Local Happenings

Sunday evening the young people of the Methodist church will present a missionary pageant. The first scene depicts a worship service in the temple of Brahma. The second scene will represent a mass meeting in India. Everyone is cordially invited to the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Klinger, residents of the Lexington wheat belt, were transacting business in the city Monday. They expressed pleasure at the goodly supply of moisture being received in their section, and stated the new crop was showing up well.

Vawter and Jasper Crawford were in Corvallis Saturday and enjoyed witnessing the annual grid battle between the two state schools. The editor was called to the college seat to attend a meeting of directors of the state editorial association.

Miss Edith Stallard, county nurse, visited the Eight Mile school Monday, and our reporter states that she gave them 100 percent perfect posture. Miss Stallard stated that this improvement showed diligent effort on the part of both teacher and pupils.

Ladies of the Episcopal church will hold their annual bazaar at the Parish House on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 6. Tea will be served during the afternoon and supper at 6. There will be a benefit bridge party in the evening. 36-8

The Methodist Aid society will have a cooked food sale on Tuesday, Nov. 25, beginning at 2 o'clock p. m., at the corner room in Case apartment building. Needlework will also be on sale at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson, with their two sons, departed on Sunday for Gold Beach, where they will enjoy a short visit with relatives and look after matters of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boyer of Monument who visited in Heppner last week reported to Heppner friends that they expected to move to Portland in the near future.

At the Freezout ranch of Hynd brothers there is a heavy fall of snow just beyond the timber line, and looks like real winter had set in. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schaffer were in town from the ranch on Tuesday and report freezing weather.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Christian church on Thursday morning at 10:30. Rev. Glen P. White will deliver the address. Mr. W. E. Millson will favor with a solo.

For Sale—130 head large, fine, heavy woolled, big boned Rambouillet rams. Price $10 a head. At my ranch at Stanfield, Ore. J. C. Hoskins. 33-37p.

Al Rankin, manager of Hotel Heppner, departed by motor for Spokane on Monday, to which city he was called on matters of business.

For Sale—2 John Deere 3-bottom tractor plows with hitch; 1 lighting plant for 30 Best; 2 Walla Walla discs, 8-foot. E. A. Lindeken, Ione. 36tf.

Emil Johnson, garage man of Hardman, was looking after business in this city Monday. Lots of winter out his way just now.

If persons who picked up pocket-book belonging to me will return same, no questions will be asked. Alex Wilson, Heppner. 36

C. O. Burchell of Corvallis, H. N. Burchell and W. L. Demarest of Sheridan, were transacting business in the city Monday.

David A. Wilson, local clothing merchant, departed Wednesday for Portland to look after business matters.

Wanted—Two used No. 150 16-in. plow bottoms. O. W. Cutsforth, Lexington, Ore. 36-7

See and hear Greta Garbo in ROMANCE, Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Dressed Turkeys for Sale—Producer to consumer. Call J. G. Barratt, 16F2. 36.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burchell were in the city on Monday to consult a physician on behalf of Mr. Burchell, who was suffering a sudden attack of illness. Mr. Burchell had fallen beside his car early in the morning and it was feared that his trouble would be serious. Prompt attention by the physician has straightened him out; in fact he seemed much improved when they returned to their Lexington home.

L. Carlson, extensive wheatraiser of the Gooseberry section, was looking after business here on Tuesday. The wheat out his way is all coming along fine, and the recent soaking rains will prove of much help in its development and protection for the winter.

Miss Margaret Driscoll, who visited over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Driscoll in this city, returned to Pendleton on Tuesday. Miss Driscoll is a student nurse at St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton.

E. F. Feldman, prominent farmer of the lone country, was a visitor in Heppner Tuesday, reporting an abundance of moisture as the result of recent storms, all of which is for the good of growing grain and grass.

For Sale—402 acres summer range known as South Jones prairie. Mrs. Henry Jones, 399 E. 16th St. N., Portland, Ore. 27tf.

Dressed Turkeys for Sale—Producer to consumer. Call J. G. Barratt, 16F2. 36.
