

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERREIM, Correspondent.

Jesse Cox, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cox, former residents on the project, who has been ill the past year following a severe case of pneumonia, was operated on last week at North Bend and a piece of rubber drain tube was found in his side. The side had never healed since the previous operation, and this was apparently the reason. It is hoped he will now recover. The little lad is a grandson of the Barlow's.

L. E. Marschat motored to The Dalles Friday to see Mrs. Marschat and the new baby, Lawrence Eugene. He drove down again on Wednesday and brought Mrs. Marschat and son home.

Miss Emma Beaverness fell recently and threw her elbow out of place, necessitating a trip to the doctor. It has been quite painful but seems to be healing nicely.

Erna, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Skoubo, had a large boil on her head which the doctor lanced one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barlow, Mrs. Guy Barlow and Mrs. Claude Coats motored to Pendleton Saturday to see the new nine-pound boy who came to the Truman Messenger home January 27. He has been named James Franklin for his grandfather, J. F. Barlow.

The Misses Shellenberger and McMahon were dinner guests at the King home on Sunday.

One of the most pleasurable meetings was that held Tuesday, Jan. 27, at the schoolhouse when Mrs. Harriet Sinnard of O. S. C. met with 25 of the Boardman women and gave a valuable lesson in teaching them to make over garments. This is something most Boardman women have had experience with but it was interesting to see Mrs. Sinnard take a garment and remodel it with new and up-to-date lines. The meeting was sponsored by the H. E. club and the usual sumptuous luncheon, was served at the noon hour.

Ray Barlow was host at a party Tuesday evening, having four tables of "500" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barlow. Honors went to Rachel Johnson and Guy Barlow, and Noel Kiltz and Katharine Brown. Others attending were Mrs. Titus, Miss McMahon, Miss Schultz, Hector Wicklander, Buester Randt, Alex Ayers, Orla L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy and the host.

An article in a Portland paper last week proved of interest to Boardman residents who knew the Dutchers. It seems the Dutchers hired a truck to move their household goods from Hegeta to Swiss-home. The truck was overturned and the load washed out to sea. Since, suit has been started by W. E. Dutcher against the truck driver for $3000. The truck contained a radio, piano, collection of 400 rare old coins and other articles. The Dutchers rented the Broyles ranch one year and were quite popular within their circle of friends while here.

Mrs. Jess Allen visited in La Grande last week with her son and family who brought her home on Saturday.

Howard Ellis and Elmer Tyler who are working on the section at Rock Creek were home on Sunday. The Benetts were up on Willow creek and spent Sunday at the Ellis home.

Friday, Feb. 20, is the annual Worlds Day of Prayer and will be observed in this community by the Ladies Aid who will meet that day at the Messenger home. This meeting will take the place of the missionary meeting which is always held on the third Wednesday of the month. Everyone is invited to attend. A program is being arranged by Mrs. D. W. Miller.

Pauline Strobel had several of her friends come Monday afternoon to celebrate her sixth birthday. Games were played and a lunch enjoyed at which paper caps and dainty baskets were an added attraction to the birthday cake. Little guests were Stanton Hadley, Milton Surface, Bobby King, Maxene and Dorothy Cooney, Elizabeth Kristensen, Frances Skoubo, Ernest and Hilma Lee Tyler.

Friends of Mrs. Edith B. Crawford will be interested to hear of her pleasant winter in California with her son Harry, a former instructor in manual training in the local school who is now instructor

LEXINGTON NEWS

Mrs. Charles Inderbitzen of Portland is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ingles.

Saturday evening both the boys and girls high school teams played basketball at Irrigon. They won both games.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hunt attended the Legion banquet at Arlington Monday evening.

HARDMAN.

The home of Miss Billy Leathers was the scene of a pleasant party Saturday night when about forty young people gathered there for a party given in honor of the graduation of Lucille Farrens from the Hardman high school. Games were played for a few hours after which delicious refreshments of cake, jelly and cocoa were served.

We are fortunate to have with us Alfred Caldwell and Oliver Berene, evangelists who are holding a series of meetings here that have been largely attended, especially by out of town people.

Rev. and Mrs. B. Stanley Moore were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bleakman Friday evening.

n't notice the approach of the car and failed to get the horses out of the road in time to prevent the collision. The horses were blinded and frightened at the car lights and ran directly into the car, breaking the windshield. Both Mr. and Mrs. Burnside received minor cuts and bruises but they were not seriously hurt. Don't forget the three-act play, "Rube and His Ma," scheduled for February 14 at the Hardman high school auditorium. This play is being sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore and the money goes to the Hardman Sunday school. Admission prices are 10c for children and 25 cents for adults.

EDITORIAL It must be awfully disgusting to a prize laying hen to see the market quotations on eggs. ALBERT ADKINS, Editor. This Spring weather gives us the urge to urge you to start Spring Cleaning early. Paint inside and outside. The inside painting can be done any time and is an excellent thing to do if Old Man Winter returns and keeps us inside. D. O. Justus was hauling out lumber to his Hinton creek farm this week.

Don't be deceived by this balmy weather; keep the coal bin full and "Be Prepared." Congratulations, Boy Scouts, on your Twenty-First Birthday. We are always glad to have Scouts drop in and see us. There are a lot of things that Scouts make of Lumber and "We like to help them build." If your house is in a bad fix, have it fixed With Tum-A-Lum Sticks. "You remind me of the ocean." "How? Wild, romantic, restless?" "No, you just make me sick."
