The loans which have been made in the county have been made to members who have their wheat at the Independent Warehouse company of Lexington. The net loans to the growers have been from 87 cents to 91 1/2 cents per bushel, which is above the present market price of wheat. ## EXPERTS TO HOLD BUSINESS SCHOOL

Conclaves to be Held by Specialists in 29 Oregon Cities to Aid Merchants Who Attend.

Business institutes, which carry the latest developments in commercial practice to merchants, such as agricultural extension specialists carry new methods to farmers, have been scheduled for 29 cities including Heppner for this summer. The business institute will convene here August 6 and 7. The institutes are a joint project of the school of commerce of Oregon State college, college extension service and the Oregon Retail Merchants association. This is the third season for the institutes which have met with increasing popularity. Two years ago six sessions were held; last year 18 cities cooperated and this year 29 cities came from 29 cities. Most of these cities cooperate with neighboring communities in making the meetings county-wide.

The same staff as formerly will be in charge again. H. T. Vance, head of courses in merchandising, will handle advertising and salesmanship. E. E. Bosworth, head of the accounting department, will be in charge of business management in the institutes, and O. F. Tate, secretary of the retail merchants association, will discuss store management. The first institute is at Albany, June 30 to July 1. Other cities on the schedule which ends September 5, are Cottage Grove, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford, Ashland, Klamath Falls, Lakeview, Burns, Ontario, Baker, La Grande, Enterprise, Pendleton, Arlington, The Dalles, Redmond, Bend, Toledo, Tillamook, McMinnville, Hillsboro, Oregon City, Newberg, Salem, Independence, Hood River and Corvallis.

County Nurse States Dates for Child Clinics

Child health clinics will be conducted in various parts of the county during June as a part of the child health and infant welfare work which will occupy the time of Miss Edith Stallard, county nurse, this summer. The motto adopted by her in her work is "Keep the Well Baby Well." The first clinic will be at Hardman Monday, with the one at Alpine following Tuesday. At these clinics and all others except the ones held in Heppner, children from six months to school age will be examined. It is especially urged that mothers who will have children entering school for the first time next fall bring their children to the clinics.

A clinic will be held in the office of Dr. A. D. McMurdo in Heppner Wednesday, with another for Heppner to be at Dr. A. B. Gray's office Thursday. Mothers bringing their children to Heppner clinics may have their choice of these two physicians. At the Heppner clinics, children from six months to two years, and those who will enter the first grade in school next fall will be examined.

Other clinics on the schedule are Lexington, June 5; Ione, June 9, and Boardman, June 10. Pine City children will go to the Alpine clinic, and Irrigon children to Boardman. All the children except those in Heppner will be in the school buildings at the towns stated.

The clinics will begin promptly at 9 o'clock in the morning. Mothers are requested to bring a bag to put their baby's clothing in, while the examination is being made, and also a towel to wrap the child in while waiting for the examination. Later in the summer, the babies will be weighed again, and advice given about proper feeding.

COMMERCIAL CLUB OFFICERS ELECTED

Nomination of Lions Club Leaders Has Important Part at Luncheon.

CARSNER GIVES PLAN

Dinner for Victors Crow-Magpie Contest Announced by Sweek, Captain of Losing Team.

S. E. Notson was elected president and D. T. Goodman, secretary of the reorganized Heppner Commercial club when the Lions club luncheon adjourned itself into a meeting of the commercial organization, Monday. C. L. Sweek was elected temporary chairman of the meeting in the absence of L. Van Marter, past president. Nomination of officers was the main order of business of the Lions. Election will be held in two weeks. After the report of the nominating committee, nominations were made from the floor, resulting in contests for all the offices but one, that of secretary.

Senator R. J. Carsner of Spray, a guest, made a short talk in which he explained a plan that might help prevent shooting-up of highway signs. His plan is to ask ammunition companies to insert printed slips in the boxes of cartridges with special instructions as to how the ammunition should not be used. Mr. Carsner believed this would eliminate much freck and ineffective legislation in regard to firearms.

C. L. Sweek, captain of the losing team in the crow-magpie contest, announced the dinner for the winners that took place Tuesday evening. W. R. Poulson, superintendent of Heppner schools announced plans for a business men's gymnasium class to be conducted next winter.

C. W. Smith, commander of the local American Legion post, told of the Legion's plans for Memorial day and urged Lions to observe the occasion. Paul Gemmill read a communication from Oregon State college regarding the second annual business institute to be held in Heppner this year August 6-7. He urged the importance of a suggested window display contest, and expressed the hope that this contest might be staged here this year. The Lions were pleasantly entertained by Miss Jeannette Turner, who gave a humorous reading in German dialect. The sale of poppies by Mrs. W. R. Poulson in behalf of the American Legion auxiliary, extracted the sum of $6.00 from men attending the luncheon.

GRIFFIN SPEAKS IONE EXERCISES

Seven Students Given Diplomas Thursday After Completing High School Course.

Dr. L. E. Griffin of Reed college, Portland, who delivered the commencement address for the Ione high school graduating class at the Ione school auditorium last Thursday evening, pointed out that the outlook for the future of this class was much greater than that of previous generations that had gone before. In bringing out his points he used examples of his many experiences with nature.

Seven diplomas were granted, but for one of these requirements were fulfilled last January, that of Kenneth Akers, who was unable to be at the exercises for the presentation. The other graduates are Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Mary Healy, Miss Beulah Pettyjohn, Harold Kincaid, Gene Engelman and Kenneth Smouse.

Miss Gladys Drake played the professional. Rev. W. W. Head was heard in invocation and benediction. Miss Mildred Smith and Miss Mary Healy entertained with a piano duet. Miss Smith gave the salutatory address. Miss Healy read the class history. Harold Kincaid recited the class poem. Miss Pettyjohn read the class prophecy. Gene Engelman read the class will. A total of 489 students will be awarded degrees by President W. J. Kerr in the 10 degree-granting schools. The school of commerce leads with 109 graduates, with the school of engineering graduating 92 in four departments, industrial arts 12, civil engineering 24, electrical engineering 27 and mechanical engineering 29. Home economics follows with 77, vocational education 68, agriculture 38, pharmacy 30, forestry 21, chemical engineering 18, and mining and mining engineering 7. Twenty-eight graduate students will receive master's degrees.

Howell will be awarded a degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering with mechanical engineering as his minor subject.

He has been prominent in student body affairs during his course here and is a member of the American Association of Electrical Engineers. As a graduate of the Oregon State college school of engineering, Howell will be well prepared to pursue work in his chosen field. The institution ranks as one of the foremost state colleges in the country both in the reputation of its graduates and in the number of students. The first year of his course included such fundamental subjects as mathematics, English, physics and mechanical drawing. At the close of his freshman year, Howell chose electrical engineering as his specialty, and the last three years have been spent in perfecting himself in this profession. Although a large proportion of the graduates of the school of engineering have found their life work in Oregon, many of them are leaders in professional engineering work of other states and foreign countries.

Artesian Water Turned Into Mains Wednesday

Water from the new artesian well at the forks of Willow creek began flowing to Heppner when the connecting link was completed and the new source allowed to flow into the city mains at about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It was expected that it would be some little time before the water from the creek source that was in the mains at the time of the connection would be used up and patrons of the city water system getting the artesian water. Members of the city council were present at the well at the time the new water was turned into the line. Included in the ceremonies there, was the allowing the water to spout geyser-like into the air, through an opening reduced in size to produce a fountain-like jet. Pictures of the artesian flow at that time were taken by B. G. Sigbee, photographer. Water users were required to refrain from the use of water for irrigation at the time the change was being made, but the weather proved favorable with cool, cloudy days and a small amount of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Engelman were Heppner visitors from Ione Wednesday.

J. T. Breece was in town from Boardman Wednesday.

BANQUET SERVED VICTORS OF HUNT

Game Officials are Guests At Dinner Provided by Episcopal Ladies.

GAME MOVIES SHOWN

Many Reels of Pictures Displayed Show Propagation of Birds On State Game Farms.

Captain Charles W. Smith's winning team of crow and magpie hunters were guests at an excellent dinner provided by the losing team, headed by C. L. Sweek, at the Episcopal parish house Tuesday evening. The dinner was prepared and served by ladies of the Episcopal auxiliary. Honor guests at the evening's festivities were Harold Clifford, state game warden, F. C. Stellmacher, educational director of the state game commission, Earl A. Frey, field representative of the sporting powder division of the Dupont Powder company and Earl Snell of Arlington, chairman of the fish and game committee of the state house of representatives. Wives and ladies of the Lions and members of the two teams were in attendance. More than 60 gathered for the event.

While the dinner was being served, C. L. Sweek, acting in the role of toastmaster, told some interesting jokes on some of the banquet guests. In most instances, exposed party paid a fine to Mr. Smith, Lion taitwister. The money raised by these fines has been used to pay for a rifle that will be awarded the boy or girl turning in the most crows and magpies.

Mr. Clifford made a brief talk in which he outlined the work of the game commission. He assured those attending the cooperation of the game commission in any way possible.

Mr. Frey showed moving pictures of the propagation of Hungarian partridges at the game farm at Pilot Rock. Every step of the work was clearly shown. After release of the birds in the fields he took the audience on a hunt for the "Huns." His pictures showing a hunt for quail with dogs, in South Carolina, was viewed with much interest. His last reel showed game life in California. In this reel, the pictures of a large buck deer, which was followed by the photographer for a week to get the shots, proved one of the most interesting parts of the program.

The pictures shown by Mr. Stellmacher were fish and game scenes from many parts of Oregon. In fishing activities were trout fishing on the McKenzie, smelt fishing in the Sandy and salmon fishing at the falls of the Willamette at Oregon City. The game pictures showed many varieties of game, moose, elk, deer, bear, ducks, geese, pheasants. Propagation of Chinese pheasants at the state game farms at Corvallis and Eugene were included. William Poulson, Jasper Crawford, Earl Gordon and Paul Marble, Lions quartet, entertained with a number of appropriate selections. Alice Latourel received a big hand for her "Crow Song" solo. Mrs. Poulson at the piano accompanied the musical numbers.

REGIONAL MAKES LOANS ON WHEAT

Growers Given Loans on 4,600,000 Bushels With More Funds Declared Available.

The status of loans on wheat was announced by E. M. Hulden of Arlington, director of the North Pacific Grain growers, who was in Heppner Friday conferring with officers of the Morrow County Grain growers after having attended a meeting of the regional at Spokane, Va. Mr. Hulden said that applications for loans had been made on 4,600,000 bushels of 1929 wheat and that plenty of money was available to take care of this if all the loans were approved. Loans have already been made upon 3,000,000, and this money is being mailed daily. There is some wheat in warehouses where ample bonds have not been furnished. Money can not be loaned upon this wheat until this condition has been remedied.

Grain amounting to 350,000 bushels upon which loans have been made was ordered sold May 19. Farmers who received loans on their wheat will have the following options until June 30: They may sell their wheat on any day to any buyer and pay back the money they have borrowed, or if they are not satisfied with the price being offered up to June 30, they may buy back their own wheat. Mr. Hulden said that H. W. Collins of Pendleton who has been appointed sales manager for the Pacific northwest has disposed of all his offices except the Pendleton office and this is to be disposed of as soon as possible.

In order that production loans may be made the regional is trying to work out a finance corporation so that they may make loans to farmers on their growing crops.

FIELD DAY EVENT FOR FARMERS SET

Farms and Power Equipment Will Be Seen With Picnic Lunch And Athletics Slated.

A farmers' field day and picnic is being sponsored by the Willows grange Sunday beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning at the Hynd brothers ranch two miles north of Cecil. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

The program for the day is to leave Hynd brothers ranch at 10 o'clock and drive to the Dwight Misher home ranch by 10:30 where a large field of fall sown wheat, seeded with a deep furrow drill, will be examined. A trip will then be made through the wheat country north of Ione to see seeders and power farming operations.

A picnic dinner will be enjoyed by all present at 12:30 in the Hynd brothers yard in the shade of the large trees. Coffee, hamburger, potatoes and brown gravy will be cooked on new gas ranges which will be demonstrated by dealers. Everyone is asked to bring their own cakes and salads.

At 2 o'clock a power hay cutting machinery demonstration will be put on by implement dealers. Much interest is being shown in this type of machinery because of the advantages of getting the hay put up on time. People having alfalfa fields should be interested in this part of the program.

A 4-H club judging demonstration by members of the Ione Calf club will be held at 3:30 and it is particularly desired that all 4-H Calf club members of Morrow county be present.

Athletic events in which all are urged to compete, will be held in the large blue grass pasture near the Hynd home.

The Willows grange members have challenged the other granges to a tug of war and if possible an elimination contest will be held and the championship team decided. Remember the time and place and that everyone is invited to come and enjoy the day.

High Production Mark Made by Morrow Herd

O. Coryell, Morrow county dairyman, with his herd of three pure bred Jerseys had the high producing herd of the month in April of the Umatilla Herd Improvement association. His cows averaged 448 pounds of butterfat and 761 pounds of milk. Tests for the association are made by W. C. Kernkamp, tester.

Seven Morrow county dairymen with 114 cows belong to the association which takes in all of Umatilla county. During the month 628 cows were tested giving butterfat averages of 26.47 and milk averages of 544 pounds. Of the cows tested 101 produced 40 pounds or more during the month. Since Morrow dairymen entered the association three years ago increased interest in the work has been shown. By the regular tests poor producers have been determined and culled from the herds to give better producing herds at the present time.

Last Rites Conducted For Mrs. Cox Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Elbert Cox, who died in Portland last Thursday were conducted Saturday afternoon at the Masonic temple by Ruth chapter, O. E. S., with Rev. Oscar Payne officiating. Interment was in Heppner cemetery. Funeral arrangements were handled by M. L. Case.

Io Penelope Hawks was born in Galax, Virginia, in 1895. After completing the course of study in the public schools, she was graduated from Roanoke business college. She was married to Elbert Cox at Eugene, North Carolina, in 1917, following which they established their home at Galax.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox came west in 1921, to settle in Heppner. Later they sold their home and moved back to Virginia, but became dissatisfied there and returned to Heppner seven months later. They had maintained a residence here since that time. Mrs. Cox's death came from an acute attack of leukemia, from which she had been suffering for about six weeks. Her death occurred at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland.

Mrs. Cox is survived by her husband, Elbert Cox, and three sons. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church, Ruth chapter, Eastern Star, and Maple circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft.

Work for City Library Making Good Progress

Favorable progress in the Heppner Library association membership drive is being made, and will be brought to a conclusion Saturday, according to Mrs. Clara Beamer, chairman. Memberships and donations received now amount to approximately $150.

A phrase in the story relative to the library, appearing in the Gazette Times, May 15, unintentionally gave the impression that adults to borrow books, or make use of the library, must purchase a membership card at a cost of one dollar. This is not the case for the library will be open to the public without charge. Holding membership entitles one to vote in the meetings of the organization, and gives financial support needed to the successful operation of the library. For this reason it is urged that all who can do so take out memberships, for if more join it will mean a larger number of books for all to read.

Painting of the ceilings and floors and calceining of the walls in the quarters in the Humphreys building to be occupied by the library will soon be completed. It is expected that the books now owned by the library will be moved to the new home some time this week. Persons who have books to donate to the library are requested to notify Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, president, or Kenneth Ackley, chairman of the book committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rowell and Mrs. M. Rowell were visitors in the city today from Ione.
