The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be postponed from Tuesday evening until Wednesday evening, February 4. There will be initiation at this meeting. At the last meeting of the auxiliary the following prizes were decided upon for the Flag Code questionnaire: $2 will be given to the boy winning first place in each grade and $1 to the winner of second place in each grade, also a prize will be given to the room which averages the highest score, providing that at least three of the boys of that grade turn in answers to the questionnaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Brosnan were in the city Monday from the Butter creek ranch, where there is evidence of spring, the result of the very moderate weather of the past ten days. Buttercups on the hills and pussy willows coming forth along the creek are unfailing signs of approaching spring which are appearing at various points in Morrow county some two or three weeks ahead of former seasons. With the warmer weather the grass on the ranges begins to green and succulent feed puts forth, much to the delight of the sheepman.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barratt motored to Portland on Sunday, spending a few days in the city visiting with relatives. Mr. Barratt also attended the meeting of stockmen held in the city Monday for the purpose of promoting the organization of a cooperative marketing association under the provisions of the national farm act, of the sheepmen and cattlemen of Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Joan Crawford in PAID, from "Within the Law," Star Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Lotus Robison was attending to business at the court house Tuesday. Heavy rains during the past week in the mountain country south of Hardman were the means of raising numerous creeks to a flood stage. While there is not the usual amount of snow there has been abundant rainfall and apparently no serious shortage of moisture will be experienced.

Martin Lovgren was attending to business affairs in Heppner Saturday afternoon and took time to call on the G. T. with a silver offering, which we acknowledge with thanks. Eight Mile seems to be coming along all right so far as crops are concerned, and the winter has been ideal.

Henry Rauch, who farms in the Alpine section, was a visitor in the city Saturday. Numerous farmers out that way are taking advantage of the warm weather and getting into the fields with the plows. The ground is in excellent condition for the work now.

Ben Swaggart spent Monday and part of Tuesday in town from the Eastern Oregon Stock farm, where he states many signs of spring are in evidence. The growing grass on the range is the one evidence that particularly interests him now.

W. G. Palmateer stepped in to see us while looking after business matters at Heppner Saturday. He has been busy during this good weather finishing his seedling, and reports crops coming well in the Morgan country.

Sheriff Clarence Bauman returned from Portland on Sunday. He spent several days in the city while attending the convention of sheriffs, and reports one of the best meetings it has yet been his privilege to attend.

Mrs. Wm. Instone was a pleasant caller at the G. T. office on Monday, while spending a short time in the city. The family is recovering from a siege of mumps which has kept them confined at home for many weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Copenhaver were Heppner visitors Saturday from the farm home north of Swaggart buttes. Mild weather and lots of moisture are bringing the crops along well, Mr. Copenhaver reports.

Mrs. Henrietta Cohn, after visiting for a time with her sons, Harold and Henry Cohn here, departed for Pendleton Monday where she will be a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brock.

Good rains and crops coming along fine is the report of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Padberg who were doing their week-end shopping in the city Saturday from the farm home on Heppner flat.

Mrs. Mary Sperry, who has been very ill at her home in this city for the past two weeks, is reported improving by her physician. Mrs. Jess Hall is acting as night nurse for Mrs. Sperry.

Mrs. Mark Merrill, who is a patient at Morrow General hospital where last week she underwent a major operation, is reported as improving and will shortly be able to return home.

Jas. Burnside was a visitor in the city on Monday from the ranch out Hardman way. As a stockman Mr. Burnside was rejoicing over the fine weather conditions of the open winter.

Harold Mason, who recently suffered injuries by being thrown from a horse, went to the Veterans' hospital at Portland Friday night, where he will remain for treatment.

J. D. Cash has been in Portland this week for a few days while attending the meeting of managers and executives of the northwest area of the J. C. Penney company.

Chas. Barlow and family were in Portland over the week end, and while in the city were guests at the home of the parents of Mrs. Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Akers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wells spent Sunday in Pendleton, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wells. They were accompanied to Pendleton by Gus Williamson.

The Women's Missionary society of the Church of Christ will meet Tuesday, February 3, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Robert Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Johnson were visitors here Saturday from their home in the lower Gooseberry country.

A pleasant letter from A. M. Phelps of Bend carries the report that times are rather slow in the Deschutes mill town, but looking up. The Shevlin-Hixon mill has been closed for 30 days, and may not open for 30 days more. The two mills of Brooks-Scanlon, the company for which Mr. Phelps is working have both been operating one shift, one being now closed for repairs and the other working two shifts. Miss Elizabeth Phelps, who had a five-weeks' siege in a Portland hospital, is quite well recovered and was expected home last Saturday.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cox gathered at their country home Sunday evening, honoring Mr. Cox's birthday. The party was in the nature of a surprise and those attending were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Bull and Miss Alice Montgomery of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson of Heppner. The evening was spent in playing bridge, Miss Montgomery and Mr. Gilliam receiving honors. Refreshments, in which was included a large birthday cake, were served.

K. L. Beach, Lexington hardware merchant, spent a short time in this city Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Rietmann were lone people in this city for a short time Saturday.

DR. LAMBERT NOW ENDORSES SARGON

"I was spending the winter in San Antonio, Texas, when I first heard of Sargon. The treatment appealed to me because of its thorough scientific background. I decided to try it for a very bad form of chronic constipation, which I was entirely unable to correct with ordinary laxatives and purgatives used in general practice."

DR. GILBERT S. LAMBERT

"I was also subject to severe bilious attacks. My complexion had become yellow as though I had jaundice. My appetite was below normal. My food did not digest or assimilate, causing gas and indigestion. I was losing weight and strength rapidly."

"Three bottles of Sargon and one bottle of the Pills relieved me entirely of these troubles and I no longer have any liver or biliary symptoms. In fact, I am in better physical tone than in years."

"Sargon undoubtedly represents a real advance in the field of medicine."—Dr. Gilbert S. Lambert, San Francisco.

Mutton Dressed Up.

In Heppner, where we may have lamb or mutton throughout the year we are apt to grow tired of its flavor, or even its appearance at dinner and rack our brains to find some new and interesting way to serve it to the family. A knowledge of the various cuts and the principles used in cooking both tender and tough cuts is essential in preparing any kind of meat.

The main principles in cooking the less tender cuts are to cook at a low temperature, to add some water or an acid such as vinegar or tomato juice which helps to break down the connective tissues and to score, or pound which also helps to make the connective tissues more edible.

The same directions and recipes may be used for cooking either lamb or mutton, although a little more time should be allowed for mutton. Since mutton has more fat, it should be cooked and served with sauces or vegetables which have a tendency to lessen the fat flavor.

Recipes:
1. Individual Lamb Pies—
2 cups diced lamb; 1 small onion, ground; 1 c dried potatoes; 1½ t. salt; 2 t. chili sauce; ¼ c diced carrots; 2 c lamb stock or gravy; pepper.
Use left-over lamb or mutton. Cube and brown together with the onion and 2 tablespoons of fat. Add vegetables which may have been left over or cooked first, and the gravy and seasoning. Cook all together for ten minutes to develop the flavor and to thoroughly heat. Pour into individual baking dishes such as custard cups. Cover the top with biscuit dough and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) until the dough is well baked and brown—about 25-30 minutes. Serve hot in the same dish in which the pie was baked.

2. Escalloped Mutton with Macaroni—
Use left over roast. Cut the meat into thin strips. Dredge lightly with flour. At the same time put 1 cup of macaroni on to cook in boiling, salted water. Grease a baking dish and cover the bottom with a layer of bread crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper. Cover this with a layer of meat, add a layer of macaroni, and repeat until dish is almost full. Add enough white sauce or tomato sauce to moisten contents thoroughly. Sprinkle buttered breadcrumbs on top and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Serves six.

3. Mutton Chops with Dressing—
Trim and remove the extra fat from six mutton chops. Brown them on both sides. Season with salt and pepper.
Make a dressing of 2 c bread-crumbs, ½ c stock or water, 2 T butter, 1 t salt, pepper, chopped parsley or onion.
Grease a baking dish. Put in the dressing and place chops on top. Pour ½ c water over them. Add a tight-fitting lid and bake in oven for 40-60 minutes or until chops are tender.

4. Vegetables to serve with mutton—
Harvard beets, creamed carrots, string beans, asparagus, cauliflower, turnips, spinach, peas, tomatoes, brussels sprouts, creamed onions.

5. Liver Loaf—
Grind the liver fine and for each cup of liver add 2 cups fine soft breadcrumbs, 1 T fat, ¼ t. pepper, cayenne, celery salt, and 4 eggs beaten. Combine well and pour in to a buttered mold, set in a pan of
