

BOARDMAN

The annual reception for the teachers was held Friday night at the school. This was also the first P. T. A. meeting of the year. Election of officers was held with Mrs. D. W. Miller elected president, Mrs. Martha Titus, vice president, Mrs. Catherine Brown, secretary, and Mrs. Claude Coats, treasurer. After the business meeting some games were played. The suit case race was a source of much fun as was the relay race. Dancing was enjoyed for a time and later the crowd went to the cafeteria where lunch was served with Mesdames Miller, I. Skoubo, Brown, Dillon, and Messrs. Kennedy, Dillon, and Guy Barlow serving. A. W. Porter acted as toastmaster and called on a number of persons for responses. It was voted at this meeting to have the milk and cracker mid-afternoon lunch continued in the primary room with the organization paying for the crackers and straws. Mrs. Marschat started this work last year when she found so many of the little people losing weight after the first month of school.

Calvin Morrison of Oregon City, driver for the Randall Transfer Co., had a narrow escape and the thrill that comes once in a lifetime on Friday when the safety cap came off the 4000 gallon gas tank and the gas spilled over the exhaust pipe, setting the huge tank afire. The accident occurred near Castle Rock. The trailer exploded in the evening but the large truck burned till the following day and finally ceased with about 2000 gallons of gas still left in the truck. Traffic was detoured through the sagebrush and flag men placed on duty that night.

Glen Hadley has leased ten acres of land adjoining his place which he has leveled and seeded to alfalfa. He has a five year lease on the land.

E. T. Messenger made a flying trip to La Grande on Friday, taking a truck to Pendleton and then going on to La Grande where he obtained another truck.

Mrs. Royal Rands has returned from White Salmon, bringing the two children of Vaughan Keyes with her during the packing season. Both Mr. and Mrs. Keyes are expert packers.

Oria L. Brown is organizing a school orchestra and parents are urged to get the instruments shortly for the children who are to take part, so that all may start together.

Mr. Merring who is the Raleigh representative and who has been living in the Harry Murchie house has rented the T. E. Broyles place and will move with his family in October. Mr. Merring is driving a new car as the open model car proved too cold for his long trips.

Glen Hadley, Wm. Strobel and Nick Gaglia of Hood River were fortunate nimrods and brought back two deer from their hunting trip.

The Home Economics club gave the first of a series of card parties Saturday night at the Ray Brown home. Six tables were in play and at the call of the game Z. J. Gillespie and Miss Catherine Brown were high and Lee Mead and Mr. Sundsten low. Because of a dearth of ladies some of the men had to act the part. Refreshments were served at the close of the game. A number of these parties were given last winter and were greatly enjoyed. They are not invitational affairs but a charge of 35 cents a couple is made, the proceeds going into the club treasury.

Mrs. H. H. Weston received word that her daughter, Mrs. Neal Bleakney of Echo was to undergo a serious operation for goiter on Tuesday of this week at Walla Walla. Mrs. Weston has two of the younger children during their mother's illness and convalescence.

Lillian Hango who has been having trouble with her ears accidentally pushed a pledget of cotton in her ear so far that it necessitated a trip to the doctor at Hermiston to have it removed.

Albert Sundsten, section foreman at Coyote, was pleased to have his father and younger brother here from Cascade Locks for the week end. They attended the card party at Browns on Saturday night.

Paul Hatch was here Sunday from Portland.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson, Rachel and Deibert motored to Pendleton Saturday afternoon. The Guy Barlows were also visitors in Pendleton that day.

Al Troedson and family were visitors on the project Sunday from their home over Ione way.

The Fortiers and Crainers were dinner guests Sunday at the Hadley home. Venison was the "piece de resistance."

Grover Curtis and wife were here Monday from Willow creek.

Peter Farley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Farley, did not believe in having his brother get ahead of him so he too fell off a horse and broke his arm. James, the other son, is carrying his arm in a cast from the same cause.

The Wilson family visited Sunday at the Jess Deos home on Willow creek.

Some people jumped at conclusions about the fair premium money and some ill feeling has been engendered. Anyone who knows the infinite patience necessary to get the premium checks made out has a feeling of sympathy for the unfortunate treasurer. Some errors were made and because Mrs. Isom and the treasurer went away soon after the fair it is taking longer than usual to rectify them; but please do not judge harshly, and assist in spreading false rumors about, for if you won a prize you will get your money eventually. The rumor that there is not enough money for the premiums as so much went for the granite bothe was perfectly absurd and without foundation. Please remember that the members of the fair board spent days and days of their time and strength, gallons of gasoline all for the benefit of the fair without one cent of recompense, and do not be so quick to find fault. Also spare venting your ire on Mrs. Root who was not even a member of the board and who has received the benefit of all the disgruntled prize winners for that which she had nothing to do, but was kind enough to give out the checks that were on hand.

Dr. Wilhelm of Arlington was up Saturday to see Raymond Shane who was ill with la grippe. Boardmembers of Condon were in Boardman Sunday.

IRRIGON

Mrs. Sam Smith, John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wier made a business and pleasure trip combined when they went to Yakima Saturday. They took lunch with them and had a picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederickson and children of Heppner were Sunday dinner guests at the F. C. Frederickson home. They later called on Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Williams. Mr. Frederickson is operating the motion picture machine at the Heppner theater besides his regular work at the Chevrolet garage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Williams and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Markham, motored up Little Butter creek to the O'Brien ranch Sunday, where Mr. Markham took care of some business.

Henry Cue was a business caller here Tuesday, coming from his home at The Dalles. He is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Geo. Haskell. On his return trip he took a trailer loaded with melons which he got from the Smith brothers.

Mrs. Roscoe Williams had a pleasant surprise Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. David Lowe and son called on her. Mrs. Lowe is an old school friend of Mrs. Williams and they had not met for over two years. Mr. Lowe is Shell Oil Co. man at Pendleton, coming there from Walla Walla in June of this year.

There seems to be several cases of mumps in the community. Mrs. F. C. Frederickson is one of the victims, while several of the Frederickson children had them and some are still sick.

Frank Leicht, Clair Caldwell, Jim Booher and Bob Smith who returned from their hunting trip, brought home two deer. They returned last Monday after being gone ten days. They got both deer on the first day they were out.

The postoffice has been moved into the new building which has just been completed. It is now getting a coat of paint and will be wired for lights and the chimney erected and then will be finished.

A. B. Chaney and son Wesley and wife are away for a few weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chaney of near Enterprise. Wesley will try his luck deer hunting while there.

Mrs. O. Coryell is reported doing nicely at The Dalles hospital and will probably be released in a few days.

Frank Stever has been on the sick list the last few days but is greatly improved now.

Mr. Ford of the Consolidated Truck company was a business caller in Irrigon Tuesday.

Elra Lamoreaux has purchased a 1928 Chevrolet sedan. Raymond and Eugene Lamoreaux are driving the touring car.

The section crew unloaded a car of ties this week.

Mr. Grider, who purchased the J. T. Bullard ranch west of town, has been doing some building and getting the place fixed up in readiness to move in some time around the first of October. Mr. and Mrs. Grider are from Boardman.

Bishop Wisdom is suffering some very painful injuries received when his motorcycle skidded with him, pinning his leg between it and a rock wall on the Columbia river highway close to the Vista house last Wednesday. He is compelled to go on crutches and will be laid up for fifteen or twenty days.

Florence Brace was taken to The Dalles to consult a doctor. She has been ill for a week and it is feared she is suffering from appendicitis, and it was thought it might mean an operation.

Mrs. Sam Smith, John and Bob Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wier and Roscoe Williams left Friday evening for a two day hunting trip close to Ukiah. They will return Sunday evening.

ALPINE.

People in this community were interested to hear of the marriage of Miss Mildred Schmidt to Walter Wigglesworth Sunday at Walla Walla. The couple were surprised Sunday evening when a crowd gathered at the Schmidt home and charivariied them. A dance continued until a late hour. Treats were served and refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Taffel of The Dalles spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Anna Schmidt of this vicinity last week.

Miss Mary McDaid returned home Saturday after a stay in Portland where she visited friends.

Willard Hawley, Joe Pinnell and Gene Senter made a trip to the mountains Saturday for a load of poles and did not return until Monday evening, due to the rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lindsay and daughter Annie motored to Pendleton on a business trip Friday.

A Farm Bureau meeting will be held on October 4 at the Alpine schoolhouse. Everybody come and see a good program given by several different schools. There was no meeting for September on account of the Rodeo.

C. W. Smith, county agent, was a visitor at the Alpine schoolhouse Thursday from his home in Heppner, trying to organize clubs in the schools.

The Misses Helen and Ruth Bennett of Heppner spent Saturday and Sunday in Alpine visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bennett.

Miss Mary McDaid and Bill McDaid made a short visit in Portland Sunday. Mary will remain there for a while.

The community was very much pleased to see that some of the roads in this district have been repaired during the week. The work is being done by Neil Melville. W. T. Doherty spent several days of last week in this vicinity helping to stack straw.

The church services will continue every night this week at Pine City, and following the services next Sunday there will be a basket dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Finley and son Claud were transacting business in Echo Friday of last week.

Charles Melville who went to La Grande with his niece, Miss Gertrude Tichenor returned home again in the earlier part of the week.

WHY JULIUS L. MEIER?

THE time has come for a change in Oregon's political and economic affairs. It is time to place in the executive chair at Salem a governor who has the independence, the courage, the integrity and the ability to bring about the successful execution of a comprehensive and constructive program of vitally needed reforms. Future prosperity of the state and the welfare of its people depend largely on the man selected at the coming election to take over the reins of government in Oregon.

Without an aggressive, fearless executive of unquestioned integrity, the people of Oregon can hope for little from the state house during the next four years. Those splendid qualifications can be found in Julius L. Meier, one of Oregon's leading business men who was nominated independent candidate for governor at a state-wide mass meeting attended by 5,000 voters.

Mr. Meier brings into a political campaign a new type of candidate. He is primarily a business man. His interests have been far from the field of politics as he has built a mercantile institution second to none in the west.

Mr. Meier was drafted into this campaign. His business associate and intimate personal friend for 35 years, the late Senator George W. Joseph, won the republican nomination for governor of Oregon on a platform of defiance to the power interests throttling state development. When he died before attaining the honors the state was about to confer upon him before he had the opportunity to carry out the policies for which he had made an uphill fight for many years, the people of Oregon looked for a man to take up the fallen standard. The republican state central committee scrapped the Joseph platform and nominated their recent chairman, The supporters of Mr. Joseph were forced to look elsewhere for a man to carry on his principles.

They found that man in Julius L. Meier. The state which had been kind to him, in which he built up a personal success, the people of that state whose cooperation had contributed to his outstanding record, were in need of a man of courage and independence. His closest friend for many years was gone but his work was unfinished. Julius Meier believed he owed a service to Oregon its people and their late champion. He agreed to run.

The issues have been clearly defined. Of primary importance is the need for federal, state and municipal development of water power that cheap power may be made available for domestic and industrial use. This program of Mr. Meier's is being fought by lavish expenditure of funds for propaganda by the power interests.

There are many other principles for which he stands but in the forefront is his pledge of strict economy in public expenditures and a business government with efficiency the sole criterion for employment of public servants. Only a real business man such as Mr. Meier can make such a pledge and live up to it. It is more than words with him. The emoluments of the office mean nothing to Mr. Meier. He is in the race solely from a desire to serve the people of Oregon and to carry out the principles of his lifelong friend.

The people of Oregon have offered to them in the candidacy of Julius L. Meier an opportunity to obtain as general manager of the state's business one of its outstanding business leaders. It is a most unusual offer and places in their hands the possibility of bringing into public service the same high degree of honesty, courage and efficiency which makes for success in private life. The future of Oregon depends on the voice of the electorate November 4.—(Paid Advertisement, Meier-for-Governor Committee.)

And then Ed Gonty says it is his theory, born of an observation spread over a number of years, that a man who is always on his toes is seldom out at the heel.

All W. Tread sez, "When you hear a girl say that all men are alike, you can bet she isn't intending it for a compliment."

There is only one sure way to keep the book agent from your door--burn down the house.

Then there was the Scotch physician who charged his best girl two dollars a visit.

Which further reminds us of the absent minded professor who actually discovered what makes the absent minded professor absent minded, and then forgot the answer.

At the age of forty, men invariably decide to begin saving next month.

And a woman is always shy in telling her age--anywhere from ten to forty years shy.

Columbus was no doubt proud of the fact that he discovered America, but just think how the poor fellow would feel, if he could come back now, and see what we've done to it.

Right now is the proper time to have the car greased. A thorough greasing now forces out all the summer accumulation of dust before the fall rains cause it to turn to mud--and nothing clogs up the steering gear, brake rods, etc., like caked mud. Our high pressure greasing equipment is the best that money can buy and you may be sure the job will be expertly done if you bring it to us.
