

Local Happenings

Attending the meeting on Tuesday of distinguished representatives from the foreign missionary field of the Methodist church were Rev. Glen P. White, pastor of the local church, and Mrs. White, who took in all the sessions and remained over for a meeting of lay members on Wednesday; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson, Mrs. L. W. Briggs, Mrs. Alice Adkins and Ray Taylor. Missionaries were present from China, Japan and India, those representing China and India being native workers. They are appearing at prominent places in the northwest at this time in the interests of missionary work of the church. Tuesday's meeting was held at Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark were in Portland Friday and Saturday and witnessed the football game between the universities of Oregon and Washington. An added thrill to the game was had by seeing their daughter, Miss Marjorie Clark, student at the U. of O., lead the co-ed singing at the game. Mr. Clark returned home Sunday, while Mrs. Clark accompanied her daughters, Miss Marjorie and Mrs. Frank Riggs, to Eugene for a visit.

Clarence Moore and Mrs. Ralph Scott, son and daughter, and Add Moore, brother, returned to Heppner the end of the week after visiting at the bedside of George Moore, seriously ill in a Portland hospital. Though Mr. Moore was somewhat improved at latest reports, he was in a very weakened condition. It has been necessary for him to undergo several operations.

Mrs. Spencer Crawford entertained a number of small folks Saturday in honor of the sixth birthday of Calvin. Guests included Donald Bennett, Jackie Sweet, Kay Ferguson, Buddy Crump, Alton Christenson, Hugh Crawford, Junior Barrett, Lyle Cox, Bobby Smith and La Verne Brookhouser. Games and refreshments of ice cream and cake enlivened the youthful occasion.

Word has been received by the family here from Dick Wightman that he is a member of the stock judging team of Oregon State college now in the east to compete in contests at St. Louis and Cleveland. The team will return in time to participate in judging at the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Minor of Portland stopped over in Heppner yesterday on their way home to Portland from a business trip to Yakima. Mr. Minor is with the Perry Granite company in Portland. Mrs. Minor is a cousin of Mrs. Spencer Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young, who have been in the county for several months, are returning to La Grande today to again make their home in Union county.

Mrs. Mary L. White, mother of Rev. Glen P. White, arrived in the city last week from The Dalles for a fortnight visit at the home of her son.

The American Legion auxiliary sewing club will meet at the home of Mrs. Spencer Crawford, Wednesday, October 29, at 2:30 p. m.

Paul Menegat, high school principal, represented Heppner at a conference of state high school principals held in Salem last week end. The conference was dismissed in time for the delegates to take in the Oregon-Washington football game in Portland, much to Mr. Menegat's joy; especially so as he saw the warriors of his alma mater trounce the northerners, 7-0.

Merle Becket, University of Oregon student, is a member of the university band as clarinetist. He was fortunate in accompanying the band on its good-will jaunt to Seattle previous to the big football game in Portland, where he was also among the musicians.

Among Heppner folks attending the Oregon-Washington football game in Portland Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Poulson, Paul Menegat, Joe Kenny and John Farley. Mr. and Mrs. Poulson were accompanied to the city by Mrs. L. W. Briggs.

Charley Allinger was in Heppner on Wednesday. He has been busy of late with the construction of the Frank Fraters residence on Eight Mile, but the work has been somewhat delayed awaiting material to arrive from the mill.

Charles H. Latourell was seen hauling a big horned deer into town the end of the week, which it is presumed, fell victim to his famed marksmanship. Charlie is one of Oregon's leading gun fanciers and ninrod in general.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barlow made a short visit in Portland the end of the week, Mrs. Barlow visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Akers, while Mr. Barlow transacted business in the city.

Mrs. Lynn Dempsey of Ione was transacting business in the city Tuesday. She reports her husband well on the road to recovery following his recent operation for appendicitis.

Leonard Schwarz and J. O. Turner spent the last two days of the deer hunting season in the mountains in an unsuccessful quest for a buck.

Father J. J. Williams will celebrate second mass at the community hall in The Sands at 11 a. m., on Sunday, October 26.

Gene Ferguson and Gerald Slocum made a final dash to the mountains the end of the season in search of deer.

Mrs. Wm. Brookhouser has been quite ill at her home in this city, being cared for by her mother, Mrs. Jennie Booher.

Neil Shurman, high school athletic coach, attended the Oregon-Washington football game in Portland Saturday.

County Treasurer L. W. Briggs has been confined to his home a few days this week by illness.

Earl and Leonard Gilliam returned home Sunday from a hunting trip with a buck each.

Library in Receipt Of More New Books

New books received for the rental shelf in the Heppner Public Library include "Laughing Boy" by Oliver LaFarge, the Pulitzer winner for 1929; "Doctor Serecol" by Ashton; "The Coming of the Lord" by Millin; "Dark Hester" by Sedgwick; "The Taken Child" by Chamberlin; "Seed" by Norris; "Heroine of the Prairies" by Hargreaves; "Peder Victorious" by Rolvaag; "The Happy Mountain" by Chapman. These are all outstanding novels, many of them best sellers. Several new donations of books have also been received.

Subscriptions to the following magazines were recently donated to the library by the Pacific Power & Light company through the office of Paul Marble, local manager: The Saturday Evening Post, The Literary Digest, Colliers, Better Homes and Gardens, American Boy, and Popular Science. These will soon be available on the reading table and may be checked out.

New children's books purchased recently include "On to Oregon" by Morrow; "In the Days of Giants" by Brown; "The Real Diary of a Real Boy" by Shute; "The Italian Fairy Book" by MacDonnell; "The Boy's Life of Colonel Lawrence" by Thomas; "Katrinka" by Haskell; "We" by Charles A. Lindbergh.

The rental books may be obtained for the very nominal charge of ten cents for two weeks. Reservations will be made if requested and special orders to the state library sent for books or material on any subject.

LEX STRENGTH SUPERIOR

Heppner's town football team took a severe punch on the nose Saturday when they appeared in an exhibition game with Lexington before the Pioneer Day celebration crowd. The score was 25-0, the result mostly of Drager's superlative pass heaving, and the equally superlative catching ability of one Buster Gentry. Drager, Gentry, Corral and Lane composed the Lex backfield, which featured in the execution.

HARDMAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Barnard and daughter Loye and Miss Marvel Osburn from The Dalles visited Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Barnard's father, B. F. DeVore.

Mrs. Chester Saling from John Day was visiting friends here Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Wess Stevens and daughter Lois have gone to The Dalles to visit with Miss Cecil Stevens who is a teacher there. Lois will remain for an indefinite time with her sister and attend school there.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Johnson and Miss Elvira Bleakman motored to Condon Saturday. Everett Hadley departed Wednesday for Boardman where he has employment.

Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Moore from Heppner were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Maht Friday evening.

C. H. McDaniel has finished his work on the forest reserve but will remain in the mountains for a few days, expecting to bag a deer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Farrens were transacting business in Heppner Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Ashbaugh from Burns are visiting at the home of Fred Ashbaugh this week. Hiram Johnson motored to Heppner Saturday to consult his dentist.

Miss Delcie Bleakman was absent from her classes Tuesday and Wednesday on account of a sprained ankle.

There will be a masquerade party at the high school auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 30. Everybody invited.

Carl Leathers returned from Hyak, Wash., Sunday, where he had been on business. The pupils of the grade school received their new cards for the first time Monday. We were glad to note that most of them measured high in citizenship.

Friends of Miss Lydia Cox received word of her marriage Sunday to Mr. Perry Wilson.

HEPPNER BEATS HERMISTON.

Heppner high school footballists journeyed to Hermiston Saturday where they took the scalps of the pre-empt pigskin warriors, to the tune of 25-7. Roy Gentry and Earl Thomson, quarterback and fullback respectively, featured in the scoring.

Heppner's huskies are now being primed to repel an invasion of the local grounds by Arlington tomorrow afternoon.
