

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. John Anglin and daughter Rachel, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Devin and son Glen and Miss Catherine Healey motored to Yakima last Sunday and report considerable damage done by the recent winds over there. The wind took the whole top of the state fair ground grandstand off and moved one fair sized barn 50 feet, turning it completely around. Many large trees were uprooted and everything in general looks a pale, sick color from the dust. Mr. Anglin reports a very enjoyable trip. Mrs. Anglin will remain in Yakima for a couple of weeks looking after business interests and visiting with her mother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel R. Benton departed this morning by auto for Portland, going to the city to attend a meeting of the Church of Christ to be held in that city on Friday in behalf of the campaign now being put on to raise a pension fund of $8,000,000 for retired aged and disabled ministers of the church in the United States. Mrs. Benton is also in the city this week end, will attend the meeting. Mrs. Benton is in the city to attend the state meeting of the Degree of Honor as a delegate from the Heppner lodge.

Luck was not so good for some of the local fishermen Sunday. Superintendent Poulson and Postmaster Smead are each limping around because of slipping and falling while attempting to get at the fliny tribe from some of the more inaccessible places along the fishing streams, the former receiving a severely wrenched hip that has made it quite painful getting about, while Mr. Smead received injuries to the right leg.

Judge Calvin S. Sweek is home from Pendleton for a week-end rest from his duties. He has been quite busy in holding court at the Umatilla county capitol for the past two weeks, and will leave for Portland on Sunday, where he has been called to preside for a week in the court of Judge R. G. Morrow. Judge Parker was in Heppner on Monday, sitting for Judge Sweek, and disposed of a number of cases on the docket.

H. V. Gates, formerly president of Heppner Light & Water company, was a visitor in Heppner over Tuesday night. Mr. Gates was accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heimans, and they were returning to Redmond after a visit to the Yakima valley. Mr. Gates and Mr. and Mrs. Heimans were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pruyne while in the city.

District Attorney S. E. Notson is busy today moving his office, books, furniture, fixtures, etc., from the court house to rooms up stairs in I. O. O. F. building. He will have the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Gray. The move from the court house quarters, occupied by Mr. Notson for several years, is made necessary by the requirements of other county officials.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fell of Pendleton and Dr. and Mrs. V. C. Belknap of Nampa, Idaho, were visitors in Heppner for a short time on Sunday, calling on old time friends. The editor and his wife regret being absent from home Sunday afternoon when the visitors called at their residence.

Mrs. Reid J. Buseick and children drove to Heppner on Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Ellen Buseick, the latter having visited for the last week at the home of her son here. The first mentioned lady will visit for a few days with her parents at Echo—John Day Valley Ranger.

Harriet White and Hillery Stout, both residents of Ukiah, were united in marriage on Wednesday afternoon, April 29th, at the Methodist parsonage in this city. Rev. Glen P. White, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by Rupert Stout and Mrs. Glen P. White.

The American Legion Auxiliary will give a benefit card party at the Parish house, May 5, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Tickets are 25 cents each. On account of this party there will be no regular meeting of the unit on that date.

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

It was not an attack of ague that prevented a report of the neighborhood gossip last week, but an acute attack of arthritis at temporary lack of telephone facilities.

The operetta, "The Dream Boat," was given by the grade pupils on April 17 and the result of much training on the part of the teachers was shown by the excellence of the production. The costumes were colorful; the fairies and gnomes, the queen, the pictures in the picture book, the scribe, in fact each and everyone who took part are deserving of mention but space does not permit. The story centered around the eight children, Maxine Machan, Mildred Ayers, Edith Nickerson, Mary Smith, Edwin Rainville, Francine Knig, Stanley Partlow and Francis Titus who took a trip in The Dream Boat, and the play was a portrayal of their adventures. The pirates and Indians were gorgeously arrayed, and The Maker of Dreams, the sailor, the herald, all added to the ensemble. Puck with his clever costume was an interesting feature and gives promise of developing a fine voice, as do several of the other players. Readings by Helen Mead and John McIntyre were much enjoyed between acts.

Before the operetta the school orchestra made its initial bow to the public and was very cordially received. This orchestra was organized by Orla Brown, the seventh and eighth grade teacher, and when one remembers that but three or four of the members had ever had any training in reading music, the results of the work seem remarkable. Selma Ayers played the accompaniment and the strains of "Old Black Joe," "Yankee Doodle," etc., brought much applause. Paul Mead played his baritone in the medley and although he had never had one before last fall he played with ease and aplomb. Mr. Brown is not returning next year but it is hoped that his successor will be able to carry on the work so nicely started.

A dance was given Saturday, April 18, for the benefit of the baseball club. As there had not been a dance for some time there was a large crowd and enough money was raised to purchase baseball paraphernalia. Some real thrilling games have been played this season with neighboring towns. On Sunday, the local team defeated Hermiston 15 to 12.

When the school orchestra played "America" the other night we looked at our neighbors and wondered whether we should stand or remain seated, and finally when part of the audience stood, we did also. On inquiry we learn that when a medley is being played it is not necessary to arise even though the national anthem is being played. This, by the way, according to decision of congress, is "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Macomber's were here from Condon last week end visiting relatives.

The Farleys, Slevins, M. Healeys, M. Mulligan and Johnny McNamee were Boardman residents who attended the funeral services of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ranger.

Modernize Your Farm

In these days of Scientific Farming it is a pretty tough soil that won't succumb to modern farming methods. Proper seed selection—proper preparation of the soil—careful cultivation—and crop rotation all go to make a larger crop and that is what makes farming pay. This bank wants to see every farmer in this community prosper—if we can help you, let us know.

Donahue at Pendleton last week. The little girl who was four and a half years old met her death in the spillway near the Carpenter place. She was a niece of Mr. McNamee.

Stanley Hatch and his father were visitors on the project last week and guests at the Hango home. The Hatches made a trip to the Vale project where Stanley is contemplating taking up a homestead on some of the new land being developed there.

Norma Gibbons spent last week end with her parents at Union. She met her mother in La Grande where they shopped on Saturday.

The seniors took Friday as their annual Sneak Day, going to Walla Walla where they took in a show, had their pictures taken, and had one splendid time. They were accompanied by Miss Miriam Campbell, the new English teacher. The seniors are Carl Wicklander, Dallas Wilson, Norma Gibbons, Gladys Graves, Gladys Wicklander and Vernon Root.

The May Silver Tea will be held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Healy on the East End, Wednesday, May 6. Everyone invited.

One of the finest stands of sweet clover that one could wish to see is that on the Cramer ranch.

Mrs. Nick Falter was the honor guest at a lovely afternoon party Tuesday at the hotel with the members and substitutes of the Bridge club as guests. Mrs. Falter has been one of the members of the club and each presented her with a "dainty" handkerchief as a token of friendship, prior to her departure for Portland this week where she will make her home for a time. The afternoon was spent in playing bridge with honors going to Mrs. Ray Brown and Mrs. Guy Barlow.

Wasn't that a hummer of a storm though? Large trees snapped off like sticks. No great damage was incurred here although telephone service was disrupted and travel was difficult. The most interesting part was the housecleaning the matrons were forced to do after the blow was over.

The grade children are deriving benefit from the newly installed shower baths at the gym, and it is a delight to the kiddies and a help to the mothers for the majority of the homes here are without bathrooms and it means hauling out the family wash tub, heating water, etc., in addition to supervising the bath to see that ears and neck are not omitted in the ablutions.

The Turner family has moved to the Humphrey place from Ione and the members are new residents in our community. The Ludemann family is living in Lents temporarily. They were the owners of the ranch and sold their equity to Mr. Turner.

Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, county superintendent, and Miss Edith Stallard, county nurse, attended the operetta here. They are always welcome visitors in Boardman.

We wonder if the local readers are all aware of the excellent column in each issue of the Gazette Times written by Miss Palminter of the Heppner high school. Her column is always timely with hints and recipes appropriate to the season.

The school appreciated talks by Mr. McMahon, traffic officer, and G. A. Bleakman, county commissioner, who visited the various schools in the county last week.

The Home Economics club met with Mrs. Lee Mead, although it was the day of one of the most severe wind storms in the history of the project there were fifteen ladies who ventured out and enjoyed the delicious no-host luncheon which characterizes the meetings of the club.

Alice were week-end guests at the Marschat home last week. Miss Beougher teaches at Hermiston this year and her sister attends school there.

Mrs. Magoon has left and Mrs. Denson has taken charge of the Highway Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Broyles and daughter Irma were visitors on the project last week and were house guests at the Weston home.

Mrs. Pete Gilliland and baby were recent visitors at the Guy Barlow home.

Mrs. Marie Shane was pleased to have her father with her for a visit. On Friday night a group of friends had a pleasant dance at the Shane home. About 25 were present and danced to the old time music played by Mr. Smith, Mrs. Shane's father.

The student body is planning a dance for Saturday night. This will be held at the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Messenger and children were spending the week end with relatives on the project. Both families live in La Grande.

Mrs. T. W. Keller of Portland was here Monday on business and was a guest at the Olson home. The Kellers own part of the Crawford place and the Irvin place.

The Falers were given a pleasant surprise party on Thursday evening by the members of the Home Economics club. The party was given at the Channing home with seven tables of "500." All had a most delightful evening and extended the best of wishes to the Falers who left on the 24th for Portland. The Falers have been residents of the project since the early pioneer days and they will be greatly missed during their absence. Mrs. Faler has taken an active part in the North Morrow County fair and has been a member of the board for the last few years.

A family by the name of Vanderhoof has moved on the Hatch place. They are from Heppner and have three small children.

A wedding of much interest on the project was that at Prosser on Wednesday when Miss Emma Beavers and Tom Delano were united in marriage. The bride is the sister of Mrs. Glen Machan and came here a year and a half ago from Kansas. The groom is one of the Delano brothers who have made their home on the extreme west end of the project for many years, and is well liked by everyone. The couple will make their home on the Delano ranch where they will welcome their friends. They were given a noisy charivari on Friday night by a large crowd who were treated to candy and cigars.

The Kings and the Marschats were hosts Saturday night at a card party at the Marschat home with seven tables of "500" in play. Honors were accorded to Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Page Six.)

A New York banker has figured out that if six copper coins recently unearthed, bearing the date of 600 years B. C., had been placed at compound interest since coined, the returns would have been immense.

How much? Well, it's past the power of comprehension. The American value of these coins was only 6 cents, yet they would have earned at compound interest during the past 2,500 years a ball of gold 62 times as large as this earth, so the New Yorker says.
