

BONIFER NAMED BUCKING CHAMP

Ninth Rodeo Greeted by Throngs, With Climax On Last Day.

PARADES COLORFUL

Are Seale Does Fast Roping in 29 Seconds; McPherson Wins Derby; Fine Horses Shown.

Heppner's population was quadrupled on Saturday as the ninth annual Rodeo gathered momentum through performances of the two previous days and that day reached a climax in interest and attendance well up to, if not surpassing, the last day of any previous year, despite the cold wind and dust clouds which enshrouded events at track and arena. Crowds which greeted the Thursday and Friday performances were well up to those of former years, and the smoothness with which the show was carried out each day denoted better organization throughout than ever before.

One Walter Bonifer of Gibbon, Umatilla county, was the outstanding bronco buster, from the list of 20 who took part in the bucking contest, riding Julius Meier to first place honor and the $100 purse. Bonifer's final ride was acclaimed by the stands on every hand, as the tan colored bronco reared, plunged, twisted, and went through every devilish motion calculated to make a land lubber of would-be top hands, but all of which failed to dampen Bonifer's tenacious ardor and he rode through to glory. Bonifer was introduced to Heppner Rodeo as the first time this year, though he is known as a rider of merit. He rode in the world championship bucking contest at the recent Pendleton Round-Up, and also attempted an exhibition ride there on Midnight. Though he was thrown by the ebony-hued outlaw of wide renown, other cowboys agree that this is no dishonor. Bonifer rode Ed Bailey here the first day, and Roan Gurdane in the semi-finals.

Depew Versatile Cowboy

Second and third place honors in the bucking were divided between Kenneth Depew and Bert Evans, while Ed Larson took fourth. If a prize had been given for the best all round cowboy, Depew would undoubtedly have been the recipient. The slender youth from Ukiah took part in more events than any other single entrant. He took first place in the calf roping Friday. He rode the Gilliland string of horses to victory in both the pony express and relay races, and also rode the Pennington string in the relay. He made two pretty rides on Phil Metcham, drawing the wild mustang Friday and again in the semi-finals. His final ride was made on Black Bottom, one of the roughest of the lot.

Evans rode Madam Queen on Friday. In the semi-finals, he got a bad start on Ma Kennedy and was given a re-ride on Whistling Rufus. He drew Teapot Dome in the finals. Larsen qualified Thursday on Sinbad, rode Ben Bolt in the semi-finals, and placed in the money on Baby Doll.

Six riders qualified for the finals, the other two with their mounts being Paul Luffman on Ma Kennedy and Jack McMann on Colored Boy. Luffman's first horse laid down on him, and he was given a re-ride on Ben Bolt.

Fast time in the calf roping was made Thursday by Art Seale, veteran range hand of Condon, with 29 seconds. Kenneth Depew made second fastest time for the three days on Friday, 32 seconds. Joe Kenny followed him closely with 32 2-5, made Thursday. Eleven ropers participated in this event Thursday and Friday, and nine on Saturday. The calves evidently became wilder near the end of the show, as slower time was made Saturday. Tony Vey took first the last day with 43 2-5 seconds.

Frank Swaggart Injured

Two feature races, the chariot and Roman races, augmented the racing feature of the show, which included saddle horse, boys' pony, cowboy, relay, pony express and special races. The chariot race was run Friday and Saturday with Add Moore and Clarence Moore driving the two four-horse teams. The Roman race was run Saturday only with Kenneth Depew and Johnny Eubanks riding a dead heat. Several strings of fast horses furnished entries for the various races. Among these were the Gilliland horses from Ukiah, the W. M. McPherson string, Frank and Gerald Swaggart horses, and a string prominent at the Round-Up brought over from Pendleton by David Penny and Harry Dick, two Umatilla Indians.

The racing climax came on Saturday with the running of the Morrow County derby, a three-quarter mile race with three entries, in which McPherson took first, Gilliland second and Gerald Swaggart third.

The most severe casualty of the entire rodeo came in the cowboy race Friday, when Frank Swaggart's horse fell with him on rounding the turn for the home stretch.

LEGION PROGRAM COMING ON 18TH

Many Prominent Men on National Broadcast; Local Organizations to Have Dinner, Installation.

The national radio program carrying the message of the Twelfth National convention of the American Legion at Boston, October 8th to 9th, will be broadcast next Thursday evening, Sept. 18, starting at 6 o'clock. Heppner Post and Auxiliary will hold a joint meeting on that evening, beginning with a dinner at six o'clock, and following the program will be the installation of officers of the two organizations for the coming year. A receiving set will be installed in Legion hall so that those present may hear the program.

The broadcast, for which more stations will be hooked up than ever before in the history of radio in this country, will feature many national figures. Calvin Coolidge, former president of the United States, has been invited to speak from Boston, and it is hoped that President Hoover will be able to speak from Washington. National Commander Bodenhamer will stand before the microphone in Chicago, and the governors of a dozen or more states will accept the invitation to make short addresses. One thousand Boston Legionnaires will sing Legion and war time songs in Faneuil Hall. They will be accompanied by a famous New England Legion band. In Portland, Oregon, and Portland, Maine, in Florida, in New York City, and in a Texas city, Legion leaders and choruses of Legionnaires will contribute their parts to the general program, which will be an hour and a half in length. It is expected that Graham McNamee will announce the program. The facilities of the National Broadcasting company, the Columbia Broadcasting company and the Victor company have been donated for this big broadcast.

Faneuil Hall in Boston, "The Cradle of Liberty," will be the principal broadcasting station, but parts of the program will be broadcast from Bunker Hill monument, Dorchester Heights and the tower of Old North Church, all places of resounding memory in American history.

Following the radio program the officers will be installed for Heppner post and Auxiliary, as follows: Post officers, J. D. Cash, commander; Royal Parker, vice-commander; Paul Marble, adjutant-in-charge; officer; D. A. Hudson, sergeant-at-arms. Auxiliary, Selma Bauman, president; Helen Cohn, 1st vice-president; Hanna Jones, 2nd vice-president; Lera Crawford, secretary-treasurer. Appointive officers have not yet been announced. C. W. Smith, retiring commander of Heppner post and district commander of the 6th district, and Harriet Gemmill, past district committeewoman of the Auxiliary, will act as installing officers.

All members of the Auxiliary and their escorts, whether members of the Legion or not, and members of the Legion and their ladies, are urged to attend the meeting as it will be one of the high spots of the activities of these organizations for the year.

Will Offer Usual Prize For Largest Buck Deer

It has been the custom of the Peoples Hardware company of this city for the past several seasons to offer a prize of a fine high powered rifle for the largest buck deer killed in the state of Oregon and weighed over their scales in this city. This prize has been eagerly sought after, and the offer has caused much interest among sportsmen the state over.

The company will offer this prize again this season and it is expected that the scales will be quite busy at the store in weighing up the big bucks that the prize winner may be known at the close of the season. The deer season opens on Monday next, and it is reported that deer are very abundant in the mountains. The company further announces that there will be no restrictions of any kind on their offer, and it is open to all comers, the biggest buck deer hog dressed, with hide, head and horns attached will win the fine rifle.

Morgan East Road Work Being Extended

The county court has sent George Moore with his grading crew to work on the rock spur of the Ine-Boardman market road to make the connection with the Morgan East road and complete the loop.

We understand that the court and engineer have figured that they will have sufficient money for this work after the completion of the Morgan West market road, and the extension should be of much benefit to the farmers of that part of the county in getting their grain to market.

"BUCK" LIEUALLEN VISITS.

Cecil "Buck" LieualLEN with his family, was among rodeo visitors. While on official business in connection with his work as lieutenant in the state traffic officer force, Buck enjoyed meeting friends of former days. He said he might not accept the recent promotion granted him by Hal Hoss, secretary of state, if it necessitated moving his home from Pendleton to The Dalles. He has property interests in Pendleton that would make it expensive for him to move.

LIONS THANKED FOR RODEO HELP

Club Extended Invitation By Gilliam County Fair Board.

PLAY NEXT MONTH

Commercial Club Meeting Will be Called Soon to Take Out Card In State Chamber.

Officers of the Heppner Rodeo association extended thanks to the Lions club for its active part in helping put across the show last week end, at the club meeting Monday. The message was conveyed through C. L. Sweek, Lions president, who also said that indications from an incomplete check-up were that the show was a success financially though total receipts would probably show a little less than last year.

In connection with the work of fixing up the Lions float, the club voted thanks to Mrs. Earl W. Gordon, Mrs. W. R. Poulson and Mrs. Russell Pratt, who offered much assistance. Mrs. Gordon had charge of the decorating.

Invitation Received

An invitation from the Gilliam County Fair association to attend their fair and rodeo this week end was read by President Sweek. The invitation asked that the Heppner Lions send in a body and bring the float exhibited in the parade at Heppner, the float being complimented by John P. Hess, secretary of the association, who signed the invitation. Discussion revealed that it would be impossible to send a large delegation from the Lions club, though several signified their intention of attending either Friday or Saturday. The matter of gaining the club recognition at B. G. Sigbee and Frank Turner, two members who signified such intention, was abandoned, as it was dismantled Saturday evening.

S. E. Notson president of the Heppner Commercial club, told briefly of some of the work of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, including the "On to Oregon" movement which has for its purpose, industrial development of the state, and the land settlement work. A recent communication from W. G. Ide, secretary, suggested that an entire meeting of the Lions club be given over to go into the matter in detail. The Lions club sponsored reorganization of the Heppner Commercial club partly that a membership in the state organization could be taken out.

This work has not yet been completed, Mr. Notson stated, and he announced that a meeting of the commercial club would be called in connection with the Lions luncheon within a few weeks for this purpose. The date will be arranged to work in conveniently with the Lions program.

Sign for Play

The committee in charge of presenting a Lions play announced signing up with the Universal Amateur Producers for the production of "Aunt Lucia" some time in October. A lady coach representing the production, the cast of which will be formed primarily from members of the Lions club. However, as 150 people are included in the evening's entertainment, other folks in the community will be called on for assistance.

President Sweek announced the names of chairmen of the various standing committees who will serve for the new year which started a few weeks ago.

Survey Head, Author Visits Local People

Stanley P. Young, head of the U. S. Biological survey, Washington, D. C., Stanley Jewett, Oregon supervisor and Mr. Gabriel also with the department, were visitors in Heppner Sunday looking over local conditions. Mr. Young complimented Adam Knoblock local hunter, on his good record.

Mr. Young is a product of Oregon and a schoolmate of C. L. Sweek, local attorney, while both were attending the University of Oregon. While here the Sweeks enjoyed a visit with him. As a diversion, Mr. Young writes western stories, and in several of his books he has used Grant county as the locale. He went to Grant county from here, and while on the trip expects to gather more material to use in future stories.

RECEPTION SLATED.

A reception from 8 to 9:30 o'clock will be held by the Patron Teachers association at the Parish house on Tuesday evening, Sept. 16. It is hoped that a large number of townspeople will avail themselves of this opportunity of meeting the many new members of the teaching force of the Heppner schools. The receiving line will be formed promptly at 8 o'clock. After the introductions a short musical program will be given, followed by light refreshments.

Weanling pigs for sale. $5 each. Walter Jenson, Ione. 26.

IONE

By JENNIE E. McMURRAY.

On the fourth day of last month Mrs. Mary Young, mother of Frank Young, celebrated the eighty-seventh anniversary of her birth. She spent the day quietly at the home of her son in Eight Mile. Mrs. Young has been a resident of Oregon for 46 years. Her life history is indeed interesting. She was born in Henderson county, Illinois, in 1843. When a girl of 13 years, in company with her father, two brothers and one sister she came to California, making the trip by boat, a trip that necessitated their being on the water for about two months. At the age of 15 years she was united with the church. When 17 she became the wife of Alexander Young. She is the mother of six children: Rosal, William, Walton, Charles, Edith, and Frank with whom she makes her home. Mrs. Young spent last week end with her friend, Mrs. Paul O'Meara of Ione, while her son and family took in the Rodeo at Heppner.

School opened Monday with a total enrollment of 135. 43 in high school and 92 in the grades. The freshman class numbered 11.

Mrs. Bert Mason motored to Hood River last Friday and on Saturday went on to Portland to visit briefly with her mother, Mrs. Adelia Godfrey, returning home Sunday. While in Hood River, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. J. E. Ferguson of Hood River and Mrs. G. E. Cooper of Parkdale were hostesses to Wauna chapter, D. A. R., at the Ferguson beautiful country home. Twenty-five ladies were present, among them being the state regent, Mrs. W. W. McCredie of Portland. Mrs. McCredie's talk was very interesting. She outlined the state society program for the year and stressed the major project which is the erection of a log cabin at Champeog as a memorial to the pioneers. This cabin is to be built at a favorable site on the banks of the river and will be filled with relics of pioneer days. It will be open next summer.

Mrs. Holmes Gabbert and two children of Portland are spending a month on Sun Set ranch with Mrs. Gabbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Misner, while Mr. Gabbert is traveling in Oregon, Washington and Idaho in the interest of a Portland engraving firm.

Mrs. C. W. Swanson and daughter Norma were Pendleton visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Fred Ritchie recently enjoyed a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirk of Vernonia. Mr. and Mrs. Kirk also visited in Heppner. They were accompanied by R. Casselman and daughter Romana, and by Mrs. Addie Pratt. Mrs. Pratt spent the most of her time in Heppner with her sister, Mrs. McFerrin, whom she had not seen for 42 years.

DeWay and Bettie, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bergevin, are attending school in Ione this year. For the past two years they have been pupils in St. Joseph's academy at Pendleton.

Miss Elizabeth Head will stay with her father, W. W. Head, and attend school in Ione this year. Daniel Head has returned to his school work at Cathlamet.

John Cochran and Laxton McMurray made a trip to Yakima Monday. They visited at the homes of Holmes Holman and Brenner Reese and returned with a car load of fruit.

Leo Young will leave next week for Monmouth where he will enter high school. He will make his home with his aunt, Mrs. Edith Moreland. Clair Young will also leave next week for Corvallis where he will resume his studies at Oregon State college.

R. E. Harbison recently purchased from T. M. Benedict seven acres of land which joins the Harbison creek land on the south. The dwelling on this property was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

The Nash family of Morgan are moving to Washougal, Wash.

C. C. Hutchcroft has traded his 1000 acre wheat ranch north of Ione for a 1300 acre stock ranch near Eddyville and he and his family have moved to their new home. Mr. Hathaway is the new owner of the north-ione wheat ranch. He has rented it to George Kitching who last year farmed the Alfred Troedson land.

Ione was quite deserted Saturday. Everyone who could attended the Rodeo at Heppner, and all report a good time. Those who remained at home enjoyed (?) the worst dust storm of the season.

The Hal Ely family has rented the Lana Padberg house on Second street and Miss Margaret Ely has entered high school as a sophomore. Miss Edith Ely, who last year was a student at Monmouth Normal school, will teach this year in the Bidde district on Rhea creek.

Henry Baker and family returned Saturday from a pleasant week on the coast.

Dwight Misner made a trip to the mountains Sunday looking up a good place to establish camp when the deer season opens.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bartlemay of Mays came up to attend the Rodeo at Heppner and to visit at the home of Mrs. Bartlemay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Morgan of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Balsiger motored to Kennewick Sunday where they were guests in the home of Mrs. Balsiger's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Thalman.

The third crop of alfalfa hay is being cut in this part of the valley. George Ritchie and his sister.

WOOL-GRAIN SHOW WINNERS N A M E D

Many Entries Listed in Fourteen Classes; Wool Exhibits Said Especially Good.

The Morrow County Wool and Grain show held Friday and Saturday in connection with the ninth annual rodeo went down in history as one of the best from the standpoint of number of exhibits and interest shown, says C. W. Smith, county agent and superintendent of the show. Quality of the wool exhibits was especially good, and the displays more extensive than in former years.

H. A. Lindgren, extension specialist of Oregon State college, judged the wool exhibits, and George Mitchell, superintendent of the rotation experiment station at Adams, Umatilla county, judged the wheat.

Fourteen classes, including both the wool and wheat exhibits, made up the display. First, second and third prizes of $3, $2 and $1 were given in each class, as well as blue, red, and yellow ribbons. The classes with the winners in each follow:

Class I—Cross bred yearling ewe fleeces: Harriet Hager 1st, Uzz French 2nd and 3rd.

Class II—Cross bred buck fleeces: W. B. Baratt & Son 1st, J. G. Baratt 2nd and 3rd.

Class III—Fine buck fleeces: Bob Thompson 1st, W. B. Baratt & Son 2nd.

Class IV—Fine yearling ewe fleeces: Clyde Wright 1st, J. G. Baratt 2nd, Ray Wright 3rd.

Class V—Fine ewe fleeces: Jerm O'Connor 1st, W. B. Baratt 2nd, Wright Bros. 3rd.

Class VI—Hybrid 128 wheat: L. Bergevin 1st, Theo. Anderson 2nd.

Class VII—Fortyfold wheat: Roy Johnson 1st, Floyd Worden 2nd, R. E. Driscoll 3rd.

Class VIII—Federation wheat: Jess Warfield 1st, Jeff Jones 2nd, Oscar Keithley 3rd.

Class IX—Turkey Red wheat: A. A. McCabe 1st, F. Pelland 2nd, Ed Lindeken 3rd.

Class X—Hard white wheat: Martin Lovgren 1st, Peck Bros. 2nd, C. B. Cox 3rd.

Class XI—Western white wheat: L. Bergevin 1st, Theo. Anderson 2nd, R. L. Benge 3rd.

Class XII—Soft white wheat: Jess Warfield 1st, Floyd Worden 2nd, R. E. Driscoll 3rd.

Class XIII—Dark hard winter wheat: A. A. McCabe 1st, F. Lindstrom 2nd, F. Pelland 3rd.

Class XIV—Hard winter wheat: Ralph Jackson.

Mr. Smith expects that a large number of the prize winning exhibition will be prepared for shipment and taken to the Pacific International Livestock exposition to be held in Portland.

Home Raised Rations For Sheep Discussed

Twenty sheepsman attended the meeting addressed by H. A. Lindgren, Oregon State college extension specialist at American Legion hall Thursday evening. The meeting was scheduled by C. W. Smith, county agent, for the purpose of having Mr. Lindgren acquaint sheepsman with rations made up from home-grown feeds, and to lay plans for securing horses to use as bait in poisoning coyotes.

Elmer Williams, representative of the U. S. Biological survey was present and said it would require 31 horses to plant the territory planned to be covered, between Eddyville and Ukiah. Of these 23 were pledged at the meeting.

Mr. Lindgren said that an excellent balanced ration for sheep can be made from wheat with the addition of a small amount of cottonseed cake. The mixture can be fed with wheat chaff, he said. An experiment carried on at the Union experiment station for the past three years, using black faced ewes, shows that good quality alfalfa hay has proved as satisfactory and more economical than some of the higher priced rations used.

Charlie Swindig, manager of Heppner Farmers Elevator company, stated that his company is planning the installation of machinery for making cubes from wheat, molasses and cottonseed cake, which can be fed upon the range. Much interest was taken in this phase of the problem, Mr. Smith said. It is expected no corn will be imported this year, wheat to be used extensively in its place.

VOTERS TO DECIDE ON 13 MEASURES

Proposed Legislation Vies With Governor's Race For Interest.

BOOKS CLOSE SOON

Registration Necessary to Exercise Franchise Right; Large Ballot In View November 4.

Registered voters of the state this week received from Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state, a pamphlet containing a list of proposed constitutional amendments and measures to be voted upon at the general election November 4. Arguments for and against the measures are included, to give those who may take the time to do so, an opportunity to know why the measures were proposed and what they may be expected to accomplish. That the measures are thirteen in number is evidence that Mr. Voter has a sizeable job on his hands if he is to digest the material, and be in readiness to pass intelligent judgment at the polls, now less than two months away.

While Oregon's present gubernatorial campaign has awakened more than usual interest, and campaign leaders generally expect a good turnout at the polls, more reason for active interest is seen in the thirteen proposed measures which may have considerably more effect on the progress and prosperity of the state than the election of a governor. At any rate, the choosing of local officers in addition to the selection of a governor and passing on the measures, pits up to Mr. Voter a job which he is not expected to shirk, and party leaders are urging that all persons with the franchise right look up their registration to see that they are entitled to vote November 4.

Must Register Soon.

Registration books close 30 days before election, leaving but a short time for this matter to be attended to. The law now is that everyone to be entitled to vote must be duly registered, and no one not so registered may be sworn in on election day. If a voter has moved to a different precinct than the one where he last voted, his registration will be corrected by the clerk if notice is given. Anyone who has not voted at a regular election within two years from the present election must register in order to vote.

Those who have voted at a regular election within the last two years need not register unless they have moved to a different precinct from the one voted in last. In the case of women who have married since last voting, the new name should be shown on the registration books. Boys and girls of voting age attending college away from home are entitled to vote absentee ballots, which may be obtained on application to the clerk of their home county.

Pine City Church Will Have Meeting

The Church of Christ of Pine City will begin a meeting on next Sunday evening at 7:45, with Evangelist Abe F. Bennett in charge. The Bible school will be at 10 a. m., with preaching service at 11.

The announcement of the evangelist states: "A preacher will be called at your death; he will come. A preacher now calls you to accept Life; will you come?" Services will continue every night, meeting promptly at the hour of 7:45.

LIBRARY GETS NEW BOOKS.

Among the children's books recently acquired by the Heppner Public library are three which have been awarded the John Newbery medal as the most distinguished contributions of the year to American literature for children. They are "Tay-Neck, the Story of a Pig-geon," by Mukesi; "Hitty," by Field; "The Trumpeter of Krakow," by Kelly. Others include "The Boy's Story of Lindbergh;" "The Story of Don Quixote;" "Three Boy Scouts in South Africa," the narrative of the boys who recently accompanied Martin Johnson; "Lad: A Dog" by Terhune; "The Biography of a Grizzly," by Seton; "The Book of Courage," by Hagedorn; "The Earth for Sam," by Reed; a story of the earth from the beginning of life to the beginning of history; "The Goldsmith of Florence," a wonderfully illustrated narrative of great craftsmanship; besides many classic tales such as "Huckleberry Finn" and "Heide," several volumes such as "Little Black Sambo" and "A Monkey Tale" are especially adapted to beginning readers.

On the rental shelf of adult fiction are "Shanty Irish" by Jim Tully; "Tharlane" by Cottrell; "The Bride of San Louis Rey" and "The Woman of Andros" by Thornton Wilder; "Trader Horn," "Free," by Niles; "The Door," by Rinehart; "The Sisters-in-Law," by Atherton; "Cytherea" by Herreshimer; "Hunkly" by Williamson. The rental charge is ten cents for two weeks.

A 4-volume set of "Life and Times of Washington," by Schroeder-Lossing, was recently donated to the library by Mrs. T. J. Humphreys.

Sheep for Idaho Shipped From Heppner Monday

A special train of 34 cars containing a shipment of 4910 lambs, left the local yards on Monday afternoon, their destination being Idaho. These were lambs that had been contracted earlier in the season, and the buyers were Archie Grover and Newman & White.

The shippers were Austin Devin of Heppner, Pat Connell and J. W. Maidment of Lone Rock, Horace Mulkey of Hamilton, Joe Simas, C. E. Rounds, Arch Jones, W. L. Mays and Geo. Sterritt of Monument. These lambs were all handled through the F. S. Parker feed lots.

SOCIETY TO MEET.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors on Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 2 p. m. This is program writing day, and all members are urged to be on hand early. Bring pen or pencil.
