A dance will be held in the evening in the open air pavilion, 40 feet by 60 feet, to be erected at the well site. A large fireworks dis-play is included on the evening program. Concessions will dispense lunches, ice cream, soft drinks and fireworks to those celebrating. Plenty of parking space is available at the site of the celebration.

Education, Roads Get Major Part of Taxes

In the division of the 1929 propertax dollar, the larger portion of the tax collected in Morrow county was for education and roads, according to the Oregon Voter. For state purposes, higher education re-ceived $30,150 or 7.48 per cent, soldiers bonus, $3265, or 0.81 per cent and general $525 or 0.13 per cent. The total amount for state purposes was $33,940 or 8.42 per cent of the tax dollar.

For local purposes, high and eleentary schools drew the largest por-tion, $178,436 or 44.25 per cent Roads were next with the figures $77,294, 19.17 per cent. Going for road bonds was $41,561 or 10.31 per To the county general fund cent. went $43,404 or 10.76 per cent. Other ounts were: cities and towns, $15,364, 3.81 per cent; irrigation districts, $11,014, 2.73 pct.; fire patrol, $2237, 0.55 pct. The total levy for ocal purposes was $369,312 or 91.58 per cent of the combined tax for state and local purposes. The grand total of the tax provided by levy in the county was $403,252.

Ione Correspondent. Funeral services for Lewis P. Davidson, 66, who died at his home in Ione last Thursday morning were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Congregational church of that city with Rev. W. W. Head officiating. Mrs. Margaret Bullard sang three solos, "Face to Face," "Sweet Bye and Bye" and "Sweetly Rest-Masons and Eastern Star ating." Masons and Eastern Star at-tended the rites in a body. Pall bearers were W. L. McCaleb, W. P. Campbell, Gay M. Anderson, George Bleakman, S. E. Moore and W. J. Blake. That Mr. Davidson was held in high esteem by those with whom he associated was indicated by the many and beautiful floral offerings. Ceremonies at the Ione Odd Fellows cemetery were conducted by the Masonic lodge. Funeral arrangements were handled by Phelps Funeral home of Heppner.

Mr. Davidson was born in Nodaway county, Missouri, December 14, 1863. He came to Morrow county in 1884. He was married to Ella Lovgren, January 1, 1894. During the illness that preceded his death, Mr. Davidson was suffering with diabetic melitus in advanced stages. At the time of his death he was in a state of diabetic coma. He reached the end of life's trail at the age of 66 years, 5 months and 21 days, He is survived by his widow, Mrs. L. P. Davidson; three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Ries of Toppenish, wash, Mrs. J. R. Snappy Brand of Ball Displayed by Team For First Time.

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAMES Ione at Heppner, Fossil at Arlington

Playing the snappiest brand of oall seen this season on the local diamond, the Heppner nine held the winning Arlington aggregation to seven runs, while it garnered four. The errors made by the locals were noticeably fewer, but those that were made came at times when they permitted the opponents to make them good for runs. Soden's work on the mound contributed in considerable measure toward the visitors' victory. The locals got on base frequently, but couldn't seem to connect in the pinches, when one hit would have meant a run or more. If the boys continue to improve as they did in this game Heppner will see some mighty fine ball games before the curtain drops on the 1930 season. Three three-baggers by Arlington and a homer, triple and double by Heppner batsmen during the game rought the fans to their feet. With six of the 18 hits being good for more than one base, it was a lively fray.

Arlington scores were made with two in the first inning and one each in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh. During the three innings in which Arlington did not score no hits were allowed. Heppner's tallies came one each in the first, fourth, sixth and seventh. Likewise the locals had no hits to their credit in innings during which no runs were

New Crop Dominating In Wheat Situation

The condition and probable production of new-crop wheat is now the dominant factor in the wheat situation, according to the Oregon State college extension service. It seems unlikely that there will be a bumper world wheat crop for 1930-1931, but supplies of old wheat are ample and economic conditions in the principal importing countries are unfavorable. Several of these countries have raised their tariff walls against foreign wheat. For instance, it now costs 73 cents plus freight and handling to get United States wheat into Italy. France has wheat tariff of 54 cents. Sweden 27 cents, and Germany 78 cents. It is estimated that the European con-tinent will import about 257,000,000 bushels of wheat during the 1929-1930 season, compared to 390,000,000 oushels in the 1928-1929 year. United States wheat crop reports indicate a reduced output of soft red winter and white wheats, which may result in such wheat being marketable at relatively higher prices compared to the principal ex-port classes of wheat during the current marketing season. India is expected to have around 10,000,-000 or 12,000,000 bushels of wheat, mostly of white varieties, for export-just a few million more than last year—unless prices should reach high levels in which case 20,-000,000 bushels might be shipped

Exportable supplies of southern hemisphere wheat are unusually small and stocks in importing countries are low, but North American holdings continue large. Buyers and sellers are watching new-crop developments and guiding their policies accordingly. (A weekly wheat market review is broadcast over KOAC on Saturday at 6:45 p. m.)

Artesion Well Dedication

HEPPNER SETS PACE

Delegates to State Convention at Bend Report Enjoyable Time During Two Days.

The Fourth of July celebration at the forks of Willow creek in connection with the dedication of Heppner's new artesian well was given the hearty endorsement of the Lions at their meeting Monday. The Lions club, representing a cross section of fraternal orders and busi-ness interests of the city, was unanmous in its approval of holding the entire celebration at the well site. The only question raised was that n case the celebration paid a profit, what would be done with the money. A motion was unanimously passed favoring the placing of such profits in a fund to be applied toward the erection of a fountain at the source of the city's fine new water supply. It was the sense of the Lions that the obtaining of artesian water of such excellent quality is one of the biggest boons ever to hit the city, and that the occasion in recognition of it should be an outstanding event in the city's history. To this end the club will give its wholehearted cooperation.

Sweek Reports Conclave.

Paying high tribute to the scenic beauties of central Oregon and the hospitality of its people, President C. L. Sweek graphically described the state convention of Lions International held in Bend last Friday and Saturday. Included in the Heppner delegation were Mr. and Mrs. Sweek, Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Gemmell, Paul L. Marble and Jasper Crawford. The local club was well represented with four delegates out of an allotment of five, in comparison with representations of other clubs. Heppner's representatives left home at 5 o'clock Friday morning, arriving in Bend at 11:30 in time to register and partake of an ex-cellent fish luncheon at the high school gymnasium at noon. Friday afternoon and Saturday morning were given over to business of the convention, which resulted among other things, in the choosing of La Grande as the 1931 convention city and the election of Jack Ferris of that place as district governor for the ensuing year. Heppner was given recognition as leading in the membership campaign and to date being entitled to free transportation of one delegate to the national con-

The itinerary from here took them to Suttle and Blue lakes, scenic points of no little merit. Returnto Bend, Heppner's delegates did not remain for the wind-up banquet, but wended their way to Elk lake, where an enjoyable evening was spent at this meritorious and attractive scenic resort. On the way home Sunday, fishing was enjoyed by members of the party on the upper Deschutes river and on Snow creek.

Featuring the entertainment program of the convention was an evening of stunts Friday, from which Klamath Falls emerged with the honors.
