Official Paper for Morrow County.

THIS MONTH OF MARCH.

(Autoenster Service)

MARCH used to be the first month in the year, in the days when folk calculated the year's begin-ning from the day when the sun crosses the Equator on his journey northward. The Vernal Equinox occurs on the 21st of March, and from then on the days are longer than the nights until the third week in September. The old Anglo-Saxon name for March was "Lencten-monath," or "lengthening month," because the days grow longer so rap-By.

Deca Deceased.

D. N. Mackay Condon, Oregon,
Attorney for the Administrator.

Scotland the last three days of March are called "the borrowing," the idea being that March has borrowed three days from April.

All over the world March, as the beginning of Spring, has been an important month in the religious ceremonials which are supposed to insure bountiful crops. The dead world comes to life again in March. and begins its cycle all over. There is sound logic in the old system of starting the year's reckoning with March, a custom which Scotland did not drop until 1699, and which persisted in England until 1752. In the Christian calendar the most important festival, Easter, celebrating the Resurrection, fixes its date from Vernal Equinox; Easter Sunday is the Sunday after the first full moon that follows the 21st of March. Every religion has a festival thus commemorating the renewal of life in Spring,

Much of this country is still snow-covered in March. In the northern states potatoes, the first crop to be seeded, will not be planted until April, while from Virginia south they are already in the ground. But everywhere Spring is in the air, and preparations are under way for the perennial struggle between Man and Soil, the struggle in which Man is so often defeated but which he approaches every year with renewed hope.

THE PRESIDENT'S TERM.

(Autocaster Service) EXACTLY one-half of the term for which President Hoover was elected has been completed. Only his party will decide whether to renominate him or to select somebody else to carry the Republican banner. Between now and June of 1932 both parties will c ncentrate their attention not upon the administration of the Government of the Uni ted States but upon how best to hold or to seize the reins of Government for themselves.

There is something radically wrong with a system which gives the President, whether he be Democrat or Republican, barely time to get started in his job before the whole country is thrown into a turmoil over the question of his suc-cessor. Everybody with good sense recognizes that that is true, but the problem is how to change it.

One proposal which has been ser-iously put forth many times, and which might work better than the present system, is to amend the Constitution so as to make the President's term seven years, with no reelection. That would relieve the President of all necessity for "playing politics" in office with an eye to renomination, and it would give him time to master the job and prove his constructive ability.

Probably it will be a long time before that plan can be put into effect, if at all. Another suggested system is to shorten the time between the election of the President and his assumption of office, as well as to cut down the length of political campaigns. That has good sense in it. too. After a new President and Congress have been elected in November, the old ones continue to function until the Fourth of the next March. Once the people have decided upon a change, why not make the change effective at once?

The Congress whose sessions end ed this Fourth of March is not the Congress that was elected last November. Those senators and Rep resentatives will not meet, unless called in special session, until next December, more than a year after their election. Then, after a single session in Congress, the members of the lower house will have to go out and seek re-election. In 1787, when the system was set up in the Constitution, it took weeks or even months of travel between the outlying states and the seat of government, and it was necessary to give newly-elected officials plen ty of time after election before taking up their duties. But there is no such excuse now. Two or three weeks would be plenty of time, after election day, in which to count all the votes and have them certified, and inaugurate the new President and the new Congress. And a campaign which runs from June until November takes up very much more time than is needed, in these days of rapid communications and universal ability to read, to educate the voters to the merits of the different issues and candidates.

The felow who wondered what boys and girls could raise, beginnig with "H", besides horses and hogs, has learned that maybe there are some things more important than livestock. He was told that the four "H's" stand for hand, head heart and health-of the boys and Marshal Devin complains that motorists obey the school stop sign when he's watching, but many igore it when he's not. Wonder if parents ever noticed the same thing about children?

A new definition for cooperation was given by L. J. Allen in his "4-H" club talk before Lions Monday: "So conduct yourself that others can work with you." That's a slant worth considering.
