FLAPPERS, SINGERS PICKED FOR PLAY

Hilarious Features Being Prepared in Connection With Aunt Lucia.

100 BABIES TO SHOW

Big Home-Talent Sponsored by Lions to Appear Two Nights Next Tuesday-Wednesday.

Rehearsals for the Lions club community production, "Aunt Lucia," to be presented next Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Heppner school auditorium, are well under way. The cast has been working faithfully every night and everything points toward a big show. And now Aunt Lucia's famous Flapper Chorus has been chosen. Without question this will be the big sensation of the show. This group consists of 25 of Heppner's most prominent business men playing the parts of college girls. Each is noted for his beauty of form, face and figure and will be dressed in a particular type of costume, and the various types of modern flapper such as Clara Bow, Teacher's Pet, Cleopatra, the Vamp of Heppner, etc., will be represented. They are going to strut and dance their way across the stage, and no one can afford to miss them. You have, no doubt, seen choruses and shows, but you have never seen anything like the college flapper chorus of Aunt Lucia.

Glee Club to Sing.

And besides the above named chorus we have the big College Glee Club which is just as much of an attraction. Fifteen or 16 of the most representative singers among the business men are going back to college days and sing a number of old time songs to open the famous show, "Aunt Lucia." This is something different from other glee clubs and well deserves mention. At the first rehearsal last evening the men got off to a flying start, so we can look forward to some real singing. Some of the songs to be sung are "Collegiate," "Bula, Bula," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," "Show Me the Way to Go Home," etc.

For color and beauty we have the girls choruses. Twenty-five local girls, the pick of the community, are singing and dancing in the big show. They are attractively costumed and their steps are catchy and their songs tuneful. They have been working all week and the result is a mighty fine chorus.

Baby Show Popular.

The Baby Pageant is one of the unique features of the show. One hundred youngsters in the local community have been chosen to take part in this big pageant. This curtain raiser is led by Mrs. P. M. Gemmill as dramatic reader and the youngsters are bound to be one of the attractions of the show. Never before has such an array of children been used in any kind of a production. Throughout the country where the baby show has been staged it has been one of the main features. So you'll want to see "Aunt Lucia" for the baby pageant alone, if for no other reason.

You can see that "Aunt Lucia" is a well-rounded production and promises a treat for everyone regardless of what his taste may be.

Tickets are on sale now and can be exchanged, at no extra charge, for a reserve seat at Gordon's Drug store, Monday, October 20, after 8 a. m.

81ST ANNIVERSARY HONORED AT IONE

W. H. A. Smith Young, Not Old, He Says; Turner-Lindstrom Nuptials Solemnized; Other Items.

By JENNIE E. McMURRAY.

On Friday, October 10, W. H. A. Smith celebrated the eighty-first anniversary of his birth. He spent the day quietly at the home of his son, Cole Smith, at Ione hotel. The years have dealt kindly with Mr. Smith and he is hale and hearty despite his advanced age, and is able to journey alone throughout the northwest visiting at the homes of relatives and friends. He insists that he is not old, but is eighty-one years young. Mr. Smith was born one mile north of Danville, Montgomery county, Missouri, in 1849 and lived there until the advent of the automobile run him out of the harness business. In 1918 he moved to Tacoma and from Tacoma came to Ione two and one half years ago to make his home with his son. Mr. Smith's wife died in 1924. Four years before her death they had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. He is the father of eight children all of whom lived to reach adult age. Four are still living: R. M. Smith of Bend, Forbin P. Smith of Los Angeles, Cole Ellis Smith of Ione and Miss Marcia Smith of Tacoma.

Miss Blanche E. Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Turner, north of Ione, farmer, and Mr. Albert E. Lindstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lindstrom of Morgan, were married Tuesday afternoon, October 14, at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Ray Turner in Ione. The short but impressive ring service of the Congregational church was read by Rev. W. W. Head, and the marriage vows were witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner. The bride is a graduate of the Ione school and has been a teacher in the schools of our state. The groom is a successful farmer of the Morgan district where the young couple will eventually make their home. They are leaving at once by auto for a trip to California where they may spend the winter. The good wishes of a host of friends go with them.

Principal and Mrs. George E. Tucker are the parents of a ten pound daughter, born Tuesday, Oct. 14, at a Heppner hospital. The baby has been named Maxine.

R. M. Akers and son Kenneth drove to Dufur Sunday for a visit with Mr. Akers' cousin, Thomas Benton, whom he had not seen for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Holman of Yakima, accompanied by John Cochran, motored to Ione Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Holman returned at once to their home. Mr. Cochran remained in Ione and is making arrangements to have part of his household goods shipped to Yakima where he plans to spend the winter that Mrs. Cochran may continue to be under the care of her physician.

Jack Frost paid an official visit to Ione Friday night. Saturday morning the ground was white with frost and ice as thick as window glass had formed on shallow pans of water. On Saturday and Sunday nights the temperature was also below freezing. However, many of the fall flowers and gardens were unharmed by the cold.

The American Legion auxiliary held installation of officers on Wednesday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Blain Blackwell. With Mrs. Earl Blake acting as installing officer, the following members were placed in office: Mrs. Lee Beckner, president; Mrs. Oliver Haguewood, first vice president; Mrs. Victor Rietman, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Blake, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Walter Corley, chaplain; Mrs. E. Sperry, historian; Mrs. John Ferris, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Lee Howell has received the announcement of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Ora Barlow of Pendleton. The little lady was born Sunday, Oct. 12, and has been given the name of Mary Caroline.

REGISTER IS CLOSED

Would Amend or Add to Constitution 13 Times; State, District And County Offices Up.

That voters of Morrow county have a real duty to perform on November 4 in the interest of good government, is evidenced by the number of candidates and measures to be voted on. Registration books are now closed, so that only those now registered will be entitled to vote. There is no longer any "swearing in" on election day.

Official ballots were delivered to the county clerk's office the first of the week, a sample of which may be found on page four of this issue of the Gazette Times.

State and district offices to be filled include a United States senator in congress, a representative in congress, a governor, three justices of the supreme court in positions numbered 1, 5 and 6, a superintendent of public instruction, a commissioner of the bureau of labor, a state senator and a state representative.

County offices are judge, two commissioners, treasurer, assessor and surveyor. All precincts except Boardman, which elects no justice of the peace, will choose a justice of the peace and a constable. The names of E. R. Huston for the first position and S. P. Devin for the latter will appear on ballots for the two Heppner precincts. In Ione, F. H. SAY CONDITIONS GOOD.

Gleaned from the "Come and Go" column of the Oregonian this morning is the following item relative to two former Heppnerites and conditions in Grant county: "Used to be that a sheepman announced his business with a megaphone," said Glenn Boyer of Fox valley, Grant county, "but now when he says he is in sheep he sorta drops his voice and holds his hand over his mouth, so he won't be heard. Yes, that's the way the sheep business is now. A fellow doesn't boast so much about it as he did a few years ago when a band of sheep meant real money." "There's been some rain in the mountains," adds Guy Boyer of Monument, brother of Glenn.

"The boys are feeling so good since we had a rain and the grass began growing that I think they'll even go to the polls and vote. Before the rain they were too disgusted to think of voting, but they are perking up now and wearing their hats on the backs of their heads, or rather on the side, chipper like—you know how it goes when there is a good rain and grass and things begin to look better to the stockman. Well, that's the way it is in Grant county."

LEN DEFEATS FOOTBALL.

Lexington town football team trounced their visitors from Arlington last Sunday afternoon, 25-0, in a game framed by passes thrown by John Drager and received by Vester Lane and Buster Gentry. The Lexington boys put up the appearance of a seasoned team, with many good substitutes in reserve, and will offer formidable opposition for Heppner on Pioneers' day there next Saturday.

HAKE-WEHMEYER.

Friends this week have been congratulating Elmer Hake and Miss Alma Wehmeier on their marriage, reported as an event of the early part of the week. Both are students of Heppner high school. Mrs. Hake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wehmeier, and Mr. Hake the son of Mrs. Harvey Coxen.

Henry L. Rasmussen Funeral Rites Held

Funeral services for Henry L. Rasmussen were conducted at the Case mortuary chapel at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Glen P. White, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating, and burial was in Heppner cemetery.

Mr. Rasmussen passed away at Heppner general hospital on last Thursday evening following an illness of six weeks, the outgrowth of an ailment from which he had suffered for the past two years.

Mr. Rasmussen was born in Wisconsin, November 10, 1870, and died at Heppner, Oregon, October 9, 1930, at the age of 59 years, 10 months and 29 days. When he was just a lad he moved with his parents to Callendar, Iowa, and there grew to manhood. At this place on March 27, 1901, he was united in marriage to Grace E. Stone and to them was born a son and a daughter, the latter passing away in infancy. Mrs. Rasmussen died June 13, 1904, and in the spring of 1905 Mr. Rasmussen came to Portland, in which city and vicinity he resided until 1919 when he came to Heppner. He was a carpenter by trade but on coming to this city engaged in the sawmill business up until about a year ago.

He is survived by his son, Leslie Rasmussen, and a stepson, Thornton Dunn, both of Heppner, besides his father and mother, now very aged, living at the old home in Callendar, Iowa, and several brothers and sisters residing at different points in the east.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to take this method of thanking the many friends who so kindly ministered to our father during his illness, and for their help and sympathy expressed at the burial services; also for many beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rasmussen, Thornton Dunn.

New Report Cards Adopted by School

The new report cards adopted by the Morrow county unit of the Oregon State Teachers association at the institute recently held here have been delivered to the county school superintendent. The Heppner grade school is using the new cards and they were issued yesterday for the first time this year.

With the issuance of the cards W. R. Poulson, city superintendent, announces the grading symbols used locally. In marking physical education grades but two symbols are used, F and P, denoting failure or passing respectively. The markings are based entirely upon the child's attitude toward gymnasium work, and the weight given for the benefit of each child and there are no degrees of perfection in doing the work. Other subjects are graded with numerals, 1, 2, 3 and 4 as passing grades, 1 being the highest and 4 the lowest passing grade. Mr. Poulson says the cards are self-explanatory, though parents wishing more complete information about them may receive it at his office. Prompt return of the cards is asked.

WHEAT CONFERENCE HERE DEC. 11 TO 13

Important Problems Will Draw Members of East Oregon League.

NOTED MEN INVITED

Lions Club Offers Help and All City Expected to Cooperate; Action Taken by Directors.

The annual conference of the Eastern Oregon Wheat league will be held in Heppner, December 11, 12 and 13. This decision was made at a meeting of the league executive committee in Hermiston last Friday, reports C. W. Smith, county agent, who attended the meeting in company with George N. Peck of Lexington, Morrow county committee man.

"This is the only organization of wheat men in Oregon, and the 11 counties bordering and tributary to the Columbia river always send delegates to this conference," said Mr. Smith, who declared it will require cooperation of every business man and citizen to take care of the crowd and to "put it over."

The Lions club has already offered cooperation in helping to arrange entertainment, rooms and meals for the visitors. The club was particularly instrumental in bringing the conference, by extending its invitation at the time the conference was held in Pendleton last year. Two years ago Arlington successfully entertained the gathering.

The conference this year is expected to be of extraordinary interest and importance, Mr. Smith says, because of the many problems facing the wheat producers, and it is expected the largest attendance of wheat men ever attending the league conference will be had here. Speakers of national reputation are being contacted, and it is expected at least part of these will be secured.

Among the many questions to be discussed are "Conditions in Russia which might affect the future price of wheat," "Bulk vs. sack handling of grain," "Feeding wheat to livestock to reduce the surplus," "Smut, its habits and control." There will be a report of the North Pacific Grain Growers corporation to include the amount of grain handled, methods of marketing, and the future prospects for successful selling cooperatively. Transportation and freight rates will come before the delegates for lengthy discussion, and to assist in this phase of the program members of the Columbia Valley association and the chief engineer in charge of investigation-work for development of the Columbia river will be invited.

Numerous committees including many members from Morrow county are being put to work gathering information and data to be presented to the conference. Local members of these committees were notified this week by Mr. Smith, who is handling details for Morrow county.

FINISHES T. B. TESTING.

H. H. Green, assistant state veterinarian from Salem, completed testing of dairy cows in the county the first of the week. All cows supplying milk for retail trade were tested and found free from infection. The percentage of infection throughout the county has been found so small in the last three testings that the county is entitled to accredited standing. That this has not been given is due to the fact that range cattle have not been tested, requirements for accredited certification being that all cattle must be tested. The rounding up of range cattle for this purpose is near an impossibility, says C. W. Smith, county agent, who arranged for the testing of dairy cows and accompanied Mr. Green in the work.

P. T. A. MEETS TUESDAY.

The Heppner Parent-Teachers association will meet at 2:30 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon at the school. The third grade is preparing the entertainment, and it is hoped that Dr. Love, head of vocational training at Oregon state college will give an address as he is scheduled to be in Heppner on that day. The lower grade symphony orchestra may make its appearance. It will be the policy to start meetings earlier this year, says W. R. Poulson, president.

ELKS TO EAT VENISON.

A venison dinner with the meat provided by members from Lexington will be a feature of the meeting of Heppner lodge No. 358, B. P. O. Elks, when it meets Thursday, the 23rd, reports L. Van Marter exalted ruler. Special entertainment will also be provided. All Elks are requested to be there.

LOST SHEEP SEEN.

While hunting last Sunday, L. Van Marter and Dr. A. D. McMurdo saw a band of 40 or 50 ewes on the stock trail at the breaks of the Potomac near the mouth of Ellis creek, which they presume to have been lost as there were no other sheep in the vicinity and no caretaker in evidence.

LIONS SPONSOR WHEAT MEETING

All Members Have Part In Presenting "Aunt Lucia" Play.

RATE FIGHT WAGED

Word From Senator McNary Says Would Reinstatement Order Making Cut Effective October 1.

After being instrumental in bringing the annual conference of the Eastern Oregon Wheat league to Heppner through extending an invitation to that body when it met at Pendleton last year, the Lions club voted Monday to sponsor the conference to be held December 11, 12 and 13. President C. S. Sweek was authorized to appoint committees to look after housing, meals and entertainment for the more than 150 visitors expected for the three days.

The Eastern Oregon Wheat league is the only organization of wheat men in Oregon, pointed out Chas. W. Smith, county agent, and the conference is comparable in importance to the annual convention of the Oregon Wool Growers association. In addition to delegates from all the major wheat growing counties of the state there will be outside speakers of national reputation.

Miss Jacqueline Dobbins, "Aunt Lucia" coach attended the meeting and outlined plans for the presentation of the comedy to be presented under auspices of the club next Tuesday and Wednesday. All members of the club have been assigned parts in the production. The play committee, Wm. Poulson, Earl Gordon and Russell Pratt, also made announcements relative to the play and handed out tickets to all members of the club to dispose of. Miss Dobbins was enthusiastic over the support being accorded her in coaching the production, and expressed her thanks for the consideration of those taking special parts.

S. E. Notson, chairman of the wheat committee for the club, reported having received a telegram the past week from Senator McNary stating that all possible is being done to effect a reversal of the action of the Interstate Commerce commission which postponed putting into effect the wheat freight rate reduction. A strong attempt is being made to have the first order of the commission reinstated, putting the reduction in effect this October first. In his capacity as chairman of the Americanization committee, Mr. Notson also called attention to Columbus day on Sunday, celebrated as a holiday Monday, by paying tribute to "the greatest discoverer" who landed on the shores of the Americas in 1492.

H. H. S. Grid Team Wins Opening Game

Heppner high school opened the gridiron season last Friday by defeating Lexington high on the latter's field, 33-0. Coach Neil Shurman's lads showed an advantage throughout, both in weight and experience, and had no trouble winning the game, though the Lexington boys played a scrappy battle. Next Friday the local boys journey to Hermiston for their second game, and are expecting a harder tussle with the heavier and more experienced team of that place.

In the local line-up against Lexington were Marcel Jones e, Lewis Sperry II, Bruce Gibb Jr, Jimmy Furlong e, Lyle Cowdry rg, Gay Anderson rt, Wrex Langdon re, Roy Gentry q, Earl Thomson f, Elmer Hake lb, Curtis Thomson rh. Substitutions, Swindig for Gibb, Ayres for Cowdry, Morgan for Langdon, Cox for Jones.

PLAY SCORELESS TIE.

In the football game between Condon and Heppner on Rodeo field Sunday afternoon, neither team was able to score and the game ended 0-0. Heppner threatened on several occasions but lacked the punch to put it across. Large gains for the locals were made by Sprouls, Aiken, Neel and Robertson, backfield men, on end and off-tackle plays, but the lines of both teams were impregnable most of the time. Whittier, four-year University of Idaho letterman, was the bulwark of defense strength as full-back for Condon. Johnny Baker, visitor halfback, made one of the longest runs of the afternoon on a fake end-around play.

TO LEAD SINGERS.

Miss Marjorie Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark of this city, will lead the singing in the University of Oregon women's football classic in Portland Saturday afternoon. Miss Clark is a sophomore at the university.

HEAT FOR AUNT LUCIA.

The new heating plant for the Heppner school auditorium-gymnasium is working perfectly, says W. R. Poulson, superintendent, assuring a comfortable temperature in the building for those attending the Aunt Lucia presentations next Tuesday and Wednesday.
