

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

The last P. T. A. meeting of the year was held Friday night and was a very interesting one with a good attendance. The following program was given: Instrumental quartet, Warren Dillon, Helen Mead, Donald Strobel and Delbert Machan; reading, Ruth King; chorus selections; instrumental quartet, violins, Lillian Hango, Francis Titus, Theodore Wilson, Nora Olson; reading, Mary Smith; community singing led by Mrs. Rands. Some good motion pictures were shown. After the program the crowd adjourned to the cafeteria where the famous chefs, W. O. King, Carol Kennedy and Mr. Sundsten, displayed their culinary ability. The men have served the refreshments every other meeting this year since they insisted on having eats each time, and they have acquired themselves very well. The P. T. A. attempted a large project this year whereby they took it upon themselves to assist the members of the student body in paying for improvements at the gym where showers were installed. Mrs. Albin Sundsten has been the chairman of the program committee this year with two assistants each time and the programs have been both interesting and helpful.

Earl Cramer is home for a few days. The numerous rains have delayed shearing this season.

Ves Atteburys have installed electric lights at their ranch home.

Mrs. Chas. Nickerson and daughter, Mrs. El Knight, went to The Dalles Saturday.

Dick White of The Dalles has been transferred to Messner and he and his wife moved up Sunday. Mr. White is employed in the water service department of the O-W.

Willard Baker had a bit of hard luck Saturday when he broke his arm as he was cranking a car. It would seem as though the doctors in adjoining town would make a special cut-rate price to Boardmanites for broken bones for there have surely been a number of them in the past few years, and recently there has been an epidemic of breaks.

Ray Barlow and Rachel Johnson were guests at a dinner of lovely appointments Sunday at the Carol Kennedy home in honor of Mrs. Kennedy's birthday.

The signal crew has just completed the work of blocking the yards at Messner. They have been working three months on the job and have now moved to Durkee.

Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Miller were dinner guests at the Chas. Wicklander home as was Rev. C. C. Hullett, state grange master, who is spending ten days in eastern Oregon in the interest of grange work. On Sunday Rev. Mr. Hulet preached at the community church in Boardman and at Umatilla in the evening. He is a fluent speaker and his address was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Mary E. Hiatt who makes her home at Freewater has not been well for the past several weeks. She is the mother of Mrs. Royal Rands and has made many friends here during her visits to her daughter's home.

Inogene Wilson spent the week end at the Jess Dees home on Willow creek. On Wednesday, Chas. Wicklander, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Shane drove to Willow creek to see Grandma Dees who has been very poorly but who is now much better.

Mrs. Arthur Allen and two sons and Mrs. Truman Messinger and three children motored down from La Grande and visited here with relatives until Sunday.

George Gorgor is working for Pete Slevin for a time.

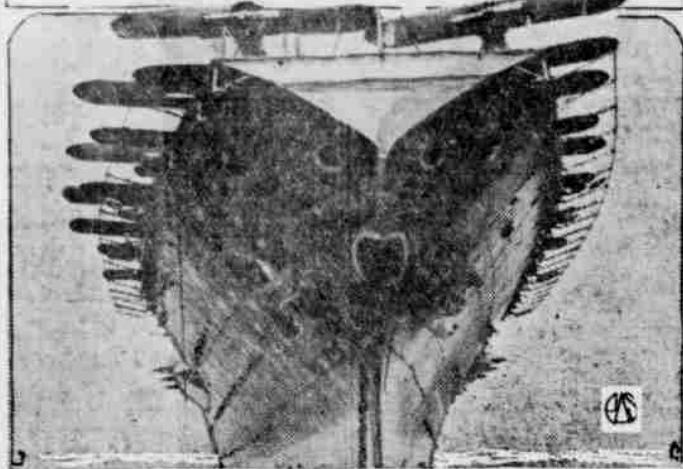

Noel Klitz was host at a pleasant party Sunday evening at the Kennedy home. It was supposed to have been a weiner roast at the sand dunes, but the weather man intervened and the plans were changed. There were twenty young people in the group and a pleasant evening was enjoyed with the coffee and waffles eaten indoors instead of out.

Bill Delano has been ill for the last three weeks with sciatica. Mrs. H. E. Waite spent Thursday and Friday in Pendleton and Walla. She went up to attend the band concert given by the high school band on Friday night, as a friend of hers Gloria Rollins, took a leading part, being trombone soloist. The band is directed by Carl Hoisington, principal last year at Irrigon. Mr. Hoisington was complimented very highly by the press on the results to his work as director of the band work at Pendleton this year.

Mrs. Waite spent a day visiting at Walla Walla, her home a number of years ago. The results of the devastation of Mill creek as it went through some of the main streets there were appalling, with mud, rocks, debris spread everywhere. A friend whom she visited there had four feet of mud in the basement and similar tales were innumerable. The reports of the papers were not exaggerated, in fact, they did not do full justice to damage that was done.

Boardman brought home two second prizes from the declamatory contest Saturday. Catherine Mead in the humorous and LaVern Baker in the non humorous. All the contestants did well and Boardman was proud of them, for after all it is the effort that is made that counts most. Norma Gibbons and Carl Wicklander were the declamatory contestants. Spelling contestants were Echo Coats, Edith Nicholson, John Healy and Delbert Machan. Mrs. W. O. King was a judge of the spelling contest from this part of the county. Others going over, in addition to those already mentioned, were Mrs. Ray Brown, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Titus, Mrs. Oria Brown, Earl Cramer, Mr. King, Mr. Marschat, Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Rands, and Mr. and Mrs. Coats. The Coats family drove to Hardman for a short visit after the spelling contest in which Echo took part.

The Boardman ball team journeyed to Hermiston Sunday and met defeat by one point in a game with that team. This year the teams are playing for the sport of the game without importing outside players and they have had some real thrilling games. The score Sunday was 19-20.

Nick Ludemann and family are leaving this week for Portland. They will be located there for a time. They have sold the ranch to Mr. Turner of Ione who with his family are moving there shortly. The Ludemanns bought the place a year ago from Ralph Humphrey.

The "Dream Boat" is the opera to be given Friday night by the grade school pupils and is expected to be one of the best ever given here. The orchestra will make its first appearance at this time.

The missionary meeting of the Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Johnson.

FIELD CROPS LEAD IN CASH INCOME

Field crops of Oregon continue to produce the biggest share of the cash income of Oregon farmers, according to a survey made by the Oregon State college extension service of the average cash income from Oregon agriculture over a five-year period, 1924 to 1928.

Out of an average cash income for these five years of $121,000,000, 31 per cent was realized from cash crops with wheat still the leading one. Cash sales from animal production, other than poultry and dairy, were next in importance and were 24 per cent of the total. Horticultural products ranked third with from 17 to 18 per cent. The sale of dairy products, which has increased greatly in recent years, formed 16 per cent of the cash income from 1924 to 1928. Poultry, another growing industry, forms from 7 to 8 per cent of the cash income.

Five-sixths of Oregon's farm cash income over these five years was derived from the sale of the following products: wheat, dairy products, sheep and wool, cattle and calves, eggs and chickens, hogs, apples, hay, hops, potatoes, pears, dried prunes, oats, cherries, strawberries and barley.

The average "cash income" of $121,000,000 represents the amount of money actually received from sales after allowance was made for seed, feed, and food used on the farm. The average "farm value" of crops during the years from 1924 to 1928 was about $95,000,000 and of animal products over $67,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan who have been employed at the Dan Doherty sheep ranch returned to Juniper early last week.

Miss Helen Bennett of Heppner spent Saturday and Sunday of last week visiting at her home in Alpine.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rauch and daughters May and Fay were visitors in Heppner Saturday from South Springs.

Friends in this community were interested to hear of the arrival of Miss Marion Lucille Wattenburger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berle Wattenburger of Pine City.

Miss Gertrude Tichenor of the Eastern Oregon Normal school at La Grande, spent her Easter vacation visiting at the home of her uncle, Charles Melville. She returned to La Grande Sunday.

Nora McDaid, Margaret McDaid, Doris Klinger, Edna and Henry Rauch Jr. motored to Heppner Saturday where Doris, Edna and Henry took part in the spelling contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Melville, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Shearer and Gertrude Tichenor drove to Heppner Saturday where they took in the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Rauch and children Irvin and Jean, accompanied by Bernice Heft and Bessie Breshars drove to Heppner Saturday. Miss Bernice Heft and Miss Bessie Breshars of La Grande spent several days of last week visiting at the home of Mrs. Julian Rauch.

Mrs. B. P. Doherty, Katherine and Rosella Doherty, Bernard and William J. Doherty attended the declamatory contest in Heppner Saturday.

Miss Gertrude Tichenor and Charles Melville spent Thursday afternoon visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irl Clary of Alpine.

Misses Nora and Catherine McDaid motored to Lexington on business Monday evening.

ANGEL FOOD

Who doesn't like a generous, snowy slice of angel food cake? They seem so tender they just melt in one's mouth. They have often seemed luxurious due to the high cost of eggs but there is very little expense in making a sponge cake now. The total cost for a ten-egg angel food cake, unfrosted, would probably amount to fifteen or sixteen cents. But they have even a greater value than the fact that they are economical and that is that they are an excellent dessert for small children since they are not rich and are easily digested.

Do you have any difficulty in making sponge cakes? As in all cakes there are three places for error thus causing failure: the measuring, mixing, and baking. But of the three faults I believe that the baking causes the most failures, and then the mixing.

Can you make good omelets and have them stand up instead of looking like a pancake? Did you realize that a sponge cake is merely an omelet with flour to hold it up? The leavening air for sponge cakes is air from beating the eggs, thus great care must be taken in adding the other ingredients to the egg in order that the bubbles do not burst and allow the air to escape. Thus the flour and sugar should be folded

EDITORIAL

Perhaps the biggest reason why a dog is man's best friend, is that he never borrows money or offers advice.

in using what is called the "down-under-over" stroke.

The following is the best method and recipe for angel food cake that I have ever used:

Whites of 9 or 10 eggs—should be a cupful. Measuring by the cup is more accurate than counting the number of eggs. Add one-fourth teaspoon salt to the eggs and beat until the eggs do not slide in the bowl. If beaten too stiff they become dry and do not make the cake as tender as it may be. Add one teaspoon cream of tartar when the eggs are just frothy. Fold in one and one-third cups of sifted sugar, one tablespoonful at a time. Add one teaspoon vanilla and one of lemon or almond extract on the last tablespoonful of sugar because this helps to give the cake more flavor. Last fold in one cup of cake flour, a small amount at a time. Bake one hour at 275-325 degrees F.

You may start to bake it in a cold oven or one set at 275 degrees. The first fifteen minutes the cake should just begin to rise. The second fifteen minutes the temperature should be 300 degrees F and the cake should continue to rise. Third fifteen minutes the temperature should be 325 degrees and the cake should brown slightly. The fourth fifteen minutes the cake should finish browning, rise far, its full height and then settle in the pan. When you see that the cake has dropped slightly and shrinks from the sides of the pan, it is done. It will also spring to the touch when done.

Turn the pan upside down on a cake rack but do not remove from the pan until it is cold, because the air bubbles around the edge of the cake will break, causing the cake to fall and not be as light as if not touched until cold.

Angled food cakes are baked in ungreased pans in order that the sides of the pan will allow the cake to rise and stick to the sides, thus expanding and growing little. The grease lessens friction and keeps the dough from rising as high as it could otherwise.

A chocolate angel food cake may be made from the same recipe by using three-fourths cup of flour and one-fourth cup of cocoa. Add one more egg white and omit the lemon flavoring.

IRRIGON

MRS. W. C. ISOM.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Dawald and Robert Walpole returned Friday from Spokane and report a wonderful time on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Crofton from San Diego, Cal., visited with Mrs. Crofton's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Brooks, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Isom visited in the Vern Jones home Monday evening, also Rolly and Vallis Dexter, where all listened to the symphony concert over KHQ where Robert Walpole was playing.

Ralph and Wiley Benefield accompanied their sister, Mrs. Carl Haddock of Clipper, Wash., Friday where Mrs. Haddock will make her future home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Houghton and two sons, Donald and Edward, were Pendleton visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leicht were shopping in Hermiston Saturday. Bishop Wisdom made a trip to Portland Thursday, returning Sunday.

Chas. Benefield went to Walla Walla Friday to visit relatives. Mrs. Emily Duncan, daughter of Carl Eislle, and Fay Pierce were married here Monday. Mr. Pierce is employed on the Frank Brance place and the couple will remain here for the present.

Marshal Markham and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stevers Sunday. The high school girls of Irrigon gave a shower for Mrs. George Kandler at her home in Umatilla Wednesday afternoon. The time was spent in playing games after which a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. Kandler was presented with a number of nice presents from her former schoolmates.

Joyce Caldwell, who is teaching near Portland, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Reruse from Yakima visited over Sunday with Mrs. Reruse's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wier were guests at a table of "500" in the Williams home Tuesday evening. Mrs. John Grabel, Verdie Leach and Mac McCoy motored to Imbler Wednesday to visit relatives, returning late Friday night.

James Warner left here this week for a trip to Alaska to some reported gold fields which can only be reached by airplane and in which he has a number of shares.

Believe It, Or Not

A New York banker has figured out that if six copper coins recently unearthed, bearing the date of 600 years B C., had been placed at compound interest since coined, the returns would have been immense.

How much? Well, it's past the power of comprehension. The American value of these coins was only 6 cents, yet they would have earned at compound interest during the past 2,500 years a ball of gold 62 times as large as this earth, so the New Yorker says.
