

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

The missionary meeting was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Johnson with a good attendance. A praise service was held in charge of Mrs. Miller. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses. The Silver Tea will be held the first Wednesday in December at the home of Mrs. Sundstand at Coyote. At this meeting the story of the talents will be told. A number of ladies took sums, usually 50 cents or a dollar, from the art treasury to be used as a nucleus and increased as much as possible. Everyone is invited to attend.

"O' My Heart" was the production selected by the student body for the high school play. A full house greeted the young Thespians. The play was ably coached by Miss McMahon, the high school English teacher.

The Home Economics club will give another card party at the Miller home Saturday night. Mesdames Titus, George and Charles Wicklander and R. C. Mitchell will be hostesses.

Bethmyr Miller has been chosen business manager for "The Royal Family," the major production of this term sponsored by Sock and Buskin, Eastern Oregon Normal dramatic society. Miss Miller is also an officer of the club, and is one of the few members who made their points for membership last year. Buster Rands, another Boardman student, has an important role in the production.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pickering of Portland are expected here to spend Thanksgiving at the Strobel home. Mrs. Pickering is the sister of Mr. Strobel. The Packards and Spagles will also be dinner guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Falier entertained at three tables of "500" on Tuesday evening. After an exciting game Mrs. Brice Dillabough and Wassmer held high scores. Mrs. Hereim and Ray Brown low. Attending were I. Skoubos, Ray Browns, Rands, Dillaboughs, Hereims, R. Wassmer and the hosts.

Jim Rose was taken to Portland last week for an operation for gonorrhea. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rainville went down with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hadley left last week on a motor trip, stopping at Vale, Monument, and other places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Healey departed Thursday for Portland for the winter. They have been living on the ranch since April.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Messenger motored to Portland last week, taking with them about 200 turkeys to market. Mrs. Messenger, who has been having trouble with her feet, will remain in Portland under the doctor's care until after Thanksgiving.

Charles Marshall is here from Idaho after a long absence.

Eldon Wilson stopped here for a short visit with his parents on his way home from a football game at Monmouth. Eldon is on the Eastern Oregon normal team. The team was defeated at Monmouth.

F. A. Fortiers were hosts at a delightful party given last Friday evening. Six tables of "500" were in play. Guests were Kennedys, Rands, Browns, Maccombers, Coats, Guy Barlows, Marschats, Dillaboughs, Hereims, Meads, Rachel Johnson and Ray Barlow. Honors were accorded to Mrs. Rands and Ray Barlow, Mrs. Marschat and Mr. Hereim. At the close of the game, places were found for lunch by the aid of flowered placecards. A social time was enjoyed.

A special Thanksgiving program was given at the church Sunday morning. The church was well filled. The grange members made a special point of attending services.

The Christmas Seals of the National Tuberculosis Association which are sold at Christmas time every year provide funds for one of the most valuable of all services to mankind in helping to prevent and destroy a disease which threatens millions of homes and weakens millions of the children and youth of the Nation. I commend this yearly campaign to all our people.

that day. Musical numbers and recitations comprised the program, followed by an interesting talk by Rev. Mr. Miller.

Hereims were guests at a lovely dinner at the Spagle home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marschat were entertained at a sumptuous turkey dinner Thursday evening at the Lee Mead home.

John Pruter and Leslie Packard took a truck load of Packard's turkeys to Seattle last week. This is Mr. Packard's first trip to Seattle, his former home, in ten years.

Miss Shellenberger received news of an automobile accident in which her sister was seriously injured at Walla Walla. Miss Shellenberger and her mother who came up from Beaverton, went to Walla Walla Saturday afternoon. The sister is a teacher in an Episcopal school. She was much improved when Miss Shellenberger came back Sunday evening, but another occupant of the car was not expected to recover.

Plans are being made for another community Christmas, all churches and organizations uniting at this time. The executive board of the P. T. A. met Saturday night and appointed the following committees: funds, Pete Farley chairman, Bates, Hadley, Cooney and Guy Barlow; program, Mrs. Marschat chairman, Mesdames Titus, Coats, Hereim, Mead and Rands; decorations, Rachel Johnson chairman, Mrs. King, Mrs. Sundstand, Mr. Fortier, Ora Brown, Miss Schultz. The tree, including purchase and decorations will be under Lee Mead chairman, Root, Mrs. Macomber and Katherine Brown; treats, Mr. Johnson chairman; Mrs. Lottie Attebury, Mrs. Fortier, Mrs. Guy Barlow, Mrs. Dillabough; transportation, Jack Gorham, Mr. King and J. F. Barlow. Some changes may be made in these committees. The program will be Christmas eve, Dec. 24, at the school house. It is asked that no Christmas gifts be given at this time. Santa Claus will be present in person and present a treat to each individual.

W. A. Price and son Billie and Mrs. Lottie Attebury plan to spend Thanksgiving in Portland. Messengers plan to partake of Thanksgiving dinner at the Flickinger home.

Friends of Richard Dingmon were sorry to hear of his arrest last week on a liquor charge. He was taken before C. G. Blayden, justice of the peace, and fined.

A special district road tax was voted at a meeting held November 24. This carried by a vote of 48-13. This is a five mill tax and the money will be used on the project roads.

One hundred fifty-eight adults and 52 children attended the high school play Saturday night. Proceeds were $71.30 from the play and dance that followed.

Third and fourth grades are making vases for Christmas gifts. The fourth grade is making Pilgrim dolls for Thanksgiving. The children in the Columbia state, fifth and sixth grades, have already drawn names for the exchange of Christmas gifts. They have been making geography booklets. The fifth grade completed their booklets before the sixth. Six week tests have just been finished. Anna Ludeman has been appointed editor of the Meadowlark, the first and second grades. They have completed a stockade for the Pilgrim sandtable, made with coping saws. The Meadowlarks have new music for the rhythm band.

Prospects for the basketball team this year are very good. Lexington will play at Boardman Jan. 16, Boardman at Heppner Jan. 23, Ione at Boardman Jan. 30, Boardman at Lexington Feb. 6, Heppner at Boardman Feb. 13, Boardman at Ione Feb. 20.

Mrs. Claude Coats was hostess at Bridge Monday. Honors went to Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Guy Barlow. The latter substituted for Mrs. Denison who was in La Grande and Mrs. Gorham for Mrs. Sundstand. The Sundstands made a hurried trip to Portland, going down Sunday and returning Monday.

ATTENTION ELKS.

During the months of November and December meeting nights will be the first and third Thursdays. There will be entertainment at each meeting.

EDITORIAL

Now that Thanksgiving has been given and we are almost through eating up left overs of the turkey, we are reminded of a story, which goes:

"Dear, tomorrow is our tenth wedding anniversary. Shall I kill the turkey?"

"I suppose so," answered the husband, "but why put the blame on the poor bird."

Worth Thinking About

There are many ways to be thrifty besides merely saving the pennies, although we'll admit they are worth saving. Here are a few of them:

Save the moments — they are worth something to you if used properly. Be careful of your health—it may save you money for doctor's bills. Store wisdom away in your mind—where it will be valuable to you. In fact, keep sound mentally and physically. We can safeguard your funds—the rest is up to you.
