

1930 CHAUTAUQUA ENTERTAINS MANY

Junior Event Conducted Each Morning During Program in City.

1931 EVENT SIGNED

Audiences During Four Days See And Hear Plays, Music and Lectures at Big Tent.

Four days of instructive and amusing entertainment was brought to a close Monday evening, when curtain dropped on the play, which saw the tent packed. Each morning a junior chautauqua was held for the entertainment of the children. The programs were so varied, including plays, lectures and music, that entertainment was provided for every type of audience. The directors of the Morrow County Chautauqua association have signed a contract for the appearance of the chautauqua in 1931.

The program opened Friday evening with the hilarious comedy, "Other People's Business," which kept the audience in an almost continuous state of uproarious laughter. The story was that of an ex-service man who makes his rise from the shipping department of an agricultural implement factory, to own the controlling interest and win the hand of the general manager's daughter.

Musicians Entertain.

On Saturday afternoon that versatile company of musical entertainers, the Chester Scott company, pleased with its program of popular instrumental music. The audience was delighted with each performer, every one a Scott, who played several instruments masterfully. Chester Scott has a wide reputation as a great trumpeter. The company was heard again in the evening in an orchestra band concert, in which they played selection from the famous composers.

Sunday morning the churches of the city joined in a union service at the big chautauqua tent. Rev. Glen White, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered the sermon, "One Pearl." Special musical numbers were sung by a union choir.

An unusual musical organization, the Loveless quartet, the make-up of its personnel being twin boys and twin girls, entertained with vocal and instrumental selections Sunday afternoon and evening. The quartet has gained fame with its radio broadcasts and phonograph recordings. The best loved songs had a part on the two programs. On the evening program E. J. Powell, former pastor of the First Baptist church of Kansas City, Mo., in his talk, "Masters of the Morrow," a lecture on the active problems of the present generation, kept his auditors on the alert with his sparkling wit and interesting manner of speech.

Letha Coleman Speaks.

One of the Associated players entertained in piano solo in the opening of the Monday afternoon program. Miss Letha Coleman's travelogue-lecture which followed was considered by many one of the outstanding features of the 1930 chautauqua. She took one to far away places, telling of her thrilling experiences and impressions on her trip around the world. The greater portion of her time was spent in telling of Hawaii, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, China, Siam, Burma, India, Malay and Egypt, while she told briefly of European countries.

The comedy-drama, "The Big Pond," a recent Broadway stage success, was presented before a packed tent Monday evening. The many laughable situations in the thread of the story kept the audience in a jovial disposition from start to finish. An American girl on a tour to Italy falls in love with a Frenchman, and in order to prove that she will love him as much in America, has her father put him to work in his Ohio rubber factory. He is about to lose her, but wins out just before the story closes.

Children Have Program.

Friday morning many children of the community gathered at the tent for the first program of junior chautauqua. Miss Elizabeth Downey, advance girl, conducted the story telling hour. In the afternoon more than 60 children, in a variety of costumes, were seen on Main street in tacky parade, a feature of the junior chautauqua. First honors went to Richard Hayes as Andy, and Betty Hapgood as Madam Queen. Miss Downey led in story-telling, games and yells Saturday morning. A similar work was carried on Monday by Miss Gertrude Owens, chautauqua superintendent.

SCHOOL MEN REELECTED.

Charles Thomson, director, and Vawter Crawford, clerk, of the Heppner school district, were reelected at the annual school meeting held Monday afternoon at the council chambers. Neither candidate had opposition. The election was marked by a large attendance of voters.

Members of the organization who are making sun pillows were requested to complete them as soon as possible and to turn them in to Mrs. Hanna Jones so they may be sent to the Veterans' hospital in Portland immediately. Mrs. Helen Cash and Mrs. Cyrene Barrett were hostesses at the meeting, which is the last that will be held until September.

Laurel Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Beach of Lexington, who has been studying music and dramatic art at the Bush conservatory, Chicago, is now appearing in solo and duet work with the company of John Ross Reed, noted baritone, on the Associated chautauqua circuit, the same organization that showed in Heppner this week. Mr. Beach will travel through New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma on the circuit. He plans to take advanced work in music in California during the coming winter.

SWECK REELECTED PRESIDENT LIONS

Other Officers are Named To Serve for Year At Club Meeting.

STILL LEAD CONTEST

Heppner Club Working to Secure Representation from County in Pulchritude Contest.

C. L. Sweck will head the Heppner Lions for another year, the result of the election at Monday's meeting. In the face of an overwhelming demand that he retain the presidency, Mr. Sweck's refusal to accept was of no avail, and members express confidence that his leadership will bring the club through to many accomplishments for civic betterment and unity the coming year.

Acting with Mr. Sweck in shaping the club's destinies will be the following newly elected officers: C. W. Smith, first vice president; J. D. Cash, second vice president; Earl Hallock, secretary-treasurer; Spencer Crawford, Lion Tamer; Russell Pratt, Tallwater; Gay M. Anderson and J. J. Nys, directors. Earl W. Gordon and Gay M. Anderson were named delegates to the national convention at Denver the middle of July, with Jasper Crawford and Carl Cason as alternates.

Heppner Still Leads.

At last reports Heppner was still leading in membership gain in the district, and if the lead can be maintained until July 1 the local club will be entitled to the Lions International award of free transportation for one delegate to and from Denver.

David Frederic Smith who arrived this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith was the cause of Lions coming to Daddy Smith's house with a shower of appropriate articles and suggestions. Mr. Smith responded by passing out the cigars. The meeting was further enlivened by discussion of various suggestions for Lion activity in the future, as well as projects already started.

The committee having in charge the local club's participation in the International Pageant of Pulchritude reported a move had been made to get entrants from Lexington and Ine, the two clubs respectively in these towns agreeing to sponsor entrants. Entrants from Heppner are slow in coming out, but it was hoped to have several from here when the contest is held in connection with the Fourth of July celebration at the forks of Willow creek.

Lions Plan Junket.

Mr. Smith described the itinerary to be followed in a proposed junket and picnic with grangers of the county, which will take the city men and farmers over the larger wheat producing areas of south Morrow county, and will include a picnic lunch and program on Rhea creek. The Lions' participation was placed in the hands of the public relations committee with J. O. Peterson as chairman. The belief was expressed that much good would be accomplished through business men becoming better acquainted with wheat varieties and farming methods which are undergoing constant change.

G. A. Bleakman, in a short, inspiring talk in which he called attention to the fact that bids on the Heppner-Spray road were to be opened on June 17, asked Lions to give more thought to the promotion of the county's resources. As fine a stand of yellow pine timber as may be found any place in the United States, and now ripe for cutting, will be tapped on completion of the Heppner-Spray road, he asserted. He also called special attention to the favorable conditions for growing potatoes, and operating dairies in south Morrow county in the region of the new road.

Attention was called by Al Rankin to the recent acquirement by outside milling interests, reported as well financed, of the old Slocum mill site. Entirely new machinery is being installed and when the mill gets under way it is expected from 20 to 30 men will be employed and an average of a carload of lumber a day will be shipped from Heppner. He thought it might be well for the Lions club to give whatever encouragement it might to the enterprise.

JOHN MCCARTHY DEAD.

Funeral services for John McCarthy, formerly a resident of Butter creek and also one-time owner of a meat market in Heppner, who died in Hagerman, Idaho, June 10, and was brought to Echo for burial, were conducted there Friday afternoon. Mr. McCarthy was a member of the Heppner Masonic lodge. He was a brother-in-law of Frank Sloan of Stanfield, and is survived by a brother, Alvin McCarthy, who lives on Butter creek.

FIRE NOTICE.

Residents of Heppner are requested not to build open fires in the city because of the extreme dryness and consequent fire hazard.

S. P. DEVIN, Fire Chief.

HEPPNER TO SHIP LUMBER EACH DAY

New Saw Mill to be Modern One Employing 30 Men to Make 35,000 Feet a Day.

Heppner is soon to be the rail shipping point of a carload or more of pine lumber daily, for extensive operations are now under way to open a mill on the site of the old Harrison Fisher mill. The property has been sold by Al Henriksen to the Eagle Creek Lumber company of Eagle Creek, Oregon.

The old buildings have been torn down, and new ones are replacing them. A new boiler and new machinery is being installed, to provide for an up-to-date plant. A 60 horsepower tractor is on the grounds, and will be used in hauling the logs to the mill.

The work is going ahead steadily for the sawmill which will have a daily output of approximately 35,000 feet. Shipments from Heppner will be in the form of green lumber. The mill will employ a crew of between 20 and 30 men.

COOKING SCHOOL ATTRACTS WOMEN

Home Service Workers Show Ways To Obtain Best Results With Electricity in Cooking.

That there is plenty of interest in that old-fashioned art of cooking, in this modern age, is shown by the fact that 65 women were present Thursday afternoon, and 70 Friday afternoon, at the Hotpoint cooking school conducted at the local office of the Pacific Power and Light company by Miss Elsie Goodell, home service worker, assisted by Miss Anita Ladd. Both of the young women are in the employ of the company, having their headquarters at The Dalles, and when not devoting their time to conducting cooking schools, are available to housewives in their homes, to aid with their problems in electric cooking.

The best methods of using electric ranges were shown. This included use of the oven, and automatic timing devices, in which, use of the latter eliminates waste of time incurred by the constant attention required by earlier methods of cooking. Ways to economy in the use of electricity were demonstrated. Refrigeration by electricity was explained. The women were told how to make tempting dishes with an electric cooking pot which may be attached to any light cord.

Included in the demonstrations were the making of cakes, pies, rolls, cream puffs and salads. A number of recipes were given to those attending. As the old story goes, "the proof of the pudding is in the eating." Those having an opportunity to sample the foods cooked, declared them to taste every bit as good as they looked, proving Miss Goodell and Miss Ladd just as efficient cooks as they are demonstrators.

A drawing was held each afternoon with prizes being awarded for lucky numbers. Miss Opal Stapleton won an electric table stove and Mrs. L. E. Biebee, a tuna fish salad. Thursday, while on Friday an electric toaster was won by Mrs. Noah Clark of Eight Mile and a cake by Alice Cason.

Program Marks Close Vacation Bible School

A fine program, illustrative of the work learned by them during the daily vacation Bible school was staged by the 50 children who completed the 10-day course at the Methodist church Thursday evening. Verses that had been learned, recitations, religious songs and stories, all had a part in the program.

An exhibit of the handwork carried out by the boys and girls was shown to the visitors. The boys made wooden footstools, and the girls raffia mats. An exhibit of art work done by the pupils was also shown.

The classes were in session each morning during the 10-day period. Much of the success of the school is credited to members of the church who assisted in the instructional work, and the mothers, who saw that their children were started promptly each morning to join the classes at 9 o'clock. Certificates were awarded those satisfactorily completing the work.

Ellis Thomson, who has been attending the University of Oregon, Eugene, arrived home in Heppner Wednesday.

IONE WINNER GAME WITH LOCALS, 14-9

Heavy Hitting by Both Teams is Feature of Fray Played Here.

FANS ENTERTAINED

Fine Brand of Baseball Displayed By Members of Both Teams On Various Occasions.

Heppner played Ione at Rodeo field Sunday. The score was 1-up when the visitors came to bat in the fourth, and so far had been a ball game. In the fourth Ione opened up with the heavy artillery, demolishing everything Pitcher Aune had to offer that came within range, smacking out six hits, walking twice, running in seven tallies, and putting Mr. Aune on the bench after he had settled down to fan the twelfth opponent and stop the rally.

The local lads were not so badly outdone at that. In the eighth they confronted Pitcher Ritchie en toto and jugged in five runs, which, including the one in the third and two in the sixth gave them a count of eight. In the sixth Ione had added three more, and one more in the eighth, so that at this juncture they still had the edge of the 12-8 score. Ione came across with two more in the ninth, while Heppner got but one. Final score 14-9.

Game Proves Amusing.

After the fans got over being disappointed at the ball game ending in the fourth, they gradually became amused at the new sport the boys had introduced, and left the game in the best of humor. Sports-writers have called such pastimes trackmeets, but this fails to accurately describe the way in which the Heppner and Ione boys bespattered themselves. Their conveyed more the sock-the-apple, throw-the-apple, drop-the-apple idea, a burlesque with just enough baseball thrown in to justify their wearing uniforms of ball players for the occasion.

"Rich" Lundell looked like a big leaguer when he stepped out of the short patch to nab a hot grounder one-handed behind second base, in his stride, and in the next stride came around the base to catch the runner by inches. N. Swanson, another Ione boy who protected the left-field pasture, made just as pretty an exhibition when he raced up the race-track mound and caught a high fly against the fence, outside the diamond by yards.

Many Flies Hit.

Fly balls were much the order for the sock-the-apple boys, and by and large there were well received. In telling of shortstops, Heppner's Bub Bleakman is not to be overlooked. After handling every chance that came his way, and not all of them easy, Bub made a fitting climax for his good work by taking a drive and tossing the ball over to second base in a snappy double play that retired Ione their last time up.

Hank Robertson was relieved behind the bat by Clarence Moore in the fifth, and going into the box for Aune, Hank did his part to make the fracas still resemble a ball game. But the boys would drop the apple.

ROOTS IN MAIN CUT OFF WATER

Trouble Located and Repaired; Patrons City Water System May Resume Irrigation.

A few roots in the main of the city's water system caused much inconvenience to residents of the community for a number of days during the past week. The first indication of the trouble developed Friday night when practically the entire flow of water to the city was shut off by some unknown force. By boring holes in the pipeline at intervals, the location of the stoppage was determined. When the plugged section was found, it was discovered that a mass of roots about three feet long and about seven inches in diameter had become detached from the pipe at the point of entry and had been forced down the main until, caught by a protruding mass of concrete that had resulted at the time the pipe was laid.

After the line became plugged a back pressure resulted which caused the four or five breaks, which at first were believed to be the only defect in the line.

To relieve the situation water was provided by pumping from a well previously used by the city. Pumping from this well continued from Sunday morning until Tuesday night. Nearly a day was lost in making the repairs because of the location of the trouble, for it was such that it required digging about 150 feet of ditch to drain the area where the damage occurred.

Now that the obstruction has been removed and the pipe line put into repair, more water is flowing than before the obstruction occurred, according to W. E. Pruyn, water department superintendent. Users of city water may resume irrigation tonight.

Gordon to Represent Elks at Atlantic City

Earl Gordon, accompanied by Mrs. Gordon left Heppner Sunday for Atlantic City, N. J., where Mr. Gordon will represent Heppner lodge No. 358, E. P. O. Elks, at the grand lodge convention, July 6 to 12. The Gordons plan to spend a month's vacation, visiting points of interest, both on the way to the convention, and returning.

On the eastbound journey they contemplate stops at Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Akron, Toronto, Rochester and Boston. Their visits on the Atlantic seaboard will take them to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington D. C. and Norfolk, Va.

The return trip is planned via St. Louis, Kansas City and Denver. It is probable that they will attend the convention of Lions International in the latter city. They will also visit Salt Lake and Pueblo.

Combining business with pleasure Mr. Gordon will purchase gift goods for the Christmas trade while in New York. Cole Madsen and Miss Lucile Hall will be in charge of the Gordon gift store during the vacation period.

FOURTH OF JULY PLANS ADVANCING

Extensive Program Now Being Arranged for Independence Day.

SPORTS TO FEATURE

Heppner's Artesian Well Will be Dedicated During Event at Forks of Willow Creek.

Several years have elapsed since Heppner staged a Fourth of July celebration within her own gates, but this year the whole community is cooperating and working with much vigor to make the 154th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence an event long to be remembered.

The program will open in the afternoon, and with the features now tentatively arranged, there will be plenty to keep everyone occupied and amused throughout every minute of afternoon and evening.

The event will be staged at the forks of Willow creek 14 miles above Heppner and more than just commemorating Independence day, will provide for the dedication of Heppner's new artesian well that is now supplying an ample amount of excellent water to city users. For this event a good speaker is being sought. It is probable that he will be Dr. E. T. Allen of Whitman college, Wash.

Sports on Program.

A program of competitive sports for old and young, men, women and children, will provide unlimited amusement for both participants and onlookers. There will be foot races, sack races, potato races, three legged races and ladies ballroom race. Eliminations will be held to determine the horseshoe pitching champion. Other features include a nail driving contest for women and a comedy baseball game. Cash prizes will be awarded for the winners of the children's races. Merchandise prizes, which have been donated by merchants of the city will go to the winners of adult competitions. Announcement of the prizes for each event will be made in next week's issue of the Gazette Times.

A large variety of fireworks has been purchased by the celebration committee to provide for the fireworks display that will be made in the evening. The display consists of candles, rockets and a wide variety of aerial fireworks.

A dance will be held in an open air pavilion with a 40x60 foot floor, in the evening. A number of those serving on the committee will clear the site for the floor this afternoon. Work of cutting the supports for the floor was started at Reid's sawmill today.

Eats to be Served.

Eats of various kinds will be provided the hungry by a concession that will be in operation on the grounds. Other concessions will place on sale firecrackers, fireworks, and soft drinks and ice cream. The celebration committee is considering having a barbecue to defray a portion of the expenses of the big event.

With no program arranged for the morning, it affords an opportunity for families to hold picnics in the mountains during the morning, and allowing them to join the festivities at the forks of the creek in the afternoon.

Workers have been busy during the week raking the rocks from the Willow creek road, so the journey to the scene of the celebration may be smoother than previously. Plenty of parking space will be available after motorists arrive on the grounds.

Library Will be Open To Public on Tuesday

The Heppner public library will open to the people of the community beginning Tuesday afternoon, according to Mrs. Arthur McAtee, chairman of the maintenance committee. Attractive quarters have been obtained above Humphreys drug store, entrance being from Willow street. The library will be open as a reading room and for the borrowing of books Tuesday and Saturday afternoons from 3 to 5 o'clock and on Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The library room as well as other rooms and the hall in the building have been calcimined and painted. Book shelves have been installed and varnished. A reading table and librarian's table are in place. The books now owned by the library were moved from the council chambers to the new quarters by the local troop of Boy Scouts.
