

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Duggan and son Kenneth spent the week in Portland and at La Center, Wash. On Sunday, August 24, Mrs. Duggan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Smith, celebrated their golden wedding at their home in La Center. This was also the Duggan's seventeenth wedding anniversary. Wayne, who has been at the Joseph Meid home at La Center for the summer, returned home with his parents.

The Ves Atteburys had a household of company during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. John Burton stopped on their way to their home in Montana and visited from Friday until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Buck Daniels visited at the Atteburys and Strobel homes. The Daniels lived here for a year or so but are now at Meacham. Mr. and Mrs. Vern Park of Nampa, Idaho, were also guests at the Attebury home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCully of La Grande were visitors at the D. W. Miller home. On Wednesday Mrs. Blanche Moore of North Powder was a guest of Mrs. Titus.

Mrs. Victor Porter and two children of Seattle have returned to their home after a pleasant visit at the W. A. Porter home. Mrs. Porter is a vocalist of much ability and on Wednesday evening the Porters all spent a pleasant evening at the D. W. Miller home and greatly enjoyed Mrs. Porter's singing.

Mrs. Ed Saunders entertained the Ladies Aid Wednesday at her home. The missionary topic was in charge of Mrs. D. W. Miller. The Woman's Exchange waxes merrily and causes much pleasure and amusement. Canned goods, jelly, pickles, eggs, etc., are the medium of exchange, the article not to exceed 25 cents in value. Mrs. Sauder and Mrs. Allen served a dainty lunch at the close of the meeting.

Guy Barlow, local deputy, poured a quantity of perfectly good "moon" that any number of local consumers would gladly have utilized, into the old Columbia one day last week. The haul was made from a car belonging to a Pendleton producer who had been a source of supply for the men in the extra gang which has been employed along here laying new steel, at least those men who felt that life without its "likker" is intolerable. We suggest that this may be a new market for some of our amateur brewers.

Clarence Nottingham who spent a month with his grandmother, Mrs. Chas. Attebury at the Price ranch has gone back to his home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nichols of Stayton, Ore., spent several days with their daughter, Mrs. Walter Nichols and family. On Saturday they all motored to Yakima to spend the day with friends.

Frank Cramer and Chas. Dillon made a trip to Monument one day last week, driving over and back the same day. While near Dayview they encountered a rain storm that had almost the proportions of a cloudburst, but by the time they reached Condon all traces of the storm had passed.

F. A. Fortier has gone to Rockaway to spend his vacation with his wife and daughter who have been down there for the past two weeks or more. All will return for the opening of school. Mr. Douglas of Arlington is taking Mr. Fortier's place at the Standard Oil plant.

Miss Eileen Kilkenny of Heppner is visiting at the Peter Farley home. Jack Rainville and family have gone on their vacation. They spent part of the time visiting friends and relatives near Meacham and various other places.

Mrs. Chas. Hango, Norman, Lillian and Linda and Bill Hango, a brother of Chas. Hango, departed Saturday for a visit with relatives at Kelo, Longview and other places. They will return sometime during the week.

Dan Barlow, wife and daughter were over from Heppner way this week looking at various ranches on the project, with a view of renting or possibly buying.

Uran Messenger and family were up from Portland for the week end and were guests at the E. T. Messenger home. Truman Messenger and family were also here from Pilot Rock.

Sunday was the eighth birthday of Echo Coats, so her mother gave a delightful party for her Sunday afternoon. A peanut hunt was enjoyed, and many games followed by a lovely lunch. Clever little prune pigs made by the little hostess were given the guests for favors. Those who attended were Ruth and Stanley King, Billie Price, A. T. and Orthon Hereim, Ralph Skoubo, Alice Wicklander, Kenneth Russell and Lorraine Dillabough. The same afternoon a congenial group of grown-ups were entertained at the Coats home. Those enjoying the occasion were the Gillespies, Hereims, Marschats, Truman Messengers of Pilot Rock, Mrs. J. F. Barlow and the hosts.

Mrs. Ray Brown who has been away much of the summer is home again and is nicely located in the teachers cottage for the year.

Mrs. Elva Perry who has been taking treatments for her throat at Heppner came back Friday and is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Guy Barlow.

The Marschats returned Saturday from Fairfield, Idaho, where they spent a week with Mrs. Marschat's parents.

The Maccombers were here Sunday from Condon and visited at the Root home.

Earl Cramer is through harvesting and is home again. Oma Bennett came over from Heppner for a visit at the Cramer home.

A. T. Hereim, Jr. celebrated his tenth birthday on Thursday afternoon, having a number of friends in for a party. A "Jack Horner" pie was the centerpiece with strings extending to each plate which were pulled at the finish of the lunch. A small whistle was found at the end of each string. Games were played and all went swimming in the canal which is nearby. Present were Wilma and Margaret Myers, Ruth and Francine King, Lillian Hango, Norine Olson, Orthon Hereim, Echo Coats, Helen and Catherine Mead and the host. For the pleasure of Mrs. Z. J. Gillespie who leaves this week for southern Oregon to teach, a few ladies were asked in the same afternoon by Mrs. Hereim. They were Mesdames Mead, Guy Barlow, King, Coats and Allen.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of school and Monday, Sept. 1, is the fateful day when the kiddies must don shoes and shirts and the fashionable coats of tan can no longer be on view. Frequent trips to the river and wearing a shirt "a la naturel" have brought forth some bronzed physiques. There will be three new teachers on the staff this year, with four of the old teachers back. Mr. Marschat will again have the athletics in addition to his regular work. Miss Catherine Brown will have third and fourth grades and Mrs. Titus will have charge of the fifth and sixth grades although the work in the four upper grades will be departmentalized to a large extent with Orin L. Brown in the seventh and eighth grade room. Mr. Brown is a graduate of the southern Oregon Normal and has been teaching at Selma, Ore. Miss Mary McMahon who has been teaching at Lakeside is the new English teacher, and will have some work in home economics. Miss McMahon has recently returned from a summer's tour of Europe. She is a graduate of the U. of O. and has had several year's experience. Her home is in Portland.

The position of primary teacher has been filled by the election of Miss Rhoda Shellenberger of Beaverton. She is a Monmouth graduate and has taken advance work at the extension school of the U. of O. in Portland. She has been teaching in Washington county. Miss Shellenberger is musical and parents are hoping that she will be able to continue the splendid work started by Mrs. Marschat.

Mr. Marschat is anxious to have the children purchase their books on the first day. There are a number of second hand books on hand for sale and the parents are asked to make it clear to the child or teacher whether new or second hand books are desired. He also asks those who can conveniently do so, to send cash in place of checks, for with our banking facilities as they are those in charge soon run out of cash.

Brice Dillabough will again be custodian of the building and Mrs. Dillabough will be in charge of the cafeteria. This work has been handled by the home economics teacher for a number of years with the help of the high school girls. While this has worked out very well there has always been a sentiment against using the services of a highly paid, specialized teacher for this routine work.

Remember the date, Monday, Sept. 1, the school bell rings—only we have no bell.

Miss Linda Hango is preparing to matriculate at the University of Oregon this fall. She was one of the graduates of this year's class and was valedictorian of the class. This gave her a $50 scholarship at any one of several of the smaller colleges but since she will enter Oregon it will not be used. Nellie Dillon, the salutatorian, will enroll at Behnke-Walker Business college in Portland. Alvie Mefford, the third graduate, is married and helping his father farm near Corvallis.

Delbert Johnson and Howard Packard were home over Sunday. Delbert has purchased a new coupe and drove up Sunday to Pendleton to get it. Mr. and Mrs. Carol Kennedy, Rachel Johnson and Ray Barlow also drove up.

The Shane brothers were called to Walla Walla because their mother was worse. She had a serious major operation recently.

Misses Mabel and Katharine Brown are home from Ellensburg where they have been attending normal.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Marschat and Mrs. Martha M. Titus motored to Echo on Wednesday evening and were dinner guests of Miss Frances Spike. Miss Spike will be in charge of the home economics work at The Dalles this year.

Mrs. Chas. Dillon and children Clara May and Warren went to Gateway Friday for a short visit with relatives.

The Home Economics club met with Mrs. Paul M. Smith on Wednesday. Much time was spent in planning the exhibit for the coming fair. A committee for the fair dinner was appointed. A splendid lunch was served. Each guest brings a covered dish to these meetings and a bounteous feast always results.

Mrs. Carrie DeWeese and daughter of Portland were visitors at the Falter home on Wednesday.

Ed Kunze is working at the coal chutes for a time.

Ingaard Skoubo who has not been well for some time has been having lumbago so on Sunday he went to La Grande with Andy Andregg and will take the hot baths at Hot Lake for a time. Chas. Andregg came down to help on the ranch here during Mr. Skoubo's absence.

Mrs. Claude Coats has been working at Denson's store for a few days. Mr. Denson went to La Grande where he was married on Tuesday. Details will be given in next week's issue.

Margaret Smith who has been visiting Trudy Bauman at La Grande came back Saturday with Andy Andregg.

Glen Carpenter and family have gone to Portland for a few days but will be back in time for the opening of school.

Wise Old Ben

Ben Franklin once said: "If you would know the value of money, go out and try to borrow some."

Didn't Ben say a real mouthful there? Ever tried it? Strange, but the value of money to you increases—when you haven't any. May we offer one little word of advice? SAVE a little from your earnings. Deposit in a good, reliable Bank like ours. It will establish your credit. Possibly then you may not even have to borrow. Think it over.

MILDER, YES—BUT SOMETHING MORE. Chesterfield offers richness, aroma, satisfying flavor.

BETTER TASTE—that's the answer; and that's what smokers get in Chesterfield in fullest measure—the flavor and aroma of mellow tobaccos, exactly blended and cross-blended. Better taste, and milder too!
