

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERREM, Correspondent.

Hector Wicklander was home a few days last week. He has been selling washing machines for some time near Marshfield and other places.

George Graves came home Sunday with the other Morrow county young people who have been enjoying a wonderful two weeks of work, study and recreation at the 4-H club summer school. George had the best club lamb in the county last year at the North Morrow fair, and made the trip through the generosity of the First National bank of Heppner. A greater number than usual attended the school this year, and all report that it brought "the thrill that comes once in a lifetime."

Miss Mamie Pederson and Miss Helen Preston arrived Wednesday from Iowa and visited at the Herrem home until Saturday. The former is primary teacher and the latter, Smith-Hughes home economics teacher at Sioux City, Ia. They are making the trip west by Ford and drove from here to Portland, and thence to California, planning to go back by way of Seattle, stopping at Yellowstone park en route home.

Mrs. G. A. Harju and daughters were dinner guests at the Hango home on Thursday. Friday night Mrs. Harju, Tillie, Hilma and Matthew left for Michigan where they have purchased a ranch. This is near their former home and a few miles from Mr. Harju's brother, and is in a Finnish settlement where they will no doubt be better satisfied than here. Mr. Harju plans to leave as soon as he can dispose of his property here. William and John, the two older boys, remained with their father.

Shelby Graves and family were here Sunday from their home over Lexington way for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Graves.

Richard Dingmon received a telegram telling of the sudden death of his granddaughter, Lila, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Myers. The little girl passed away at The Dalles Sunday morning. Mr. Dingmon left at once to be with his daughter. The Myers family lived in Boardman for a few months in the Albert Macomber house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barlow had a most delightful time Sunday evening when they were entertained at the Jack Rainville home for dinner. The Barlows are tied so closely to their work at the service station that it is a keen pleasure for them both to be away at the same time. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barlow looked after the station while they were away.

Chas. Nickerson and family drove to Pendleton Sunday for a few days visit.

F. H. Denson has taken over the store for which he recently traded with O. H. Warner. The stock was involved Thursday. Mr. Denson has rearranged the stock and has made a number of changes. He will be pleased to have the patronage of the Boardman people.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell of Coyote drove to The Dalles Saturday on business.

J. F. Barlow and Mrs. Guy Barlow made a business trip to Heppner on Saturday.

Boardman friends were much interested to hear of the new boy that arrived at the home of C. W. Smith, county agent, last week.

Harry Murchie is quite ill at a hospital in The Dalles. He is suffering from hardening of the arteries, and has had two serious operations. He has been bedfast since the last one when he had most of his leg removed.

Dillsborough's beach was a very popular place Sunday for picnicking. A great many Boardman people were there swimming.

Mrs. Nate Macomber and Sybil came home Sunday from a week's visit in Pilot Rock. While there Mrs. Macomber worked in the post-office while her father spent the week in Portland.

Deibert Johnson left Sunday for Cle Elum, Wash., to work with the Western Union company for a time. This is the same crew that Howard Packard is with.

Mr. Reynolds has gone to Elgin, Ore., to herd sheep for Steve Sloan who has his sheep on summer range in that section.

Raymond Shane made a business trip to Arlington on Monday. Mr. Shane has not been very well this spring and summer.

A group of girls had a swimming party at the riven on Thursday, followed by tea at the Herrem home. The affair was planned for the pleasure of Miss Mamie Pederson and Miss Helen Preston of Iowa, honor guests were Helen Slanger, Augusta and Marjorie Ludemann, Linda Hango, Rachel Johnson, Nellie Dillon, Mildred Messenger, Norma Gibbons, Mrs. Helen Kennedy, Beth Merie Miller, Gladys Graves and Gladys Wicklander.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Blayden came over from Kennewick this week and visited at the C. G. Blayden home. Their son Marlin, who had been visiting his grandparents here, went back with them as did Janet Gorham who will remain until the Fourth.

The Meads will leave the latter part of this week for Grand Rapids, Michigan, to spend a few weeks with relatives. They will visit many points of interest before returning. Mr. Mead is taking a month's vacation from his duties as agent at Messner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carpenter and Zella were visitors at the T. E. Eroyles home last week. They are now making their home near Portland.

The missionary meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Johnson last Wednesday with a much larger attendance than usual. At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Johnson served a dainty lunch. The next meeting which is the Silver Tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Strobel the third Wednesday in the month.

Ingaard Skobo was elected director of the North Morrow County fair and L. V. Root was named president, at the meeting of the Grange Saturday night. Mr. Skobo takes the place of Mr. King on the board. Mr. and Mrs. Stout were given the third and fourth degrees as was Ray Shane. Mr. Ludemann was initiated into the order. At the close of the meeting a lunch was served by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Shane and Mr. Packard.

J. E. Stansberry, state horticultural inspector, was a house guest at the Nick Falser home over the week end, leaving Monday for Pendleton, Union and other up-state points.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt of Colfax, Wn., were home guests at the T. E. Eroyles home last week.

HOME POINTERS

From School of Home Economics, OSC. Jelly is cooked enough when it is so thick that it makes heavy drops that run together before they fall from the side of a spoon. The common method of allowing a little of the juice to cool on a plate to see if it will jelly allows the jelly that is still cooking to become overdone.

Loss of the natural color and flavor of the fruit will be lost in making jelly if only a small amount, usually not more than 4 to 6 cups of juice, is made up at once. The evaporation of moisture is quicker and the time for cooking is consequently shorter.

The poisonous botulinus organism cannot grow in canned berries because of their high degree of acidity. Most of the spoilage of canned berries comes from molds or yeasts, either of which can readily be killed at below boiling temperature.

Hollandaise sauce, made with egg yolks, butter and lemon juice, is a delicious accompaniment for asparagus.

The physical well-being of the whole family is built on its daily diet.

One quart of milk will supply as much lime as 20 pounds of beef.

A large part of all food spoilage is caused by microscopic forms of life, notably the bacteria, yeasts and molds.

AUTO CAMP OPENED.

A modern auto camp has been opened at Irrigon by Frank Leicht. Each cabin is equipped with electric lights, running water and gas for cooking. Shower baths have been installed. The place has been named U.S.A. camp, and each of the cabins named after a western state.

While hay can be put into the stack slightly underdried, it cannot be baled in that condition, as most farmers know. Hay put into a stack will sweat, but when compressed into a tight bale, it will not only sweat but will also spoil, says the Oregon Experiment station.

ROAD BID IRREGULAR.

F. C. Dillard of Medford was the low bidder for the grading contract on the six-mile stretch of the Heppner-Spray road, but because an item was left out of the bid the matter is held up until word is received from Washington, D. C. It is possible that the call for bids will have to be readvertised.

While strawberries and cherries ordinarily do not contain enough pectin to make firm jelly, this can be accomplished by adding pectin extract. Strawberries will often jelly perfectly with the addition of one tablespoon of lemon juice to each cup of strawberry juice.

Hints for the Home by Nancy Hart

Nut Cake

One-third cup butter, one cup of fine granulated sugar, one and three-quarters cups sifted flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking-powder, one-half cup milk, one-half teaspoon vanilla, three egg whites, one-half cup chopped nuts.

Cream the butter and sugar. Sift the dry ingredients together; add part of the creamed butter and sugar; add the milk and the remainder of the dry ingredients; beat thoroughly; add the flavoring and beat; add a part of the chopped nuts, cut and fold in the whites of eggs beaten stiff. Turn into tin and add the remainder of the chopped nuts. Bake in a moderate oven thirty-five or forty minutes.

Omelets Are Easy.

If you have a special omelet pan this is easy to make. And many cooked cereals. Boiled eggs are as any sort of pan. A good recipe is to allow a teaspoon of milk to each egg. Beat the yolks creamy, add the milk, and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites and turn into the pan.

If you garnish the omelet with parsley it looks more tempting, but the parsley must be crisp and green. Wilted, faded parsley is worse than none. Watercress, too, is a good garnish for summer omelets.

Some persons like a sweet omelet for breakfast. One served with crushed and slightly sweetened berries ploured over it is tempting.

Hot-Weather Cereal.

You can use the prepared cereals for very hot weather if you wish to. Many persons really like them better as the start-off of a hot day than cook cereals. Boiled eggs are as good as any other kind and certainly they are little trouble. To have them tempting be sure to cook them carefully. If your family likes three-minute eggs, then drop the eggs into actively boiling water and leave them there just three minutes. If they prefer eight-minute coddled eggs then have the water boiling, drop the eggs into it as you remove it from the flame and leave them uncovered for the eight minutes. Don't forget and leave them in fifteen minutes and don't hurriedly draw them out after five minutes.

As a change some hot morning try serving medium thin bread already buttered. In very hot weather butter melts almost immediately on being taken from the refrigerator and a dish of half-melted butter—usually at breakfast in hot weather we are too near the end of the ice to risk chopping off any for the butter dish—is certainly an unsavory thing to look at. The neatly buttered bread slices will prove tempting.

One of the hearty dishes for breakfast that is always appealing in the summer—both to appetite and eye—is an omelet. So if you want something for variety, as a change from boiled eggs—which we have already suggested as being easy to prepare and wholesome to eat—try an omelet.

It is poor economy to can foods which are available at reasonable prices most of the year in the fresh state.
