthened and invigorated. I sleep fine and am gaining weight every day. Sargon Pills overcame my constipation completely."—Mrs. A. J. Payne, 214 N. 75th St., Birmingham, Ala.

Farm Pointers

During 1929 Oregon county agents were instrumental in the organization of 11 drainage districts, designed to give improved drainage to 4690 acres of land, reports show.

Actual tests at the Oregon Experiment station have shown that a tree set as a pollinizer will not be effective more than 60 to 80 feet from the tree which is to be pollinized. Under very favorable weather conditions, trees may sometimes be cross pollinated farther than this, but ordinarily it is best to play safe and set a pollinizer every third tree in every third row for those kinds of fruit needing them.

With a view to assisting creamerymen in making butter of a uniform quality and composition and possessing good keeping qualities, Oregon State college is conducting a monthly butter scoring and analysis service to Oregon creameries. This is proving a help in raising the quality of butter, and indicating to the butter makers what the most commonly occurring defects in butter making are and how they may be overcome.

Rust, once started in a piece of metal, cannot be stopped by just painting over the rusted places, for unless the metal is heated, enough moisture will be left in the rust to spread it under the paint. For that reason, farmers find it best to paint metal roofs at least once a year, says the Oregon Experiment station.

HOWDY FOLKS—A news item says that a man in Scotland has reached the age of 125 years. Paul Gemmell thinks maybe he is determined to get full value out of one of those "life time" fountain pens.

And on the other hand, there was the Scot who got married on a junk wagon so that he could sell the old shoes that were thrown at him.

According to an old timer, we know, those who think modern life is hard on the nerves should have heard the old fashioned kid doing his lessons on a slate.

MODERN LIFE IS MADE EASIER AND MORE PLEASANT BY MODERN MERCHANDISING METHODS APPLIED TO MODERN PRODUCTS. THAT IS THE SITUATION WITH OUR GOODYEAR TIRES. A GOOD PRODUCT AND SERVICE THAT IS WORTHY OF THE NAME.

A telescope is being made that will enable the beholder to see 765,000,000 miles away. That would be a handy little spy glass for some of the candidates that are looking for their majority tomorrow.

Marge: Yes, he's always seeing parking spots before his eyes.

Frank Turner who is somewhat of a song leader, is teaching the Lions club to sing that sentimental little ditty, "The Clothes that Make the Women Are the Clothes that Break the Men."

The average annual consumption of gasoline per motor vehicle in the U. S. during the past decade was 475 gallons.

Miss Hattie Pathfinder Sez: The average home is a place where the husband says, "Yes, yes," and goes right on reading the sports page.

In order to avoid congestion on the links, a certain golf club requires its Scotch members to obtain licenses from the game warden before going hunting for balls.

AND LET US SAY THAT YOU WON'T HAVE TO GO HUNTING FOR THE BEST IN TIRES IF YOU WILL TRY GOODYEARS.

And we can't close without this: A little oil, a little grease. Makes the old car run with ease. A little polish, a little wash. Makes her look like new 'n' gosh. Moral: Try our washing and greasing service—it's efficient.

Parents Asked to Aid Control Scarlet Fever

Since scarlet fever is, just now, somewhat more prevalent than usual for this time of the year, it is quite natural for us to ask ourselves what can be done to prevent it, comes word from the state board of health.

The most effective means of preventing the spread of scarlet fever rests with the parent. If all parents would but take a minute each morning to look at their children, particularly their noses and throats, and inquire as to how they feel and would keep them home away from other children whenever they have such symptoms as a sore throat, headache, nausea, watery or inflamed eyes, a spotted or "strawberry" tongue, or a rash, much would be accomplished in preventing the spread of not only scarlet fever but other communicable diseases as well. Practically all of us know this, but how few practice it is evidenced by the number of children who are sent home from school every day with one or another of these symptoms suspicious of a communicable disease.

Eleven cases of scarlet fever have been reported existing in the state during the past week. Miss Edith Stallard, county nurse, recommends careful attention to any suspected cases in order to prevent the spread of scarlet fever, as has been the case with measles in Morrow county.

CONDITIONS REPORTED.

Morrow county wheat was improved by rains and warm weather and early ranges were benefited, according to a report of L. R. Breithaupt, extension economist of Oregon State college. Late ranges may be short. About 40 per cent of a normal wheat crop is signed for marketing through the North Pacific Grain growers. Wool growers are inclined to sign cooperative marketing agreements. Two clips were sold at 17 cents for fine wool and 20 cents for coarse.

FARM TOPICS FEATURE.

Regular farm programs twice each day except Sunday are included in the schedule of KOAC at Oregon State college. A news digest from the Morning Oregonian, and market and weather reports are given at noon from 12 to 12:45 o'clock. Talks on farm problems are included in the evening programs from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock in addition to market and weather reports, and news items from the Oregon Journal and Associated Press dispatches.

Cooperative Wool Mart Signs Million Fleeces

Well over a million fleeces are now signed on marketing agreements with the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, western unit of the National Wool Marketing corporation, which means that this unit will deliver at least a tenth of the hundred million pounds which is the goal set by the national for its first year's operations.

The Pacific has more than doubled its volume since last year, additional agreements are being secured daily, and many other large clips are expected to come to the association within the next few weeks, association officials announce. Eight-ty shares of stock have been subscribed in the national corporation and arrangements have been completed for the ninety percent advance to growers which is a feature of the new national marketing program.
