Self-Help Clothing Latest Thing for Small Children

Self-help garments, designed to save time for busy mothers as well as encourage habits of self-reliance in children, constitute the latest thing for the well-dressed three and four year old this year, says Mrs. Harriet K. Sinaard, extension specialist in clothing at Oregon State college.

A group of small dresses and suits for little tots of this age have been designed by the bureau of home economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and several sample outfits have recently been received by Mrs. Sinaard for inspection.

The average child of three years is old enough to begin to dress and undress himself if his clothing is simply designed and without complicated fastenings. Mrs. Sinaard says. This is not only a help to mothers but the child enjoys it and develops through it a feeling of self-reliance.

Among the features of the new garments which facilitate manipulation by small chubby fingers are few buttons and buttonholes, but where needed, these are large enough to be easily grasped. Trousers have simple side openings instead of the usual plaquettes. This allows the front and back to open independently, and each button has but one buttonhole. In many cases trousers have simulated pockets which form deep fronts.

Bloomers and trousers in many cases are fastened to an under-waist of light weight cotton mesh. This makes an ideal sun suit, according to Mrs. Sinaard. Simple little dresses and overblouses to match the bloomers and trousers are provided. These may be slipped on over the sun suits and little son or daughter is all dressed up and ready for a trip to town.

Other aids to comfort and freedom for the youngsters are sleeves above the elbows, trousers above the knees, and no floppy collars. The collars, where used, are sewed down, which makes for ease in ironing.

Information regarding patterns for the new garments may be obtained from home demonstration agents, or from Mrs. Sinaard at the college.

Is your farm a business or a bungle?

By producing products for home use first, the smart farmer is saving money.

One or more dairy cows, a flock of laying hens, some hogs and a few acres of cultivated land cost practically nothing to keep up and they will feed the entire family.

Tin cans and paper sacks are costly to the farmer.

Safety Glass

Ford cars are now equipped with safety glass in all doors and windows at a small extra charge

$15 for the Coupe, De Luxe Coupe, Sport Coupe or Convertible Cabriolet $20 for the Tudor Sedan, Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, Town Sedan or Victoria

THE Triplex safety glass windshield has always been an outstanding feature of the Model A Ford. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile collisions.

Now comes a further assurance of safety to every Ford owner... polished plate safety glass in ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS at slight additional cost.

The charge for this extra protection is unusually low because of large production and the development of new methods of manufacture. Simply tell the dealer when you buy the Ford that you want "safety plate glass in all doors and windows" and the car will be factory-equipped for you in that manner.

Today, as before, the safety glass windshield is furnished as standard equipment on all Ford cars without extra charge.

FORD OWNERS This announcement refers only to NEW CARS. Ford dealers are not in a position to install safety glass in the windows of your present Ford at the above prices.
