MAKE FAT PORK OF IT.

Feed the surplus wheat to the hogs is the sage advice offered to grain growers by the president of the Portland Union stockyards, backed by the following alleged facts: The Northwest has a surplus of wheat on hand, along with other grain growing sections of the nation. Prices are low. The Northwest does not produce pork enough to supply its own people. Hogs are being shipped in from the middle west to supply the demand. Prices for hogs are good. Wheat is splendid feed for hogs. Wheat transformed into pork is worth nearly twice what it is in the sack.

CHANGES IN AGRICULTURE.

The American farmer, in 1925, according to the Missouri College of Agriculture, cultivated 33 acres per man, as compared to 16½ acres by the farmer in Scotland, 9½ in England, 8 in France, 6 in Germany and 4 in Italy. The production of grain per man in the grain growing section of the United States has increased from 12,000 pounds in 1870 to 25,000 pounds in 1925. The average wool fleece in 1800 was 2½ pounds; now it is nearly 7 pounds.

vivid portrayal from the speaker. At Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon visited for two days with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell. Mr. Campbell is a chemist with the Goodrich Rubber company, and through his connection the Gordons were conducted throughout the company's plant. At Akron, also, was viewed the world's largest dirigible balloon under construction by the Goodyear Rubber company. The visit at the Campbell home was especially enjoyed, since Mr. Gordon and Mr. Campbell were schoolmates in Heppner High school. Mr. Campbell has been with the rubber company for five years, and in his research work has contributed three improvements to the rubber products industry that have been utilized by his company.

A visit to Ellis island was of especial educational value, according to Mr. Gordon, and they were fortunate in being there just after a large passenger ship had docked. In Philadelphia the Gordons saw Richard E. Byrd, the explorer, as he left the train at the central station, and later heard him speak at Independence hall. From a reserved seat in the galleries they saw and heard both divisions of congress in action, and it was Mr. Gordon's opinion that a great deal of taxpayers' money was wasted in the time they were there. The view from the porch of Mount Vernon across the Potomac was accredited as being the most beautiful in his experience. "Why they do it, I don't know," he asserted, "but in Atlantic City everybody just walks up and down Board walk." He and Mrs. Gordon were down town in Atlantic City but twice, the rest of the time being spent at their hotel and on Board Walk, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon were in Cincinnati the day nineteen people died from the heat, and Mr. Gordon was quite certain for awhile that he would be the twentieth. He was, however, much impressed with the beauty of Cleveland and averred that either it or Akron would be the city of his choice of all that were visited, were he to choose any one for permanent residence.
