by Nancy Har CHOCOLATE

Chocolate is somewhat out of ashion in the summer. Quite rightly. Why eat chocolate layer cake when we may eat straw-berry short-cake? Why pour hot chocolate sauce over our ice cream when we may have crushed raspberries instead? And so on down the line, contrasting the delicious ness of summer fruits with the always available taste of chocolate Yet most of us like chocolate. And chocolate has the big advantage of being always there—always on the pantry shelf, not given to mildew and soft spots if the weather gets warm or damp, not fluctuating in price according to droughts and cloudbursts. So the housewife turns to choco late even in mid-summer, thankful for its useful, stand-by qualities. Here are some good recipes for using it:

Chocolate Pudding

Melt an ounce and a half of choc plate in a double boiler, and add a tablespoon and a half or cornstarch mixed with three-quarters of a cup of sugar. Stir till smooth Add two cups of hot milk, stirring slowly as you add it, and cook for twenty-five minutes, stirring from time to time. Then a beaten egg yolk and a teathe violation of this Ordinance, spoon of vanilla. Pour into a baking dish, cover with a meringue, brown in the oven, and serve very cold, with or without cream.

Chocolate Bread

Sift together two and a quarter cups of flour, five teaspoons of baking powder, a quarter of a cup of sugar, three tablespoons of cocoa and a teaspoon of salt. Add an egg beaten in a cup of milk, and three tablespoons of cooking oil or fat. in a state of intoxication or to Mix, and then add a third of a cup drink intoxicating liquor of any of nuts. Bake slowly in a loaf for about forty minutes.

Chocolate Jelly

One pint of boiling water, two pinches of salt, one and a half ounces of chocolate, one-third package of gelatine, two level table-spoons of sugar, one teaspoon of vanilla. Put the water salt and chocolate in a saucepan. Stir over fire until the chocolate melts, then let it boil for three or four minutes. Soften the gelatine in a little cold water and pour the boiling mixture over it. Stir until dissolved, then add sugar and vanilla. Pour into a mold and set aside to harden. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

Chocolate Pancakes

Mix four tablespoons of flour, two tablespoons of sugar, a cup of macaroon crumbs, and two tablespoons of melted butter with the yolks of six eggs and the whites of three. Add enough milk to make a pan-cake batter, and fry in small thin Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with chocolate fudge sauce, made by melting four late and sugar in half a cup of milk nd cooking to make a thick syrup.

Futures Prices on Wheat

Futures prices for wheat on the Portland Grain exchange closed Saturday with quotations of 87 3-8 for September delivery, 911/2 December and 97 May. The report for the week August 18-23 says

Portland futures prices moved gradually lower during the past week, with very little encourage-ment to purchasers who have believed low prices have been seen.

Very little export business was possible in Pacific Northwest wheat as offerings were still out of line. due mainly to firm space and liberal offerings of Canada and Australia A cargo and about 2,000 long tons vere worked by Portland exporters to the United Kingdom, most of this at prices below replacement value. There was also about 3,000 short tons worked to Japan. It is estimated that dock stocks abroad are only half those of last year and that the United States will have to export and feed approximately 366 million bushels of wheat this year to bring the carryover to average figures. If 150 million bushels are consumed as feed, as reliably estimated, the balance does not appear to be a burdensome exportable surplus; in view of pros pects for a better export demand
