

Local Happenings

Mrs. T. J. Humphreys and daughter Evelyn, accompanied by Pastor Joel R. Benton of the Church of Christ, and Mrs. Daniels, who has been a visitor over the week end at the Humphreys home, departed Tuesday for Milton to attend the eastern Oregon convention of the church being held in that city three days this week. Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford, Mrs. J. R. Benton and Mrs. J. P. Conder made up another party attending the convention for Wednesday only.

Joseph Eskelson was up from his Salem home over the week end and was looking after business interests in Heppner Saturday. He thinks Salem got about the worst dusting in its history during the three days of wind recently. People down there were sure that the most of Eastern Oregon's soil had moved to the Willamette valley, but Mr. Eskelson found plenty of good dirt left in Morrow county, and was also well pleased with the fine crop outlook here.

Clifford Sims arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon from Portland for a combined business and pleasure visit, enjoying greeting his many friends here made when he was cashier of the Farmers and Stockgrowers bank several years ago. Mr. Sims says his oldest boy, now 15 years old, is a freshman in Grant high school.

George McDuffee had his car quite badly damaged in a collision with a horse on the highway Sunday evening. A new radiator and windshield glass will be required and some dents taken out of fenders. Damage to the horse was such that he had to be killed. Mr. McDuffee escaped injury.

Bert Johnson and Henry Filkins spent a few hours in town Monday from the Johnson wheat farm north of Ione. Mr. Johnson states that the big blow of last week left his wheat undamaged, but some early gardens in the vicinity suffered by being either blown out or covered up.

Dr. A. D. McMurdo has been absent from the city for the last week, going to Portland for medical attention. On examination by specialists in the city, it was found the doctor's health demanded that he rest-up for a spell, and no definite time has been set for his return.

C. D. Gabrielson, special agent for the Royal and Queen insurance companies, represented in this city by Mahoney & Co., was calling on the local agency Monday. Mr. Gabrielson is a resident of Salem and has been engaged in the insurance game for the past 50 years.

Frank Young and his sister, Mrs. Rutus Farrans, were visitors here Monday from Ione. Mr. Young was rejoicing over the splendid rain that came to his part of the county Friday, a big boost to the fast growing crops.

Ralph Moore, in the employ of the state highway department, and who has recently been at work in the southern part of the state, is enjoying a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Clark were in the city Saturday, interested spectators at Rodeo field of the athletic contests between the pupils of the various grade schools of the county.

Henry Peterson took in the athletic doings at Rodeo field Saturday. He was rejoicing over the big rain of Friday, stating that Eight Mile received its share.

Troy Bogard of Eight Mile was in the city Monday. He states the big rain of Friday evening was of much benefit to growing crops in that community.

Roy Scott was over from his ranch at Top, Oregon, on Monday, looking after matters of business in this city.

The state convention of the Degree of Honor was held in Portland during the past week, and the local lodge was represented by Mrs. Bert Coxen, delegate, and Mesdames W. J. Beamer, George Moore and Add Moore attending as honor delegates. The local lodge has been honored in having one of the principal state official positions the coming year. Mrs. Beamer having been elected secretary. Heppner also divided honors with St. Helens, the two lodges having scored highest in inspection in the state. While attending the meeting, Mrs. George Moore was given the grand lodge degree. The ladies returned home Sunday night.

Mrs. Ethel Knighten, local woman now teaching at Tigard, will be in the Tigard ladies' trio that will appear in the program of the American Legion post of that city Sunday. The post is honoring Mothers' Day. The selections of the trio will be given over two of Portland's broadcasting stations the same day, KGW at 8:45 and KEX at 10:30, and Heppner friends of Mrs. Knighten can listen in at these hours.

Charley Osten came in Sunday from Ashland where he has been since last September, making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Lewis Cason, who teaches in the state normal school there. Charley had intended staying until the close of school, but when spring arrived he could not resist the urge to get back to the hills of Morrow county. He thinks Ashland a nice city in which to live, however.

K. L. Beach, hardware and implement dealer of Lexington, was in Heppner Monday and reports that his community received the blessing of an abundant rain on Friday evening. Mr. Beach is now designated as the "John D." of Lexington, being at the head of the recently organized and incorporated Morrow Oil company, which institution reports a good trade these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwarz and son Billy and Mrs. Maggie Hunt returned Tuesday from a stay of a few days at Wapato, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Schwarz and Billy visiting with the E. R. Merritt family, and Mrs. Hunt with a sister residing near Wapato.

Mrs. George Moore visited with her daughter, Mrs. Nell Knighten, at Tigard last Friday, and while there attended the pioneers' picnic and program in the forenoon, and in the afternoon the May Day program put on by the Tigard school.

J. E. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Troge were in the city Monday completing a deal for the transfer to Mr. Morgan of the dray business of Mr. Troge at Ione. The Troge family expects to move to Esatecda in the near future.

Egbert Young of Liberty was looking after business here Saturday and reports that the rain of Friday evening was abundant in his vicinity, refreshing the grain. Prospects for the crop are fine just now.

J. B. Adams, pioneer wheat farmer of the Hardman section, and Mrs. Adams, were in the city for a few hours yesterday morning. Mr. Adams reports a goodly fall of rain on the farm Friday evening.

Mrs. A. A. McAtee departed Sunday morning on a business trip to Corvallis. She accompanied C. L. Sweek as far as Portland, Mr. Sweek going to the city to preside in circuit court there.

Mike Marshall, pioneer resident of the Boardman section, was doing business in the city yesterday.

Tony Vey, stockman of Little Butte creek, was looking after business in this city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lotus Robison were Hardman residents in Heppner for a short while Monday.

LEXINGTON NEWS

By RUTH DINGES.

The Junior-Senior banquet was held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude White. Those in attendance were the faculty and members of the junior and senior classes.

Mrs. Harry Schriever entertained a group of her friends at a five hundred party Friday evening.

Lexington P. T. A. held the last meeting of the school year Wednesday evening. The grade school gave an operetta, after which the regular business meeting was held. Discussion of the new grade school textbook law was held. After the meeting cake and coffee were served to the large group of P. T. A. members who attended.

Mrs. Ted McMillan was called to Arlington last week on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Clark. On Saturday Mrs. Clark passed away, burial service being held at Cove, Oregon.

Thursday afternoon a movie concerning 4-H club work was given in the Legion hall. Miss Stallard, Mrs. Rodgers and Miss Lucy Case were present to show the pictures. Various phases of the work were explained by Miss Case.

A number of the Lexington grade school boys participated in the track meet held in Heppner, May 2. Klieh Gentry, a member of the sixty to eighty pound division, won three firsts in the baseball throw, running broad jump, and fifty-yard dash.

On Saturday the Lexington Boy Scout troop went to the mountains where they spent the night. They were accompanied by Adrain Bechtold, scout master, R. B. Wilcox and George Peck.

A number of Lexington people picnicked in the mountains Sunday. Among those who went were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson and family, Mrs. Laura Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Shaw and family, J. E. Gentry, Mae Gentry, Miss Pearl Vail, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Helen Falconer, Cletus Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Warner.

FORD BRAKES ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety due to simple design and careful construction

ONE OF the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its four-wheel brakes.

They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanical, internal expanding, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the band and drum and interfering with brake action.

Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, torque-tube drive, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.

You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.
