

Local Happenings

Miss Leta Humphreys departed on Wednesday morning for Eugene, where she will spend a few days before going on south to Santa Barbara, Calif. Miss Humphreys goes to the California city to take a position with the Santa Barbara Cottage hospital, in the pharmacy department. From the time of the opening of Pacific Christian hospital in Eugene more than eight years ago, Miss Humphreys held a like position with that institution, which she resigned the early part of the summer.

Clarence Whalen, who works for Oral Scott of Blackhorse, met with an accident on Saturday when he was attending the horses at the watering trough at the noon hour. A horse stepped on his foot and caused him to fall in such a manner that his leg was broken at the neck of the thigh bone. He was brought to town and his injuries attended by Dr. Gray, who on Tuesday placed the broken leg in a plaster cast.

Earl Thomson furnished transportation for the young men returning home from Camp Hurlburt at Vancouver, Wash., on Sunday. These were Maurice Edmondson, Rodney Thomson, Joe Swindig, Carl Wehmeyer, who with Earl had been spending a month in the military training camp. Chas. Thomson, father of Earl, who had taken in visitor's day at the camp on Friday, returned home on Sunday.

Marvin "Dick" Wightman arrived home Saturday morning from an enjoyable auto trip to points in the east which took him to the national convention of his college fraternity as delegate from Oregon State college chapter. The trip was made in company with a party from The Dalles. In Washington, D. C., Dick shook hands with President Hoover. He visited relatives in Pennsylvania on the way home.

J. W. Lillie, formerly sheriff of Gilliam county and for many years a resident of Condon, was in the city the first of the week. Mr. Lillie is now located at Hot Lake, where he is manager of the sanatorium. On leaving Condon, Mr. Lillie was warden at the state penitentiary at Salem for a term.

On his visit to Heppner Saturday, State Treasurer T. B. Kay was accompanied by Mrs. Kay and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crowe of Portland. Mr. Kay was visiting eastern Oregon in the interests of his candidacy for nomination by the republican state central committee for the office of governor.

David H. Grabill of Ione, who was a patient at Heppner General hospital for forty days, while undergoing medical treatment, was sufficiently improved in health to return home on Friday. Mr. Grabill thinks it will be some time yet before he regains his normal condition.

H. E. Warner, north Lexington wheat grower, was a visitor in the city Tuesday. He reports his grain making an average of 20 bushels. While in places it yielded 30 bushels and more, there were spots where the grain was frost-bitten and the yield cut quite short.

Mrs. E. R. Huston departed on Sunday morning for Portland where she will remain for a couple of weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mark Taylor. During this time Mr. Taylor will be attending the officers training camp at Camp Lewis, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. George Noble and daughters Georgia and Marian, of Junco, Nevada, are visiting at the homes of Mr. Noble's mother, Mrs. George Noble Sr., and brother, E. G. Noble in this city. They arrived last week expecting to stay for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Gordon arrived home Thursday from a month's journey to points in the east. While away Mr. Gordon attended the Elks convention at Atlantic City as delegate from Heppner lodge No. 358.

A. J. Barnham of Salem is in the county looking after his wheat interests at the former Gibson farm near Alpine. He is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irl Clary of Alpine. He was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Lucy Rodgers returned Monday from a trip to Cascade Locks, to which point she took Mrs. C. W. McNamer on her way to Portland. Before returning home Mrs. McNamer will visit at Skamania, Wash.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Van Marter during the past week were Johnson Van Marter and family of Seattle, Wash. Johnson Van Marter is a cousin of our local hardware merchant.

John Skuzeski, local tailor, and John Anglin, manager of MacMarr's, motored to Yakima on Sunday. Returning, Mrs. Anglin and daughter accompanied them for a visit of a week in Heppner.

Fred Kuns of Lexington, is reported to be quite ill at Heppner hospital. It was found necessary to tap one lung the past week, to relieve water pressure. His condition is considered quite serious.

Dr. A. B. Gray, county physician, went to Boardman and Irigon on Monday to make inspection of the auto camps located at these north Morrow county points. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Luper and Mr. and Mrs. Max Rogers of Salem, spent Sunday at Heppner visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Luper is state engineer, and Mr. Rogers has a position under him.

R. E. Allstott was among Eight Mile farmers doing business in town Monday.

Harvest is now getting under way in the Heppner country, and wheat is beginning to come to the warehouses from Heppner flat and Sandhollow. At Lexington harvesters are now busy in many fields and the grain is beginning to reach town at a rapid rate. Some 3000 sacks were received at the two warehouses there on Friday, and we understand that this has been greatly increased this week. Yields are not heavy but grain is reported to be of excellent quality in most fields over the Lexington section, while about Heppner some grain was not quite matured when the hot spell arrived, and it is slightly pinched.

At the croquet court of E. R. Huston, the score for the week has been evened up. Messrs. Dix and Crawford being the winners in the last two combats against Humphreys and Huston. This merely evens the score in the four games played, and the contest grows warmer all the while, the question of championship being all up in the air at the present time.

W. H. French is much interested in the completion of the Heppner-Spray road. He was in town yesterday in company with George Hood, camp superintendent on the new construction work, from his mountain farm adjacent to that portion of the road already finished.

Sam McDaniel, pioneer Hardman resident, was a visitor in the city yesterday. About 25 years ago he remembers packing mail one winter through ten feet of snow in the vicinity of the place where the new Heppner-Spray road construction is taking place.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Hughes are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hoffman and children of The Dalles, who arrived on Wednesday evening to remain until the end of the week. Mr. Hoffman is a brother of Mrs. Hughes.

Visitors at Heppner from Walla Walla on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Nat Webb, William Hughes and Mrs. Percy Hughes. Part of the day was spent in the Willow creek mountains.

Gay M. Anderson, county clerk, returned home Saturday evening from Denver, Colo., where he attended Lions International convention as a delegate from the Heppner club.

Give Kiddies Sun Baths Says O. S. C. Specialist

Now is the time for all good Oregon mothers to hustle the kiddies into sun suits, and send them forth to get tanned and healthy.

Oregon children, especially in the western part of the state, get far too little sunshine as it is, says Mrs. Sara Prentiss, child care specialist of Oregon State college, and now that summer is here the wise mother will see that her child is clad to take full advantage of it.

"The sun must come in contact with the bare skin to be effective," Mrs. Prentiss points out, "because most fabrics filter out the essential rays. So the least amount of clothing convention will allow is all the child should wear. Window glass also bars out the health giving qualities of sunshine, which is one of the reasons why winter sunshine is less beneficial than the most direct summer rays."

The most suitable garment for little son or daughter then is the sun suit, either home-made or purchased, says Mrs. Prentiss. There are many styles on the market, or they can be quickly and easily made at home, using some light, loosely woven material that will shut out as few rays as possible. Net makes a very good material for the top. In choosing a sun suit or a pattern for one, Mrs. Prentiss urges particular attention to the child's comfort, seeing that shoulder straps are so made that they do not drop over the shoulder, and such things. "When the child is first put out in his sun suit, care must be taken that he is not exposed too long or when the sun is too hot, until his skin gets accustomed to it," warns Mrs. Prentiss. "The actual length of time each day depends on amount of previous exposure, and the child's complexion. Dark-skinned youngsters can stand more sun than fair ones. Where the temperature is extreme, as in parts of eastern Oregon, it is essential that the child's head be covered, and that he be kept in during the hottest part of the day.

PUZZLE

Driver A was going East; driver B was going West. Both were known as careful drivers, but something went wrong; they had an accident. Other cars were on the road, but as often happens even the testimony of the eye-witnesses was conflicting. Whose fault was it?

If you were either A or B would you be worried about the blame and the ultimate cost? Let us talk over ADEQUATE insurance protection.
