They were accompanied by John Parker, who will also begin his college career, taking a commercial course.

Merle Beckett expects to leave Monday for Eugene where he will enter the University of Oregon. A former student of Oregon State college, Merle has held a position the last year with the First National bank.

A COLUMN OF FUN AND FACTS (Edited by Dean T. Goodman from his private sanctum down at the Heppner Garage.)

Sept. 18, 1930. HOWDY FOLKS—Frank Gilliam can remember back when a board of education was a shingle.

Te-hee. A woman waylaid a letter to her husband addressed in a feminine handwriting and found three of her millinery bills.

Earl Gordon says he was under the impression that Chopin was the man who started the Modern Woodmen until he heard a radio announcer pronounce it "Chopang."

TO TELL YOU THE TRUTH, WE ARE NOT SURE YET WHAT RIGHT PRONUNCIATION IS, BUT WE ARE ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN WE CAN PLEASE YOU NEXT TIME YOU COME IN TO GET TIRES. WE HANDLE THE FAMOUS GOODYEARS.

The receipt for political pie is to use plenty of applesauce and plums.

John Skuzeski has it doped out that anybody can shine in society, if he wears the same pants long enough.

We're not too strong in society, but most anyone will tell you that we are strong when it comes to greasing and washing cars.

RICKEY'S RIOTOUS RHYME. Jim Jones was doing sixty, The train went sixty-four; Jim Jones was in a hurry, but He isn't any more.

IT'S A MISTAKE THAT CHICAGO POLICE WON'T ARREST A BOOTLEGGER. ONE OF THEM LEFT HIS CAR IN FRONT OF A FIRE PLUG AND GOT A TICKET.

DIPPY DIALOGUE Doctor, "Are you in pain?" Little boy, "No, the pain is in me."

And then the fight started. "Women are much better looking than men." "Naturally." "No, artificially."

Goodyear has more than 400 engineers on development, chemical research and service work at a yearly expenditure of $2,000,000.

Joe Kenny advances the idea that perhaps the reason there are so many Irishmen is because, "Once upon a time there were two Irishmen."

Be that as it may, there is the guy who calls his empty beer bottles "MARINES." They did their duty once and they'll do it again.

Why not place license tags under the car and give the pedestrian a chance to get the number?

That last idea sounds reasonable, and now we will give you a chance to buy GOODYEAR TIRES at a savings. Come in and investigate.

IT WOULD BE FUN TO LAUGH AT THE FAT LADIES WHO BUY REDUCERS, IF THERE WASN'T SUCH A STEADY SALE OF CURES FOR BALDNESS.

End of the line. All out. Vaughn & Goodman (HEPPNER GARAGE) "Where Quality and Service Meet"

C. J. Anderson and family were visitors in the city for a few hours on Monday. They had recently returned from a visit to Mt. Vernon and Blue Mountain springs in Grant county, following which they motored over the mountains to Burns and took in the improvement going on there. Mr. Anderson reports that it is exceedingly dry over in that part of eastern Oregon.

Ernest Heliker, county commissioner, returned home the past week from Portland, where he went for medical treatment. His trouble was an abscess, and upon this being properly treated, he is now regaining his health. He was at the court house on Monday, having his petition verified and his name will go on the ballot in November as independent candidate for county commissioner.

R. J. Carsner and son Joe were in the city from their Spray home on Saturday evening. They were shipping of stock going to the Portland market, joining C. W. McNamer and Dillard French and making up a total of four cars of cattle leaving the local yards.

Frank Howell, who ranches in Burton valley south of Hardman, was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Among hunters bringing in grouse are Leonard Schwarz, Russell Pratt, Ed Bennett, Jas. Cash and Dick Wells.

George Ritchie, former Ione hotel man and now of Portland, was transacting business here Tuesday.

SWING HIGH, greatest circus film, Star theater, Sunday-Monday.

comber and Mrs. Fortier and their helpers deserve much credit. Mrs. Falter, superintendent of the domestic science had one of the largest departments, and it entailed an unlimited amount of work.

Members of the fair board wish to thank all who assisted in making this one of the best fairs that we have yet had.

It is difficult to attempt to give credit to persons who helped make the fair a success without unwittingly omitting some one, but special mention should be made of the work of L. V. Root, president of the fair board who worked unceasingly in his quiet way, and Mrs. Nick Falter, superintendent of the domestic art and member of the fair board who was on deck early and late and worked almost beyond her strength. The club leaders also deserve mention for it was hot this summer and the many meetings and trips took time and work.

The honey and bee exhibit was small as usual, for a place that ships honey by the ton. This part of the fair is always trivial. Possibly prizes offered for products made from honey might add to the interest. We are informed that a bee or honey exhibit means lots of work.

The exhibit of baked goods was much larger than usual. In fact it was the best fair we have had.

Mrs. L. E. Marschat gave a most delightful party on Tuesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday, having the members of the faculty for an evening of cards. At the close of the game a dainty lunch was served. Present were the Misses McMahon, Brown, Shellenberger, Mrs. Titus, Mr. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. King and the Marschats.

Mrs. Bert Wisdom and Mrs. Mary Wright of Echo spent Thursday at the Rand's home. Mrs. Wisdom is an aunt of Mr. Rands.

A change has been made in the church services as Umatilla desired another morning service. Evening services will be held here the first and third Sunday of each month and the other services will be in the mornings as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McCoon of Seattle have rented the Highway Inn and will take possession the 20th of the month. Mr. McCoon has been with the Utah Woolen mills and will continue his work as salesman with this company and his wife will have charge of the hotel.

The Warners are moving to their ranch. Miss Rachel Johnson is spending the week with relatives in Wasco. Elder Coburn and Elder Becker of Pendleton were overnight guests at the Rands' home last week.

The Gaglias from Mosier and the Huffs from Hood River were in Boardman Sunday. Mr. Gaglia went to see Glen Hadley about a hunting trip. They have hunted together when the Gaglias lived at Coyote.

The Merrits of Irrigon were dinner guests at the Mead home on Sunday. Mr. Merritt is the agent in charge of the depot at Irrigon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Saunders entertained the Rands family at dinner Sunday.

Frank Otto and wife were here from Portland and attended the fair.

D. E. Gilman of Heppner was coming to the fair on Friday and as he turned the corner at Heppner Junction he reached for his watch and the car turned over. Although past 80 years of age he was apparently not hurt in the accident. The shaken up he drove the car on to Boardman.

Through a misunderstanding the Irrigon band did not appear at the fair. The Boardman members of the fair board thought the Irrigon members would look after this and the Irrigon members were waiting for the Boardman members to make the suggestion. The band is always pleasing and adds much to any gathering.

Boardman farmers who raised melons this year found it decidedly a case of "love's labor lost." A carload of melons was unloaded on the track at Boardman, three cars dumped at Irrigon and several cars at Portland. This is heartbreaking as well as backbreaking for melons mean just that, and to spend hours and days hoeing melons and then see them dumped for lack of market is certainly discouraging. Cool weather, lateness of the season and general conditions seem to be the reason for the debacle. At that it wouldn't have been so bad but the farmers are forced to pay a huge sum for demurrage in addition to paying for the picking, loading and unloading.

Clark Stevens and family of Heppner came to the fair on Friday and remained overnight at the camp ground. They brought the Rhea Creek juvenile grange exhibit and some of the club work.

Mrs. Claude Coats has been at Denison's store again while Mr. and Mrs. Denison have been at Hot Lake at the bedside of Walter Denison, who has been seriously ill.

The public is urged to attend the meeting Saturday night of the grange, when a speaker sent out by the state health department will give a talk on tuberculosis.

Call at the post office for premium money. Paul Hatch purchased the city light plant and took charge Tuesday morning. Victor Hango will look after the running of it for the time being. Mr. Hatch has planned many improvements, which the city hopes, will be realized.

A few things were left at the fair, which can be had by calling for them at the post office. E. T. Messenger and Nate Macomber left for Pilot Rock Sunday to be on deck for the opening of the hunting season. They hunt each year and are usually successful nimrods.

A number of children have been ill the past week until it seemed almost reach the proportions of an epidemic. The Cooney children and Frances Skoubo were quite ill, and several others.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Gilbert, Mrs. H. H. McReynolds were visitors Saturday from Pilot Rock, coming down for the last day of the fair. Mrs. McReynolds is Mrs. Macomber's mother and Mrs. Gilbert her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman came this week from Anaconda, Mont., and are at the Gorham home.

A. Daul and son Fred and grand-daughter Alicia Daul of Elm Creek, Neb., were also visitors at the Gorham home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hughes of Heppner were overnight guests at the Mike Healy home Friday, coming over to visit and attend the fair. Mrs. Hughes was an old schoolmate of Mrs. W. O. King's at Corvallis and they had a pleasant time reminiscing.

EDITORIAL

It takes a darn good man to keep hitting the bull's eye without shooting the bull.

ALBERT ADKINS, Manager, Editor.

D. Cox has been hauling out shingles, brick and lumber for his new cabin in the mountains. The main body of the cabin is of logs, shingle roof and ceiled with ship-lap. Mr. Cox is a lover of the great outdoors, and spends a good deal of his time on his mountain ranch.

An unexpected shower is rather unbalancing. Our Handi-Man will be glad to check up on any suspected leaks in your roof and fix them. Or better still, a new roof right over the old one.

"Equal" rights will only be a hoped for dream until a husband can get alimony by smiling at a judge.

But we do believe that the woman of the house should have more than equal rights about the home. With winter coming on at the rate of 7 days a week, it won't be long until heat will be an important item. Tum-A-Lum Lump Coal gives more heat per dollar and with less trouble than any coal we know about. It will pay you to investigate the B. T. U. value if you like to save money.

And furthermore, a freshly painted kitchen is a big help in cooking good meals.

When the days are dark and cold, it may be the fault of the kitchen and not the cook that some men suffer from indigestion.

Place your orders for coal. We have a car of lump and one of nut on the road that will be here soon.

Kitch-n-Brite at $1.05 quart. Du-Kwik Enamel at $1.45 quart. To refresh your kitchen.

Tom Johnson put in a new concrete walk at his residence on Court Street.

What we would like to see in Heppner: Wheat sell for $5.00 a bushel; Wool at $1.00 per pound.
