He collected $212.50 for dog taxes. "Street work consisted mainly of maintenance work except the removing of rock point on K street," the report read. Seven fires were reported for the year with amount of loss estimated at $1250, mostly covered by insurance. Fire equipment reported on hand consists of one truck with chemicals and 1000 feet of hose, four hand carts carrying 1200 feet of hose, and about 400 feet of old hose set apart for use at Rodeo field.

Road Work Discussed.

A proposition was made the council to participate in removing bluffs along the highway near the schoolhouse on the Oregon-Washington highway, the state to furnish labor and the county to supply compressor if the city will provide powder for blowing the rock. On discussion it was agreed that members of the council would meet with the county court yesterday to go further into the matter. The project was taken up by the state and county as a part of the emergency road program to help relieve the unemployment situation. Mayor and councilmen agreed that the work is much needed.

Standard Adopted in 1920.

Hollis Bull told Lions that up to 1920 when the United States standard of grades was adopted, wheat in this country was purchased on the same grade basis that still maintains in Canada, "fair and equal quality." With the adoption of the U. S. standard, five classes were defined as follows: hard red spring, hard red winter, soft red winter, white and western white. Typical wheats of each class were cited, showing the bulk of wheat raised in Morrow county fall under the white wheat class. To fall under any class, wheat must test at least 75 per cent kernels of that class. A greater mixture causes the wheat to be classed as plain mixed wheat, claiming a lower price.

Mrs. Wm. Baird Long Resident of This City

Mrs. Joseph William Baird, long a resident of Heppner, died at her home just south of town on Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock following a short illness. She took sick Saturday night and failed to rally from the sudden attack. Mrs. Baird had been a semi-invalid for a good many years, and much of the time was unable to leave her home, being one of Heppner's shut-ins. During all of this illness, however, she was always pleasant and cheerful, and uncomplicated, ever ready to enjoy the visits of friends and neighbors.

Funeral services were held at the Christian church at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday, Rev. Glenn P. White, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating, and interment followed in Masonic cemetery, all arrangements being in charge of Case Mortuary. Lucy Clanton Baird was born in Missouri, Sept. 20th, 1855, and departed this life January 4th, 1931, aged 75 years, 3 months and 14 days. She crossed the plains with her parents when six years of age. She came to Heppner in early womanhood, and in August, 1901, was united in marriage to Joseph William Baird. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, two sisters and two brothers. She had been a member of the Christian church in Heppner for the past 35 years.

SEE HISTORICAL PAGEANT.

While in Portland the past week attending the meeting of the Oregon State Teachers' association, Mrs. Frank Turner and Mrs. Lucy Rodgers were guests of the Oregon Historical society, which staged a pageant in the auditorium picturing the Oregon Trail scene as the pioneers were encamped on the banks of the Sweetwater in Wyoming. Many quaint costumes and pieces of furnishings were in evidence. Captain Applegate of southern Oregon, who is now 84 years of age, was one of the speakers of the evening. Beautiful music was featured and everyone was accorded a hearty welcome.

COUNTY WILL SPEND $58,900 FOR ROADS

Bleakman Urges Work be Pushed Rapidly; Many Arteries Get Help.

WHEAT IS DISCUSSED

Grading System Explained to Lions By H. M. Bull; J. O. Turner Views Future of Industry.

An insight into the wheat situation from local angles was given Lions Monday, with an explanation of wheat grades by Hollis M. Bull and citing of future prospects for the wheat price by Jesse O. Turner. The program was in charge of Mr. Bull. C. A. Bleakman, county commissioner, gave an outline of county road funds for 1931, and where they will be expended. Mr. Bleakman said it would be his policy as a member of the county court to have the county road work pushed as rapidly as possible to help alleviate the unemployment situation. The program calls for a total expenditure of $58,900, of which $27,000 is for general roads and bridges, and $1600 for emergency road purposes. The McKinney creek section of the Heppner-Spray road is allotted $15,000 of market road bond money. Other roads will receive a share as follows: Arbutle-Hinton creek $2500, Redding road $800, upper Willow creek $1500, upper Little Butter creek $1000, Stingle canyon $1000, Shobe canyon $1500, McConkile creek $700, McNabb west $800, McElligott road $1500, Cecil road $2000, Joe Hayes road $800, care taker $1200.

Standard Adopted in 1920.

Hollis Bull told Lions that up to 1920 when the United States standard of grades was adopted, wheat in this country was purchased on the same grade basis that still maintains in Canada, "fair and equal quality." With the adoption of the U. S. standard, five classes were defined as follows: hard red spring, hard red winter, soft red winter, white and western white. Typical wheats of each class were cited, showing the bulk of wheat raised in Morrow county fall under the white wheat class. To fall under any class, wheat must test at least 75 per cent kernels of that class. A greater mixture causes the wheat to be classed as plain mixed wheat, claiming a lower price.

SMUT IS THE LARGEST DOCKAGE ITEM.

Mr. Bull quoted figures from Columbia river terminal points for the crop year 1928-29 showing that of the 28,900 bushels received, 7,807,000 bushels were docked to the extent of 108,301 bushels for smut, a percentage of 374 on the whole amount received, and 14 on the amount on which smut dockage was made. Twenty-three percent of the soft white wheat received was docked for smut, this being the class for most of the Morrow county wheat. Dockage on this class was second largest, with mixed wheat first, 29.4 percent.

Protein content is the largest factor in determining the price variation between the different market classes, Mr. Bull said.

The higher protein-test wheats usually claim a premium on the market. Grain grading schools and activities of the Federal Farm board have done much the last year to make farmers more conscious of the part grading plays in their market, he said. Mr. Turner quoted production costs on his wheat farm to show that the wheat farmer and business dependent upon him is playing a losing game at the present market price. Ignoring manager's salary and interest on investment, recent figures for his farm show cost of production at 68 cents a bushel, with wheat he has in the warehouse worth 41 cents.

Asks for Debutenture.

He quoted Thomas Campbell, noted tractor farmer of Montana who spent two years in Russia, and Ralph Budd, president of the Northern Pacific railroad who spent a year there, to show that Russia is a real competitor with the United States in the future wheat market. Continuing under the present governmental plan of cooperative marketing in this country, he could see little probability of the tariff wall holding unduly real competition from Russia, and cited passing of the debutenture plan by congress as the best method to bring about immediate relief to the wheat farmer of the United States.
