KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK.

THE RED CROSS is making its annual appeal for funds. In a few days the Christmas Seals of the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will be offered everywhere.

These are two noble causes, to which everyone ought to contribute. The work of the Red Cross is continuous. Wherever there is life to be saved, homeless to be sheltered, victims of catastrophe to be reclothed, fed, and started out anew in life, the Red Cross is the one which does the most good.

It is in effect, an unofficial arm of the Federal government. The recent drought gave the Red Cross an opportunity for service. So did the Mississippi flood of a couple of years ago, the hurricane disaster in Florida, Porto Rico and Santo Domingo. And hundreds of minor disasters, constantly occurring, keep the organization busy. It has no money except what the public gives.

The work of the Tuberculosis organization is of almost equal importance. Tuberculosis is diminishing, but only because of the constant watchfulness and educational work of the devoted men and women who are giving their lives to that work. Buying Christmas seals for a cent apiece is an easy and practical way for everybody to help.

THANKSGIVING. ONCE more the people of the United States have been called upon by their President to observe the last Thursday in November as a day on which to give thanks for the manifold blessings which we have been vouchsafed.

Thanksgiving is one of the few days which is celebrated as a holiday in every part of the United States. Of New England origin, it runs back to the days of the Plymouth Colonies, more than 200 years ago, its appropriateness has appealed to all America.

For we of this country have been more abundantly blessed than have been the people of any other nation in the world. We may grumble at "hard times" and point to inequalities as between man and man, and think we are pretty badly off, but we must remember that by comparison with any other part of the world we are exceedingly well off, that the inequalities which divide out people into the successful and unsuccessful are far less marked than the inequalities which exist elsewhere between the upper and the lower classes.

The Pilgrim Fathers gave thanks to God on Thanksgiving Day for material blessings with which their physical condition had been ameliorated. We are all too prone today to take all of the credit for material progress to ourselves. Few today rely upon Divine Providence to take care of them, in spite of the express promise:

"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." Our faith is less simple than that of our forebears. We do not look for direct and instantaneous answer to prayer. But down deep in our hearts we, as a people, still believe that somehow, if each does his individual best to live up to the spirit of religion, he will not suffer for lack of food and shelter and the normal comforts of life.

There is still faith in the words of the Psalmist: "I have been young, and now I am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread." This particular Thanksgiving Day of 1930 seems to us to be one upon which the religious origin of the occasion should be kept in mind. We have been through a hard year. We are still not "out of the woods" so far as material prosperity is concerned. But we have lost nothing which counts if we have not lost the faith in ourselves, in our neighbors, in our Nation and its ultimate high destiny, which all of our history justifies. So long as we hold to that faith and continue to believe that something higher than human power is still guiding us, we have every cause to be thankful.

PATRIOTISM.

WITH control of Congress equally divided as between Republicans and Democrats, there is something both novel and refreshing in the offer of seven Democratic leaders to cooperate with President Hoover and the Republican party in every legislative effort to relieve economic conditions and restore prosperity.

This seems to us to be a symbol of a new era in American party politics. The Democrats reserve their right to take sharp issue with the Administration and with the Republican legislators on all matters which are part of their party's program. But on subjects which are not partisan in their nature they promise what amounts to a coalition government.

There are hundreds of such questions to be decided by every session of Congress. It has been the custom in the past for the party whose representative does not occupy the White House to oppose everything which the Administration wants, regardless of its merits. In the past this has resulted in delay and sometimes the complete failure of programs which would have benefited everybody, merely because their sponsors were of a different political faith. Legislation has been partisan rather than business-like. We hope both parties will prove their patriotism by living up to the promises which the Democrats have made and the Republicans have accepted.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

ASTHMA

This attack was due to spasmodic contraction of the lesser bronchial passages, on a damp, chilly evening; the chloroform at once stopped the spasm, and breathing returned to normal. A point that determines the true asthmatic state is, the patient inhales quickly and easily, but he cannot exhale; the air gets out of the lung with great difficulty and slowly; the sufferer feels that his lungs will burst from air in them which cannot get out! Of course, a physician should be called for the asthmatic sufferer; there is no valuable "family remedy," though certain leaves, burned in a metal plate, give off smoke which is often effectual in quieting the spasm and drying up the load of mucous exudate which lines the tubes. Such "cures" do not remove the cause, of course—that is left for the doctor to combat. A hypo of morphine and atropine usually dismisses the attack, but is a habit former. The asthmatic should carry tablets of "Luminal" and use as the physician directs.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for November 30 ZACCHAEUS THE PUBLICAN-A BUSINESSMAN CONVERTED. Luke 19:1-10.

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

During the past summer tree sitting became a fad with many ambitious youths, and even some women, who wanted to establish a new kind of record. Zacchaeus also used a tree when he had a supreme purpose in mind. It was while Jesus was passing through Jericho for the last time. Curiosity was doubtless the motive that impelled him to get a sight of the Nazarene, about whom he had heard so much. When he tried to press near the bystanders would be none too gentle in elbowing him away. Then our man of determination ran around the crowd seeking some point of vantage on the road whither the company would pass. A sycamore tree with its outreaching, low-hanging branches revealed the possibility of an unobstructed view and to this place he climbed.

No matter how busy Jesus had been in meeting the outcries of individuals who needed help He always was aware of every one else in the crowded throng. When in sight of the tree-sitter He looked up with recognition. Then the unparalleled thing occurred as Jesus in a kindly manner called Zacchaeus by name. There was still greater amazement when the Passerby invited Himself to be the Guest that day of the man who was held in contempt by the entire community. When in the presence of Jesus there is instantly the consciousness of unworthiness. Involuntarily there is effort to measure up to His idea of righteousness. A quick audit of his record as tax collector revealed the excesses that had taken place in his office. What he had was wrongly gained called for restitution. At once one half of his goods are assigned to the poor.
