PROTESTS FEATURE FARM LOAN ACTION

Money Available to Work Summerfallow, Hyde Tells Steiwer.

MAHONEY QUILTS JOB

Local Banker Condemns Ineffectiveness of Administration; Farmers Urged to Write to Board.

Morrow county farmers may at last receive some financial assistance from the government according to word just issued by Secretary Hyde that farm relief loans will be made for summerfallow operations in eastern Oregon. This word followed protests from Senator Steiwer and W. P. Mahoney, Heppner banker, and the resignation of Mr. Mahoney as head of the advisory board in Morrow county.

R. L. Bengtson has been appointed to a place on the local board and C. B. Cox has taken the chairmanship.

The protests of Mr. Steiwer and Mr. Mahoney, as told in a Washington news dispatch in yesterday's Oregonian, declared that only one drouth relief loan had been made in Oregon, and that the farm relief measure was a farce as administered in this section.

Mr. Mahoney contended that those in charge of the Grand Forks, N. D., office had no conception of farming conditions in this section, as shown by their answer to one application for a loan of $250 on 250 acres of wheat land, in which they advised the farmer to diversify and rejected the application. Only one loan has been allowed in Oregon out of 114,600 made, involving $17,445,600, the report stated.

Field Man to Visit.

In addition to the ruling obtained by Secretary Hyde from the solicitor of intermediate credit that loans be made for working summerfallow for the 1932 crop, ex-Governor Davis of Idaho was detailed to confer with Oregon people and it is expected that he will visit Morrow county within a short time, according to word given out yesterday by C. W. Smith, county agent.

Mr. Smith advised that it would be well for all farmers in this county who have made applications for loans to write the county board a letter explaining their situations and the urgent need for relief, then a full showing may be made to ex-Governor Davis when he arrives to make his investigation.

Report of the protests of Mr. Steiwer and Mr. Mahoney as given in the Oregonian dispatch, follows:

"Mr. Mahoney informed Secretary Hyde there has been no man on the various administration boards with a knowledge of northwest conditions. 'Without practical knowledge they expound to us theories about diversified farming in eastern Oregon which sections. No amount of theoretical talking and letter writing will change climatic conditions in the territory mentioned to enable it to become a diversified farming district.'"

Relief Measure Fails.

The well-known banker specially mentioned Morrow, Gifford, Sherman, Wasco, Umatilla counties and detailed how farming is conducted there. Warming up in his indignation, he told the secretary that it is a sad commentary on present affairs "after so many brilliant promises of relief for agriculture" that there should be "failure to provide any immediate or permanent relief in any particular."

From Oklahoma today Senator Steiwer telegraphed Secretary Hyde that the relief machinery has done nothing in Oregon and reiterated his assurance no worth-while result is possible unless an office for direct loans is established in the northwest, as Grand Forks accomplishes nothing.

Credit Would Help.

"Indirect loans from the intermediate credit bank," telegraphed Steiwer, "will be most helpful if genuine, prompt effort is made to supply adequate agencies and provide capital loans for credit corporations. I hope you will see that effective action is taken."

As a result of these proceedings, Secretary Hyde tonight telegraphed Senator Steiwer that a ruling had been obtained from the solicitor that loans needed in Oregon for summerfallowing can be made. This ruling is very important, as heretofore the department has insisted on the 1931 crop as security for loans. Summerfallowing this year is for the 1932 crop. Money for summerfallowing operations has been the big Oregon need.

MANUSCRIPT ACCEPTED.

The manuscript of Earl Thomson, local high school student, has been accepted for entrance in the Oregonian state oratorical contest. C. L. Sewek is contest director for this district. Dates and places for competition were not known, when the report was made.

Word received by Frank Turner this week from Kenneth J. Ackley, who last summer was a reporter on this paper, states that he is now with the Record at Baker. Formerly a weekly paper, the Record has now become a daily, being issued as a morning paper.

Instructors Elected For Heppner Schools

Selection of the list of teachers for the Heppner schools for the coming school year was nearly completed at the meeting of the board of education on Tuesday evening. It is expected the full corps will be chosen by this week end. Nearly the entire teaching force of the present year has been retained, and the new teachers will fill the places of but three, and possibly only two, that are going elsewhere. Theo. Lumley of the high school has applied for another position in the county and may be accepted, as Mrs. Lumley may also have a place in the school as a grade teacher. Should he not receive this place, he will be retained at Heppner.

Those elected at Tuesday's meeting were Beth Bleakman, 1st grade; Elizabeth Dix, 2nd grade; Helen Olsen, 3rd grade; Adelyn O'Shea, 4th grade; Juanita Leathers, 5th grade; Miriam McDonald, 6th grade; Blanche Hansen, 7th grade; Harold W. Buhman, grade principal and teacher of 8th grade; Paul Menegat, high school principal; Jessie E. Palmer, home economics; Charlotte E. Woods, music; Neil Shurman, supervisory physical training; Alice Montgomery, English and Madge Coppock, commercial.

At this meeting the school board also closed a deal for the land lying on the flat east of Willow creek, with J. L. Morrow, which will be added to the campus, making a fine playground that has been a long-felt want.

Golf Course Improved; Is in Good Condition

Heppner's golf course presents its most inviting appearance. This spring, having undergone much improvement under the personal supervision of Roy Ohleschlager, recently named president of the club, and devotees of the grand old Scotch sport are enjoying added zest given their game by the improvement.

Since work was started several weeks ago all the greens and tees have been smoothed, new cups placed, and part of the fairways graded where most needed. In addition, the course of the road going up the hill to the links has been changed, eliminating the bad rocky place on the old road and making the course easier of access for automobiles. Repainting of benches and signs, with distance of holes marked, has also been undertaken, and adds much to the appearance of the links.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barton, and their daughters, Barbara and Shirley of Portland, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Barton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis.

On Wednesday, April 1, Lexington grange will meet as usual. Master S. J. Devine desires the presence of all members who can come, as there will be much important business to discuss. Although it had been planned to initiate new members at this meeting, the initiation will be postponed until a later date.

Fred Kuns, who has for some time been ill at his home in Lexington, has been obliged to return to the Heppner hospital for treatment.

On Saturday evening Lexington grange held its regular social meeting. A program was given, after which those present were divided into groups, who competed in a series of games. The committee preparing the evening's entertainment was Mrs. John Miller, chairman, Mrs. Ed Kelly, Mrs. Harry Shriever and Mrs. Harry Dingess.

Demonstrations of the old and new ways of doing housework were given. Eva Wilcox, Helen Smouse and Alice Palmer gave a skit, and Danby Dingess gave a reading.

Mrs. Nellie Dingess and Mrs. A. W. Jones of Portland are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dingess.

Miss Helen Valentine returned Thursday, March 19, and will spend her spring vacation with her parents.

Buster Gentry came home from Corvallis on Monday.

Saturday morning Miss Helen Falconer and Miss Helen Wells accompanied Mrs. Frank Turner to Walla Walla where they spent the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Furtney of Portland spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Peck. Mrs. Furtney was formerly Arlene Morey. Mr. and Mrs. Furtney returned home on Monday morning.

Mrs. McNeil of Portland, accompanied by her son Gordon, is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Shriever.

Mrs. Laura Scott entertained a group of her friends at a "500" party on Friday evening.

COLLEGE STUDENTS HOME.

Among Morrow county students attending higher institutions of learning who visited at home during spring vacation this week are the Misses Marjorie Clark and Patricia Mahoney, Merle Becket, Vawter and John Parker of Heppner, from the University of Oregon; the Misses Erma Duvall and Helen Valentine of Lexington from the U. of O., and Terrel Bengtson and Roderick Thomson from Oregon State college.

HEADS FROLIC FEATURES.

University of Oregon, Eugene, March 25—Marjorie Barton Clark of Heppner has been selected to arrange the features for the April Frolic at the University of Oregon.

The Frolic is for university women and for senior high school girls who are prospective students. It is a costume affair, and stunts are given by the various classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Thorn of Pomeroy were guests over Saturday night and part of Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reavley in this city. Mr. Thorn, formerly of Heppner where he was local manager of Pacific Power & Light company, holds this position at Pomeroy.

Howard Keithley, who has been ill for several weeks from pneumonia, underwent a major operation at Heppner hospital on Monday. His recovery has been slow and it is hoped that the operation will assist in restoring his health.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET IN INSTITUTE

Eighty Attend Meet at Lexington; Paul Menegat Delegate to National Education Conclave.

RUTH DINGES, Correspondent.

Teacher's institute was held in Lexington, Friday, at the school-home. Exhibits of the work being done by pupils in Morrow county was displayed in the various school-rooms. In the morning Mr. Riggs and the regular business meeting was held. Mrs. Irl Clary of Alpine, Mrs. Lillian C. Turner of Lexington and George E. Tucker of Ione gave talks on their experiences at the last annual meeting of the O. S. T. A. in Portland. S. E. Notson spoke on various phases of the teacher's work, stressing the idea that the building of character was more important to the pupil than mere book learning, a great deal of which will probably soon be forgotten. Mrs. Dawald of Irirrig spoke on "The Dull and Retarded Child," explaining something of his psychology and giving a number of suggestions for teaching him.

At noon the ladies of Lexington P. T. A. served dinner in the Leach Memorial hall. About eighty teachers were served.

In the afternoon there was more group singing, after which a vote was taken to determine who would be the official delegate to the N. E. A. convention at Los Angeles. Paul Menegat of Heppner was chosen.

Mr. Marschat, principal from Boardman, spoke on the ethics of the teaching profession. After his talk the meeting broke up into sectional groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barton, and their daughters, Barbara and Shirley of Portland, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Barton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis.

On Wednesday, April 1, Lexington grange will meet as usual. Master S. J. Devine desires the presence of all members who can come, as there will be much important business to discuss. TWILIGHT LEAGUE PLAYERS WANTED; NOBODY IS BARRED

Many men about town remember the good time had a few years ago when a twilight baseball league was formed in Heppner. And many have been heard to remark, "Why can't it be done again?"

There's a lot of fellows who admit they can play better ball than some of the fellows who appear in uniform on the town team each year. In fact, if any fellow ever played baseball, he is prone to deny that he can't play just as good as he ever did.

But that's not here or there. The idea is, if a fellow ever really played baseball, when just the right "feel" to the air comes in the springtime, he "itches" to get hold of the "old apple" again.

All of which leads to the case in point. The "feel" is in the air now, and some of the fellows have arranged a time and place to start twilight ball this year. They have given out word that any and all men between the ages of 5 and 60 who ever did, or who think that they would like to, play baseball, should report at Roddey field at 5 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) evening. The purpose will be to choose up, or otherwise select teams, to play a series of five-inning games two or three evenings a week.

Nobody is barred; all are urged to turn out.

O. S. C. Band Appears At Arlington Tomorrow

Attired in new and colorful military uniforms, the Oregon State college band will arrive in Arlington early tomorrow in time to make several public appearances before their concert that evening at the high school gymnasium. The band will stage a street parade in full regalia some time during the day.

The concert in the evening is being sponsored by the high school. A dance in the high school gymnasium with the selected college dance orchestra as music will follow the concert.

Forty-five of the best college musicians are in the band, which includes a saxophone quartet and an eight piece collegiate dance band composed of band members and selected as the pick of the campus musicians.

The band itself will feature such famous numbers as "William Tell Overture," "Semiramide," "Stars and Stripes Forever," including a number of college medleys used in Chicago. Ted Gilbert of Albany, a radio singer of considerable experience and a member of the band, will contribute several selections. Incidentally he won the local audition in the Atwater-Kent contest last year and competed in the state contest in Portland. In addition to the regular concert numbers a varied program which includes vocal and instrumental solos, quartet features and two reels of campus life will be offered. Even the campus clowns will be at large.

During its stay in Arlington, the band will be quartered at the Vendome hotel.

Local Wool Cooperative Gets Optimistic Report

Encouragement to wool growers is seen in late wool market reports received by the Pacific Cooperative Wool growers from the National Wool Marketing corporation. The ten-year-old Pacific organization is one of the 26 unit members of the national sales agency and last year delivered approximately one-ninth of the huge national accumulation of 119,000,000 pounds.

"There is a decidedly better feeling throughout the entire wool manufacturing industry," says the national corporation. "Full goods lines are opening with promise of increased volume of sales."

"Woolen mills are getting more business. London prices have been fully maintained. All foreign markets are strong. The Brisbane sale closed March 12, with prices about 30 per cent above January lows. Only about 400,000 bales of the Australian clip are left to sell out of a total clip of about 2,100,000 bales.

"Stocks of wool in domestic markets will be low by the time the new clip comes on in volume. The market is witnessing a much greater demand for three-eighths wool, which has not had a real call in eighteen months.

"There is growing belief among close followers of the textile industry that the improvement witnessed during the past month heralds the opening of a period of strong prices. While no one expects any very radical upturn in the near future, steady advancement as conditions warrant seem to be fairly generally anticipated.

Wools are beginning to arrive at the warehouse of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers at 12th and Davis streets, Portland. The association has for several months been making prehearing advances to grower-members in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, California and Nevada and wool advances are available upon delivery of the clip. It is expected that the Pacific's 1931 volume will at least equal its 1930 accumulation of ten million pounds.

Miss Virginia Dix who is a student at Whitman, arrived home on Tuesday to spend a short vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dix.

PIONEER'S BIRTH HONORED AT IONE

Many Attend Dinner for W. F. Palmateer; Week's Activities Of Neighbor City Told.

JENNIE E. McMURRAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal O. Ely were hosts Sunday at a most enjoyable dinner party given at their home on Second street. The occasion was in celebration of the seventy-third birthday anniversary of Mrs. Ely's father, W. F. Palmateer of Morgan. Besides the hosts and honor guest, those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harbison, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ekleberry, Mr. and Mrs. Rood Ekleberry, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ely and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Ely and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morgan and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Palmateer and children, George Ely and son Frances, Wallace Matthews, W. G. Palmateer, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Froedson and daughter Francis, Edith and Margaret Ely, Rev. W. W. Head and daughter Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bauerfeind and son, Mrs. Willard Farrrens and Mrs. Della Corson. A most delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Ely, and after a pleasant afternoon the guests departed, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Ely for their kind hospitality and wishing Mr. Palmateer many happy returns of the day. Mr. Palmateer was born at Estacada, Oregon, Mar. 22, 1858, and has been a farmer all his life. Thirty-three years ago he bought the farm near Morgan where he still makes his home. He is a loyal son of Oregon, only having been out of the state a few times, and then only for short visits. He enjoys good health. Four of his five children live near him. A daughter, Mrs. DeShazer, resides at Dilly.

The school declamatory contest was held Friday evening in the auditorium with the following contestants named as winners: division 1, oratorical, Donald Heliker, first; Helen Smouse and Francis Ely tied for alternate; humorous, Jean Huston, first; Walter Bristow, alternate; dramatic, Minnie Normoyle, first; Elizabeth Head, alternate; division 2 (grades 5-7-8), humorous, Junior Mason, first; Stuart Rankin, alternate; non-humorous, Carl Lindeken, first; Eugene Normoyle, alternate; division 3 (grades 1-2-3-4), humorous, Harold Buchanan, first; Van Rietman, alternate; non-humorous, Mary K. Blake, first; Paul Rietman, alternate. Judges for the try-out were Alice Montgomery of Lexington, Paul Menegat of Heppner and W. W. Head of Ione. Mrs. Earl Blake substituting for Mr. Head in dramatics.

The high school divisional declamatory contest between the winners from Heppner, Ione, Hardman and Lexington will be held at this place March 28. An admission fee of 15 and 25 cents will be charged. The divisional contest of the grades will be March 27 at Lexington, with representatives from Ione, Lexington, Heppner and the near-by rural districts competing.

The O. E. S. Social club met in regular session on Friday afternoon at Masonic hall. Mrs. W. J. Blake was hostess. Other members present were Mrs. R. E. Harbison, Mrs. A. A. McCabe, Mrs. Oliver Kincaid, Mrs. Peter Timm, Mrs. Roy Lieualen, Mrs. Carl Feldman, Mrs. John Krebs, Mrs. George Krebs, Mrs. Ella Davidson, Mrs. Ray Bezeley and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy.

All of the Ione teachers were in attendance at the institute held Friday at Lexington. Our 4-H Sewing club has completed the work for the year and this work was exhibited at the institute. There are 12 members of the club. Miss Hildegard Williams, third and fourth grade teacher, is the efficient leader of the club.

David Grabill was taken to Heppner Friday where he entered the hospital for treatment.

DR. HALL TO SPEAK.

Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon, has accepted the invitation to deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of Heppner high school on May 15, announces W. R. Poulson, superintendent. Rev. Thomas D. Yarnes, Methodist minister of Salem, has accepted the invitation to deliver the baccalaureate address to the same class on the school auditorium. May 10. Both exercises will be held.

LODGE GIVES CUP.

The Ione I. O. O. F. lodge is donor of the silver loving cup to be awarded the school winning the lower division of the county spelling contest, announces Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, county school superintendent.

George R. Barker and F. A. Doty of Portland, and Fred, Dean and Bob Owen of Everett, Wash., arrived here Wednesday and proceeded to the Fischer mill on Rhea creek. These gentlemen come fully prepared to take over this property and it will be put into operation immediately, so this paper is informed.

Mrs. Joel R. Benton's young people's class of the Christian church was very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Barratt, east of town, Tuesday evening, a taffy pull being the main feature on the program, while many amusing games were played.

Lexington Couple Enjoy 50 Years of Wedded Life

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis near Lexington was the scene of a very happy gathering on Wednesday, the occasion being the celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are pioneers of this county, having settled at Lexington in 1883, and that place has been their home continuously ever since. They were married at Durham, Cal., March 25, 1881, and it was two years after this event that they came to Oregon.

Nine children have been born to this union, and all of these were present on this occasion but two, Lottie S. Allison, deceased, and Glen Davis, residing at Bend. The other children present for the occasion were Lucy E. Pointer of Oakland, Calif.; Clark T. Davis, Jas. L. Davis and Mabel C. Gray of Lexington; Leona A. Slate of Bend; Nettie V. Barton of Tulalip, Wash., and Gladestine C. Mikesell of Toppenish, Wash.

Heppner Schools Choose Declamatory Entrants

Elimination contests for the selection of entrants in the sectional declamatory meets were finished in the Heppner schools the first of the week, and representatives of the school were named.

Theodore Thomson will enter the oratorical division of the high school meet; Earl Thomson, the dramatic, and Ralph Currin, the humorous. In the grades, Iene Kilkenny will represent the upper division non-humorous, and Francis Rugg, the humorous section. Alice Latourell will appear in the lower division non-humorous and Mary Moore in the humorous section.

The high school sectional contest in which Heppner will take part will be held at Ione on Saturday, the 28th, and the grade school contest at Lexington on Friday, the 27th.

Oregon Gets Forest Highway Money

Oregon will receive $1,344,741 out of the allocation of $9,500,000 in forest highway funds to be expended in 33 states and territories in the fiscal year 1932, according to announcement issued today by the regional forester, Portland.

The total for the United States is the same as that available for the current fiscal year, which in point of highway construction on the national forests is to set a new record. The 1931 program is being rushed to aid in relief of unemployment, as well as to open up national forest areas to use and to facilitate protection of forest and watershed against fire, according to the regional forester.

Oregon ranks second of all the states in total amount received, being exceeded only by California. The funds are used in the states having national forest lands within their boundaries and apportioned on a basis of acreage and value of these forests. Construction and maintenance of forest highways is handled by the Bureau of Public Roads.

The highway-building program for the national forests was more than doubled for the current year, $5,000,000 having been added by congress to the amount appropriated annually in recent years. Reports from many communities indicate that road building in the national forests is proving helpful in relieving the local unemployment situation.

The forest highways are first-class roads, generally linking up with state highway systems. The Forest Service is also expending $3,000,000 on forest development roads and trails within the national forests in fiscal year 1931, as part of an annual program of development and forest protection.

CONTESTS THIS WEEK.

Sectional contests in the Morrow County Declamatory League, including all the schools of the county, will be held tomorrow and Saturday. The grade school contests will be held at Boardman Saturday and at Lexington tomorrow. The high school contests will be held at Alpine Friday and at Ione Saturday. Schools tributary to the various points will journey to the places named. County finals will be held in Heppner April 11. A change in the dates has been made from those appearing in these columns last week.

McKINNEY WORK STARTS.

A county road crew under Henry Taylor, foreman, moved onto the McKinney creek section of the Heppner-Spray road the first of the week. Camp has been established and work will start immediately in grading the new survey. George Bleakman, commissioner, said all the right-of-way had not been cleared for the new route, but that the court expected to complete the grading of the four-mile stretch this season if possible.

John Turley has returned to the county after spending the winter at Coburg, Lane county, and is again helping tend the sheep flocks on the D. O. Justus farm.

Ella Thomson is home this week for the Easter vacation. He is attending the university at Eugene.

PATROLMAN'S WORK TOLD BY MC MAHON

Traffic Officer Is Friend of Motorist, Giving Much Assistance.

GIVES LIONS DATA

Club Gives Thanks to Charter Anniversary Helpers; Notson Attend State Chamber.

The motoring public is rapidly learning that the state traffic officer is his friend and not its enemy, L. H. McMahon, highway patrolman for this district, told members of the Heppner Lions club at their Monday luncheon. The old name of "speed cop" no longer applies to the khaki-clad boys who ride in white automobiles, he said, as the majority of their work is giving assistance to the motorist who meets with misfortune, and only about one out of ten cases handled by them is an arrest for speeding.

Mr. McMahon stressed the importance of drivers not allowing their minds to wander while traveling. A car traveling 35 miles an hour covers 51.3 feet in one second, at 60 miles it covers more than 80 feet a second. Loss of attention for only an instant at usual traveling speeds means an uncontrolled coverage of distance that may easily end in an accident. There will be no change in the speed law from the maximum of 35 miles an hour until the new traffic code goes into effect on June 6, he said. "Another thing," Mr. McMahon emphasized, "no driver may expect leniency from me, even though he be my best friend, if he is found under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Gasoline and whiskey absolutely will not mix."

280 Killed in 1930.

The officer quoted statistics showing total number of automobiles in operation in the world, in the United States and in Oregon. Uncle Sam has 76 per cent of all automobiles. In Oregon there is one motor vehicle to every three persons. More than 250,000 out-of-state cars visited Oregon last year. To patrol the highways and keep all these cars in order the state maintains a force of 65 traffic officers at the present time. Oregon is among the first six states in fewer automobile fatalities in proportion to miles traveled. Last year there were 280 persons killed by automobiles in the state. The per automobile fatality rate in the past showed a decrease from the year previous.

To better give assistance to the motorist who meets with misfortune most of the state traffic officers are now adept at applying first aid, Mr. McMahon said. He said he was attending a Red Cross school at The Dalles evenings and expected to have his first aid certificate in a short time. The officers' automobiles carry extra gas, oil and water, fuses, shovel, first aid kit, and a large number of tools to help motorists in trouble. Any motorist so afflicted is subject to help by the traffic officer and should not hesitate to call him. This is a real worthwhile service, he said, to which many motorists do not know they are entitled.

Origin of Sheriff Cited.

Mr. McMahon spoke on invitation of the day's program committee, W. W. Smead and C. J. D. Bauman. Mr. Bauman spoke briefly on the origin of the name sheriff, and cited the similarity of the duties of his office, as such, to those of the first sheriffs in England. S. E. Notson, as president of the Heppner commercial club and director of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, said he expected to be in attendance at the meeting of the latter body in Portland today, and urged all who signed the membership roll of the local club to pay in their dollar to Dean T. Goodman, secretary, in order that the club's membership with the state chamber might be taken. Special entertainment numbers were given by Miss Jeanette Turner and Ralph Currin, high school students, who gave readings.

W. R. Poulson gave a financial report of the charter anniversary celebration of the Monday previous, showing the occasion to have been self-supporting. A vote of thanks was given Wis. brothers for cooking the meat. Central Market for obtaining the meat
